Fine Site For Tent Pitchers

Campers might well consider the advice of S. L. Bastian, district park manager for southeastern Ohio, who says the camp sites at Old Man's Cave in Hocking State Park, and at Lake Hope State Park offer fine possibilities for tent pitching.

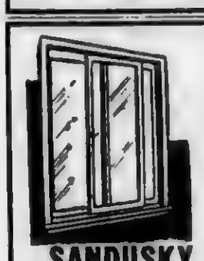
"These areas offer spacious camp sites and are the best bets for campers in this section of the state," says Bastian. "Camping also is available in pleasant surroundings at Alma State Park, Vinton County, and Blue Rock State Park, Muskingum County, but facilities are more limited.

"In this day and age when camping is one of the fastest growing outdoor sports, people will experience fewer disappointments if they direct their attention toward the larger camp grounds," Bastian declared. "Camp sites are handled on a first-come first served basis at all state parks."

Don't be a bumper thumper or a horn heckler in vacation traffic. Impatience won't get you anywhere — except into trouble.

Fairmoor Park Is Represented At Track Meet

Fairmoor Park's track team scored 11 points in the annual track meet held at South High School last week.



Steve Hutchinson, Dennis Arnold, Jimmy Smith and David Newbauer won first place in the 200 yard shuttle relay. Dennis Arnold also placed fifth in the boys softball throw.

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF PROPOSED GLICK'S EXPANSION

terior decorating studio, and a full-sized appliance and TV center.

"Many of these innovations were arrived at after we made exhaustive surveys of suburban stores throughout the United States," Glick said.

Leon Seligson of Seligson and Associates, are architects and engineers on both projects. Richard Kostka, director of National Retail Furniture Association's store planning division, and Mrs. Bonita Lillie, noted furniture designer and decorator, of Grand Rapids, Mich., also have assisted with the plans. C. C. Vogel and Co. are the contractors.

William T. Soliday, formerly buyer and manager of the suburban store operation, in addition to being supervisor, will become manager of the new Town and Country store.

'Economical' Retailing Stressed

Glick states that the new warehouse outlet store will introduce for the first time in Columbus a revolutionary new concept in merchandising home furnishings. The 19,000 square foot store will specialize in an economical type of retailing of furniture, carpeting and appliances, he said. The store manager has not been announced.

To properly service its retail stores Glick's found it was necessary to construct a large new one-floor warehouse. It will have facilities for receiving goods by rail and truck, and will have complete refinishing and repair shops. Allowance for future growth has been provided. 20th Century Builders are the contractors.

S. P. McGury will continue in his present role as warehouse superintendent.

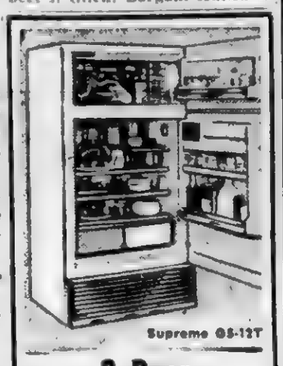
With the completion of these new projects, Glick's will have six stores in Central Ohio, under the general management of William L. Glick, executive vice-president. The main store is at 65 E. Long-st, managed by Albert I. Glick; Bargain Annex is at 45 E. Long-st, managed by Frank Hennacy; Great Western Shopping Center store is managed by Don Dittmar, and the Northern Lights store is managed by David P. Robinson.

Organization Of Whitehall DeMolay Set

Organizational meeting of the Whitehall DeMolay Chapter, UD, will be held Friday, July 22, 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Whitehall-Yearling High School, 675 Yearling-rd.

Members of the Reynoldsburg, R. R. Rickley and Whitehall Masonic lodges are pooling their efforts to make it possible for Whitehall lodge to sponsor a new chapter of DeMolay. Letters have been granted for this purpose.

Aims and purposes of the DeMolay and its ideals will be explained. A question and answer period will follow.



Whitehall Plans Community Dance For Aug. 12 At Fire Department

Bob Wachtel and his orchestra will be setting the pace for the Whitehall Community Dance to be held Aug. 12, from 9 p.m. to midnight, Don Ecker, Whitehall's recreation director, announced.

Admission is free to the dance slated to take place at the Fire Department. "It's an all-community affair," Ecker stressed, "for kids as well as adults."

Four musicians and a vocalist make up the Wachtel group Ecker said he appreciated the cooperation of the American Federation of Musicians in securing them.

Refreshments are to be sold by the Firemen's Auxiliary assisted by the recreation staff.

Mass Sung For Former Teacher

Requiem High Mass was sung for Sister Maria Regina Roach, O.P., Monday morning in the convent chapel of St. Mary of the Springs College.

Sister Maria Regina died Friday afternoon at the college convent. She had been a member of the faculty from 1931 to 1944.

Originally from New York City, she entered the novitiate at St. Mary of the Springs in 1899 and was professed in 1901. Most of her teaching career Sister Maria Regina taught in New York and Connecticut at schools conducted by the Dominican Sisters.

Other Ohio schools in which she taught included St. Francis, Columbus, and Blessed Sacrament, Newark.

She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Catherine Sullivan of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Youths Ready For Parade

Scottwood Playground has been extra active this week preparing for the Lantern Parade that will take place this evening at Schiller Park at 8 p.m.

Participants in the parade will be Kathy Gallagher, Maureen Gallagher, Danny Gallagher, Chris Ortman, Sandra Ortman, Donna DeBolt, Laura Voritz, Steve Krupp, Kim Nichols, Sharon Edison, Gary Edison, Steve Goodwin, Donna Woodburn, Jo Ellen Traphagan, Wayne Babich, and Mark Ely. Yogi Bear will also make his appearance.

Take Exams East Siders Are Urged

A cancer detection examination was received by 159 East Siders last year.

The Cancer Clinic, a United Appeal agency, reported these figures this week as a part of its second annual "Crash Detection" program.

Purpose of the program is to alert the public to one sound preventive measure against cancer—early detection.

East Siders are urged to get their annual examination now by making an appointment with a doctor or contacting the Cancer Clinic at AX. 4-1234.

The painless examination includes a physical examination, an X-ray of the lungs and a papanicoulou smear test for women.

Location of the Cancer Clinic is the first floor of University Hospital and is now in its 39th year of service to the community.

The public is invited. There will be many seats in front of the bandstand. In case of rain the parade will be held Friday night.

Peggy Bugg, from WOSU will handle the microphone at Goodale Park. Judges will be Police Inspector Harvey Alston, Jake Young, and George Luke. About 220 lanterns will be entered from 16 playgrounds.

Big Hopper Hunt Slated At James-rd

James-rd youngsters have an unusual activity to look forward to Monday, July 25.

A Grasshopper hunt will take place at the playground at 3 p.m.

Rules governing the hunt are all grasshoppers must be collected on the playground; youngsters must be at the starting line when the whistle blows; containers will be issued at the starting line, and children school age are eligible. Ribbons will be awarded in various age groups.

Seven youngsters completed the physical fitness program last week: Molly and Judy Lynch, 2976 Astor; Mary Korenberg, 2990 Astor; Bret Zerby, 902 Eastmoor; Pat Kuhner, 1235 Haddon; Gene Leonard, 1082 Barnett, and Ken Vaughn, 2976 E. Moreland.

James-rd park was represented at the sectional track meet at South High School last week. Cheri Manns, 14, placed first in three events. He won the softball throw, 50 yard dash and low hurdles.

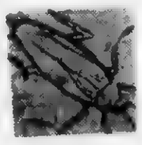
except that 12½ per cent of them entered military service.

And one of the proudest realizations to which the graduates adhered is that 38 percent of the men enrolled in post graduate courses.

The girls fail to even compete with this figure: only 3.3 percent are seeking higher degrees.

Seven of the young men aspire to be doctors or engineers. Four entered denistry and law.



The complete 3.3 percent of the girls went into education.

But, overall, graduates of Bexley High School and school officials themselves, should be praised for the fine example they are setting.

Surface Flooding Problem Enters 'Remedy' Stage

Bond Issue, Proposals On Ballot

A ballot loaded with million dollar questions will be facing Columbus voters this fall.

And attached to the same form will be proposals to alter five sections of the city's charter.

City Councilmen last week agreed upon a four-part capital improvement bond issue which includes:

$9[illegible],000 for improvement of the city sewerage system, $6-[illegible],000 for street improvements, $3,278,000 for parks, including the construction of swimming pools, and $3,250,000 for flood protection.

Primarily, the councilmen agreed with the proposals of the administration. Major changes included the insertion of the swimming pool issue in the package and slashing of the flood prevention allocation.

Also criticized was Mayor Westlake's plans for hurrying the extension of Grandview-av across the Columbus State Hospital grounds to W. Broad-st. Councilmen felt that this should wait until the route of the west freeway was definite.

The flood improvement allocation was cut because it was argued that Columbus should seek an overall solution to the flood problem without merely making local channel improvements.

The charter changes which will be on the ballot would increase the number of council-

Possible Public Meet Suggestion Uncertain

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

A surface flooding problem, tagged by chief sewage engineer Carl W. Schoene as the "Bliss Run Project," moved into its primary planning stages this week.

Schoene indicated that the only thing holding up the project is a pending sewer and drain bond issue slated for the Nov. 8 ballot.

Out of a total 13 possible solutions to the problem, later narrowed down to three by the sewer chief, plan "A-1" was finally decided upon to handle the flood situation.

This plan involves construction of 4500-feet of 102-inch diameter sewer located mostly in the present ditch and under the two lakes from Livingston-av to Alum Creek.

"This plan is, however, subject to double checking," Schoene said.

Since an estimated number of approximately 15,000 residents are affected by the sewer situation, Schoene stated that a public meeting might be held in Brookwood Presbyterian Church to explain plans and progress to Berwick residents.

"Such a meeting is uncertain," said Schoene. A large majority of the residents affected live in Bexley, north of Livingston-av.

Under the proposed plan there would be no flow into the ditch or lakes except during heavy local storms unless a pumping station were to be constructed near Livingston-av to pump well water into the present channel to maintain water level in the lakes, the chief explained.

"Except for the complete closure of the ditch from Livingston-av to a point 500-feet south," Schoene said, "the remainder of the ditch and lakes would be restored eventually to a condition approximating the present water course."

When did the surface flooding problem become of importance? Schoene explained it this way.

"We've had a problem in the Berwick area since 1940. It was unimportant until the last five or six years."

The Kenwick-rd and Livingston-av area floods during moderately heavy rains when Bliss Run, a ditch, and Upper and Lower Lakes in Berwick cannot accomodate the runoff.

The Bexley area, north of Livingston, also floods due to a restricted outlet of Bliss Run at Livingston-av.

The engineering contract for the project has been awarded to Bonnom, Kuck, Grant and Brundage.

Bexley Sees '61 Surplus Of $400,000

A $400,000 nest egg is being anticipated at Bexley by the end of 1961 which could be used to hatch future improvements.

The budget for next year, approved at this week's council session, calls for estimated receipts of $842,636 with expenditures estimated at $448,035, leaving a $394,823 surplus.

The largest amounts of revenue are expected to come from property taxes, $185,000, and inheritance taxes, $100,000.

Another interesting financial item, which may show why the city rates low each year in fatal traffic accidents: estimated re-

Main-Hamilton Plat Meet Set

Whitehall solons have scheduled a meeting for next Monday at 9 p.m. with the planning and zoning commission to discuss the Main-Hamilton subdivison plat.

Bernhard-rd area residents oppose the acceptance of the plat at Tuesday night's council meeting.

LIKE A DUCK OUT OF WATER

AW, HECK!—In the heat of the day, a guy likes to play, especially when weather is fair. But, what can he do, now, might I ask you, when his pool is up in the air? Such might be the lamentations of Jere Singleton, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Singleton, of 378 S. Ashburton, as he forlornly meditates over the situation pictured. Like they say, you can take a duck from the water, but you can't take the water from a duck.

AARON ROSE OF NEW JERSEY
Pistol Packin' Poppa

Three Quarters Of A Century Later, He's Still Firing Away

When the man from New Jersey came to town, he didn't waste any time but headed straight for the firing line.

For all of his three-quarters of a century plus one year, he aimed carefully, squeezed steadily and shot true.

Aaron Rose, sculptor, handler of guns, is a lively 76—and he knows what to do with a .32, or a .22 or a .45, for that matter.

He is the father of James Rose, of 4532 Rodney-rd, and he is here to compete with his firearms over the Olympic course at Perry this week.

He is a certified instructor in firearms and holds a marksman classification.

"I started in" shooting in 1902," he related. "Got off of it during the years, but my son made me jealous with his shooting and so here I am again."

His "again" started five years ago, and last year he was the third oldest shooter at Perry, he said.

He can handle a .22, a .32 police special and a .45 and he has his own reloading equipment.

Rose was born in the East Side of New York City and is "one of the last members of the Grand Street Boys — Al Smith and his group."

Although, his looks, his actions and his wit belie his age, he pointed out that he was "just 15 years old at the time of the Spanish American War."

At Perry this week, he was scheduled, he said, to shoot in the National Matches including the international slow fire and rapid fire tests.

Later this summer he plans on attending a refreshening instructors school at Fort Benning in advanced marksmanship.

Of his professon of sculptoring he says, "I'm the commercial kind, not the nude model type."

Of his comment on the different type of pistols to which he is used to firing, he said: "The .22 and .32 are relatively easy to handle.

"But I'm getting at the age now that when I shoot a .45 and can still remain standing I'm satisfied."

At the "age where he is now," most people would like to be able to lift a .45.

Bishop To Officiate At Seminary Student's Ordination On Aug. 6

The ordination to the Holy Priesthood of Rev. Francis Joseph Meagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Meagher, 2899 Brownlee-rd, will take place Saturday, Aug. 6 at Christ the King Church, his home parish for the last six years.

REV. F. J. MEAGHER

Officiating at the ordination ceremony for the first member of Christ the King parish will be Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann.

The ordination of Rev. Meagher would ordinarily not have been until next spring. However, when he was chosen by seminary authorities at Mount St. Mary's, in Norwood, to act as a prefect during his last year of studies, his ordination was set for August.

Rev. Meagher will offer his first solemn mass on Sunday, Aug. 7, at 12:30 p.m. and a benediction and his first priestly blessing at 7:30 that evening.

Following the ordination a dinner for the bishop and the clergy will be given. Dinner for the clergy and relatives will be given following the evening ceremony. Both are being prepared by the ladies of the parish unit of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women.

A reception will follow the evening benediction and blessing.

A student at Groveport schools from the first through the 10th grades. Rev. Meagher was graduated from St. Charles High School. He entered St. Charles Minor Seminary in 1953 and received his B.A. degree in 1957.

He then went on to Mount St. Mary's where he will begin his fourth year of theology and his last year of training for the priesthood this fall.

Rev. Meagher's sister, Sister M. Paulette, OSF, will be present for the ordination and first mass. She is a member of the Franciscan Sisters of Penance and Christian Charity of Stella Niagara, N.Y.

Committeemen To Go Together On New Choice

Whitehall Democratic ward committeemen will meet sometime before Aug. 6 to select a replacement for Third Ward Committeeman Paul Haytcher, who is resigning due to a change in address.

Fourth Ward Committeeman Gilbert O'Shaughnessy stated that Committeemen Carl Weisenbach and Robert Garnon and he will get together to discuss a replacement. Weisenbach is in charge of the first ward and Garnon heads the second.

Garnon, who recently moved into a council seat is expected to be replaced as committeeman by Henry Maxfield, if and when the new solon decides to resign, O'Shaughnessy said.

County Fairgrounds Getting Spruced

The 47th edition of the Franklin County Fair is already assured of being the biggest — at least as far as length is concerned.

Beginning with activities on Monday, Aug. 15, the annual event at the Hilliard fairgrounds will continue for five days and six nights, according to an announcement by Ray Dellinger, president of the Franklin County Agricultural Society.

Dellinger said, "It is our aim to make the 1960 Franklin County Fair even better than last year, when it was named the "Blue Ribbon" Fair of Ohio for 1959.

The Franklin County Engineering Dept. has been busy making improvements and painting some of the fair buildings.

General road superintendent Jack Kienle said the department has been working on the roads in the fairgrounds, resurfacing some and rebuilding others.

Eight hundred feet of macadem roading will allow for easier access to the cattle barns. Fairgoers entering the main gate of the fair, will notice the 500 feet of new blacktop roadway leading from the entrance down to the end of the grandstand.

All entries in the Garden Club division of the Fair must be made by Aug. 8. A list of classifications may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Mary Brush at TR. 6-7267.

August 15 will be set-up day for the fair and a full calendar of events will run from then right up to closing time on Aug. 20th.

Harness racing will again be one of the main attractions of the fair, just as in the past. Over 280 entrants have been registered for the Home Talent Stake races, with horses born, bred and raised right here in Ohio. There will be three full nights of racing, with the pari-mutuel windows opening at 8 p.m. each night.

Set-up day will be climaxed with a rodeo and wild west show in front of the grandstand. The fair will officially open on Tuesday morning with the judging of the various entries taking place and the midway attractions and rides opening.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will be complete fair days with the Harness Racing program closing out each day's activity.

Last day of the fair will be Saturday and the last event on schedule is in the grandstand, the Jole Chitwood Thrill Show.

Surface Flooding Problem Enters 'Remedy' Stage

Possible Public Meet Suggestion Uncertain

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

A surface flooding problem, tagged by chief sewage engineer Carl W. Schoene as the "Bliss Run Project," moved into its primary planning stages this week.

Schoene indicated that the only thing holding up the project is a pending sewer and drain bond issue slated for the Nov. 8 ballot.

Out of a total 13 possible solutions to the problem, later narrowed down to three by the sewer chief, plan "A-1" was finally decided upon to handle the flood situation.

This plan involves construction of 4500-feet of 102-inch diameter sewer located mostly in the present ditch and under the two lakes from Livingston-av to Alum Creek.

"This plan is, however, subject to double checking," Schoene said.

Since an estimated number of approximately 15,000 residents are affected by the sewer situation, Schoene stated that a public meeting might be held in Brookwood Presbyterian Church to explain plans and progress to Berwick residents.

"Such a meeting is uncertain," said Schoene. A large majority of the residents affected live in Bexley, north of Livingston-av.

Under the proposed plan there would be no flow into the ditch or lakes except during heavy local storms unless a pumping station were to be constructed near Livingston-av to pump well water into the present channel to maintain water level in the lakes, the chief explained.

"Except for the complete closure of the ditch from Livingston-av to a point 500-feet south," Schoene said, "the remainder of the ditch and lakes would be restored eventually to a condition approximating the present water course."

When did the surface flooding problem become of importance? Schoene explained it this way.

"We've had a problem in the Berwick area since 1940. It was unimportant until the last five or six years."

The Kenwick-rd and Livingston-av area floods during moderately heavy rains when Bliss Run, a ditch, and Upper and Lower Lakes in Berwick cannot accomodate the runoff.

The Bexley area, north of Livingston, also floods due to a restricted outlet of Bliss Run at Livingston-av.

The engineering contract for the project has been awarded to Bonnom, Kuck, Grant and Brundage.

Bond Issue, Proposals On Ballot

A ballot loaded with million dollar questions will be facing Columbus voters this fall.

And attached to the same form will be proposals to alter five sections of the city's charter.

City Councilmen last week agreed upon a four-part capital improvement bond issue which includes:

$9,580,000 for improvement of the city sewerage system, $6,900,000 for street improvements, $5,278,000 for parks, including the construction of swimming pools, and $3,250,000 for flood protection.

Primarily, the councilmen agreed with the proposals of the administration. Major changes included the insertion of the swimming pool issue in the package and slashing of the flood prevention allocation.

Also criticized was Mayor Westlake's plans for hurrying the extension of Grandview-av across the Columbus State Hospital grounds to W. Broad-st. Councilmen felt that this should wait until the route of the west freeway was definite.

The flood improvement allocation was cut because it was argued that Columbus should seek an overall solution to the flood problem without merely making local channel improvements.

The charter changes which will be on the ballot would increase the number of council-

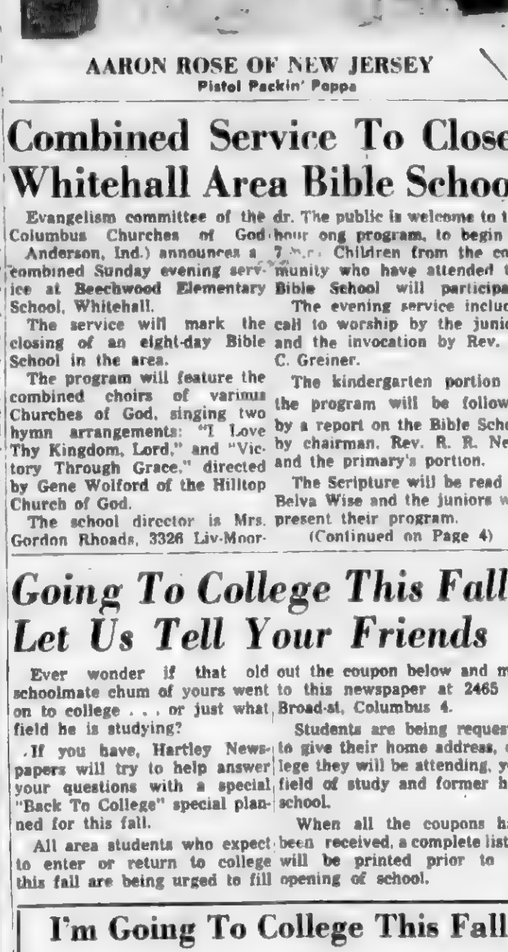
Bexley Sees '61 Surplus Of$400,000



A $400,000 nest egg is being anticipated at Bexley by the end of 1961 which could be used to hatch future improvements.

The budget for next year, approved at this week's council session, calls for estimated receipts of $842,858 with expenditures estimated at $448,035, leaving a $394,823 surplus.

The largest amounts of revenue are expected to come from property taxes, $185,000, and inheritance taxes $100,000.

AARON ROSE OF NEW JERSEY
Pistol Packin' Pappa

Three Quarters Of A Century Later, He's Still Firing Away

When the man from New Jersey came to town, he didn't waste any time but headed straight for the firing line.

For all of his three-quarters of a century plus one year, he aimed carefully, squeezed steadily and shot true.

Aaron Rose, sculptor, handler of guns, is a lively 76—and he knows what to do with a .32, or a .22 or a .45, for that matter.

He is the father of James Rose, of 4532 Rodney-rd, and he is here to compete with his firearms over the Olympic course at Perry this week.

He is a certified instructor in firearms and holds a marksman classification.

"I started in shooting in 1902," he related. "Got off of it during the years, but my son made me jealous with his shooting, and so here I am again."

His "again" started five years ago, and last year he was the third oldest shooter at Perry, he said.

He can handle a .22, a .32 police special and a .45 and he has his own reloading equipment.

Rose was born in the East Side of New York City and is "one of the last members of the Grand Street Boys — Al Smith and his group."

Although, his looks, his actions and his wit belie his age, he pointed out that he was "just 15 years old at the time of the Spanish American War."

At Perry this week, he was scheduled, he said, to shoot in the National Matches including the international slow fire and rapid fire tests.

Bishop To Officiate At Seminary Student's Ordination On Aug. 6

The ordination to the Holy Priesthood of Rev. Francis Joseph Meagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Meagher, 2899 Brownlee-rd, will take place Saturday, Aug. 6 at Christ the King Church, his home parish for the last six years.

REV. F. J. MEAGHER

Officiating at the ordination ceremony for the first member of Christ the King parish will be Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann.

The ordination of Rev. Meagher would ordinarily not have been until next spring. However, when he was chosen by seminary authorities at Mount St. Mary's, in Norwood, to act as a prefect during his last year of studies, his ordination was set for August.

Rev. Meagher will offer his first solemn mass on Sunday, Aug. 7, at 12:30 p.m. and a benediction and his first priestly blessing at 7:30 that evening.

Following the ordination a dinner for the bishop and the clergy will be given. Dinner for the clergy and relatives will be given following the evening ceremony. Both are being prepared by the ladies of the parish unit of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women.

A reception will follow the evening benediction and blessing.

A student at Groveport schools from the first through the 10th grades, Rev. Meagher was graduated from St. Charles High School. He entered St. Charles Minor Seminary in 1953 and received his B.A. degree in 1957.

He then went on to Mount St. Mary's where he will begin his fourth year of theology and his last year of training for the priesthood this fall.

Rev. Meagher's sister, Sister M. Paulette, OSF, will be present for the ordination and first mass. She is a member of the Franciscan Sisters of Penance and Christian Charity of Stella Niagara, N.Y.

LIKE A DUCK OUT OF WATER

AW, HECK!—In the heat of the day, a guy likes to play, especially when weather is fair. But, what can he do, now, might I ask you, when his pool is up in the air? Such might be the lamentations of Jere Singleton, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Singleton, of 378 S. Ashburton, as he forlornly meditates over the situation pictured. Like they say, you can take a duck from the water, but you can't take the water from a duck.

Town-Country 'Dollar Days' Coming Friday, Saturday

Town and Country Shopping Center, in the "Miracle Mile," 3600-4000 E. Broad-st, is staging its semi-annual "Dollar Days" Friday and Saturday of this week.

This great sales event has been several months in the planning. A large segment of the participating stores have made special purchases for this sale.

In addition, the last arrival of hot summer weather has reduced the demand for summer wearable and outdoor living items. Hence, stores are generally overstocked in summer merchandise and this will be cleared at unprecedented low prices.

A 16-page tabloid inserted in this paper lists the exciting buys available at Town and Country this weekend.

Town and Country, now in its 11th year, has grown from a start of 20 stores to a total of 85 today. Thus, it is one of the nation's largest and most successful centers.

Shopping at Town and Country is a "Family Affair" . . . Casual dress, free and unlimited parking, pleasant background music, canopied walks, friendly salespeople and a vast variety of merchandise selections at popular prices, combine to make Town and Country a "City Within A City."

Foremen's Club Elects Its Veep

Alfred E. Smith

Alfred E. Smith, 3032 Bellwood-ct, was elected vice-president in charge of membership at a recent meeting of the Foremen's Club of Columbus.

Smith, employed for the last eight years with the Kroger Company, is now manager of product development and quality control.

Active in the Foremen's Club, he served as chairman of the program committee and as a member of the Board of Directors last year. The 1957 president of the Kroger Management Club, Smith was a member of its Board of Control from 1955 to 1957.

The Foreman's Club of Columbus, Incorporated is a "purely educational, non-partisan, not for profit, not for collective bargaining" organization which is "dedicated to the job of development and improvement of foremen and supervisors as responsible members of management," according to Robert B. Cope, publicity chairman.

The club has grown from its original 92 members representing 23 companies in September, 1939, to the city's largest service club for management with approximately 1800 members.

THE AUTOGRAPH SIGNER—The crowd gathers around to catch a glimpse and a signature from Curt Davis, the itinerant musician. Davis was at the Christian Book Store Monday, signing autographs on his first record release.

Musician Davis Is Crowd Charmer

The crowd gathered around the gentleman with the silver-white hair as he continued to talk and autograph his latest record album.

The man was Curt Davis, itinerant musician and the described scene was taking place Monday at the Christian Book Store, 179 S. High-st.

Davis was on hand during the late afternoon and into the night talking, smiling, and signing albums.

"Uncle Curt," as the kids fondly have labeled him, was on his feet most of the day, except for the times he rested from the "pen in hand" excercise at the Hammond organ.

Davis, who resides in Indianapolis, with his family, can be found quite often away from his home base, conducting music at many evangelistic style meetings.

All in all, he has traveled over 300,000 miles for meetings and radio appearances. At one time, for a period of 13 years, he was the accompanist for the largest organized choir in the world. It consisted of some 1400 voices, according to Davis.

The album he has recorded is his first published one. At the present time, in his travels, he uses a concert model Hammond organ. The first one, which had accompanied him for more than 13 years, was traded in on the present one, he said.

Before he went on the road, he was, for a number of years, the organist of the Cadle Tabernacle at Indianapolis.

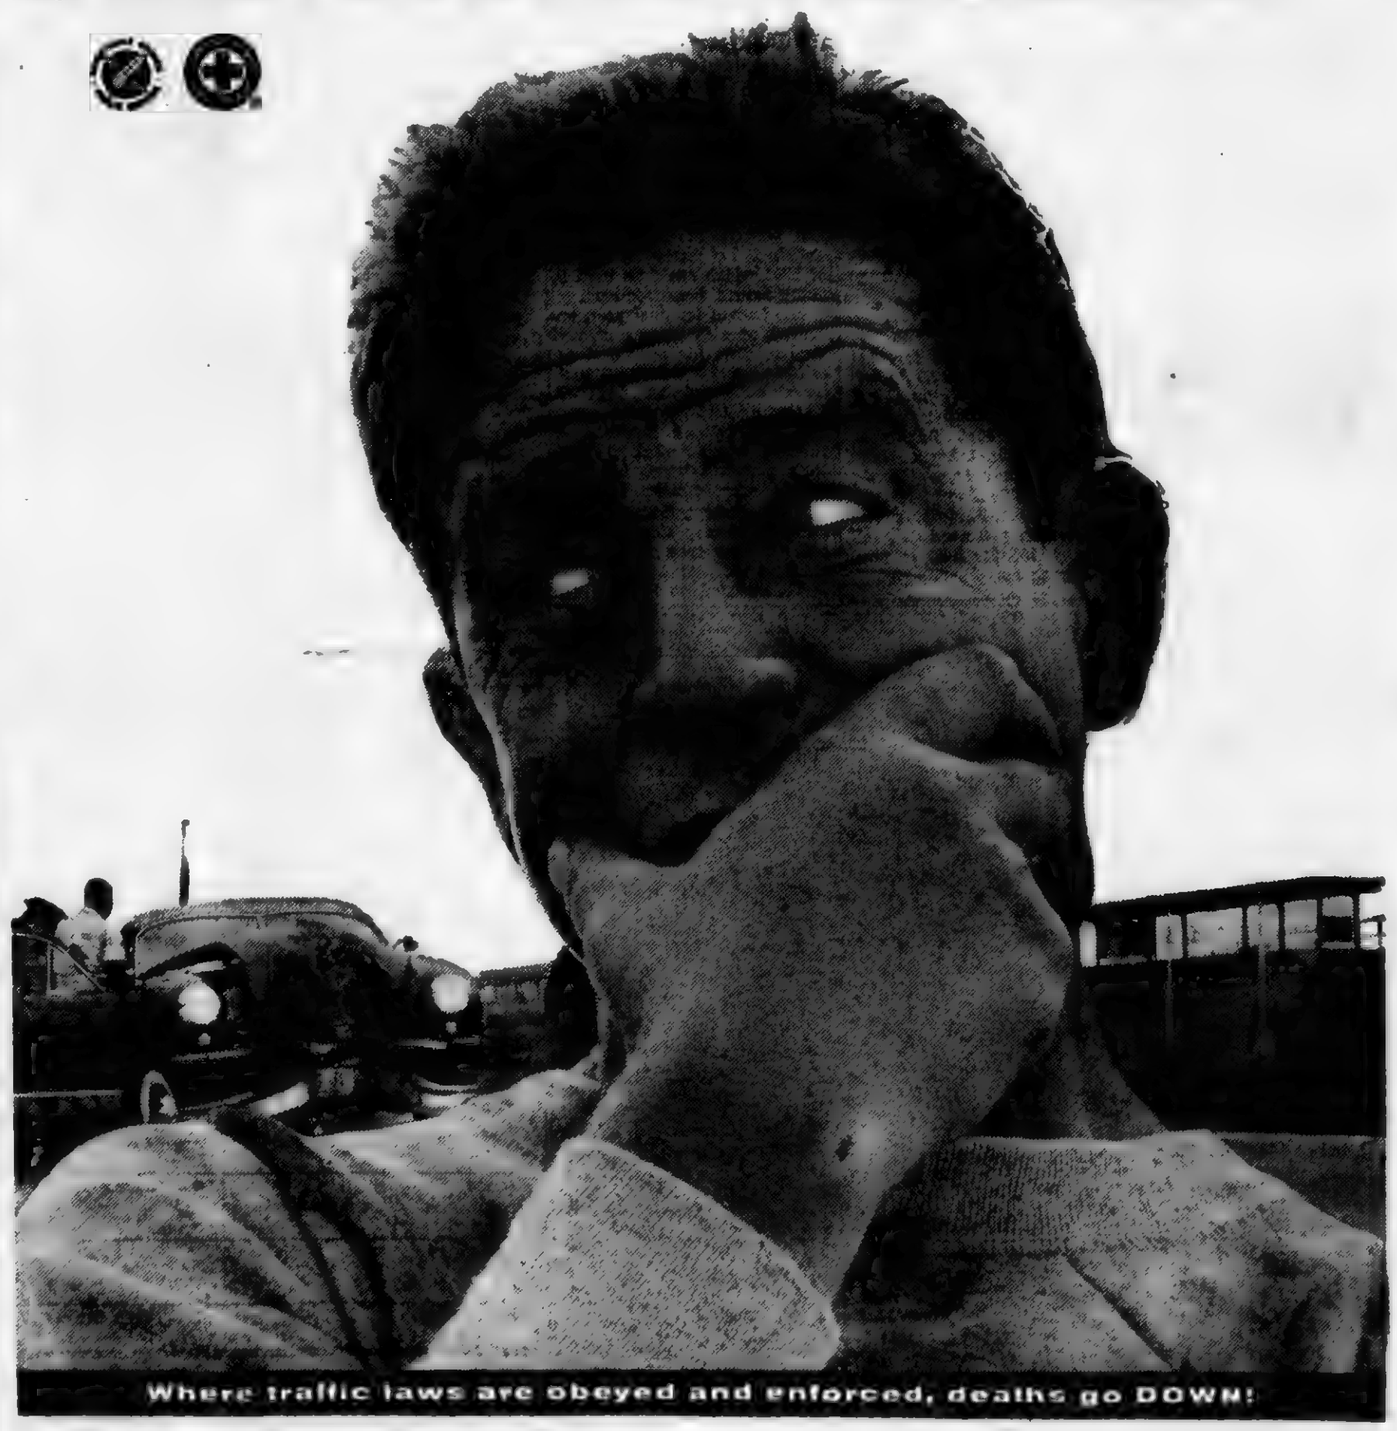
Kresge Sets 93rd Birthday

Over nine decades ago, July 31, 1867, Sebastian Spering Kresge was born in Scranton, Pa. With him was born the typical success story of rags to riches.



In Detroit, Mich., 1899, Kresge began his chain-store career by opening a shop which boasted of selling "Nothing Over a Dime." Since that time he has founded 750 stores throughout the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico.

During his life-time, he founded the Kresge Foundation Center, concerned with the "betterment of mankind." The foundation gave aid to education, religion, care of children and aged people. Since 1924, he has made 14 separate gifts to the foundation totaling $60,577,183.

On his 93rd birthday, the growth of the huge business enterprise and beneficiaries of the foundation are fulfilling the ambitions of Sebastian Kresge, a man whose fortune was founded on nickels and dimes.

"Stewing about my job certainly wasn't worth this!"

Your future's not safe when your mind's off the road! Your eyes may be on the road but you won't see what's ahead unless your mind's there, too. How else can you anticipate what other drivers may do? How else can you react quickly enough? Last year 37,000 people died in traffic accidents. Many might still be alive if they had kept their minds as well as eyes on the road. Look ahead—see ahead—and live!

STEEL MILLS CHOSE NATURAL GAS ...IN 1874

IN 1874, THE ENTERPRISING FIRM OF ROGERS & BIRCHFIELD, IN LEECHBURG, PA., BECAME THE FIRST COMPANY TO MAKE IRON AND STEEL WITH NATURAL GAS. IT WAS USED AS A BOILER FUEL, FOR PUDDLING AND FOR HEATING FURNACES.

NOW, NATURAL GAS IS USED IN COUNTLESS WAYS IN MAKING STEEL, ALUMINUM, GLASS, BRASS, CERAMICS, BRICK AND MANY OTHER INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTS. ONE-FIFTH OF ALL INDUSTRIAL USERS OF NATURAL GAS ARE LOCATED HERE IN AMERICA'S ORIGINAL NATURAL GASLAND. THE AVAILABILITY AND EFFICIENCY OF THIS LOW-COST FUEL CONTINUES TO ATTRACT INDUSTRY. THAT'S ONE REASON WHY NATURAL GAS CONTINUES TO BE THE PREFERRED FUEL THROUGHOUT THE SEVEN-STATE REGION WHERE COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM SERVES.

LADY LIONS HOLD SWIM FOR BLIND

MAKIN' A SPLASH—Eight blind children, ranging in ages from six to 13, were treated to a swimming party by the East Columbus Lions Auxiliary. The event, headed by Mrs. Gerald Burgess, was held at the home of the group's secretary, Mrs. Frank Heisel, 6905 Central College-rd, New Albany. Each lady Lion was assigned to a child and regular Lions clubbers acted as life guards. The group staged a picnic for the children last month.

WBBA TEAMS FETED TO PICNIC

Fairmoor Playground youngsters had 30 entries in the annual Lantern Parade July 21.

Columbus Recreation Department sponsored the parade which was held at Schiller Park. Emphasis was placed on individual effort with each child making a lantern representing a fruit.

Last week the children had a treasure hunt. After an afternoon of searching, Mickey Moore was selected the winner.

Friday, Fairmoor had a picnic to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Columbus Recreation Department. Hot dogs and marshmallows were roasted over an open fire.

A bicycle show will be held at the playground Friday, July 29. Winners will be judged on the basis of safety and beauty.

The main thousand dollar balance by the end of '61 will be up nearly $30,000 from the end of this year.

Deeds of the past caught up with actions of the present in solon chambers Tuesday night.

The deeds in this case are legal documents. The actions came when a 'local resident ... to install' fairness on ... with ... ing Inspector ... A. Montgomery put a stop to the move under the basis of ordinances passed in the '20s.

The act approved July 11 1929 states that 'glass cannot be put in lieu of screening.' The other ordinance passed in 1922 defines what a porch is and the zoning regulations covering porches.

Council heard the matter over ... Law Solicitor Howard C. Park who commented that no opinion would be forthcoming ... tonight.

Assessments for the improvements of Mayfield dr and Bernadette drive were given second endorsement.

No further action is being contemplated at the time on the Capital University zoning proposal. The university would like the use of more land on which to erect dormitories and a president's home.

The zoning commission council learned neither approved disapproved nor made any suggestions on the matter.

Councilman J. Rolo Crabb commented that 'some of the residents made some pretty fair arguments' about the proposed zoning at a recent public hearing.

A decision on the matter will probably not be made before autumn as council has adjourned until September.

Agenda Changes Made By Council Chief Willis

New hours and a new format will greet the public at Whitehall's council session Tuesday.

President E. D. Willis, ever in a mood to expedite legislative matters and to mesh the different attitudes expressed in council chambers, last week pushed through some changes in council rules.

Regular solons' sessions will commence at 8 p.m. Council committee meetings are slated for 7 p.m. Council has five committees. They will convene at alternate meeting dates. Willis expressed probably two at each scheduled session.

After the routine opening, invocation and roll call reports and recommendations of standing committees on old business, that which has just been heard at committee meetings," will get the president's call.

Third readings will then be gone into, he pointed out. "Action will be taken on items pre-

The public will then be heard from, Willis said, and next the officials will give their reports ... ed at committee meetings.

The purpose," willis said, "is to get at the ordinances early in the agenda while they are ... ll fresh in the public's mind."

Second, then first readings will be heard.

"During the legislative period of the agenda throughout the ... oard through first readings, the public will not be recognized—for comments or for remarks—except at the request of a councilman."

Committee heads will then go into new business individual reports will be heard and the public will then be recognized."

"At this time, the committees, the officials and the public can make known their views on the ordinances that have been read."

Willis admitted that the five minute time rule to limit speakers has not been adhered to closely. He pointed out that speakers can present their views twice for five minutes each time.

"But even if they yield the floor to another speaker," the council president stressed, "they still have only the total time limit of 10 minutes to abide by."

ADDS PORCH

Mr and Mrs George E Mumma 291 Drexel av, received a permit to build a screened porch addition. Jack Kiena is the contractor.

Eastview Church To Hear Guest Ministers Speak

Target Shooting Is Lot Of Fun If Done In Safe Surroundings

Ever since the birth of the nation, shooting has been a national pastime. This sport has always had an especial appeal to youngsters, particularly when the .22 caliber rifle is the firearm used. During the summer months is an ideal time for .22 rifle practice.

The first thing anyone, youngster or adult, should think about in connection with firmarm practice is a safe place to shoot. Start out right by finding a location that is absolutely safe for rapid-fire shooting of movable and breakable targets. The Central Ohio Hunters' and Anglers' Club has provided a range that many youngsters in this area have used in learning to shoot. The Camp Lazarus Scout Reservation has an excellent shooting program under the direction of the Southwest District Scout Executive Bill Lindsay, 163½ S. Ogden.

One type of safe place is a plot of ground where a nearby hill or a cut bank affords a positive backstop. This backstop must be free from rocks, fences or other hard objects which would cause a bullet to ricochet, and endanger persons or property beyond it. You should be wary of shooting in old gravel pits and rock quarries—rock is almost always present.

Old Railroad Ties Suggested

On flat land a backstop can be constructed of old railroad ties and other heavy waste lumber. When shooting into this type of material be sure the area beyond is absolutely clear. Do not shoot into a woods or brush, for a person or livestock could wander into range.

While outdoor shooting offers more summertime fun, you should not overlook the fact that indoor ranges are comparatively easy to build and afford excellent opportunities for practice. These ranges are usually limited to not more than 50 feet. Quite often the distance is reduced to as little as 20 feet. Here again, safety is the prime consideration. It is necessary to provide a safe backstop and the entire end of the range should be so constructed that there is no danger of bullets penerating thin walls and endangering life and property.

The newer air guns, both pump type and those using cardon dioxide cartridges, are accurate and are good guns to use for indoor practice. These come in many styles and handguns and rifles are available.

Outdoor shooting with a .22 rifle offers sport of a varied nature, ranging from big matches where precision shooting is the order of the day, to plain ordinary informal plinking for pleasure and practice. There are all sorts of competitive games which two or more shooters can play. It is easy enough for the shooters to devise their own games to suit existing conditions.

Among the many good things about using a .22 is that it teaches youngsters how to handle a real gun safely and well—that is, if an adult is along who knows how to give instruction along these lines. Come hunting season, that boy who is eager to shoot a gun will be experienced in the handling of firearms.

Consumer Report

Food Market This Week

by ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Peaches, watermelon, cantaloupe, summer apples, lemons.

Vegetables—Sweet corn, snap beans, cabbage, lettuce, tomatoes.

MAKE MINE PEACHES 'N CREAM

Aren't you glad you didn't live in the day of the ancient Romans when a single peach sold for $1.80? Today, even though fresh peaches are reasonably priced, we still consider them a seasonal treat. The fresh peach season is here, and—it is short. So, many of us put aside other work to can and freeze the peaches, to make our jams and marmalades, as well as use them for every-day enjoyment.

THIS YEAR'S OHIO PEACH CROP is expected to be a good one Marketing specialists estimate the 1960 Ohio peach crop at around 900,000 bushels. This is about 100,000 bushels above last year's small crop. However, the total U.S. crop is expected to be about the same as last year.

BUY BY LOOKS—The pink blush on peaches is only part of the color story. Look also for what producers call "ground color." Select peaches that have a creamy or yellowish background. At this stage they will continue to ripen Peaches that have a green ground color will not ripen after picking. As for blush, some varieties have it, some don't.

PASS UP over-ripe, shriveled, or bruised peaches. Avoid those with hard knots or decayed spots. Unless you get these peaches at greatly reduced cost, extra time required, plus low yield, may make them an expensive purchase. Fresh peaches are very perishable; they bruise easily. Partially ripened peaches will "mellow up" at room temperature. Store ripe ones in the refrigerator.

RIPENING DATES—If you have a favorite variety for eating fresh, for canning, for freezing, the following table can serve as a guide for approximate ripening dates for Ohio peaches:

Redhaven*	July 30
Golden Jubilee	Aug. 4
Fairhaven	Aug. 10
Sunhigh	Aug. 10
South Haven	Aug. 15
Hale Haven	Aug. 17
Elberta	Aug. 28
J. H. Hale	Sept. 1
Shippers Late Red	Sept. 3

*Best variety for freezing—non-browning.

Case Farm Show Slated This Year

Farm-Orama, the moving dynamic agricultural exposition will be held at the Russell P. Case Farms located north of Richwood, or about 15 miles southeast of Marion, Sept. 8, 9, and 10.

A big addition to Farm-Orama this year will be the showing of the major lines of farm machinery and many allied products. Various lines of machinery will be used for demonstration purposes.

Farmers want to see machinery in action. City people will want to see the modern improvements in agriculture today. All this can be seen at Farm Orama.

Management of this farm show has set aside 600 acres of level Ohio farm land. This land has been planted to hay, corn, and soybeans which will be harvested during the three-day event.

Farm machinery representatives will be on hand to answer any questions but no pressure selling will be done.

NEW WVKO AM-FM STUDIOS OPENED WEDNESDAY

WVKO Opens New Station On Henderson-rd Wednesday

WVKO assumes a look in Columbus this week.

On Wednesday, the radio station was to formally open its new studios and offices at 2495 Henderson-rd in Upper Arlington with city and state dignitaries along with newspaper, radio, television, advertising agency people and clients invited to inspect the new facilities.

WVKO-FM began broadcasting from new studies at 27 S. Third-st in downtown Columbus in November, 1948. In November, 1951, AM broadcasting was added to the FM programming, but without the fanfare accorded the beginning of FM.

With radio broadcasting changing vastly during the past decade, so have the nine offices and three broadcasting studios of WVKO AM and FM, in the new building.

With few "live" broadcasts, the studios are smaller, but much more efficient, with the latest technical equipment that allows "smooth" operation of all programming.

Bert Charles, general manager of WVKO since 1949 has a staff of 24 helping in the operation of WVKO-AM, broadcasting from sun-up to sun-down and WVKO-FM, programming continuous music, from 8 a.m. until 11 p.m., daily.

Listeners are invited to look over the station, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. through Friday.

'Of Mice And Men' Is Under Way At Ohio State University's Theatre

By Larry G. Holmes

John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" is under way at Ohio State University's Stadium Theatre and will continue until Saturday, July 30.

"Of Mice and Men" shows the tragic comradeship of Lennie, a huge, blundering, simple-witted youth whose innocent pleasure is to pet small, furry animals, whose vice is his crazy strength that kills the things he loves to touch, and George, a wiry, roadwise wanderer whose chief job in life is looking after and protecting Lennie.

Both George and Lennie portray drifting ranch hands who dream of a piece of land where they can "belong." George keeps Lennie under control by mentioning a rabbit farm they will have one day, where Lennie may look after the rabbits if he is good.

A restless and bored girl, wife of the rancher's son at a ranch in the Salenas Valley of California, leads them to destruction.

John Mason Brown said "Of Mice and Men" is an event for adults, not for children of all ages. After all, adults do deserve some consideration in the theatre."

Tickets can be purchased at the Stadium Theatre Box Office at Gate 10 of the OSU Stadium. "World Wide 60" will mark the 50th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America by a special program on Saturday, July 30, ience to rules and regulations at 9 30 p m on Channel 4.

Herb Shriner will be host and narrator for the hour long documentary. He will tell the personalized story of the boys who will participate in the Annual Boy Scout Jamboree at Colorado Springs

Gregory Schuck, 14, star Scout, and Joseph Darago, 16, Explorer Scout, both of North Brunswick, N.J., will figure prominently in the show with Shriner.

Republicans will wrap up their National Convention July 28 with the two chosen men giving their acceptance speeches. All local channels will cover the final session.

On Baseball Game of the Week Pittsburgh will tussle with Chicago, Saturday at 1:15 p.m. on Channel 10.

Grove City Man Hits Jackpot

A Grove City fisherman recently hit the jackpot at Rocky Fork Lake, Highland County, according to the Division of Wildlife.

When angler C. K. Whitman checked into the Sunset Dock, mouths fell open as he pulled up his stringers and exhibited not one, but four muskies.

The "fighting tigers" weighed 10, 10¼, 11¼ and 11⅝ pounds.

Was Whitman using some "secret" bait or lure? He was trolling with a green and yellow bomber type lure, a bait which takes from 90 to 95 percent of all muskies taken from the lake, according to local landing operators.

"Today he discovered cellophane tape!"

Some Household Workers Not Getting Social Security

Some household workers in Franklin County are not receiving social security credit for their earnings, according to D. L. Charles, District Director of Internal Revenue and C. C. Darby, Manager of the Social Security District Office.

The law makes employers responsible for reporting for social security purposes the cash wages they pay to workers in their household, said Charles. "Household workers who receive $50·00 or more in cash wages during a calendar quarter have earned social security credits for that period. This might be as little work as $4.00 per week. These workers should make sure that their employers report their wages because social security credits are based on these reports."

The law requires the employer to report the cash wages paid to household workers to the District Director of Internal Revenue, together with the social security tax due on these wages. The report must show the name, social security account number of the worker, and the amount of the wages paid.

The next quarterly report is due by July 31.

New Method To Piling Spoil Banks

A new method of piling spoil banks during coal strip-mining operations was shown to a group of 25 foresters and reclamation men by the Ohio Power Company.

"The technique is to pile subsoil on top of the spoils instead of burying it with rock and other debris," explained R. J. Dickman, chief of the Ohio Division of Reclamation. "This leaves a better planting site for trees on all of the spoil except that left from the last cut, and is a very important development in reclamation work."

The technique was worked out during the past year largely by R. V. Crews, assistant mining manager of the Central Ohio Coal Company, a wholly-owned subsidary of Ohio Power Company.

"It is mainly a matter of training equipment operators," Crews told the group.

"In addition to the improved quality of the surface material, a more continuous ridge of spoil is left which also makes planting easier."

EARLY DETECTION

No one method of detecting cancer is totally certain, doctors say, but one of the best and easiest ways is the regular X-ray examination. Time and again medical authorities point out doctors have found an unsuspected cancer in a routine X-ray examination, and sometimes this discovery has saved a life.

Modern Jam Method Needs No Cooking, No Paraffin

By Estelle B. Franks

Nowadays jam and jelly making can be cool work. New frozen jams and jellies need little or no cooking.

Best of all, they have more fresh fruit flavor, color and aroma than cooked jam and jellies. They have more vitamins, too!

Now-style jams, jellies and spreads are easy to make and store. They can be made from fresh fruit in the summer or frozen fruit in the winter.

Here's a quick and easy jam recipe using fresh peaches.

Uncooked Peach Jam

Combine three cups of crushed peaches (approximately two and one-half pounds of fresh peaches) with five cups of sugar. Mix well and let stand for 20 minutes.

Dissolve one package of powdered pectin in one cup water; bring to a boil, and boil for one minute. Add pectin to the fruit and sugar mixture and stir for two minutes.

Pour into jars, cover with lids. Paraffin is not needed. Let stand at room temperature 24 to 48 hours or until the jam has set. Store in the freezer.

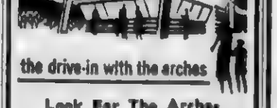
If the jam is to be used within a few weeks, refrigeration will do. When frozen jam is thawed, store in the refrigerator and use the jam within a few days.

Mrs. Kleusener Will Head Holy Spirit Church Society

Altar and Rosary Society of Holy Spirit Church, 4383 E. Broad-st, Whitehall, has named new officers for the ensuing year. They will assume their duties in September.

Mrs. John Kleusener is president and other officers are Mrs. Peter Jaketic, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Alff, secretary; Mrs. James Barlow, treasurer and Mrs. Michael Brzezinski, sergeant-at-arms.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Ronald Trouten, Catholic charities; Mrs. Frank Ryan, social action and international relations; Mrs. Augustine Lotto, family life; Mrs. William Zapf, PTA; Mrs. Frank Puskar, publicity.



Mrs. Charles Alff, membership and welcoming; Mrs. Bourbon Morris, religious activities; Mrs. Bud Wagner, refreshment; Mrs. Peter Jaketic, program.

Ways and means chairman is Mrs. Roman Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Glenn Spaulding, Mrs. Charles Alff, Mrs. Joseph Spencer, Mrs. Joseph Eckstein and Mrs. E. F. Schum.

Historian and parliamentarian is Mrs. Robert Grannan; missions, Mrs. Michael Brzezinski; sacristy, Mrs. J. F. Schwendeman and Mrs. Ralph Deeds.

Altar, Mrs. Floyd Decker; telephone, Mrs. James Toomey and Mrs. Edward Thompson; Christ in Christmas, Mrs. R. R. Groce; better entertainment, Mrs. James Barlow, and sunshine, Mrs. William Murphy.

Ex-Members Of Cap Staff To Visit Here

Dr. and Mrs. Harm Harms, former staff members of Capital University, will greet Columbus friends and show slides on Guam and their trip around the world during the summer of '58, Sunday, July 31, 7:30 p.m. in the lower hall of Christ Lutheran Church, 2314 E. Main-st.

Dr. and Mrs. Harms have been associated with Territorial College, Agana, Guam, for the past four years, and will return there after traveling in Japan, France, Spain, Germany, and visiting with relatives and friends in the States.

They arrived in New York early this month and visited in Massachusetts and Maine. They are now spending some time with their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Thurner (Lenita Harms) and their new grandson, Paul, in Bethlehem, Pa.

Before starting back to Guam in late August, they will visit the Russ Finley family (Anette Harms) in Phoenix, Ariz.

While in Columbus, the Harmses will be house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Ellis Snyder, 95 Eastmoor-blvd.

Smith's In Europe For Month Long Tour

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, 1069 Berkeley-rd, honored his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith, at Bonvecio's Steak House in Wainright recently.

The senior Mr. and Mrs. Smith left Port Columbus at noon Monday, July 18 for International Air Port, New York. That evening they boarded a flight for Paris.

They will attend the Passion Play at Oberammergau on July 27 and visit other points of interest in Brussels, Amsterdam, Cologne, Heidelberg, Lucerne, Venice, Florence, Rome, Pisa, Genoa, Nice, Monte Carlo, Avignon and London.

The couple will return Aug. 13.

LAWN FETE SET AT EAST CHURCH

East Columbus Christian Church will hold a lawn fete Thursday, July 28.

Sandwiches, baked beans, salads, cake, pie, ice cream and beverages will be served, starting at 5 p.m.

There will also be a bazaar, white elephant sale and entertainment.

Mrs. Andrus, Ex-Teacher, Pianist, Dies

Funeral service for Mrs. Anna Andrus, former concert pianist and teacher at Capital College of Oratory and Music, were held at the Wones and Saunders Funeral Home Saturday morning.

Mrs. Andrus died at her home, 308 Hubbard-av, at the age of 94.

In 1944 Mrs. Andrus moved to Columbus and began teaching at Capital University where she became known as "Mother Andrus" to her pupils. Every year since then she invited all her former pupils to an open house.

On her 80th birthday, Mrs. Andrus toured 42 cities in Ohio.

Failing eyesight caused her to slow her busy pace about two years ago.

The widow of Frederick Andrus, she was born in Lafayette, Ind., and studied at the Sherwood Conservatory of Music in Chicago. Her daughter, Miss Bessie Andrus, survives.

Pallbearers were Nicholas Gallagher, Sr., Thomas Gallagher, Robert Campbell, Galen Starr Ross, George Philpott and Tom Dearing.

MYRTLE L. REED

Myrtle Louise Reed, 263 Woodland-av, died Thursday in St. Anthony Hospital.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Mulligan; a son-in-law, Lawrence Mulligan; three brothers, Orland, Nelson and Thurman Zimmerman, and a sister, Mrs. Edna Anderson.

Funeral services were Tuesday at the Crosby Funeral Home. Interment was in Green Lawn Cemetery.

MARGARET M. GOLDFARB

Margaret M. Goldfarb, 54, of 291 S. Cassingham-rd died Friday morning in Grant Hospital.

She is survived by her husband, Abe (Patsy); three sons, Isaac, David and Jacob J.; two grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. William J. Bushman.

Funeral service was Sunday from the Snider Memorial Chapel with Rabbi David Stavsky and Cantor Phillip H. Gellman officiating. Burial was in New Agudas Achim Cemetery.

ROBERT KEFAUVER

Robert Kefauver, 6897 E. Main-st, died at the age of 54.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Joan Huddleson; one granddaughter, and a brother, Dr. A. L. Kefauver.

Cremation and memorial services were Monday at Cook and Son Chapel.

TERESSA FOX

Teressa Michelle Fox, two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fox, died Thursday, July 21, at her home, 348 N. Chesterfield-rd.

She is also survived by her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edison B. Edwards, Uhrichsville, and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Fox.

Mass of the Holy Angels was sung Monday in St. Thomas Church. Burial was in St. Joseph Cemetery. Arrangements were made by the Egan-Ryan Funeral Home.

ELIZABETH L. FRANZ

Miss Elizabeth L. Franz died at the age of 84 at her home, 9195 E. Broad-st.

Surviving are her brother, Charles Francis, Kellseyville, Cal.; nieces, and nephews.

Requiem Mass was sung at Our Mother of Sorrows Church on Friday. Interment was in St. Joseph.

Reception Planned Sunday For Shepard Church Pastor

A reception honoring Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Bean will be held by the congregation of Shepard Methodist Church Sunday, July 31, following the morning service.

Rev. Bean was re-appointed for the 10th year of service to Shepard Methodist Church recently by Bishop Hazen G. Werner. It is the first time in the 96-year history of Shepard Church that a pastor has served this length of time.

During Rev. Bean's ministry the sanctuary has been remodeled, a new educational addition erected, and approximately 450 members received into the church.

In addition, plans have been developed for two new churches.

Rev. Bean will give part time to the development of the second of these which will serve Mifflin, Jefferson Township and Gahanna.

Officers and members of the WSCS, under the direction of Mrs. Norman Summers, president, will serve at the reception.

WHITEHALL PLAYGROUNDS

Team Captains Named In Girls Softball Leagues

Team captains for the girls' softball league at Whitehall have been announced. Five teams constitute the Powder Puff League. The Midget League has four.

In the older girls' division, Jackie Kline heads the Honeybees; Cheryl Jones, the Fireflies; Leslie Gorman, the Blue Angels; Shirley Fletcher, the Red Devils; and Ingrid Paulson, the Carlidares.

For the Midget loop, the Etna Termites' captain is Debbie DeWitt; Etna Tiny Mites, Jackie McManus, the Norton Knockers, Patsy Kelley, and Beechwood, Leslie Robinson.

News from the other two Whitehall playgrounds.

At Beechwood, Scott Blenham was the winner of a recent checker tournament. Daniel Rapinport was treated to birthday refreshments by his mother, along with other youngsters.

At Norton, David Hutchinson is the top "weaver of lanyards." In checkers, Don Hatfield claims that he cannot be beaten.

Maureen Rooney is the "outstanding pot holder weaver." She also has given assistance to younger children.

The best horseshoe pitcher? Kitty Kelly, who can beat most boys, according to Recreation Director Ron Echer.

Bexley American Legion Post Installs Chiefs

Newly elected officers of Bexley Post 430, American Legion and Auxiliary were installed July 25 at 3227 E. Livingston-av.

Post commander slot went to Victor J. Funtjar, 1064 Eastmoor-blvd; Samuel Shenker, first vice - commander; Wayne T. Geissneer, second vice-commander; Howard R. Lewis, adjutant, and John H. Lawson, finance officer will be installed by the 12th District ritual team, headed by District Commander Frederick Williams.

Lazar Brener Is Elected

Abe A. Wolman, president of the Columbus Jewish Home for Aged, announced the appointment of Lazar D. Brener as executive director for the New Columbus Jewish Home for Aged.

The new home is expected to be under construction this fall.

Presently Brener is associate director of the Jewish Family Service. He served as assistant to Maurice Bernstein, the former director, when he first came to Columbus in 1952.

Brener received both his A.B. degree and M.S.W. graduate degree in social work at Tulane University.

He has had social service experience as a case worker in the Public Welfare Department in New Orleans, as a psychiatric social worker with the Veterans Administration Mental Hygiene Clinic in Dallas, and as a supervisor of family services in Fort Wayne before coming to Columbus.

CONSTRUCTS GARAGE Larry Joraka, 1228 Erickson rd. received a permit to build a 1½ car concrete block garage. The contractor is the Columbus Garage Builders.

JOHN McQUAID
With A Wing and A Splash

HE'S READY ANYTIME FOR A DIP IN A POOL OR A FLIP OF THE ARM

by John Poppelmeyer

Take one 12-year-old boy, attire him in swim trunks, add a baseball mitt and you'll have a composite mixture of the athletic endeavors that engross John McQuaid.

John can be found either finning his way to a splash-hearted victory in suburban pools or mowing the side down with a grass-cutter sidearm pitch in the Little Leagues.

This lithe and limber young athlete is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McQuaid of 4409 E Mound-st. and how he finds time between triple-decked sandwich "snacks" to perfect his prowess is at times beyond normal ken.

When he isn't swimming, he's pitching; and when he not pitching — he's swimming; and when he's not pitching nor swimming, he is practicing — pitching or swimming.

Take for instance that occurred not too long ago. After hurling a victory for the Indians, he dashed to splash to a win in a swim meet.

Among the accoladea for which John can stand up to take a bow are a 4-1-1 won-lost-tied record; a .667 batting average ("he's slumped", his father-coach said," he was batting near .900 for a while) and a string of victories in the pool, both in individual and in relay achievements.

He capped his performances last week with a second in the 40-yard free style and a third in the 40-yard breast stroke at the Deleware Individual Meet. In the former event he missed by inches not beating Ross Wales of Youngstown—a national champ. This was the same week, by the way that he tossed two no-hitters in Little League play.

Thus far in swim season, he has racked up seven firsts in individual events and 5 firsts in relay workouts. John is looking avidly forward to the Junior Olympic Meet at the Maryland pool next month.

What's in store for this young man with a wing and a fin? He's not sure at this date, but he keeps on swimming and pitching and practicing swimming and . . .

New Berwyn Is Now Open

Columbus got its first look at the city's newest housing opportunity July 24, when the $5½ million community of Berwyn staged a grand opening.

Located in the "Golden Circle" of Bexley and Berwick, Berwyn features 350 Jewel Homes with central air conditioning and built-in Westinghouse electric kitchens that include range, oven, dishwasher and food disposer. The air conditioning and electric kitchens are included in the price of each home.

Berwyn is located on 125 acres of land at James and Scottwood-rds. Four model homes will be open for public inspection of which two will be decorated in early American style and one each in modern and Danish modern to provide contrast with the community's colonial architecture. Decoration is by Star Furniture Co. and designer is Jack Morrison.

Eastside Freeway Plans Set

Preliminary plans for the construction of an East Side expressway in 1963 or 1964 have been completed, according to City Engineer Robert F. Werner.

After the preliminary plans are agreed upon by the Highway Department, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and the city, a public hearing will be held.

Ninety per cent of the cost will be federal. State and city will each pay five per cent.

Werner said 25 per cent less accidents have occurred on expressways and they save time and money.

The preliminary plans show that it will be a six lane $28.7 million expressway, starting at Parsons-av and Fulton-st, and have a 60-mile an hour speed limit.

It will extend along a route just north of Livingston-av, crossing southeast at a 60-foot high interchange

Alum Creek will be followed by the route southeast to a point opposite Petizinger-rd and Rt 33, where it crosses the creek.

After crossing the creek it continues along the New York Central railroad tracks to join the future outerbelt expressway, east of Big Walnut Creek, near Noe Bixby rd

Interchanges will be located at Miller and Kelton-avs, Main st, Livingston-av, Rt. 33 or James rd and Hamilton-rd

Included in the freeway will be 11 underpasses and 12 overpasses at streets, streams, railroads and interchanges.

The city was recommended to buy the land between Mooberry and Cole sts for right of way by Rackoff Associates, consulting engineers on the project.

In addition they recommended that the project be constructed in two stages starting first with the west end to south of Livingston-av

Werner said on the average it takes approximately two years to complete one stage after construction is started.

WHITEHALL'S FIRE CHIEF AND GARBAGE CAN

Spruced Up Garbage Can Lends Cheery Air To Trashman's Visits

Trash collectors have something to look forward to in Whitehall as they make their usual rounds

Not all of the garbage cans they are apt to come upon are the old, rusty, moldy type not when they hit the residence of Arthur Reddy at 364 Pineview.

Reddy, who is the head of the city's fire department thinks that trash collectors should be allowed to look upon pleasant sights

He applied his dexterity with the paint brush to a newly acquired garbage can—viola'—a modernistic, red-veined eye, surrounded by white and speckled with black and red squares now greets Reddy's collector.

Reddy admitted that he painted the can with tongue-in cheek.

"It must provide a discouraging outlook on life for a trash man to see rusty garbage can after rusty garbage can." Reddy's idea is to put a little spice in the life of his trash collector.

Not only that, but the fire chief would like to see the idea expand throughout the community.

"Maybe," he said, "it would be such a thing that it could build into a contest for the best decorated garbage can—with prizes and trips to famous art museums in the world."

Reddy said that the idea to paint a garbage can is not original. "I saw a fellow do it in New York about four years ago, and took the cue from him."

Reddy admits that he is not a modernistic painter. "I don't even know what the design on my can is supposed to represent."

Whether with tongue-in-cheek or not, at least a garbage can to one individual is a unique piece of furniture.

And, it is hoped that the dull routine of a trash collector's life has been sprinkled with a small amount of happiness—a la Reddy.

Guest To Speak At Christ Church

Rev. Edward V. Long, pastor of St.Martin's Lutheran Church in Austin, Tex., will be the guest preacher at Christ Lutheran Church, 2314 E. Main-st, Bexley, Sunday, Aug. 7.

His sermon theme for the 8:45 service will be "Christ Versus Culture."

A Neither 'Yes' Nor 'No' Started The Whole Show

By John Poeppelmeyer

A man whose name wasn't entered a vote that was neither "yes" nor "no," and a man who wasn't there were behind the furor that erupted at Whitehall's Council session Tuesday night.

One of the first questions that popped up after the voting and the "floor demonstration" was "Why wasn't O'Shaughnessy's name put in?"

They were referring to Gilbert O'Shaughnessy, a Democratic Ward Committeeman, who was expected to be nominated by Al Kirchner Kirchner, instead named C. B Clifton, a registered Democrat and a son-in-law of Republican Orton Davis.

O'Shaughnessy said that even if his name had been entered, he would have requested to have it withdrawn.

The "nothing" vote turned out to be the deciding factor. With the tally in, Council President E. D. Willis noted that two votes had been cast for C. B Smith, two votes for Lewis Bower, one for Ken McIntosh, and one abstaining vote by Robert Garnon.

He declared a tie and as council president stated that he would break the tie, by voting for Bower.

Then, going further, Willis called upon a "long-time" opinion by City Solicitor James Maxwell, that any abstaining votes are to be carried along with the majority. In this case, the majority being three votes for Bower.

Thus, Willis declared, Garnon's abstention counted for Bower and the necessary four votes were at hand to seat the new councilman.

It was Maxwell's contention, however, that no tie existed and furthermore "that Willis could not cast a majority vote, but only a deciding one."

As the argument enthused, Maxwell told Willis "that the vacancy could only be filled by the majority of those elected to council and that Willis was not part of the legislative body but an executive officer."

"Your vote," Maxwell continued, "does not count in an election to fill council."

Willis retorted that he wanted Maxwell's opinion in writing. Council then voted along party lines to back Willis

"Until I have that written opinion," Willis told Maxwell "the vote will stand as is, and Bower will be seated."

Maxwell later said that his "abstention" ruling related only to a concurrence of three fourths of the members elected that would be necessary to pass

MRS. HERBERT PIERCE AND 1 OF HER 10,000 WORMS
The wiggly ones are fascinating

WORM COLLECTION MOUNTS

The lady with the 10,000 worms turned and putting aside the wiggly playthings, continued to expound upon the subject

"Worms can rightfully be called "nature's plow," she explained

"They aerate and pulverize the soil and allow oxygen to penetrate to the roots of plants on their downward journey."

Mrs. Herbert Pierce, of 3233 13th-av, is an avid student of the wondrous ways of the wigglies. She has been at the pleasure for a year "I started with about 1,000 Now I have close to 10,000"

Most of the time, she keeps them in the basement of her house But when summer comes she usually transfers them to the outdoors, although, she hasn't had much time to do so this year."

She eventually would like to sell worms, pointing out that "they aid in the raising of flowers" She avidly reads all the literature she can about them.

She doesn't think it "strange" that a woman should take an interest in worms "I've gotten used to the idea, although I must admit that when working with them, I do wear a pair of rubber gloves"

She also does not believe in sprays "With earthworms about, one doesn't need sprays," she says

Do earthworms have any type of a diet? "Oh, yes. I feed them corn meal and garbage This they convert into a rich type of compost. The compost enables gardens to grow faster than any fertilizer would."

"Where strong chemical fertilizers are used, conditions distasteful to earthworms arise," Mrs Pierce said "Their numbers would decrease rapidly."

LEGION POST 490 HONORED

Comrade - Whitehall Post 490 of the American Legion has been awarded a special citation by the American Legion National Headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., for carrying out the most outstanding child welfare program in the Ohio 12th District.

George Jones is the Child Welfare chairman of the post.

The special citation was presented to the post July 23, during the American Legion State Convention, according to Charles Basham, post commander

"Child welfare is one of the American Legion's major programs and we are proud that our efforts have been honored in this way," Commander Basham stated

E. BROAD BINKINI BABY

ALONG THE THOROUGHFARE—The young lady pictured can be spotted almost any day at the corner of Kellner and E. Broad st. At times, she is not so skimpily attired. But the interesting thing is that she has yet to draw a wolf whistle. In fact, as can be seen, some cars pass her by without a thought. It must be admitted, at this point, that the bikini baby ain't real, dad. She's naught but a mannikin.

Swimming Pool Case Gets Judge's Study

The people whose private pool attracted the public aren't out of hot water yet.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Prince, of 3236 Astor-av, who attempted to provide a recreational spa for neighborhood kids, had their case continued in Municipal Court Wednesday.

Judge William Gilley took the matter under consideration to further study the evidence. A possible decision may be handed down Aug. 9, according to the clerk of courts.

The predicament the Princes found themselves in occurred after health officials, upon the receipt of an unsigned letter were asked to check into the poolside activities, issued an order that youngsters could not swim in the Princes' pool.

He charged that they were illegally operating a public pool.

It appears that the Princes started charging the youngsters a fee, or as Prince stated, a "10 to 15-cent contribution." The fee was to help pay for filters and chlorine after their daughter's wading pool had been enlarged, Prince said.

According to the Princes, the pool was supervised by a teenager who had volunteered without pay and who had life saving training.

Among other violations, the health inspector charged, the pool has no restrooms, drinking water or dressing rooms and therefore does not meet the public pools' requirements.

Most of the Princes' neighbors were concerned over the citation to appear in court. Petitions supporting the couple were reported circulating

But, apparently, there was at least one who didn't enjoy the "splashing" around.

Port Motel Contract Cancelled

The Columbus Airport Commission decided last Friday to cancel a contract to build a motel at Port Columbus placed with Avis-Ford, Inc., of Detroit, Mich.

Avis-Ford had previously notified Service Director Ernest Stork that Joseph Wolf, a New York financier, would handle the financing of the construction Wolf recently informed Stork that he did not make a deal to finance the work.

Stork said he would give written notification of the contract cancellation to Avis-Ford immediately.

The construction firm had been told by the city to start work on the project by June 15, but has made little progress since that date.

Councilman Joseph Van Heyde, a member of the airport commission, expects a number of firms, including local ones, to bid on the contract if it is readvertised.

'Dozer Wrecks House and Car On Weyant-av

A car was demolished and a house was damaged by a driverless bulldozer at 796 S. Weyant-av Saturday

Youngsters that started the bulldozer a block away from the damaged house fled on their bicycles.

In the driverless run the bulldozer knocked down a post supporting a carport, shoved the car into the side of the house and continued to push until Larry Watkins, who saw the happenings from a nearby roof, ran to help pay for filters and chlorine after their daughter's wading pool had been enlarged, Prince said.

Relief Seen For East Side

Construction began Tuesday on the $1,063,868 Stelzer-rd water line which will bring water from Hoover Reservoir to relieve low water pressure on the East Side.

Delays resulting from court cases and legal maneuvers over easements the city needed for the main have caused Service Director H. Stork to move his estimated completion date in August back to the end of September. Four easements remain to be signed according to assistant city attorney, William Huggins.

The Complete General Construction Company has been contracted to lay the 48-inch pipe from Morse-rd to just south of Seventh-av. The line will later be extended to Livingston-av.

Sunday Concert Is Called Off

This Sunday's scheduled band concert at Whitehall has been called off

"Not enough rehearsals and not enough time for rehearsals," was the reason for the cancellation, according to Whitehall Recreation Director Don Ecker.

Ecker said that he still plans to be able to form a municipal band at some later date, however

Three Year Old Boy Killed In Traffic

Three year-old Mark E. Leake, of 585 Fairwood-av, was pronounced dead on arrival at Children's Hospital yesterday after he apparently had run from behind his father's car and into the path of another automobile, according to police.

New $700,000 Church To Seat 900 Parishioners

St. Catharine's Construction Started

On a cruciform base near the corner of Brentwood and Gould, a $700,000 structure is slowly taking shape

"It will be some time before the church is finished," said Monsignor Joseph R. Casey, pastor of St. Catharine's Parish. "But, it appears now, that it will be completed in about a year and a half."

The inside of the church itself, which is to be basilica style, will reach 34 feet from floor to ceiling. A bell tower, to be constructed adjoining the structure, will reach some 80 feet in height, the priest stated.

Construction started this past Easter on the new unit that will seat some 900 parishoners. Altogether, Msgr. Casey pointed out, the church will have a seating capacity of 900.

Seating will be on all sides, with the altar in the center. One of the side seating sections will be enclosed in sound-proof glass for parents to tend their youngsters.

The present church, a neat little white building on land ajacent to the proposed new structure will be dismantled.

"It has served the congregation well for over 30 years," Msgr Casey said. The parish now numbers some 3500 people, he explained

The stone being utilized in the construction comes from St. Meinrad Benedictan Monastery in Southern Indiana, he said. Father Casey has been with the parish for four years

He is assisted by Father Robert F. Lemon. Architect for the new church is Edward A. Ramsey Contractors are Altman and Coady.

Several Summer Surprises In Store In Suburia Today

From Margaret Halsey's suburban diary, This Demi-Paradise, come some entries for the month of August, when the weather provides the theme, a spirited nine-year-old named Cora sets the tempo, and an understanding husband named Harry patiently tries to apply the brakes in the active and often amusing life of a busy family

Paid subscribers will meet the Fitzgibbons in this month's supplement of the Eastern Review, today

There are several surprises for summer in this issue of SUBURBIA TODAY. Sun worshippers, for example, are warned by Dr Hyman Goldstein, to take it easy—a handsome tan can be beneficial only as accumulated slowly, with full regard for the dangers involved in too-sudden and intense a baking.

Then, there's a story by garden expert, John Brimer, who points out that now is the time to plan and seed a lawn that will be a beautiful mass of green in the Spring of 1961. There is also a list, by zones, of which grasses grow best in various parts of the country.

There are over 1,000,000 volunteer firemen in more than 20,000 companies throughout the United States, and, this month, SUBURBIA TODAY examines the role they play in keeping your town safe from the devastating threat of fire, flood, and other critical emergencies.

Hank and Elen Kluck are the parents of three active, growing boys and they've made their Unusual Suburban Home particularly well-suited to their boys' living habits through the use of easy-to-care for materials and furnishings.

The food pages include Grilled Chicken, Vegetables on Skewers, Hot Potato Salad, and a half-dozen other delicious outdoor-living dishes that can turn the end of any hot, muggy day into an easy-to-prepare excuse for a party.

Finally, there are the anecdotes to pass along to eager listeners at pool-side or at the beach which you'll find in "Getting Around," the news-column; and the cartoon page, "Suburbia—Any Day!," where, this month, everybody but the subject has a good time near the water.

ACCREDITED HOME NEWSPAPER OF AMERICA INC.

Main Office and Plant: 2465 W. Broad St., Columbus, Ohio, BR. 4-1155

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of three articles explaining the costly business of shoplifting faced by local merchants. The first article deals with the problem. Next week's story will explore the attempted solutions.)

By Gwen Greenfield

A missing shirt or blouse is of small value.

But individual suburban stores report "missing" items, apparently taken home by the sticky-fingered shoplifter, mount to thousands of dollars annually.

No store owner or manager can remain unconcerned about the problem of shoplifting very long.

Such incidents as the following are daily occurrences in many stores. It was rush hour and the bustling people wanted to make their purchases and hurry on home.

No one noticed the young man emerge from the congested aisle, deftly reach for a couple of items temptingly displayed on the self-service counter, drop them into his pocket and lose himself once more in the crowd.

Again and again every day this very scene is re-enacted. One South Side merchant estimated his losses to shoplifters averaged between $30 and $40 per day.

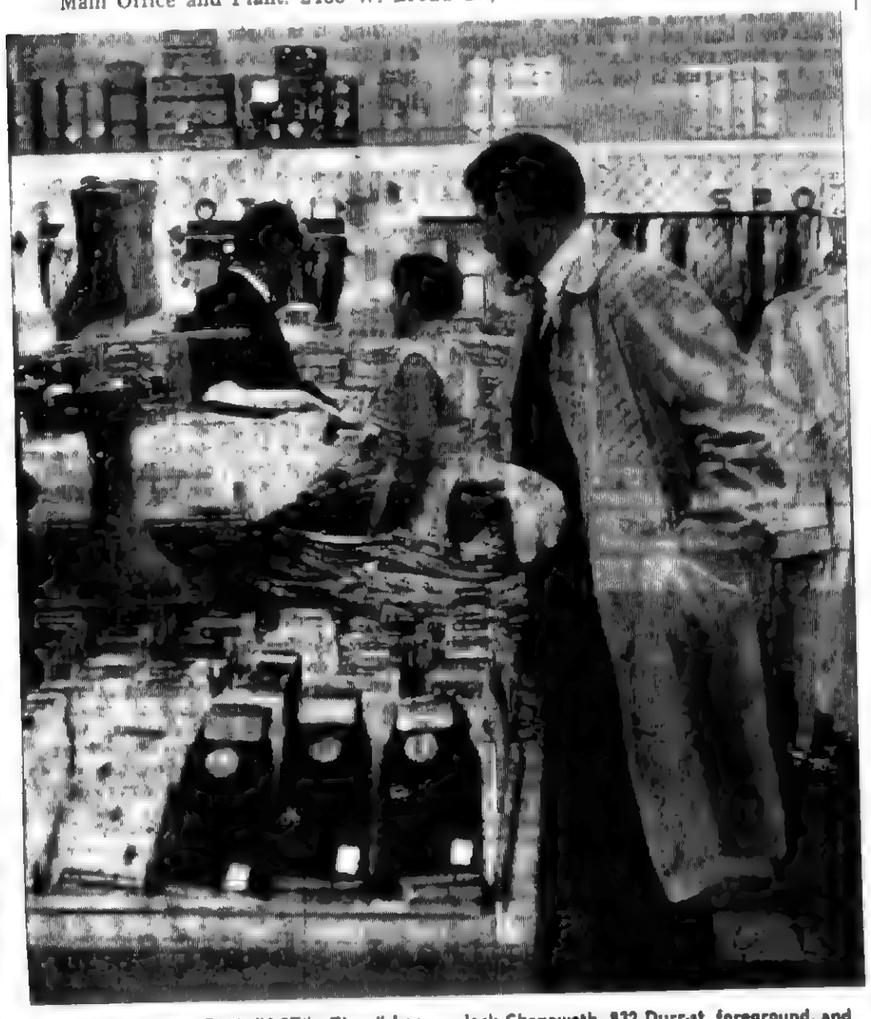
A distinct line was drawn between the contribution to the losses by the professional and the amateur shoplifters. "The professional doesn't steal enough in a year's time to really hurt our business," Asher Moser, manager of the Boston Store at Town and Country, reported.

Moser, also president of the Town and Country Shopping Center Association, said his concern was for the teenagers who took something from the store, "not because they needed it, but because it made them one of the gang."

Echoing Moser's concern for the younger set was the manager of an independent West Side department store, who said, "They do it mostly for kicks."

Another store victimized by the shoplifter is the typical five and ten cent store. "Cosmetics and small trinkets often disappear," stated the manager of a South Side dime store. "Our big items are relatively easy to pinpoint although last week someone walked off with three table radios."

Grocery stores and supermarkets are also prey to the shoplifting persons. The biggest losses for a Town and Country Shopping Center supermarket have been in cosmetics and in cigarettes. Another of the problem situations reported by the store manager was with children picking up candy and fruit to eat while in the store. "We know the parents must be conscious of the fact, yet they make no attempt to pay for the merchandise when they leave!" he said.



At a South Side supermarket, the manager found his unaccounted for items were mostly staples. Meats and cheeses often disappear from their case.

Descriptions of the manner of operation of the shoplifter from store managers and owners ranged from the individual who concealed the desired items in his clothing or stuffed them into a bag of some kind to the group operation. Common particularly to young boys, the object of the latter is to take a few buddies along to the local candy store and get them to occupy the attention of the clerks. Then while they are busy one of the boys raids the candy counter of the desired items.

A third in the list of practices is the "customer" who tries on clothing, particularly sportswear, in a fitting room and just doesn't take it off. Ladies' underwear is another item which the clothing stores find missing quite often.

"While we have relatively little shoplifting in our store, I can't say the problem doesn't exist," stated Mrs. Dave Rosey, wife of the owner of Rosey's Ready To Wear. "It's difficult to see every move each and every person in the store makes."

In terms of the annual monetary loss alone shoplifting is indeed a problem.

CAUGHT IN THE "ACT"—The "shoplifter" strikes as the busy clerk waits on another cusomer. Actually, posing for this picture of an often repeated scene of a "typical" shoplifter keeping his eye on the clerk are Jack Chenoweth, 832 Durr-st, foreground, and Elmer Morris, 708 S. Wayne-av, with Mrs. Betty Ridenour, Mt. Sterling, Rt. 1. All the three are employes of the J. C. Penny Company at Central Point Shopping Center.

Gas Rate Increase Slated For September

A gas rate increase of one-half cent a thousand cubic feet will become effective Sept. 1 in Columbus, Bexley, Gahanna, Valleyview, and Whitehall.

The Ohio Fuel Gas Company, making the announcement July 29, said the increase was caused by the higher cost of natural gas from suppliers.

Fairgrounds Made Easier On Walkers

The Franklin County Engineering Department has been busy preparing the county fairgrounds for fair week, Aug. 15 through Aug. 20.

About 800 feet of new macadem roadway will allow cattle exhibitors and sightseers easier access to the barns.

Fair goers will walk easier this year, too. The department has layed 500 feet of new blacktop from the main entrance, down the midway past the grandstand.

The fairgrounds in Hilliard is a beehive of activity as preparations get underway to make this year's Franklin County Fair, stiff competition for the "Blue Ribbon Fair of Ohio" award, which it won last year.

There will be give days and six nights of activity on schedule, with three big nights of harness racing and pari-mutuel wagering.

Magazine Picks Lumber Company

East Side Lumber Co., 1927 E Main-st, has been chosen by The American Home Magazine as one of 750 American Home Certified Home Improvement Centers across the country.

In qualifying, East Side Lumber was rated among the two per cent of the country's retail lumber and building material dealers, and will be featured in the August special home improvement issue of American Home, according to Bill Rice, manager.

Extent and quality of customer services were the important criteria used by the magazine in qualifying retail lumber and building material dealers as American Home Improvement Centers, he said, only centers offering free estimates, design and planning assistance, financing arrangements and use of nationally advertised quality merchandise, were eligible for the designation.

Hubbard H. Cobb, American Home Magazine's Building Editor, has called the certified dealers, "one-stop remodeling centers."

He pointed out that the publication's management has been very much aware of the difficulties often encountered by a customer in need of even the most minor home improvements. "At the very beginning, there may be problems involving design," Cobb said. "Then, there are problems in getting reliable estimates, and later, problems in finding competent contractors."

"By designating only the most select retail lumber dealers as certified home improvement centers," Cobb added, "we have insured that the people in the areas in which these centers are located will be able to obtain all these services in one place.

"We know also," he said, "that if the customer can find a reliable local concern that can help him handle all phases of home improvement, he is very unlikely to become prey to home-improvement racketeers and fast-buck operators."

Park Board May Request .3-Mill Levy

Decision on whether to place a .3 mill special levy for park expansion and improvement was to have been made by board members of the Columbus Metropolitan Park District at their meeting Monday

An annual income o f$480,000 for the next ten years to be used for capital improvements would be brought in by the levy

Blacklick Woods, Blendon Woods and Darby Creek Park are currently operated by the District. Improvement of High Banks, a 106-acre woods north of the Delaware County line on the Olentangy River, has not been made because of a lack of funds.

Kids Have Their Way At Camp Ora Play

The kids have a great time at Camp Ora.

The camp is located in a woodsy patch behind the Jewish Center.

Youngsters spend half a day at the encampment under the direction of Rose Schwartz and her supervisors.

The kids scamper everywhere. If they aren't listening to a story, they are building a temporary lodge or playing active games.

Before they start camping, however, they manage to get in a few old fashioned swimming strokes at the center's pool.

On Fridays, they make ready to welcome the Sabbath. With prayers, singing, and traditional rites, the youngsters participate, along with the oldsters, in an impressive "Welcome In" ceremony.

Although the kids are allowed to do almost as they wish, they are kept constantly under the watchful eyes of Rose and her aides.

"The kids are left to their own resources and imagination. Whatever they want to do along constructive lines, whether they build a bunk type lodge or play baseball, they can find an activity here to stimulate their interest," she stated.

The result is a happy group of boys and girls who play their hearts away, but at the same time, not forgetting who they owe their hearts to.

Boys Locked Upstairs, Rescued By Firemen

Firemen rushed to the R. L. Germain home, 239 N. Parkview-av, Bexley, and used their ladder to "rescue" two boys from an upstairs room.

Fortunately there was no fire. The boys, Bobby, 9, and Steve, 5, were accidentally locked in the room and their mother, Mrs. R. L. Germain, called the firemen to release them.

Staged Fight Costs Ted Madden $330

A billfold containing $330 was stolen from Ted S. Madden, 35, of 3986 Ural-av, when he stopped his car for what was apparently a fixed fight, police said.

Police said Madden stopped his car when he saw what looked like a fight at Vinton-al and Noble-st. The two fighters then dragged Madden from the car and beat him and fled with the billfold, cash and unendorsed checks.

Madden was released from Grant Hospital after receiving treatment for cuts and bruises.

Dr. Falkenburg To Discuss Trip At E. Columbus

Dr. Jack Falkenberg, world traveler and executive secretary of the Bible Meditation League, will speak at East Columbus Christian Church, Sunday, Aug. 7, 10 a.m.

He will discuss his travels in Russia, India and other European countries in his message, "Christ or Communism."

Dr. Joe Belcastro, now vacationing in Florida, is the pastor.

The Junior Choir directed by Eddie Johnson will sing. Jack Dughman will be presiding elder.

Geneva Bridges Completes Basic

Recruit Geneva M. Bridges, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy M. Webster, 4613 Morris-av, completed eight weeks of basic military training July 20 at the Women's Army Corps Center, Fort McClellan, Ala.

Recruit Bridges received drill and physical fitness training and instruction in Army history, traditions and career fields.

She attended White-hall-Yearling High School in White-hall.

NOT THIS ONE—M. K. Stiefel, of 81 Edgevale-av, stands in front of one of his daughter's prize winning paintings. It is one of the few items that he refused to part with after receiving numerous calls on his Hartley Newspapers Classified ad.

Classified Ads Paid Off For This Man

Talent runs in M. K. Stiefel's family, and Stiefel himself feels that he knows talent well enough to qualify him as a "fair-to-middlin' " analyst.

His daughter, Verna Lee Walcutt, of Baltimore, Md., who paints and works with ceramics well enough to win top prizes, is the prime example of the type of talent in the Stiefel background.

"Take your newspaper," the man from 81 Edgevale-av said, "It's a darn good one and the advertising draw appears to be terrific. The layout of the ads, both classified and display, the copy for the ads and the tabs, all are done in a top notch manner."

Whereof it must be explained that Stiefel is not merely expressing himself from a layman's viewpoint. For 26 years he was in charge of sales activities at May Associated stores. And, although he currently is planning to retire, he still manages to find time to work a day and a half each week for Schiff Shoe Corporation.

Sitting on a porch chair, he continued to wax enthusiastic over the wares described in the pages of the Eastern Review. He felt that he had a sound reason for doing so.

Stiefel had advertised in a downtown daily newspaper to sell his home and furniture. He plans to move to either Baltimore or Washington in the near future.

He couldn't remember exactly how many times he had advertised in the daily but he recalled that it was "six or seven times." He did not sell the home and managed to get only "fair" results on the replies from the furniture investment. I sold a few odds and ends," he said.

"But a fortnight or so ago," and Stiefel's face beamed with obvious enthusiasm, "I tried the classified section of the 'green sheet,' and sold my home the first day the ad appeared."

This past week he again went to the Eastern Review to try his luck this time with his farm. The paper came out on Thursday. By Friday there wasn't a single item in his home that he could call 'his' any longer.

"I had about 50 calls that first day," he said. And for a topper, my ad didn't even appear as I had hoped it would."

He had wanted, he said, "a fairly big classified with big type and all." Instead his wares were advertised in a conventional size ad.

"And you, I'm not complaining," he pointed out. "Believe me, I am happy with ten say me, I am happy with the way things are."

And "sure" they did.

Early State Roads Hand Made

The early Ohio roads—specifically, in 1804—were truly "hand made."

In the record archives of State Auditor James A. Rhodes is a carefully preserved legislative enactment of Feb. 17, 1804, prescribing stringent requirements for "opening and regulating roads and highways," which might be termed "forced labor."

The law, which left little doubt as to the drastic need for roads, contained one section which read, in part:

"All male persons of the age of 18 years and not exceeding 50, who shall have resided 30 days in any township of this state, who are not a town charge shall be liable yearly and every year, to do and perform three days' work on the public roads, under the direction of the supervisor."

Any able bodied male, who upon a three-day notice, failed to appear "with such necessary and common articles of husbandry as the said supervisor shall have directed him to bring wherewith to labor, or having attended shall refuse to obey the directions of the supervisor or shall spend the day in idleness or inattention to the duty assigned him . . . shall forfeit for every such neglect or refusal the sum of one dollar."

This penalty was tempered only by a provision whereby persons moving from one district to another, were to be credited for services performed before transferring their residence.

a resolution of necessity and has no bearing upon the present case.

The solicitor also questioned Willis' majority call. He pointed out that a majority usually means that one candidate must have more votes than all other candidates combined. Such was not the case tonight, he stated.

It is the Democrats contention however, and that of Garnon especially, that an abstaining vote goes along simultaneously with a majority vote.

Whether or not Bower will be seated, remains to be seen. Ray Shipley challenged the Democrats, saying that he would carry "this thing to the highest court if need be." He also said that "if Bower is seated tonight, I'm going to walk out."

The man that wasn't there? Lewis Bower. He's on vacation.

Children's Gets $50,000 Grant For Equipment

A $50,000 grant to Children's Hospital from the Charles F. Kettering Foundation will be used to purchase new diagnostic equipment for the department of cardiology.

Two new pieces of equipment will be purchased, and added to the department's new quarters in the new 150-bed wing within six months. One of the new devices is a pressure measuring and recording device.

In recent years, Children's has concentrated on heart ailments and has been the scene of many open and closed heart operations.

State School Educator Sets Retirement

Wilbur G. Scarberry, superintendent of the State School for the Blind, will retire Aug. 1 after 27 years.

Scarberry first became interested in the State School job through two blind friends, one a teacher and the other a circuit court judge in southern Ohio.

The school, which was located at Main-st and Parsons-av since 1837, was moved in 1953 to its present location at 5220 N. High.

D. W. Oberbeay, superintendent of the Vinton, Iowa, State School for the Blind, will be his successor.

Scarberry, who has lived within the school for 27 years, will move to an Olentangy Village apartment.

Links To Dedicate Cabin At Triple S

AREA WOMEN ASSIST—A number of area women, members of the Links of South Side Settlement House, are assisting with plans for an open house and dedication of the new first aid cabin at Triple S Camp, planned Sunday, Aug. 7, 3 to 6 p.m. From left are, seated, Mrs. George Giles, corresponding secretary; Mrs. O. E. Lauman, yearbook; Mrs. James M. Leonard, president; Mrs. Thurman E. Thompson, courtesy chairman, and, standing, Mrs. Earl Gutknecht, board member; Mrs. Karl Unverzagt, yearbook, and Mrs. Wayne Allen, hospitality.

The long-awaited dedication of a first aid cabin at Triple S. Camp—121 wooded acres in Hocking County near Sugar Grove, will be held Sunday during an open house program at the camp.

The first aid cabin has been a project of the Links of South Side Settlement for the past two years.

The Links, composed of 67 individual Link units with 1,500 women members from all parts of Columbus, are interested in the South Side Settlement and especially in making a camping experience available to the Settlement area children.

For several years the Links have given an annual gift of $2,000 to help support the camp and, in addition, a special gifts committee has helped raise money for extra projects.

Many of the cabins, dining and recreation hall, showers and two drilled wells have been special projects during the 22 years of the organization.

The recently completed first aid cabin, costing $2,500, contains a treatment room, nurse's room and two small isolation rooms.

Participating in the dedication service will be Dr. Louis R. Wolter, Columbus District Superintendent of the Methodist Church; Miss Martha Bucke, Director of South Side Settlement; Frank Valentine, president of the Board of Managers of the Settlement; Mrs. James M. Leonard, president of the Links of South Side Settlement; and Nelson Hennis, chairman of the camp committee of the Board of Managers for the past several years.

BILL FISHES WHILE DANNY SNOOZES

"... sometimes we use cream cheese."

Ever Wonder How To Snag The Big Fish?

By John Auble, Jr.

Ever wonder how to catch the big ones? I mean the really big ones, buster, oh, say, about three or four inches? Listen to the advice of these two pint-size "experts" Bill Gallagher, nine, and Danny Deignan, eight.

It was about 3:15 in the afternoon last Monday and the two small figures cast their shadows over a narrow part of Big Walnut Creek.

Bill, with his plastic rod and reel, and Danny with a string tied to a small stick, sat on the edge of the creek and revealed to the world their fishing secrets piled up over the last few years.

"It's all in the bait, Mister," Bill said.

"What kind of bait's best?" I asked.

"Worms," he replied. "But me 'n' Danny here have our own secret bait—not many people know about it."

"What is it?" I inquired.

"Can't tell; it's a secret. Well, maybe we can tell you, but promise you won't print it, Mister?"

"Aw, come on fellas," I retorted. "Let's give the other fishermen a break."

"Okay, listen," he replied. He pointed to a nearby rock where two and a half strips of bacon lay curling in the afternoon sun.

"Oboy," I said. "But look, there's flies all around it."

"I know," Danny replied. "When we run out of bacon we use the flies."

"Oh," said I.

"Bet you never thought of that, huh Mister? Bet nobody in the whole world ever thought of that," said Bill.

"Nope, don't suppose so," I stated.

"We sure hope you don't tell the people about our bait," said Bill. "Mostly 'cause Ma don't know we got it from the 'friger-ator."

The boys, blue-eyed blondes, went on to say that sometimes they use cream cheese. "We've really got some big ones with cream cheese, ain't we Danny," said Bill.

The boys have been fishing at the Big Darby creek site since school's been out. They stay for hours at a time. "Me and Danny have a lot of things to talk about," said Billl. "That's why we fish so long."

"Talk about what?" I asked.

"Oh, we tell each other jokes. We tell jokes a lot. But, mostly, we talk about the big guys that come an' take the fish we catch and throw 'em back in," said Danny. "They're cruel to the fish."

Sometimes, the boys stated, they pack a lunch. Usually they have too many things to do to "bother 'bout eatin' and things like that." Sometimes they spend their time looking for bugs under rocks with sharp sticks.

"Got some other tips for fishermen?" I inquired.

"Sure," Danny related. "Tell 'em to always wear sneakers when they fish. See, we're wearin' sneakers. They're best 'cause they give you a better grip when you get the really big ones like me and Bill do."

"Another thing, Mister," added Bill, "make sure you can swim. You must know how to swim and never go fishing alone. Make sure your buddy can swim too 'cause you might fall in and hit your head on a rock."

"Whoops, look at this," interrupted Danny. "I got a snag here just to show you what happens. Us 'perienced fishermen know how to get a snag loose—bet you don't, do ya Mister?"

To make things more interesting, the boys have devised a point system to see which one is the best fishermen that day. They gave each other six points if they haul in a catfish, one point each for landing a sunfish, shiner or crawdad.

"Why don't you have a pole like Bill's," I asked Danny.

"Oh, I had to break by bamboo pole in two to give part to my brother." Danny has three brothers, Chuck, 10, Tom, three, and Tenny, three months. He lives at 7769 Eastwood-st.

Bill has three sisters, Pat, 14; Jenny, 12 and Margie, five and a brother, Mike, who is six. He resides at 7715 Eastwood-st.

Danny, who has mathematically figured out that a single strip of bacon, medium length, lasts about an hour, has fished in the St. Lawrence Seaway; Bill's big fishing experience was in the Atlantic Ocean off of Long Island Sound.

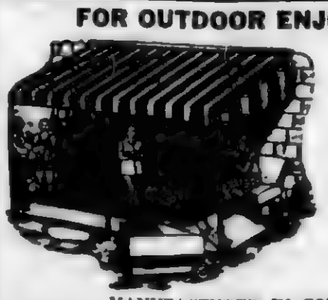
"You can't catch as much here in Blacklick as you can in the ocean," Bill stated.

Suddenly Danny interrupted and said, "Hey, Mister. Are you through askin' questions?"

"I guess so," I answered.

"Sure glad of that," he said. "You're scarin' away all the fish and Danny's got three more points than I do."

Jewish Center Sets Swim Show Plans



An aura of Disney's "Fantasia" will permeate the air of the Jewish Center when it presents its fourth annual water show, entitled "Neptune's Never, Never Land."

The show will be presented Saturday and Sunday evenings, Aug. 6 and 7 at 7 p.m. in the outdoor pool. Admission charge is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Children under six, accompanied by parents, will be admitted free.

Some of the individual acts featured will be the Sugar Plum Fairy, Humpty Dumpty, and the Fire Dancers. Participants will be the center swim classes, the Torpedoes (speed swim team), beginning and advanced synchronized classes and the Yakima War Dancers, Order of the Arrow, Boy Scouts of America.

According to swim committee co-chairmen, Mrs. Nate Nateman and Mrs. Marvin Rose, "We are all anxious and excited about our forthcoming water show. We feel it will be the finest display of synchronized swimming and pageantry ever presented at the center."

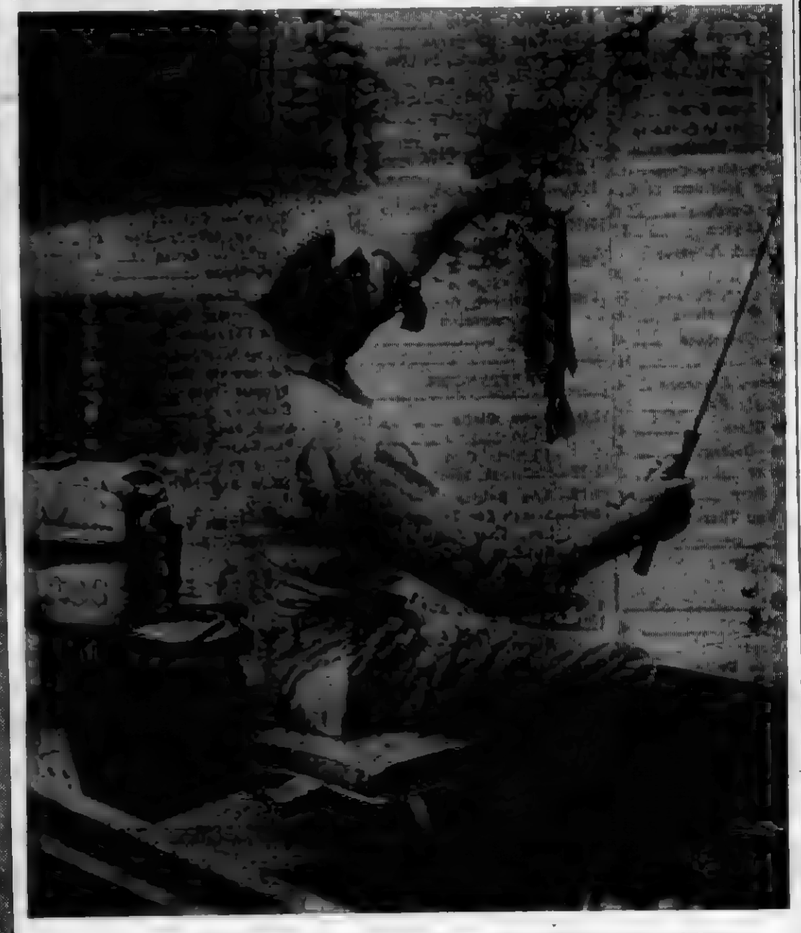
Don't Let The Weather Bother You, Fishing Is Good

Howard Donovan, Galena, Rt. 2, and John Schocker, Granville-rd, recently made nice catches of walleyes at Hoover Dam. Don Paul of Paul's Marines weighed the fish—Donovan had a four pounder, and Schocker had a stringer of walleyes the largest going a little over three pounds. These and other walleyes were caught on nightcrawlers and spinners, Paul said.

Although fishing has been spotty recently at Hoover, some nice fish have been showing up. John Backman, 496 E. Maynard-av, caught six largemouth bass on artificial lures. The largest was four pounds, four ounces.

Edward Ford, Rt. 1, Johnstown, also turned in a monster bass 20 inches long that weighed four pounds, seven ounces.

Stream fishing in the area has not been poor as the hot weather might indicate to some people. An old timer once told me that fish get hungry when it's hot just as they do when it's cool and a report from R. W. Recob, West Jefferson, would seem to bear this out. He has trouble getting enough soft craws these days to supply anglers fishing Big and Little Darby creeks. While the craws are mighty scarce, the demand for them has been brisk.



Smallmouth bass are being taken along with channel catfish. The fish Recob has seen in the last few days have all been dandies—catfish up to eight pounds and quite a few two and three-pound smallmouths.

Good reports have been coming from Madison Lake. Some anglers have stated that the fishing has been better there than they have ever seen it. Most of them are catching largemouth bass, but some are picking up catfish.

As the traditional dog days of August approach many anglers slacken their fishing pace. If the weather is such that it is too unpleasant to go fishing, then by all means stay at home and catch up on your grass cutting and baseball. I would be the last person to advise you to force yourself to go fishing if you're not in the mood.

But if you are letting your tackle gather dust because you think the fishing isn't good in mid-summer, then do not hesitate further. During early morning and late evening the temperature and humidity are bearable, and this is when it's the most productive to go fishing. Night fishing should not be overlooked and don't worry about going when there is a full moon. Both bass and bluegills hit well at night.

This is perhaps the middle of the vacation season, and anglers, wherever they go, will fish their heads off. If fishing is good other places this time of year, why not try a few jaunts close to home.

FISHING'S FUN—Mid-summer fishing is fun, and you will catch fish. Don't let the heat and humidity keep you at home.

'Wreckreation' Season Hits State Parks Again

The "wreckreation" season is here again, according to state park officials.

Vandals are in action all over the state, municipal and metropolitan parks, and they leave trails of cans and bottles, shattered windows, torn screens, doors ripped from mountings and direction signs down, or exchanged, to mislead park-goers.

Some of the more muscular of the saboteurs play "king of the hill" with picinic tables—others have an aquatic bent and push tables into the water for their version of the game. Even garbage barrels and steel stoves fall victim to these antics.

"Destroyers of public property are subject to fines," declares V. W. Flickinger, chief of the Ohio Division of Parks, "and a $200 reminder of this fact is a bit expensive. While our park officers are alert, they cannot be every place all the time. Park visitors should report vandalism they see.

Skinks, Not Skunks, Found At Blacklick

If you have ever walked quietly along the swamp-forest trail at Blacklick Woods on a warm, sunny day, you may have seen some small lizards scurrying over fallen trees or logs along the trail. These lizards were probably skinks; five-lined skinks are quite plentiful at Blacklick Woods, but one has to have good eyes to see them.

The five-lined skink goes through several color phases in its development. Young skinks have five white or yellowish stripes on a black background, and their tails are a brilliant blue. It is at this stage that they are often called blue-tailed skinks. As they grow older and larger the striped pattern becomes less noticeable and their tails become gray.

There is considerable variation among the adults. The female usually retains some of the striped pattern, with a broad dark band extending backward from the eyes along the sides of the body. The adult male usually shows traces of stripes, but tends to become nearly uniform brown or olive, and in many parts of its range, develops orange-red pigment on its head.

The young are usually about two to two and one-half inches in length at hatching. Adults rarely exceed seven and one-half inches in length.

With all of the variation in its size and color patterns, the five-lined skink has acquired many different names in various parts of its range.

The tail of a skink will break off easily. Some collectors have reported that they have had the experience of catching a skink by its tail and having the tail break off in their fingers, while the skink hurried to safety under the loose bark of a rotting tree; others have claimed that they have seen skinks run under loose bark and just leave their tails showing in the open. Upon looking under the bark the skinks were gone; they had broken off their own tails to fool their pursuers.

Skinks eat many insects and insect relatives, such as spiders. They do all of their foraging by day. They are fond of moist areas, such as the swamp-forest area at Blacklick Woods.

They are beautiful creatures; the experience of getting a good look at a five-lined skink is well worth a quiet walk along the trail. Look for them the next time you visit Blacklick Woods.

Intersections are always dangerous, says the Columbus Automobile Club, but especially so when a highway crosses railroad tracks. Always slow down when approaching a railroad crossing. Automobiles are no match for a locomotive.

University's Stadium Theatre Presents Musical Comedy "The Pajama Game"

By Larry Holmes

One of the biggest musical comedy hits of the mid-century "The Pajama Game," written by George Abbott, started yesterday and will be presented for 12 continous performances at Ohio State University's Stadium Theatre.

Starring in the presentation is John Crawford, who portrays a shirt-sleeved superintendent of a factory and Nancy Walz in a work-smock as one of the plant's employees.

"The Pajama Game" is a song-and-dance show centering its humor and tunes around the unlikely subject of a wage dispute, combined with a boy-girl romance, in a mid-western pajama factory.

Crawford plays a conscientious superintendent, intent on keeping up production, and must fire the union-conscious grievance committee chairman he falls in love with when she leads the other employees to slow down their sewing machines preliminary to a strike.

All the romances and personnel- management disputes are, in the end, resolved in a tavern whose name gives "The Pajama Game" the title for one of its biggest song-hits, "Hernando's Hideaway."

Morning Mirror will present "Poisoning in the Home" on Wednesday, Aug. 10 at 10:10 a.m. over Channel 4.

Ralph Seaux, chairman of the public relations committee of the Central Ohio Academy of Pharmacy, will be guest of host Stan Robinson, and will discuss by means of slides and narration the problem of poisons found in the home.

The American Pharmaceutial Association prepared this special program and is being brought to the attention of the public for the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the College of Pharmacy of Ohio State University in the academic year 1960-1961.

Carol Kelly, sister of Jack "Maverick" Kelly and actress Nancy Kelly, will portray the stripper in "Girl in Trouble" on "Bourbon Street Beat" Monday, Aug. 8 at 9:30 over Channel 6.

Nancy, headquartered in New York goes west only for an occasional movie appearance. Jack holds forth with "Maverick." Carol is busy with television and film commitments and an older brother, Bill, pursues a career as an artist and musician.

Mark Goddard has been added to the cast of "Robert Taylor in The Detectives" presented Fridays at 10 p.m. on Channel 6.

Goddard, born in Lowell, Mass., 25 years ago, studied at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts before being tapped for television. He was seen last season as a trick-shot artist on "Johnny Ringo."

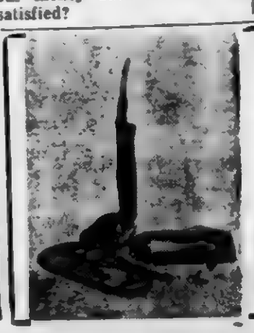
A new television series "Silents Please" will be presented Thursday, Aug. 4 at 10:30 p.m. on Channel 6.

The show will offer condensed versions from some of the most outstanding silent films in the archives of filmmakers.

A two-hour documentary spotlighting the peacetime uses of atomic energy "Inside Argonne," will be telecast on Saturday, Aug. 6 from 10 until 12 midnight.

Argonne National Laboratory, covering approximately 3700 acres with more than 60 major buildings, is 25 miles southwest of Chicago and employs some 3700 scientists, engineers, technicians and office personnel.

Eastern Kiwanis Will Award 12 4-H Stunt Prizes



Awards for top stunts in the 4-H Club Recreation and Rural Arts competition will be provided for the third year by the Eastern Kiwanis Club.

Two or more members of any club may participate in any of the four divisions. These are dramatics, vocal music, instrumental music and dancing demonstrations.

Prizes will be awarded in each group as follows: first prize, loving cup (passed on to new winner each year) and $15.00 cash, second prize, $10.00 and third prize, $5.00.

Judging will be on performance, appeal (representation of 4-H purposes and objectives) and appearance.

Astronomy Watch Set At Blacklick

The Columbus Astronomy Society in cooperation with the Columbus Metropolitan Park Board is planning a display of telescopes and equipment, and a star-watch on Aug. 27, at Blacklick Woods.

Displays will be set up in Fir Shelter at 4:30 p.m. Members of the society will be on hand to answer questions and focus their telescopes on any heavenly bodies you wish to observe, later in the evening.

The Columbus Auto Club cautions motorists that when traveling with children in the back seat of the car make sure all doors are closed securely. Above all, keep the children calmed down so they do not distract you from your important job behind the wheel.

Save time in clean-up by soaking the grill from charcoal burner immediately. Lay a cloth soaked in hot water with heavy detergent on the grill. Let food particles soften before starting to wash it. Use a brush or heavy absorbant cloth for washing.

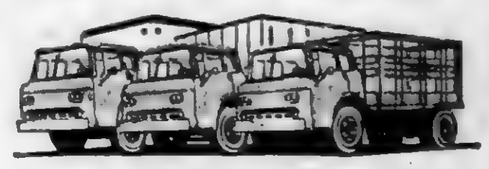
Harness Race Museum Set For '60 Fair

A Harness Racing Museum, to recognize the integral part being taken by Ohio horses and horsemen in the development of the nation's fastest growing sport, will be presented at the 1960 Ohio State Fair, Aug. 26 through Sept. 2.



Sponsored by the United States Trotting Association, the display will augment the harness racing meet to take place four afternoons of State Fair Week, Aug. 29 through Sept. 1.

Honored will be famous Ohio horses, many of which set national and world records in the quest for faster times for a mile, and many Ohio drivers, whose abilities behind fast trotting and pacing horses made sporting news headlines across the nation.

Present plans call for the original mobile starting gate to be on display during the week-long exhibition. This museum piece, forerunner of today's sleek barrier, is credited with a prime role in the development of the sport to its current popularity. The gate was developed by an Ohioan, Steve Phillips.

Combined circulation of English language daily newspapers in 1959 reached an alltime high of 57,611,447.

TEEN TRAVEL FUN COMING

The cry of "Get Aboard" for Teen Travel fun is resounding through the Jewish Center.

Date of departure for Louisville, Ky., Cincinnati, and points south is Aug. 12. The trip is open to all between the ages of 14 to 17.

Itinerary consists of tours to Mammoth Cave, camping in southern Kentucky and visiting historical sights, in addition to fishing, swimming and cook-outs. Teens will live in "umbrella" tents.

In charge are Marvin Bienstock, head of the Teen Department at the Jewish Center and Lynn Goorey, Ohio State University graduate in the College of Education.

The tour and fun will last for a week.

Norwood Park Picnic Grounds Get Hardy Use

Picnics a plenty are on tap during the month of August at Norwood Amusement Park's picnic grove, 2025 E. Main-st.

The month's picnic activities will get underway Saturday, Aug. 6, with the annual family picnic of Armstrong Furnace, with about 500 persons slated to attend.

On Sunday, Aug. 7, members of Southway American Legion Post and their families, numbering about 300, will hold their annual picnic.

Seyfert Potato Chips will sponsor a Nickel Day celebration at the park Tuesday, Aug. 9. The public will be able to ride the park's 18 rides for five cents.

Rounding out the first half of the month's picnic program will be the annual picnic of Julian Kokenge Shoe Co., Saturday, Aug. 13. About 700 people are expected to attend the outing.

James-rd Advances In City Tournament

James-rd Playground has advanced to round D in the city-wide inter-playground horseshoe tournament.

Tom Cooper, 12 an intermediate tosser, has beaten Scotwood 20 to 9, Fairmoor 24 to 20 and Krumm 15 to 10.

Youngsters from the playground who carried lanterns in the annual Lantern Parade sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department are: Russell Lau, 2956 Moreland-dr; Judy Lynch and Molly Lynch, 2976 Astor; Mike Minor, 783 S. James; Marven McGenty, 1054 S. Kellner; John Wurthman, 2960 Brownlee; Jeff Wurthan, 2960 Brownlee; Steve Mercer, 971 Eastmoor; Gregg Haban, 2976 Brownlee; Patty Coe, 3097 Astor-av; Linda Coe, 3097 Astor-av; Beth Butner and Jim Butner, 2992 E. Moreland; Ronnie Eckstine, 896 Eastmoor; Cecilia Doyle, 2769 Parkland; Pam Williams, 2970 E. Moreland.

Ricky Conte, 1091 Kenilworth pl; Bruce and Mark Friedman 784 Kingsbury-av; Robert Ucker, 3000 Hampshire; Mike Drudy 2974 E. Moreland; Earlene Skefus, 905 Barnett; Rena Herman, 1083 S. Hampton; Lany Noethlick, 2925 Templeton-rd; Mary Korenburg, 2990 Astor-av and Michele Samelom, 1052 S. Kelner.

Youngsters may obtain tickets for a showing of Ben Hur on Aug. 9. Tickets must be reserved and paid for in advance. If interested contact Keitha Knecht.

Junior Jet teams are now donning new shirts. Names of the teams are Colts, White Sox, Athletics, Cards, Senators, Pirates, Giants, Dodgers, and Red Legs.

Recreation Board Head Resigns

Robert E. Milligan announced his resignation as Whitehall's Recreation Board chairman at last week's board meeting.

Milligan, North American Aviation's recreation director for the area, is being transferred to the company's Los Angeles plant.

A new board chairman will be named by Mayor Walter B. Moling.

At the meeting, the board requested that councilman Richard Hyatt present a request to city council to secure a site for the recreation department's headquarters.

The 2-5 acre sit they suggested is located on Robinwood-av adjoining Beechwood School. An eight-room house and a garage are included in the tract.

Hyatt presented the request to council at its Tuesday night meeting. No action was taken on the request.

Fairmoor Youths Ready Projects

Seventy-three Fairmoor Playground youngsters will participate in the 1960 Golden Anniversary Pageant.

The pageant is being held to celebrate the Columbus Recreation Department's Golden Anniversary.

Theme of the pageant is "Fifty Years of Recreation in Columbus" and will be held at Central High School Wednesday, Aug. 24.

Fairmoor youths will portray the little German band that played at the city parks a few years ago. The children will make instruments and play parts of the bandsmen.

Krumm Playground Youths Participate In Track Meet

Krumm Playground youngsters participated in the North Section track and field meet at Linden McKinley High School.

Youths participating in the event were Jim Keegan, placing fourth in standing broad jump, Albert Allen, third in hop, skip and jump; Richard Sauls and Dale Vogelsang also took part in the event.

Next athletic even scheduled is the Junior Olympics which will be held at Ohio State University, Aug. 6.

Last Friday a freckle contest was held at the park. John Woods, Tammy Speller, Mary Fiddler, Ann Lang and Chick Mawhirter won the "most freckled" honors.

Dance Set For Youths At James-rd

A dance for the teenagers of James Road Playground will be held Friday, Aug. 12.

The dance is open to teenagers between the ages of 13 and 18 who reside in the area of James-rd. It is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. and continue until 9:45 p.m.

Columbus Recreation Department is sponsoring the dance and staff personnel will be on duty with parents.

Youngsters will be able to display hobbies on Wednesday, Aug. 17 from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Each youth must contact Keitha Knecht to make arrangements for display of the hobbies. Deadline for entries has been set for Aug. 12.

James Road softball team is still winless but will attempt to gain their first win when they meet Deshler Park this week. In a previous game Deshler stopped James Road to the tune of 15-5.

Tom Cooper has advanced to Round E in the horseshoe tournament. After Round E is completed he will compete in the city-wide tourney.

The Junior Jet teams are still in full swing, but have only four games remaining in season play.

Carrier of The Week

This Lad Likes Horses

Mike Shadwick, of 2195 Margaret-av, hopes to eventually make a switch from bikes to horses.

This week's Eastern Review's top carrier is saving the money he makes on his route to buy a couple of horses some day.

Not only that, but Mike, who is 12-years-old, says that he is contemplating joining either the Canadian Royal North Mounted Police or the Mounted Sheriff's Posse when he gets older.

But between now and then, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shadwick is engaged with going to school and working on model projects. In adition to horses, he has a yen for baseball and collecting pictures — of horses, that is.

Mike will be in the 8th grade at Eastmoor Junior-Senior High School next year. He was one of the first green sheet boys in the Eastern area and has over 100 paying customers.

Ask Mike what he likes best about his job and he'll answer "Collecting — and saving my money for horses."

Christmas Seal Design Contest Is Under Way

A Christmas seal design contest is now open to all Franklin County artists.

The Tuberculosis Society and Columbus College of Art and Design are co-sponsors of the contest.

Awards presented to the winners will be a $200 scholarship or $100 cash, two $50 evening school scholarships and two family memberships to Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts.

All entries, win or lose, will be sent to the National Tuberculosis Association to compete as the official National Christmas seal for 1962 and top award of $500.

Deadline for entries set in the local area is Sept. 7. Anyone interested in obtaining additional information may call the TB Society at CA. 8-6704.

BUILDS GARAGE

Permission has been granted to L. H Buck, 850 Euclaire av, to build a two-car garage. C. M. R Builders, Incorporated, is the contractor.

Nature Movies On Tap At Park

Scenes of moles burrowing under ground, a skunk giving birth to her young in an abandoned woodchuck den, flying squirrels gliding from tree to tree, the struggle for existence in our lakes, ponds and rivers, and many other interesting features of plants and animals will be shown in the films that are scheduled for the month of August in the Columbus Metropolitan Parks.

Travel films that are scheduled will take viewers through the state of West Virginia and show the scenic beauty, and varied attractions available to tourists who visit that state. They will visit Germany and Finland, viewing the scenery along the beautiful Danube and Rhine rivers in Germany, and some of the interesting places to be seen in Finland.

Movies are presented by the naturalist staff of the Columbus Metropolitan Park District at approximately 8:30 p.m. Tuesday evenings at Darby Creek, Wednesday evenings at Blacklick Woods and Thursday evenings at Blendon Woods.

All films are full-color and sound. The following is a list of the films that are scheduled for the month of August:

Aug. 3 and 4, "Look Down"—Burrowing animals.

Aug. 9, 10 and 11, "A Date with West Virginia" — Scenic West Virginia; "Yosemite-Valley of Enchantment"—Yosemite National Park.

Aug. 16, 17 and 18, "Underwater Reflections" — Intimate views of aquatic life; "Tomorrow's Trees"—Conservation of forests.

Aug. 23, 24 and 25, "The Danube Countryside" — Scenes along the Blue Danube; "The Rhine-Lifestream of Europe"—Rhine River saga; "Wings to Finland"—Finland, land of the North.

Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1, "The Valley and the Stream"—Wildlife in many respects.

East Main-st School Teacher Injured In East

Mrs. Dorothy Charles, an elementary teacher in the Whitehall East Main Street School, is confined in the Manchester Memorial Hospital in Manchester, Conn.

Mrs. Charles and her husband were vacationing in the East when they were involved in an accident climbed down and managed to stop it.

Mrs. Charles received a compound fracture of the left leg. Mr. Charles was treated for bruises and later released from the hospital.

Damages for repairs was not estimated but the roof of the carport and side of the twin-single house, owned by John Matteson, were buckled. The car, owned by Lloyd Slagle, was demolished. The men live in adjoining apartments at the Weyant-av address.

Bounce Land Finds Refuge In Reynoldsburg Area Site

Bounce Land, bounced out of Whitehall because of differences with officials on zoning regulations, opened for business in Reynoldsburg last weekend.

Owner Charles Williams has moved the trampolin playground to property along Rt 40 immediately west of Blacklick Creek.

Williams, who resides at 2469 Bexford-pl, has plans to build trampolin centers in Linden, the Hilltop and on S. High-st.

Basically, the Reynoldsburg Bounce Land is the same as his former center in Whitehall. "We do have a few new wrinkles, however."

Williams has plans to have a trampolin for use of the Reynoldsburg School District. He claims that it has been done in other areas and worked out successfully.

The court will be floodlighted so that it can be used at night it contains 12 units, each over a three-foot pit.

Future plans call for the center to be staffed by members of the Ohio State University diving and gymnastics team, trained by swimming Coach Mike Peppe.

"I I hadn't had the encounter in Whitehall, I'd have four built and in operation by now." The total cost would be $60,000. He was thrown out of Whitehall shortly after he sunk some $12,000 in equipment for his Main-st and Shady Lane business.

MIKE REDDY
Only One Dread

Whitehall Lad Faces Hole In Heart Surgery

By JOHN POEPPELMEYER

Game Mike Reddy will undertake one of life's great ventures next week.

The 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reddy, of 364 Pineview in Whitehall has a hole in his heart that must be corrected.

The malfunction of the vital organ has been there since the day Mike was born. He needs to undergo the operation or face restriction in his everyday activities for the rest of his life.

Mike is to enter Children's Hospital next Wednesday for preliminary examination. Two days later he is scheduled to enter surgery.

But up to the present time, Mike has ran and played as anyone with a normal heart would. He likes baseball, swimming and building model cars. His only dread:: school will be starting soon.

According to physicians that his parents have had attending Mike, and they have been a half dozen in number, the surgeon-specialist that will operate on Mike has been accoladed as "one of the world's foremost."

"They have told me," his father began, "that I could find no better man than Dr. Howard Sirak, whether I went to Austria, Europe or anywhere."

"Mike's trouble," stated Dr. Sirak, "extends from improper development of the heart. No one knows exactly what caused this condition." He mentioned, however, that it could be related to the genes.

The "gap" in Mike's heart is located in the upper chambers of the organ, according to the specialist. If the condition is allowed to go uncorrected, his life expectancy would be limited to 35 to 40 years.

The optimum time for an operation of this kind, he continued, would be at the age of three to four years. "But, unfortunately, it is hard to detect at that age," the surgeon explained.

Mike's parents had no inkling of their son's physical status until he was six.

"At that time," his father said, "an examination revealed 'a noise in his heart,' but the doctors at that time felt that he may outgrow it."

At one time, during the past year, the "hole" caught up with Mike. "He fainted in school one day," his father recalled, "swinging between two desks."

Dr. Sirak expanded on the incident. "During the ensuing years, if the malfunction had gone undected, Mike would notice a considerable loss of energy."

Dr. Sirak has conducted 60 to 70 operations of this type, he stated, from people two years of age on up. As for the cases he has handled "children have pulled through the operation in 100 per cent fashion."

The specialist feels that Mike will probably be home in about a week and added 'that it shouldn't be too long again before he is up and running around."

In fact with school not too far off Mike can even look forward to attending his favorite "dread" on opening day.

Nickel Day Coming At Norwood Sept. 10

Hartley Newspapers and popular Norwood Amusement Park have done it again.

Hartley and Norwood have pooled their talents to offer another mammoth back-to-school Nickel Day program at the familiar amusement center at 2025 E. Main-st.

On Saturday, Sept. 10, the first Saturday following Labor Day, the 70,000 families that read the weekly Hartley publications will be able to thrill at the park's 18 exciting rides from 1 to 11 p.m.

Nickels aren't good for much of anything these days, except for feeding hungry parking meters, but the jingling coins can provide a day of fun at Norwood, compliments of the seven Hartley Newspapers:

The Hilltop Record, West Rural-Urban News, Southeast Rural-Urban News, West Side News, South Side Leader, Eastern Review and Reynoldsburg Record.

Norwood's, which is in the midst of its 19th annual season of providing thrills and chills for children of all ages, offers a variety of rides to suit the tastes of every member of the family.

Topping the list is Norwood's all-time favorite, the carrousel, which has spun its round of enchantment for countless thousands of youngsters. For Hartley Nickel Day you can mount its prancing ponies and ride your cares away for only a nickel.

Other rides that can be yours for only a nickel on Sept. 10 include the ferris wheel, sky ride, dodgems, caterpillar and a special selection of rides for the tiny tots.

One of the kids' favorite attractions at Norwood's is the famous kiddie train, powered by a real steam engine and skippered around the park tracks by genial James P. Kenny, formerly a New York Central Railroad engineer.

Mark the date, Sept. 10, on your calendar today and plan a family outing for a day-long good time at Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day at Norwood Park.

School Goes On In Summer

Eastmoor Staff Plans For 'Smooth' Opening

School may be out for students when the last bell dongs in the summer, but for hard working administrative personnel the mold of day by day activity goes along as usual.

In fact, the basis for the summer work starts far before the last day of school.

At Eastmoor Junior-Senior High School, for instance, phase one of preparing for next year is in progress two months before June rolls around.

"Mainly," points out Principal T. H. Mayers, "we have to think in terms of reorganization for the coming school year."

Mayers is assisted by Vice-Principal Norval Goss.

"Some time before school is out," Mayers went on, "students and teachers work together on the preparation of class schedules."

Such things as whether the student is interested in pursuing a college preparatory course, nursing, or secretarial work, must be directed into achieving the final right courses, Mayers pointed out.

Things to do include making out the schedule cards, getting a tally of classes (determining the number of students requesting a particular class), determining teacher requirements and getting all of these results into the office where the sorting and organization can be simplified.

Conflict charts are drawn up. "A conflict chart," Mayers said, "aids us in determining how many students would be taking the same classes at different times and how many would be taking different classes at the same time."

When this situation is resolved, the charts and the tallies are transferred to a master schedule. This plan resembles a major league baseball schedule, with teachers, rooms and other pertinent facts assembled on one large layout.

"We have 1,400 students and 56 teachers to work out in a classroom schedule that will offer a minimum of conflicts," the principal stated. "We use every room, every period, starting at 8 a.m."

Most of this work is completed within a week's time after school is out in June.

During July, the staff takes its vacation. This year, Mayers

Dem Head Considers Resigning

Whitehall Council President E. D. Willis is contemplating turning in his gavel.

When the move will be made has not been determined,

E. D. Willis

he told the Eastern Review this week.

Willis stated that "Due to personal conditions that have gotten beyond my control, I am anticipating removing myself from the political picture."

He added that if "such a strong decision as this does happen," he would try to leave the community.

If Willis, a Democrat, decides to vacate the council chief chair, his likely replacement will be Republican Ray Shipley. Shipley was named president pro-tem of the legislative body last week.

If Willis' decision becomes a permanent one, he will be the third Democrat within a period

OFFICIAL CEREMONIES SLATED OCT. 29

Whitehall Memorial Reserve Center Dedication Plans Set

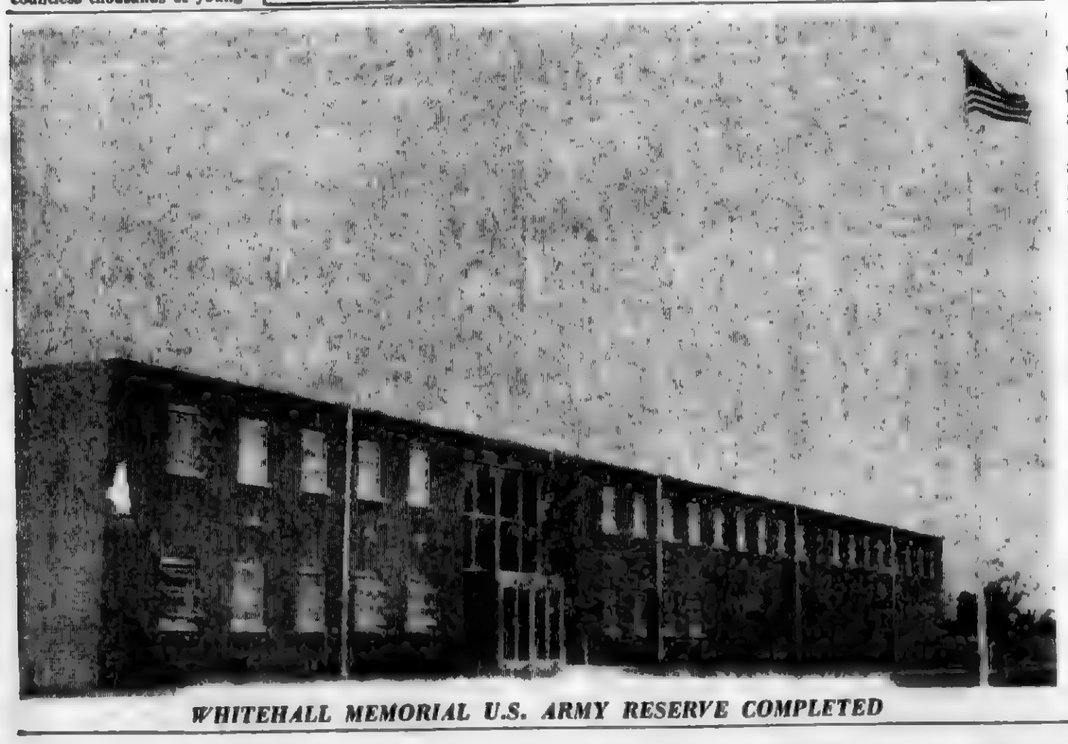
Newest structure to wend its way skyward is the Whitehall Memorial U.S. Army Reserve Center along Country Club-rd.

Dedication ceremonies are slated for Oct. 29, according to Mayor Walter B. Moling.

The building, however, is already being occupied. According to Lt. Col. Jewel W. Ewing ,of Fort Hayes, the Armory cost totaled approximately $280,000. Columbus subsection commander is Lt. Col. Carl E. Bobo, Jr.

The building is to be used for training procedures for three Army Reserve Units, according to Lt. Col. Ewing. Col. Donald E. Pratt will be in charge of the Reserves. Advisor will be Major Otis Adams.

Three units, each meeting one night a week, will engage in infantry training, Col. Ewing said.



The training is to consist of weapons, camouflage, communications and use of small bore rifles.

The units involved are Headquarters and Headquarters Company, "A" Company, and Combat and Support Company, all of the 3rd Battle Group, Col. Ewing said.

The reservists will also occupy the building and surrounding grounds two week-ends a month according to Lt. Col. Bobo. Some 400 men make up the combined units, he said.

At the present time, the units train at Fort Hayes, according to Charles Tatum, administrative aide for the units.

A plaque inscribed "Dedicated in memory of all who have given their lives for our country. Let their supreme sacrifice ever remind us that eternal vigilance, is indeed, the price of liberty," is being made ready.

Wilson-av Church To Move To Location At Shady Lane

The Wilson Avenue United Church of Christ (Evangelical and Reformed) is moving from the sanctuary at Wilson and Fair-avs, which it has occupied since 1893.

The church services will be held in temporary quarters at the Shady Lane Elementary School, Shady Lane and Livingston-av, until a new sanctuary is constructed.

A site has been purchased at 1226 Shady Lane to be used for the construction of a new sanctuary. At the new location, the church will be known as Grace United Church of Christ.

The building on Wilson-av has been sold to the First Church of God, presently located at 487 N. Champion-av, for $65,000.

The Wilson Avenue Church will hold its last service at its present site next Sunday. Following the service, a motorcade will form to drive to the new site, where there will be a mortgage burning service for the new land.

Church services will start on Sunday, Aug. 21 at Shady Lane School.

Rev. Marcus S. Buehrer, pastor, said the United Church of Local AZA Has Initiated Papier Award

The Jeffre H. Papier memorial award, to be presented each year to the Aleph Zedik Aleph youth with the highest scholastic record, has been initiated by the Columbus chapter of Aleph Zedik Aleph.

Seventeen-year-old Papier, a June graduate of Bexley and winner of a National Merit Scholastic Certificate, died July 1 in White Cross Hospital following a long illness.

The gold-engraved plaque award was dedicated in Jeffre's memory as an AZA member and brilliant student. It will be awarded annually beginning in 1961 at the AZA Sweetheart Dance.

Franklin County's 'Blue Ribbon' Fair Opens Monday

Hailed as Ohio's Blue Ribbon Fair" in 1959, the Franklin County Fair is prepared to present its biggest show next week.

Starting with a Wild West show Monday night in front of the grandstand and continuing through a hectic schedule of judging and special events, the 1960 affair will run until an auto thrill show rings down the curtain Saturday evening.

The McKinley Rodeo will perform again Tuesday with night harness racing taking over the oval on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

Judging actually starts at 8 a.m. Tuesday when the Junior Fair Swine and Angus and Shorthorn cattle pass for inspection and grading.

A special Tuesday afternoon event in front of the grandstand is the 4-H Horse Club Show slated to begin at 1.

Highlight of Tuesday activities for the younger set will be the crowning of the Junior Fair King and Queen in the 4-H activities tent located behind the fair office.

Two home talent stakes races are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday with the winners splitting some $3,200 in purse money. Eight races are planned for Tuesday with nine on tap Wednesday and Thursday.

As usual, the race track will be outfitted in big league style with a starting game, photo finish and pari-mutuel wagering.

Three district cattle shows will be held during the Franklin County exposition. The District Jersey Show will start things off Tuesday evening followed by the District Guernsey Show Wednesday night and the District Ayrshire Show Thursday afternoon.

A pony show in the performance class will be held Wednesday afternoon in front of the grandstand.

For those who seek the glamor of the midway and excitement of the crowd, the Franklin County Fair will host its usual assortment of rides and amusements designed to make every minute of the event a delight.

The customary Youth Day is scheduled for Friday with 4-H and FFA events crowding a busy calendar.

After a busy morning of horseshoe pitching and safe driving competition, Junior Fair members will be treated at the Junior Fair Frolics which take over the race track after the 4-H Float Parade.

The annual election of board members for the Franklin County Agricultural Society will take place Friday afternoon with six spots up for grabs.

Bands from Franklin County High schools will perform each day of the fair.

The Juior and Senior Livestock and farm machinery parade will be held Friday morning in front of the grandstand.

See Local Fair Slate — Page 8

Three of the fair days have special designations. Wednesday is "Franklin County Fair Day" followed by "Farm Machinery Day" and "Youth Day."

With no special schedule of events taking place Saturday will be just a day to enjoy the games, rides on the midway and exhibits at the fair. Jole Chitwood's automobile thrill show will close the affair in front of the grandstand at 8 p.m. that evening.

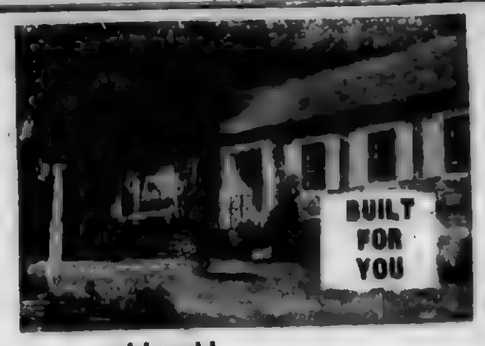
WHITEHALL OUTBURST REGRETTABLE

The very unfavorable publicity in the Eastern Review and downtown newspapers this past week for the City of Whitehall as a result of emotional outbursts during council meeting is most regretable.

As Mayor Walter Moling observed, "These things have happened before and they will probably happen again. But we have important business to attend to, so let's get on with the legislation."



We can only add "Amen" to the last part of that statement. But let us hope that the Mayor falls short of being a prophet on the first part.

Ohio State Bank Plans Branch

The Ohio Division of Banks recently authorized establishment of an Ohio State Bank office at 6996 E. Main-st, Reynoldsburg. The application was approved by R. H. Willett, superintendent of banks.

The office will be located at the northwest corner of E. Main-st and Briarcliff-dr.

Request to open a new Ohio State Bank office in Reynoldsburg was based upon the phenomenal population growth in Reynoldsburg and eastern Franklin County.

According to Ohio State Bank President Frank W. Kelly, the bank started operations Dec. 11, 1950, in the Town and Country Shopping area of Whitehall. Its first branch office was opened in the Great Eastern Shopping Center in May, 1955 at Hamilton-rd and E. Main-st, Whitehall.

A downtown office in the old Ohio State Journal building at 62 E. Broad-st, was opened in April, 1959.

Directors of the Ohio State Bank are George W. Byers, Jr., George Byers Sons Co.; Don M. Casto, Jr., Don M. Casto Organization; Frederick B. Hill III, Yardley Plastics Co.; Kelly, president; Dalton R. Kincaid, attorney; W. C. Harrison, attorney; A. P. Leibbrand, Leibbrand-Petzinger Construction Co.; Judge Wilbur L. Shull, A. W. Van Hise, of A. W. Van Hise Furniture Co., and H. Taylor Zettler, of Zettler Stores, Inc.

If mildew stain appears on washable fabrics, launder and sun-dry. If stain remains, use lemon juice and salt, sodium perborate or any other bleach safe for the fabric, suggest Extension specialists at the Ohio State University.

Bexley Youth Helps Police Nab Robbers

Three young Windsor Terrace tenants were jailed last week after robbing a Bexley High School student on the way to the bank.

The victim, Willard Bornstein, 17, was enroute to a downtown bank with $856 in cash and $1,750 in checks for the company where he works.

Bornstein reported that two men stopped him and entered his car, forced him to drive a ways and then made him get out and walk.

When the robbers drove his car away, he went to the nearest house and called the police. His description of the car, information that one of the robbers once worked for the Bornstein Company, and that they might live in the vicinity of Windsor, gave the detectives all they needed to find the youths.

The detectives found the boys stuffing currency into clothing and on a closet shelf when they broke into the apartment.

All but about $43 of cash was confiscated and detectives found the checks in ashes.

QUEEN PEGGY—Peggy Jo Knapp, a 19-year-old Groveport lovely, walked off with Whitehall's Miss Putt Putt honors last week. She was selected out of 20 area contestants. With her is Mary Lynn Sharp, Miss Putt-Putt U.S.A., who did the official crowning. Queen Peggy also holds the Columbus Miss Fire Fighter title for 1960 and is a member of a local model agency. Whitehall's Police Chief Ralph Walker was one of the judges.

Court Rules Backyard Pool Is OK

Backed by a Tuesday court decision, C. Murrell Prince, of 3236 Astor-av, again has the right to let neighborhood children use his backyard swimming pool.

On July 14, the City Board of Health ordered the Princes to stop operating the pool without a license. The action followed receipt of an anonymous letter from the neighborhood. It was pointed out that some 30 or 40 children paid 10 to 15 cents each to use the pool.

The Princes insisted that the children were their friends and made donations to help with the pool's maintenance.

In a hearing before Judge William T. Gillie a woman presented a petition signed by 98 neighbors who backed the Princes.

Based on this evidence, Judge Gillie said the pool apparently was not being used commercially.

Sailing Program Begins

In line with the Jewish Center's first summer of sailing programming, a series of films will be shown on Monday, Aug. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the center's auditorium.

The films on sailing will help interpret the skills and fun of boating. The film titles are (1) Youth for Sail, (2) Learning to Sail, (3) Sailing Snowbirds, (4) Sails in the Wind and, (5) Windwardway.

The Ohio State Sailing Club and recently formed Center Sea Scouts, plus all participants to the center's sailing program will be on hand to discuss sailing.

Martin Abramson, center sailing instructor, will be the discussion leader and answer any questions.

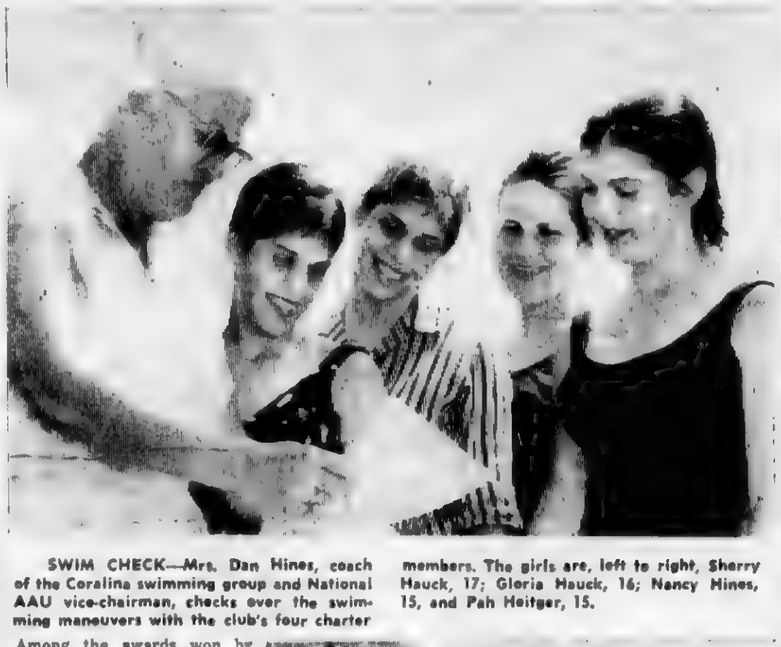
Coralinas Set For 8th Year

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Seven years ago, an East Side woman began formulating plans for a dream she had concerning water, young women and synchronized swimming.

At the end of this year, her organization — now very much of a reality — will have completed their 30th swimming exhibition.



Mrs. Edna Hines, 1156 Parkway-dr, organized the Coralinas. A group of ten girls selected through try-outs that swim with the local Columbus YWCA.

Last weekend the troup performed before a capacity crowd at the Groveport-Madison Recreation Club swimming pool. Only seven of the girls participated.

Two of the girls, Vicki Barnhouse and Teri Heitger, have been swimming with the Coralinas since they were eight years old. They're presently the youngest girls in the group.

When the club had its bright beginnings, in 1953, it was built around four charter members. The girls are Sherry Hauck, 17, who'll enter Ohio State University in the fall; Gloria Hauck, 16, a senior at St. Joseph's Academy; Nancy Hines, 15, a Grandview High School student; and Pam Heitger, 15, of Arlington High School.

Gloria and Sherry Hauck perform as a duet. Most recently they swam at the Jewish Center on College-av last Saturday evening.

SWIM CHECK—Mrs. Dan Hines, coach of the Coralina swimming group and National AAU vice-chairman, checks over the swimming maneuvers with the club's four charter members. The girls are, left to right, Sherry Hauck, 17; Gloria Hauck, 16; Nancy Hines, 15, and Pah Heitger, 15.

Among the awards won by the swimmers include: AAU Junior National team, duet and 4th in the Senior National AAU meet competition. Two weekends ago, the entire company journeyed to Detroit, Mich., to view the Olympic tryouts.

Coming up this weekend, the girls plan to travel to Louisville, Ky., for a swimming exhibition.

They were state champs for three years and Ohio Association champs for three years.

The ten girls, ranging in ages from 7 to 11, are: Teri Heitger, Vicki Barnhouse, Nancy Hines, Cathy Sullivan, Sally Kinnes, Margaret Deatherage, Pam Heitger, Carol Swanson, Sherry Hauck and Gloria Hauck.

YOUNGEST CORALINAS—Vicki Barnhouse, 11, left, and Teri Heitger, 11, are the youngest members of the Coraline Schronized Swimming Club. The young ladies started with the club at the age of eight.

Jewish Center's Little League All-Stars Named

Selection of the All-Star team that will participate in the Fifth Annual Brotherhood Night at North American Recreation Field Aug. 11 has been completed, Grant Brandon, Jewish Center boys' baseball chairman, announced.

Twelve year olds selected for the team are: Bruce Byrnes, Rick Lewis, Steve Feuer, Jeff Handler, Jerry Groves and Leon Friedland. Eleven year olds are Brian Kotzin, Jim Joseph, Jay Worly, Mike Neff and Barry Rosen, Steve Stout, Howie Berliner, Steve Kannry and Bill Burget are 10 year olds.

Aaron Dachner, Ben Weis, Bernie Byrnes, Ron Golden and Bernie Schutzberg are coaches for the team.

Proceeds collected from the game will be donated to the Crippled Children's Fund of the Sabre Shrine Club.

Cost of tickets are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Tickets may be purchased from Little League coaches and players, or at the physical education office.

WBBA Slates Election Meet

The Whitehall Boys' Baseball Association will hold its annual meeting Thursday, Aug. 18 at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be held at Whitehall - Yearling High School and officers will be elected to serve on the 1961 campaign.

Bicycle Event Highlights Scottwood's Activities

Activities at Scottwood were highlighted last week by a bicycle parade that ended with Kathy Gallagher and Denny Congrove as winners.

Others participating in the parade were Maureen Gallagher, Larry Congrove, Steve Krupp, Johnny Ferrante, Diane Ely, Sharon Edison, Jeff Sebolt, Kevin Nuxum, Kevin Spence, Mark Spense, Greg Sebolt and Dick Traphagan.

Judges of the contest were Steve Goodwin, Jeff Williams, Gary Edison, Don Wood and Bobby Brock.

Baseball was climaxed at the park by a game between the All Stars and the Red Sox.

Members of the All Stars were Bill Beaver, Craig Stallings, Pat O'Neill, Billy Purpora, Jeff Williams, Chris Morrison, Steve Fluke, Jim Furrow, Ron Baldwin, Marc Trimmer, John Wymer, Danny Kenne, Ron Pavlov, Chuck Drake and Don Taylor.

Members of the Red Sox are Kieth Stuber, Gary Wilkings, Jim Waller, Ron Remy, Bob Dull, Bob Shelton, Pete Brunson, Tom Grochowski, Richard Pottorf, Larry Congrove and Mack Finley.

John Engle, Jay O'Neill, Ron Fairbanks, Terry Fairbanks and Jeff Williams will swim for Scottwood in the Junior Olympic Swim Meet at Maryland Pool.

PRETTY PITCHER

KITTY LAUNCHES—The best of the horseshoe tossers at Norton Field is 17-year-old Kitty Kelly. She recently launched enough ringers stakeward to beat the champ—her brother, Terry. The "best" label was given her by her supervisor, Jack Miller.

Beware Of Discarded PushButtonContainer

The round cans with the push button element on top are proving to be a hazard in Whitehall.

Fire Inspector James Soteriades has advised everyone to be careful and not place discarded shave cans, hair fixture or fly spray push-button type of containers into incinerators

"When the heat becomes too great, the cans have been known to explode and to fly in off on tangents," Soteriades said. "One has been known to have skyrocketed to the top of a 2½-story building," he related.

Soteriades advises caution and for the people to read the print on can labels that states: "Do not puncture can or store in high temperatures."

Proud Father

Paul Ardway rushed up to a fireman, Sam O. Skelton, at a St. Louis, Mo., bus stop and asked for help because his wife was having a baby. Skelton assisted in the delivery of a seven-pound girl. Ardway fainted

Grandstand Activity Accents Annual Fair

Wild West Show To Open Activities On Monday Night

Franklin County fairgoers are set for the biggest show ever.

Spread over nearly an entire week, this year's Franklin County Fair will run for five days and six nights starting with a wild west show Monday, Aug. 15.

The McKinley Rodeo and Wild West Show will open the fair and play for the first two nights. Then harness racing will take over for the next three nights, with pari-mutuel windows opened nightly at 6.

Jole Chitwood, former Indianapolis "500" driver and one of auto racing's greats, will bring his Auto Thrill Show into the fair on Saturday night, to close out the 1960 fair.

Fair board members are hoping to make this year's fair even bigger and better than last year, when it was named the "Blue Ribbon Fair of Ohio for 1959."

Additional exhibits and displays have been planned, with the women's division of the fair getting more space for their expanded work.

A new junior division for youngsters under 16 will be a part of the flower and garden exhibit for the first time, with accredited horticulture judges making the awards.

LOCAL GIRL PREPARES FOR FAIR

HEIFER RAISER — Barbara Wildermuth, 15, of Shannon-rd, south of Brice, prepares her two heifers, Pansey, right, and Princess for the Franklin County Fair. This will mark Barb's sixth year in fair competition — the first time for entering heifers. She is a junior at Canal Winchester High School.

Standard Brands, Inc., will again award a Yeast Baking Award for the best yeast baked items.

Youth will play a large part in the fair program, with the 4-H Club and F.F.A. members exhibiting the products of their club work.

The Junior Fair King and Queen will be named and will reign from Tuesday night through the balance of fair week. About 40 of the county's outstanding young men and women will enter this event.

Candidates are chosen for their scholarship, leadership, proficiency in club work, and other qualifications.

This is where their efforts of youth are first recognized, and is the stepping stone for many of them to go on to win higher honors at the state fair and beyond.

Young or old, though, the fair has something for everybody every minute of fair week, from Monday, Aug. 15, straight through Saturday, Aug. 20.

Rodeo Riding Will Launch Fair Schedule

The Franklin County Fair will open Monday, Aug. 15, with all the excitement of the old West taking place in front of the grandstand at 2 p.m.

That's when the McKinley Rodeo and Wild West Show moves into the fairgrounds. Starting with a colorful grand entry of all performers, the show moves along with bronco riding, bareback riding, bull riding, calf roping and other thrilling events to hold the interest of everyone until the rider is safe.

Feature acts, such as fancy roping, jumping a horse over a convertible, trick riding, fancy roping and even an educated mule act are on the program.

The "Dance of the Rangeland" has four couples on horseback doing a square dance to music. Every minute of the show is exciting and if last year's attendance at this event is any criterion, then the show should attract a large crowd on opening night. The show will play for the first two fair nights.

The fair will run from Monday, Aug. 15, through Saturday, Aug. 20, at the fairgrounds in Hilliard.

BTU Plans Annual Tea

Fourth District Baptist Training Union will hold its second annual tea, at Second Baptist Church, Sunday, Aug. 21 between 4 and 6:30 p.m. in the church dining room, 186 N. 17th-st.

Rev. C. F. Jenkins is pastor. General theme is "Go Teach."

Home Talent Stakes Spice Harness Racing Program

Boasting one of the finest fairgrounds race tracks in the nation, the Franklin County Fair will offer $11,200 in purses in three nights of harness racing.

All features of a modern raceway will be utilized during the fair including the mobile starting gate, photo finish and pari-mutuel wagering.

Four of the top paying races are part of the state-subsidized Home Talent Stakes. Each of the four races offers a $1,300 purse with added money and will be contested on Wednesday and Thursday of the fair.

Over 280 entries have been received for the home talent stake races. These races are for only horses born, bred and raised in Ohio. Some of the entries are championship material from Ohio's best known stables. Curly Smart, Howard Phillips, Gail Warner, Dr. George Hoeflinger and "Doc" McMillen, harness racing's "dean of driv-

Racing for the first time on the Hilliard track will be Dr. Hoeflinger's "Sobriety Sal" a two-year-old trotter, who made her first start at Mt. Vernon the other night and came in fourth.

"Sobriety Sal" is out of Darnley Mare and Hanover and promises to live up to the Hanover name in harness racing.

All races will be under the lights with resereved seats on sale in the grandstands. Post time is 8 p.m.

Besides the Home Talent Stakes, there will be an 18 pace and trot, 21 pace and trot, 28 pace and trot, 24 trot, and 15-17 pace.

All races are conducted under the rules of the United States Trotting Association.

Members of the speed committee are Robert Reece, chairman; H. F. Cunningham, Waldo Walker, George Hoeflinger and Dave Wetterman.

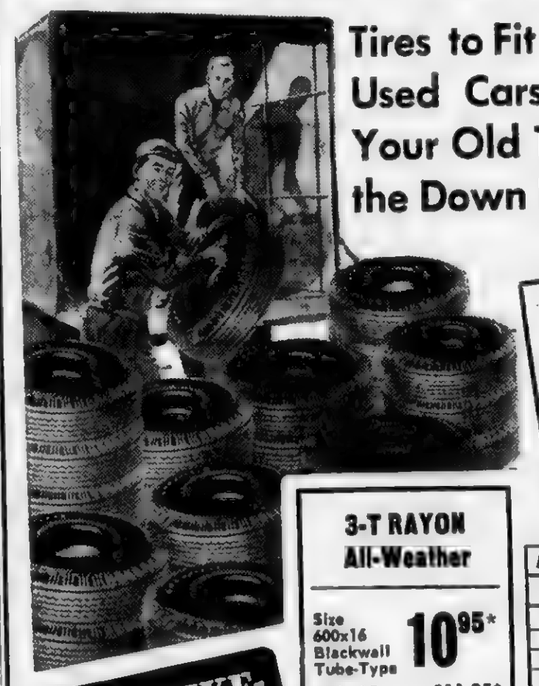
Fair Exhibt Will Depict County's Role

A subject of old standing will be brought into the light at the Franklin County Fair.

County government—its functions and services—will be explained in a display planned by County Commissioner D. J. Kunz.

In his tent, Kunz will show the functions of the various county-operated agencies including pictures of the Franklin County Home, Alum Crest Hospital, Benjamin Franklin Hospital, Franklin Village Children's Home, Court House, County Jail, Detention Home, Old Memorial Hall and Veterans Memorial.

The first exhibit of its kind at the County Fair, Kunz hopes that it will help Franklin County citizens better understand the county's role in the administration of government.



In addition, organizational charts will be passed out.

It's The Right Time For Fishing At Night

Last week's column evidently stirred some interest in night fishing during hot weather. A number of phone calls were received asking for more information — so here goes.

The main problem with night fishing is seeing what you're doing. With even a little moonlight human eyes become adjusted to darkness, and the situation is actually better than might be expected. A flashlight tied on to your belt will provide the necessary illumination to change or retrieve a snagged lure, but a flash of bright light will ruin night vision for several minutes.

A slick trick is to make use of phosphorescent paint and little reflectors which glow after dark. Take a few lures and daub them with this paint. Similarly treat the handle of your outboard, oar handles, tackle box, and other items which you'll have to handle in the dark.

As a finishing touch, mark a pre-selected fishing course with reflectors and paint. Drive in some treated stakes if need be. Mark the edges of the shoreline and weedbeds, and indicate the location of stumps and other good fishing spots.

You will be surprised how much easier these stunts will make night fishing.

If fly fishing is your forte, then do not think night fishing is out for you. Simply change to a white line. The Cortland company makes one especially for this purpose and calls it "Moon-Glo." Since most of us consider the cost of fly lines, this line is a good choice for it covers a dual purpose—it's excellent for daytime use too.

Catching bluegills and bass at night on fly tackle is about as much fishing sport as you will ever experience.

Insects can be a bit of a problem to night fishing, especially mosquitos. But with modern repellants they can be whipped, and will not mar your fun.

Even though bass and other game fish become more nocturnal as the weather gets hotter, catfish probably remain the prime target of night-time anglers. A few fishermen take channel catfish by casting artificial lures over riffles and shallow water.

Faster action can be obtained, however, by drifting soft craws or nightcrawlers in the same waters with spinning tackle. And then there is much to be said for the old fashioned way of still fishing for catfish.

A gasoline lantern is placed on the bank and from its circle of light the fisherman watches his lines. Sitting along a stream at night is the ultimate in relaxation — that is, if fighting a few bruiser catfish does not upset your nervous system.

The wise fisherman does not try to combat nature and her children. He fishes when fish are active and feeding. He is not interested in merely exercising his casting arm and getting a sunburn. (He will do this, of course, if it produces fish). But a change of tactics is called for when the weather gets hot and sultry. Now is the time to go night fishing.

If you listen to all the songs you wouldn't think there's an Irishman left in Ireland. They're all somewhere else singing about it.

Food Market This Week

by ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Vegetables — Sweet corn, tomatoes, summer squash, cabbage, snap beans, cucumbers.

Fruits — Peaches, melons, apples, plums, canned apricots.

Other Foods — Fryers, eggs, canned ham, chuck roast, rib roast.

SUMMER SQUASH IS OLD-TIME FAVORITE

Did you know that summer squash is one of our oldest American foods? The Indians, who knew it long before the white men came, called it "askitasquash," meaning "green — raw — unripe"—which is exactly the way the braves relished it. Summer squash is still eaten before it is fully ripe, but we normally cook it before eating.

There is an abundance of summer squash on the markets during August. The many varieties offer inexpensive eating and are delicious served with other plentifuls such as tomatoes, snap beans and roasting ears, or fried chicken. You can eat every bit of a tender summer squash—skin, flesh and seeds. Here are some varieties to look for:

• White Brush Scallop or Patty Pan is probably the most widely used. Eating quality is excellent and it's a good keeper. Yellow Brush Scallop is similar, except for color.

• Yellow Crookneck is also a widely used variety. It is available on many markets. The Yellow Straightneck is similar except it has a straight neck.

• Zucchini is very dark green at the first edible stage. The skin is smooth.

• Cocozello has fruit that is striped—dark and light green. This variety is straight and nearly cylindrical when young.

• Casterta is one of the newer squash vavieties. The fruit is grayish-green, striped brokenly with darker green.

When buying summer squash, select the ones that are young and tender and heavy for the size. Avoid those with hard rinds. One pound serves two to three people.

Summer squash is perishable. So keep it in the refrigerator in a plastic bag and use it soon.

EASY TO PREPARE

To make the most of the delicate flavor and color of summer squash, you can serve it with butter, minced parsley, paprika, bacon bits or tomatoes. You can stuff the white scalloped type and serve it whole. As with other vegetables, quick cooking in a small amount of water preserves flavor and food value. Cook until just tender.

There's good nutrition in summer squash. They contain vitamins A and C, plus other essential nutrients, but only about 83 calories per pound.

IT'S TIME TO FREEZE PEACHES

If you plan to freeze Red Haven peaches, better do it this week. This variety does not turn brown when sliced, so it's a favorite for the freezer.

If you need help on freezing or canning methods, feel free to call your Agricultural Extension Service — CA. 1-6411, Extension 454.

Play Of The Week Presents 'Simply Heavenly' Saturday

By Larry Holmes

Claudia McNeil and Earle Hyman will star in Langston Hughs' comedy with music, "Simply Heavenly," on "Play of the Week," Saturday, Aug. 13, at 11 p.m. on Channel 10.

Characters in "Simply Heavenly" are, on the whole, ordinary hard-working, low-income bracket people. Paddy's Bar in like a neighborhood club and most of its patrons are not drunkards or bums.

Their small kitchenette rooms or over-crowded apartments cause them to seek the space and company of the bar. Just as others seek the church as a social center, poolhall or dancehall, these seek the bar.

The time is the present, the place is Harlem, and the mood is of the moment.

Among those appearing with Claudia McNeil and Earle Hyman are Frederick O'Neil, Melvin Stewart, Gail Fisher, Maxwell Glanville and Allegs Kane.

Thursday, Aug. 11, at 8 p.m., the first night baseball game, in Central Ohio, shown in color will be presented on channel 4. Cincinnati will be playing Los Angeles.

The development and use of the high sensitive color tube in the telecasting of live night sporting events is considered one of the most important program contributions and engineering contributions to the television industry.

You and Your County Schools will feature "Guidelines for Teaching" Saturday, Aug. 13, at 1 p.m. on Channel 4.

Guests on the educational show include Thomas J. Quick, superintendent of the Franklin County Schools; Robert Boyd, secondary school consultant; and Jesse J. Rychener, principal of Jefferson Elementary School in Gahanna.

One of Central Ohio's most popular programs "Traffic Court" will return to the air for another season Monday, Aug. 15, at 6:30 p.m. on Channel 10.

As in the past, the judges, policemen and officers of Traffic Court will be carrying out the duties they do in real life. Only actors that will be used are the defendants.

The cases dramatized will be actual, taken from the files of local law enforcement agencies. The realism of the program is often confusing, and more than one actor-defendant has been accosted by a friend on the street and asked why he wasn't in jail.

Traffic Court is designed to demonstrate the seriousness of obeying all traffic laws and was the most-watched weekly program on Columbus television on a local level last year.

Women's Juvenile Service Board will sponsor Fred Waring's Stereo-Festival of 1960 with the purpose of raising funds for the building of a Buckeye Ranch for boys.

The concert will appear at the Veterans' Memorial Building on Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 8:30 p.m.

The ranch is to be located at 5685 Hoover-rd, near Grove City, on a 75-acre tract purchased by the Service Board. It will be an adjustment home for boys who need training under professional guidance and whose homes are so inadequate as to make it necessary to place them elsewhere for rehabilitation.

The Fred Waring Show, starring the Pennsylvanians will feature several stars of radio and television along with veteran performers of a number of years.

Fair Exhibt Will Depict County's Role

A subject of old standing will be brought into the light at the Franklin County Fair.

County government—its functions and services—will be explained in a display planned by County Commissioner D. J. Kunz.

In his tent, Kunz will show the functions of the various county-operated agencies including pictures of the Franklin County Home, Alum Crest Hospital, Benjamin Franklin Hospital, Franklin Village Children's Home, Court House, County Jail, Detention Home, Old Memorial Hall and Veterans Memorial.

The first exhibit of its kind at the County Fair, Kunz hopes that it will help Franklin County citizens better understand the county's role in the administration of government.

In addition, organizational charts will be passed out.

TO RUN

CAMPAIGNS—Endorsed by the Republican Central Committee as the write-in candidate to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Judge Wayne Fogel as a Domestic Relations Court Judge is John Hill. A memeber of the South High graduating class of 1943, Hill is a lawyer with offices at 2597 Silver-dr, in Linden. He lives at Ulry-rd, near New Albany.

Marriage is when a man gives up privileges that he never knew he had.

Then there was the husband who quit taking his wife everywhere. She kept finding her way back home.

Water Bombs Help Control Forest Fires

Water bombing to control small forest fires, may become a part of Ohio's fire protection program according to O. A. Alderman, chief, Division of Forestry.

While recently attending a fire school on the Superior National Forest, northern Minnesota, Alderman flew with one of the "bush pilots" and observed the bombing techniques.

The plane, a De Haviland Beaver, equipped with pontoons, carried 120 gallons of water, which was scooped from a lake, while the plane was taxiing. In actual operation, the plane never comes to a complete stop, picking up the water while on the move. In a matter of several minutes the plane is airborne and on its way to make a drop on the fire.

"To be most effective," said Alerman, "the plane flies at 200 to 250 feet altitude. An area approximately 50 by 150 feet can be watered down with one 'bombing.' While this might not put out a fire completely it would suppress one long enough to permit crews to reach the scene."

This Year's Spring Forest Fires Were Less Destructive

Ohio's 1960 spring forest fire season was far less destructive than in 1959. This was disclosed in figures compiled by the Division of Forestry.

Between January 1 and June 30 there were 654 fires burning over a total of 4,650 acres. In 1959, for a similar period, 1,051 fires burned over 9,690 acres, the highest for several years.

As is usually the case, debris burners were responsible for starting most of the fires, 277. Following in order were smokers, 132; railroads, 124; miscellaneous, 55; incendiary, 40; campfires, 22; lightning, 3; and logging and lumbering, 1.

By districts, south central Ohio reported 271 fires, burning over 1,934 acres; eastern Ohio, 229 — 1,664; south eastern Ohio, 107 — 840, and northwestern, 47 — 220.

The worst month was April, when 482 fires burned over 4,037 acres. Next was March, 64 — 311 (extremely light for this month); May, 46 — 342; January, 36 — 77; February, 15 — 75, and June, 31 — 49.

There were 170 fires started incidental to the operation of a household (burning papers and trash); 79 were the responsibility of farmers, incidental to agricultural operations; children started 71 and railroad right-of-ways accounted for 13.

New Publication Tells Of Park Camp Sites

A new Division of Parks publication, "Let's Go Camping," gives information on the 26 Ohio state parks where camping is permitted.

This concise summary lists available facilities at each park, regulations and fees for each of the various classes of camping areas. It is a "must" for all who plan to do tent or trailer camping in Ohio, park officials say.

Single copies are available free from the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Publications Branch, 1500 Dublin Rd.

Strictly Fresh

We know of few chilling experiences that can rival the sight of a motorcycle patrolman walking up to the car window pulling his gloves off one finger at a time.

Some politicians have been watching too many TV westerns. They think of everyone in terms of "good guys" and "bad guys."

Driving fast in wet weather is like jumping off a roof with a noose around your neck. It's smooth going until the sudden stop at the end.

"I understand the new models can cook."

Central YWCA Plans Enlarged Fall Program

Central YWCA, 65 S. Fourth-st, will enlarge its program for young mothers and children for the fall to include morning and afternoon sessions for mothers and, at the same time, play school for children one to six years.

YWCA is in need of some added equipment for its children's playschool — cribs, play pens, and good toys. Donations of such items in usable condition would be appreciated.

EUB Church Of Whitehall

A "Church-Day-Out-Of-Doors" will be held at Echo Woods Park, two miles east of Reynoldsburg on Rt. 40, Sunday, Aug. 14, sponsored by the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Whitehall.

The day will include Sunday School for all ages at 9.30 a.m., worship at 10:30 a.m. and basket dinner at noon.

Those attending will bring picnic baskets.

Planned recreation for all ages will begin at 1:30 and refreshments will be served in mid-afternoon.

Vespers at 4 p.m. will close the program.

Everyone is invited to bring family and friends. There is a large parking area and plenty of shelter in case of rain. Pastor of the EUB Church is Rev. Lloyd W. Tuttle and he may be contacted at BE. 5-8786 for further information.

Double-Ring Nuptial Rite Unites Margaret McNier, Richard Jones

Fairmoor United Presbyterian Church was the setting for the June 29 wedding of Miss Margaret McNier and Mr. Richard Jones.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Betty Grein, 907 Elizabeth-av, and the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy McNeir, 1128 Neil-av. Mr. Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Jones, 3060 E. Fifth-av.

Rev. Russell L. Dugan officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

A reception followed at 1450 E. Broad-st.

The bride approached the alter on the arm of her uncle, Mr. LeRoy Green of Columbus.

Her gown of white bridal satin and chantilly lace was made by her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Millar. The tailored gown featured a scoop neckline and sleeves of chantilly lace and ended in a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion draped from a queen's crown of iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade of red sweetheart rose buds and lilies of the valley on a white Bible.

Mrs. Clyde Hampton served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Katheryn Jones and Miss Beverly Jones, sisters of the bridegroom and Miss Susie Green, cousin of the bride.

The attendants' gowns, made by Mrs. Millar and Mrs. Jones, were of satin with chiffon overskirts. The matron of honor was gowned in baby blue and the bridesmaids wore pastel shades.

They carried cascades of white carnations.

Mr. John Pepper served as best man and ushers were Mr. Ronnie Wilke, Mr. Darrell Arnett and Mr. Thomas Baughman.

Hostesses at the reception were Mrs. Joseph Fife of Dayton and Mrs. Thomas Hampton of Columbus.

The bride is a graduate of Central High School and is associated with Prudential Insurance Company.

The bridegroom attended Ohio State University and is now serving as a guided missilman in the US Navy, Charleston, S.C.

Upon completion of his service the couple will reside in Columbus where Mr. Jones will finish his college education.

WHITEHALL CLUB DATES WORKSHOP

Whitehall Garden Club will hold a workshop at the home of Mrs. Bart Bare, 371 Beaver-av Thursday, Aug. 18, 8 p.m.

Mrs. Vance Hendrick, OAGC flower show judge will conduct the workshop through the flower show schedule, planned for Sept. 10 at East Broad Street School.

Theme of the show will be "Our Flower Library."

Hostesses at the workshop meeting will be Mrs. Orville Oyler, Mrs. Frances Sutphen and Mrs. Charles McMath.

R. T. KING, OES FESTIVAL SET

The annual summer festival of the R. T. King Chapter, OES, will be held at 697 S. High-st, Aug. 12.

A jitney dinner will be served at 5 p.m. with home prepared sandwiches, potato salad, baked beans, deviled eggs, cake, ice cream, hot and iced coffee and tea and soft drinks available.

All social clubs of the chapter are participating in the festival with Ameer selling special hand made items, Areme featuring a surprise package at the Post Office booth and Star Point joining Chorus in presenting a home baked goods sale.

ANYONE ELIGIBLE INVITED TO JOIN OVERSEAS CLUB

Overseas Wives Club will meet Friday, Aug. 12, 8 p.m. at the YWCA.

Program will be presented by Mrs. Robert C. Kell. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Flowers and Mrs. Gilbert Cotton.

Any foreign born wife of an American serviceman or ex-serviceman is eligible to membership in the group. For information call the membership secretary, Mrs. George Coleman, 3516 Doverrd.

Cancer Service Aids Need Cotton Material

Old sheets, pillow cases, shirts, handkerchiefs, tablecloths and napkins are needed by the women of First English Lutheran Church, Main-st at 22nd-st, for their work with the Cancer Service Center.

From these materials bed pads and shirts are made for cancer patients.

Anyone wisning to donate may call Mrs. Richard Schmidt, 874 S. Third-st, at HI. 4-2647, and arrangements can be made for items to be picked up.

When buying sheets, look at the label for the maximum amount of shrinkage which should occur, suggest Extension home furnishing specialists at the Ohio State University.

SOROPTIMISTS PLAN PICNIC

Mrs. Eleanor Geipl, 7125 Riverside-dr, will be hostess to members of Soroptimist Club Tuesday, Aug. 16, for a cocktail hour followed by a picnic. Soroptimisters will be guests.

90 Million Sandwiches Eaten Daily

Americans eat 90 million sandwiches a day and this year will devour more than 35 billion sandwiches, more of them this month of August than any other month, according to Herbert Huffman, manager of McDonald's Drive-In at 45 S. High-st.

The most popular sandwich is none other than the hamburger, according to Huffman.

During August, National Sandwich Month, Huffman expects to serve a total of 80,000 hamburgers from more than four tons of ground beef. In addition to this mountain of beef, Huffman will use about eight tons of potatoes and four tons of shortening to make up more than 40,000 orders of French fries he expects to sell.

Huffman, who has taken a special interest in the origin of the sandwich since entering the McDonald chain, says its birth goes back about 200 years. The fourth Earl of Sandwich craved food in the middle of a 24-hour card game and ordered cold beef on two slices of bread.

The hamburger is even older. It all started with the Russians, according to Huffman. Russians in the Baltic provinces were fond of chopped, raw meat and seamen from Hamburg, Germany, picking up a taste for the dish, brought it back with them to the North Sea ports where it caught on. It soon became known as hamburger.

and his wife, who was named a sweepstakes winner, toured Japan for two weeks and Hawaii for four days.

In August, registration begins; transcripts for college are filled out and mailed; a host of other items attended to.

Registration is going on at the present time for youngsters who have recently moved into the area. Mayers also commented that "some 70 per cent of Eastmoor graduates go on to college."

By this whole procedure of operations, Mayers explained, "we hope to make the first day of school run as smoothly as the 10th day."

Council—

of three weeks to resign, Dan Gorman and A. Z. Greely previously submitted resignations due to job assignment shifts.

Willis said that he was "disappointed in the political picture." He feels, he said, that there could be a couple of men on council "much more" qualified for the job.

"If I'm not doing my job well enough to satisfy the council, then I will remove myself and let someone else take over." He mentioned Shipley as a likely replacement.

Willis said he feels that he has tried to run the legislative body on an unbiased basis, but added that he had heard accounts to the contrary.

His wife, Louise, secretary to Etna Road Elementary Principal Jack, Brown, submitted her resignation to the Whitehall School Board Tuesday, with the statement that the family will be leaving the state within the next month.

James-rd Youths Are Represented In Olympics

James Road Playground was represented by six youngsters in the Columbus Recreation Department's Junior Olympics at the Ohio State Football Stadium.

Youths participating were: Cheri Manns, Buddy Vaughn, Bob and Steve Mercer, Mike Negrin and Gary Mulberger.

The softball team continued on its losing way by being topped by Karns Park 19 to 0.

Children of the park will take a trip to Lazarus' Assembly Center and see the puppet show Thursday, Aug. 18 at 2:30 p.m.

The outing will be free, however, each child will be required to pay their own bus fare. All youngsters interested in attending the outing should contact Miss Knecht at the playground.

Columbus Gains, Delays An Action, Looks To Future

An accomplishment, a move delayed and an announcement of future action for three separate East Side locations were handled by City of Columbus officials this past week.

At Port Columbus, the city service director accepted title to 36 buildings formerly used by the Naval Air Reserve. Settlement on 14 others remains to be worked out.

The city engineer announced that widening and rebuilding of E. Livingston-av would be delayed because of the lengthy time needed for preparation of plans.

In other action, the administrator of advanced procurement of the State Highway Department said appraisers for property to be used in the south and east legs of the innerbelt expressway will be making personal contact with property owners soon.

City Gets 36 Buildings

Title to 36 of the 50 buildings formerly used by Naval Air Station personnel was received by Columbus Service Director Ernest H. Stork Saturday in partial settlement of the 13-month-long fight between Columbus and the federal government.

No decision on what to do with the 14 remaining buildings, including the major hanger and the administration building, has been reached. The buildings are situated near the airport gate at Hamilton-rd.

The Defense Department gave control of the 14 buildings to the Army, which has proposed that they be developed into an aviation base for helicopters.

The Municipal Airport Commission, however, objected to this. In the city's opinion, the government must either tear down the buildings, along with restoring the land or turn them over to the city.

When the Navy left Port Columbus July 1, 1959, as its lease ended, the city administration tried to seize the buildings, but the government took the matter to court.

In the court decision, the government was given a reasonable amount of time to come to an agreement with the city or tear down the buildings.

Road Building Delayed

The widening and rebuilding of E. Livingston-av from James-rd to Hamilton-rd may have to wait until early 1961 because of City Engineer Robert F. Werner's inability to increase his staff.

Werner had hoped to begin work on the $450,000 project this year, but a delay in preparation of construction plans in his division may prevent it.

The delay resulted with the institution of Mayor Ralston Westlake's policy to hire city engineers rather than high priced private firms. Salaries offered to the beginning engineers, however, could not meet competition for June college graduates and a raise in starting pay came too late to be of help.

When the project is completed, a new 52-foot-wide, four-lane highway will have been placed on an 80-foot-wide right of way.

Right of way purchases were begun last week, according to Bernard Lacour, city land acquisition officer. No general objections have been raised by the owners, according to him.

Appraisers Will Begin

Property owners received notices last week urging cooperation when appraisers appear to establish prices on land for the $20 million south and east legs of the innerbelt expressway.

Approximately $8 million worth of land is needed for the six lane project.

The end of the innerbelt, now at the W. Mound-st bridge, will be extended east to an interchange at Fulton-st and Parsons-av. It will then be extended north to Oak-st to combine with the Ft. Hayes Interchange. Construction is planned to start in 1963-64.

Two reasons were given for advanced purchasing by James Stegmeier, administrator of the advance procurement section of the state highway department.

One reason was since the federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of innerbelt projects, local governments must meet advance costs. Much of the necessary money will be loaned by the Public Employes Retirement System under a new state law.

Second was that negotiators do not have to wait until exact limits of the right of way are determined and construction plans are completed.

City officials are preparing plans to relocate families from the area. Stegmeier said. About 400 properties are involved.

Completion of construction on the south and east leg of the Ft. Hayes interchange will complete the innerbelt loop around downtown Columbus.

Anniversary Pageant Set Next Week

As the summer programs swiftly draw to a close, 73 city-supervised playgrounds are preparing to take part in a huge 50th Anniversary Pageant Wednesday, Aug. 24, at Central High School.

A cast of 700 to 800 children are busy preparing props, ranging from covered wagons, canal boats and fire engines to school houses and the present Columbus skyline.

Each playground rehearses its act on the playground. Props, costumes and scenery are also made by the youngsters.

The production, open free to the public, will start at 7:30 p.m. Included in the acts are a Flora Dora sextette, an old Laurel and Hardy movie, a cave scene from early history, and black lights acts. There will be scenes depicting the early history of Schiller, Goodale and Glenwood Parks, as well as scenes showing the modern day activities held on the playgrounds throughout the year.

Seventy-three Fairmoor Playground youngsters will participate in the pageant. Their entry will be a portrayal of a German band and pantomime to an old German medley.

Six youngsters will be dressed in orange and white band uniforms. An orchestra sponsored by the Recreation Department will be on hand to play in true German style.

Fairmoor youths participating in the production are Beth Reece, James-rd; Mary Hartley, Everett-st; Konnie Davis, S Hampton-rd; Veda Gornall, Elizabeth-st; Mariann Eislestein, Everett-st, and Dianne Cohen, S. Ashburton.

The James-rd presentation will be "Strolling Through The Park One Day." Youths taking part in the activities are Beth and Jimmy Butner, 2992 E. Moreland-dr; Pam Williams, 1025 S. James-rd; Debbie and Kathy Carpenter, 1031 S. James-rd; Patty and Linda Coe, 3097 Astor-av; Michele Samelson, 1052 S. Kellner.

Judy Baxton, 1052 S. James-rd; Tim Drudy, 2970 E. Moreland; Cecila Doyle, 2789 Parkland; Dianne Tamanini, 1030 S. James-rd; Robert, John and David Ucker, 3000 Hampshire; Maureen and Kathy McGinty, 1054 S. Kellner; John McKinley, 835 Enfield-rd, and Mary Korenberg, 2990 Astor.

Children taking part in the production have been trained in dancing, singing, drama and comedy acts.

The Singing Sheriffs will open the pageant.

4th ANNUAL EVENT SLATED

Bexley Neighborhood Youths Go To Work For Cancer Fund

Kids, it has often been said, just don't take an interest in things. They just don't have any idea of the problems facing today's world, nor do they care, it has oft times been added.

It has taken a group of Bexley youngsters to not only ignore this fallacious adage, but to take and discard the notion in the trash can.

All the sign says in the back yard of David Quinn, of 126 N. Roosevelt-av, is "4th Annual Carnival." It also gives the date, time and place, Wednesday, Aug. 24, from 5 to 8 p.m., of the event and concludes "For Cancer Research."

David is spearheading the program. He has for assistants, his brother, Gary and his sister, Susan, the neighborhood kids and their mothers.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Quinn. His mother explained that the proceeds of the carnival will go to the Dorothy Sadoff Memorial Club. She was an aunt of the Quinn children who passed away some five years ago, death being the result of cancer, according to Mrs. Quinn.

Although not nationwide, Mrs. Quinn said, the drive does have counterparts in Texas, New York and California. The Memorial Fund is affiliated with Mt. Sanai Hospital in Chicago, she pointed out.

At the carnival such things as cakewalks, dart games, midget car rides, bowling, ping-pong, fish ponds and "beat the champ" efforts in tether ball are being offered.

Mrs. Quinn pointed out that the numerous events can be

PRESENTS PANTOMIME—Fairmoor Playground youngsters will take part in the 50th Anniversary Pageant of the Columbus Recreation Department. The youths will portray a German band and present a pantomime to an old German medley. Seen, from left, are Beth Reece, eight, 119 S. James-rd; Mary Ann Eiselstein, 10, 659 S. Everett-st; Kennie Davis, 10, 228 S. Hampton-rd; Diane Cohen, 11, 214 S. Ashburton; Veda Gornall, 10, 674 Elizabeth-st, and Mary Hartley, 11, 604 S. Everett-st.

NAA Gets $168.5 Million Contract

The Columbus Division of North American Aviation has been awarded $168.5 million in contracts by the United States Navy for further production of Vigilante aircraft, NAA officials learned yesterday.

The Vigilante is an all-weather attack aircraft, the navy's newest attack weapons system.

Move Your Mower!

With plentiful summer rains, there's still a lot of grass cutting before fall. Wouldn't this be a good time to sell your old power mower and get a new one? Mrs. C. Albert, 617 Wrexham-av, sold hers to the first caller after advertising it in the Hartley Newspapers Classifieds. Move your mower . . . call BR. 4-1155.

Swimland Holds Its Own

Like a fish in water, the suburban swimmers have splashed their way to enviable records, "finning' their way to honors right and left.

The honors: a total of 46 first three place medals and ribbons at the Junior Olympics and at the Ohio State Invitational.

The team: members of the swimland club in Whitehall.

Of some 555 swimmers, a record of entries, the Swimland group strode off with 127 points, good for second place behind Delaware. Entrants were al 16 years of age and under. Some 22 teams in all competed.

Of the many Swimland entries, seven youngsters, none ranking higher in age than 15, walked off with either first or second place awards in the two meets.

Take Paul Carter, for instance. He's 13-year-old and a diver par excellence. In the Suburban Swim league meet as well as in the Olympics and in the Ohio State Invitational, he has consistently walked off with first place honors.

In the Ohio State meet, he competed in the all-age group diving to snare the top prize.

Steve and Karen Beery, ages 12 and 15, respectively, have garnered three firsts between them, all in diving competition.

John McQuaid has splashed his way to first place in the 50-yard freestyle at both meets and snared a first, in addition, in the 50-yard breast stroke in the Ohio State

Bexley Schoolmen Planning For Opening Day Pilgrimage

The day draws near and Bexley School officials are getting ready for the autumn pilgrimage to open classroom doors.

Superintendent E. D. Jarvis has announced the following schedule for the district:

Bexley City Schools will open on Thursday, Sept. 8.

All district lines for attendance purpose are the same as in the past.

Elementary children, grades Kindergarten through six, north of Broad-st, attend Maryland Elementary School. Those between Main and Broad-sts attend Cassingham Elementary School, those south of Main-st attend Montrose Elementary School.

All seventh and eighth grade pupils attend at the Cassingham Junior High School Building. All high school pupils, grades nine through 12, attend the high school.

Bexley Schools will receive no tuition pupils at any level. Only pupils whose parents or legal guardians are residents of Bexley on the very opening day of

Route 62 Relocation Plans To Be Aired

Plans for a new four-lane relocation of U.S. Route 62 between Nelson-rd and Gahanna will be up for public hearing Thursday, Aug. 18, in Columbus, according to an announcement by the Ohio Department of Highways.

Estimated cost of the four-mile limited access improvement, including right-of-way and engineering expenses, is $4 million. The job calls for new bridges at Alum Creek and Big Walnut Creek to replace existing structures both of which are rated "poor" by Department inspectors.

Lying just north of existing USR 62, the proposed highway would lie largely in Mifflin Township, with shorter segments within the corporation lines of Gahanna and Columbus.

The improvement, scheduled for eventual construction as two individual projects, will enter the detailed design stage after its alignment has been approved by the Director of Highways.

The hearing will begin at 10 a.m. in Hearing Room No. 2 of the State Office Building on Front-st, Columbus. Highway officials will be present to explain details of the proposal to all interested persons.

LOOKING DOWN FROM THE TOP—This healthy septet of Swimland splashers have garnered either first or second place in the Junior Olympics and in the Ohio State Invitational. From the top: John Packard, John McQuaid, Jeff Nelson, Steve Beery, Susan Berryman, Karen Beery and Paul Carter.

CIVITANS HONOR OFFICIALS

HONORARY DESIGNATIONS AWARDED—Presidents of Civitans International, Paul B. Wever, left, was on hand when Eastern and Western Civitans got together Wednesday night to pay tribute to Columbus Mayor Ralston Westlake and Brig. Gen. Harold H. Shaller, Commander of Columbus General Depot. Westlake and Shaller received honorary plaques and pins. Left to right, Wever, Brig. Gen. Shaller, Mayor Westlake and William R. Mnich, president of the Eastern Civitans. The awards were given out at the Depot.

DEDICATON RITES SET AT FAITH LUTHERAN

Dedication service for the educational unit of Faith Lutheran Church, 730 Collingwood-av near Main-st in Whitehall, will be held Sunday, Aug. 21, 2:30 p.m. An open-house will follow the ceremony.

Rev. Vernon Rodie pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, Stover, Miss., will be guest speaker. Rev. David R. Risch is pastor of Faith Lutheran.

The new unit contains 21 classrooms, pastor's office and restrooms, and was built by Cardiff Construction Co. at a cost of $85,000. Frederick Stritzel was the architect.

Membership in the church is 700 confirmed and 1200 baptized persons. The existing sanctuary and Sunday School areas were constructed six years ago.

A plaque will be placed in the church narthex during dedication service in honor of the late pastor, Dr. A. M. Wagner, who was minister of the church for 12 yeas until his death in 1958.

LOOK THIS ONE OVER CAREFULLY

The Democrats of Ohio are seeking to put James D. Ferguson in the State Auditor's office in November. He is the son of Joseph T. Ferguson, Treasurer of State.

Let's take a look at the duties of these two offices.

The treasurer has the job of collecting the state money and depositing it. Checks written against the state are "cashed" by the treasurer. He is the custodian of state monies.

The auditor has the duty of checking the tr asurer's office. He writes checks on the money held by the treasurer.

This is supposed to be a system of checks and balances. The jobs should be entirely separate.

We believe most Ohioans will agree that it does not appear to be proper that the two jobs should be held simultaneously by a father and son combination.

Six immediate members of the Ferguson family are already on the state payroll at a total cost of over $50,000 per year.

We heartily recommend that both Republicans and Democrats alike give this matter their careful consideration and cast their votes for auditor for James A. Rhodes, present auditor, who apparently has done a very satisfactory job for the state to date.

MATURE BEXLEY WELL BROUGHT UP

Of all the communities in and around the Columbus metropolitan area, the one that appears to have the least amount of problems, civicwise, is Bexley.

Neither city fathers nor school officials are very often beset by demanding situations such as those encountered by Grove City, Whitehall, Reynoldsburg or Hilliard.

The probable reason: Bexley has already gone through the growing pains of adolescence. It is through, to a large extent, from developing.

The city's birth pangs were felt immediately after the war years. In the decade and half since, it has reached the settling stage of adulthood.

Hemmed in by Columbus, with agreeable contracts with the larger metropolitan entity for fire, sewage and water, Bexley can afford to look forward to secure years.

Few, if any schools will be erected. At present, an addition to the high school is nearly completed. Zoning problems, with the exception of Capital University's plan for expansion, are practically nil.

The planning, with few exceptions, has been atended to with the consideration and care that is to be found in few, if any, comparable communities.

Mayor William Schneider, along with the official city crew, Superintendent E. D. Jarvis and school personnel, and the people themselves, are to be complimented on a job well done.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could buy preserves like our fallible memory tells us mother used to make?

Next week we all have to get back to work. The boss returns from vacation.

Summer's here. That's the time when most people start thinking about putting their winter clothes in moth balls.

Some folks mistakenly think that election day means a time when they can elect to stay home.

Poison Prevention Program To Be Aired On Television

The Central Ohio Academy of Pharmacy, in the coming weeks, is airing a program designed to help prevent the many cases of accidental poisoning of children in the home who swallow common household items that are dangerous.

The program entitled "The Problem of Accidental Poisoning in The Home" was televised Wednesday, Aug. 17, on WTVN-TV; and will appear Wednesday, Aug. 24, 10:45 a.m. on WBNS-TV.

BIBLE COMMENT:

Spirit, Truth Important To Worship

What does it mean to worship God in spirit and in truth?

To worship in the spirit means the inward sincerity of worship, the worship of heart and life, as against the perfunctory performance of religious rites or formal routine.

How much of the worship of today is thus truly in spirit, and how much is mere formality?

One cannot say, and the outward expression may be accompanied by the inward reality. The bead or the praying wheel may be the outward symbol of a truly devout soul. It is the prayer, not the symbol, that is the reality.

But to worship in truth brings in a larger dimension. It lifts religion out of the area of form, dogma, external authority and superstition into the larger realm of life and truth.

The cynic still asks with Pilate, "What is truth?" (John 18:38), but to him who worships in spirit and in truth it is the deepest and greatest of all questions, and it is of the realm of truth that Jesus is King (verse 37).

Thus, we must not make the mistake of merely going through the motions of worship, without feeling the truth that is the word of God in our hearts and in our intellects.

The truth of religion is not of this world. It is the duty of the Christian to study the scriptures in the light of his reasoning faith.

ROCKING RIDE—A carload of thrills is packed into each of the eight imported racing cars that buzz around the rebuilt Speedway ride at Norwood Amusement Park, 2025 E. Main-st. The park also features 18 other exciting rides, a miniature golf course and picturesque picnic grove. All rides will be available for five cents on Hartley Newspaper Day, Sept. 10.

Summer Ending Happy Fun Spree Slated Sept. 10 at Norwood Park

Mom and Dad, plan now to take the kids to the summer-ending Jitney Jamboree at Norwood Amusement Park, 2025 E. Main-st, Saturday, Sept. 10, under sponsorship of the seven Hartley Newspapers.

Hartley and Norwood will collaborate again to write a fitting climax to the summer vacation months with this back-to-school special.

This is an open invitation to the 70,000 families that read the weekly Hartley publications to enjoy the exciting rides at the E. Main-st amusement center from 1 to 11 p.m.

Thousands attended last year's program, and even more are expected this year as guests of the Hilltop Record, West Rural-Urban News, South East Rural-Urban News, West Side News, South Side Leader, Eastern Review and Reynoldsburg Record.

Norwood is ringing down the curtain on its 19th annual successful season with a reputation of providing thrills and chills for the entire family.

The carrousel, Norwood's all-time favorite, will, of course, be running on schedule with its prancing ponies. For the more adventurous, Norwood offers the giant ferris wheel, sky ride, doodgems, caterpillar and a special selection of rides, including the flying saucer, for the tiny tots.

For the more timid, Norwood offers a championship miniature golf layout and the now-famous kiddie train, powered by a genuine steam engine and chug chugging around the park grounds with the capable hand of genial James P. Kenny, retired New York Central Railroad engineer, on the throttle.

Norwood also boasts a beautiful picnic grounds, so parents, bring a picnic lunch and plan to spend the day at Norwood Amusement Park on Saturday, Sept. 10.

Rosemore School Officials Ready

School bells will ring soon and Rosemore School is ready for the cheers of more than seven hundred boys and girls.

Sixth and seventh graders in the Whitehall School District will attend Rosemore which is located east of Hamilton-rd, at 4735 Kae-av.

Students will be transported by bus except those living in the near vicinity of the school.

G. W. Ellinger, principal; J. F. Spanevich, vice-principal, and the staff of twenty-six teachers are ready and looking forward to a school year full of educational activities and some interesting extra-curricular activities.

The junior high school in Whitehall is organized on a self-contained classroom plan. It is believed that the teacher becomes better acquainted with each pupil in this type of arrangement. Teachers can help each person work up to his ability more so than when meeting 200 different pupils each day in a subject matter class.

Rosemore is testing another type of grouping students this year. Three classes were chosen at random to participate in the program. These three classes will operate on a "Block" plan, with three teachers specializing in subject matter areas.

One teacher will teach social studies and history to each group. The second will teach language arts, and the third will teach science and math. These classes are in the seventh grade only.

Pupils will remain in their assigned home rooms and the teachers will change classes. After a period of operation, tests will be given to the groups taking part in the plan along with other groups in the regular classrooms to compare the progress made by each group.

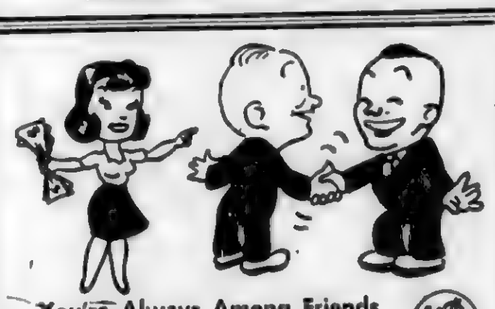
Children of Whitehall all have the advantage of having special art, music and physical education teachers. Rosemore has an instrumental program for students wanting to begin playing an instruent. The sixth grade group will have its own sixty-piece band and the seventh grade its sixty to seventy piece band this year.

Besides the regular school participation in junior high football, seventh grade basketball, baseball and track, intramural programs will be arranged for those students not participating in varsity athletics.

This year will also mark the beginning of a student council at Rosemore. The group of students will be elected by their classmates and will help formulate and carry out school policies.

Classes begin daily at 8:30 a.m. and dismiss at 3:00 p.m.

Gertrude Velguth To Speak At Christian Science Church



"How spiritual understanding of God restores health and harmony" will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given in Columbus on Aug. 21, by Gertrude E. Velguth of Flint, Mich.

Open to the public without charge, the lecture will be sponsored by members of First Church of Christ, Scientist. Mrs. Velguth will speak in the church at 457 E. Broad-st, at 3 p.m. Her subject will be "Christian Science: The Enlightened Way."

A native of Garl, Ind., Mrs. Velguth was graduated from Conservatory of Music at Eastern Michigan College and later studied at Michigan State University and at the Flint Institute of Arts.

In 1945 she resigned as chairman of the arts department of Northern High Sethool, Flint, to devote her full time to the public practice of Christian Science.

Rise In Geese Rate Is Viewed

There are a lot more Canada geese on Grand Lake St. Marys, Auglaize and Mercer counties, because of the captive goose flock there, reports Roger McElroy, Wildlife District 2 game management supervisor.

The annual roundup of geese, made early in July, netted a total of 375 and at least 260 more escaped capture. The flock therefore totals 635 geese at a minimum and McElroy thinks that many additional birds escaped the drivers.

The roundup is made each year after nesting but before the young become large enough to fly. The geese are herded into pens where they are banded and brailed to prevent flight. Whenever the flock attains adequate size, geese will be permitted to go wild as they attain three years of age.

Croft Merritt Is New Assistant Service Director

A 931 Montrose-av resident has been named assistant city service director.

He is Croft S. Merritt, plant engineer at the Bonney-Floyd Co. The new aide to Director Ernest H. Stork will take office Sept. 15.

Merritt holds two degrees in industrial engineering from Ohio State University. A lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, he is known widely for his officiating in high school sports competitions.

Merritt and his wife have one child. They attend St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Polynesian Fete Set At Hampton

The Hampton Towers Club will convert its one-acre site into a tropical Polynesian Village this Sunday, Aug. 21, from 6 to 10 p.m.

A South Seas supper is the occasion for the party and a tropical water show will highlight the evening's entertainment—one night of waving palms and a Polynesian Paradise party.

Area Resident Is Appointed To Sales Job

Tom Ayers

Tom Ayers, 3986 Carlton, has been appointed to the sales staff of Star Furniture Company's new suburban store at 4409 E. Main-st, which is holding its formal opening throughout this week.

Ayers, formerly at Star's 130 E. Main-st store, is widely known in local retailing circles. He was connected with a large chain organization in its executive training program and with one of the nation's largest mail-order firms. Ayers is married and the father of two daughters.

The new Star suburban store is all on one floor and represents the newest in furniture-store design, according to Jack Morrison, manager.

It is completely air conditioned and there is ample free parking beside the store. The store offers a decorating service to assist in selecting a single piece or decorating an entire home.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

And though I have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries and all knowledge; and though I have all faith so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.
— (1 Corinthians 13:2)

Any of us, through a life of righteousness, devotion and prayer, can win to the whole faith that rewards us with inner peace and strength. But we will not be wholly acceptable in the sight of God until we unfailingly extend a loving heart and helping hand to all our less fortunate brethren.

He Collects Coin While Carrying Papers

When it comes to coins, whether he is collecting them from Eastern Review subscribers or for his hobby, John Rosemond, Jr., knows their value.

John is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John H. Rosemond, of 3300 E. Livingston-av.

He has been a "green sheet" carrier for the past two years.

What does he like best about his route? "Meeting people and making money," is his apt reply.

About a year ago, John really took an interest in coins.

His sister, Janith, told him of another lad in the neighborhood who had started collecting coins. The idea apparently stimulated John, for he now is immersed in the hobby himself.

He collects all kinds: pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters. "It's easy to start collecting them," he mentioned. But as time goes on and his collection grows, John admits that the coins that he needs to continue with his hobby appear few and far between.

"That's one other nice thing about carrying papers," he points out. "Whenever I get home, I look through the coins to see if there are some I do not have."

John, who will attend the 10th grade at Eastmoor-Junior Senior High School this year, is also an avid trackman. He runs the hurdles and the 880-yard run. He has also won a letter in the spring sport.

In addition, this young lad finds time to fly model airplanes.

So what does this active boy, who enjoys carrying papers (he has 130 customers that it takes him around an hour to reach each week), collects coins, flies airplanes and likes track, want to be when he grows up?

"A doctor, like my dad."

JONES PARK BEAT

'Meanest Man In World' Is Disqualified In Match

BiKlled as "the meanest man in the world," the Hooded Terror proved to be a bit too mean as he was disqualified in Friday night competition, giving the match to Ray Fleetfoot at Jones Park.

Lowell Palm, the gentleman who has been offering to take on all challengers, had no takes last week-end. Brother, is he complainin'. He made "mince meat," according to Promotor Bob Rodgers, out of Larry Chrysler.

In the tag-team event, Lowell Palm and the Terror came through with a rough and rugged win.

In Sunday night's action, the Hooded one was disqualified, giving the match to the Obetz sensation, Jim Geedey. Larry Ross, the Apollo, came through with a win after Palm was disqualified.

In Sunday's tag-team event the Terror and Palm defeated Fleetfoot and Geedey. In the third fall, the Terror applied a snug sleeper hold on the Indian star. He laid sleeping for 15 minutes.

COMING UP THIS FRIDAY—The Hillbillies, one 280 pounds and the other 215 pounds, will go against Palm and the Terror. Two spectacular supporting matches are also promised by SUNDAY BATTLES—Action galore when Bad Boy Seber goes against Jim Geedey. Also, the Frankie Avalon of the mat, Gary Kirk, will take on the young scientific wrestler, Larry Chrysler. A sensational four-man tag-team match is also billed.

Hospital Officials Ready Eye Clinic

Officials of Lincoln Memorial Hospital are readying plans to hold a Free Eye Clinic every Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Emphasis will be placed on glaucoma detection.

Medical doctors in the Department of Opthalmology will donate their service to the hospital to provide this free public service. Persons desiring to attend the Eye and Glaucoma Clinic are requested to call BE. 7-4221 for a Wednesday appointment.

This free public service out-patient clinic will be in addition to the Cancer Detection Clinic, held every Thursday during similar hours.

Approximately 50 persons each week are now attending this clinic and it is believed a like manner of area residents will avail themselves to the Eye and Glaucoma Clinic.

International experts of AAA report that San Remo, one of the most popular winter resorts of the Italian Riviera, is nestled in the center of a deep gulf. Sports there include a race-track, tennis, golf—and swimming.

Ponds of about one acre in size are more likely to provide satisfactory fishing than half-acre ponds.

'Jungle Caravan' Making 1-Week Stop At Town And Country Center

The merchants of the Town and Country Shopping Center, 3600-4000 E. Broad-st, are presenting all of next week a show that was recently featured on Ed Sullivan's TV show.

It is Jack Joyce's "Jungle Caravan. Strange animals from far-off lands will be exhibited free of charge from 10 a.m. to 9 p. m. daily. Among the menagerie members will be dromedary camels, zebras, monkeys, South American llamas, a midget African donkey and a Sicilian goat team.

In addition there will be kiddies' rides, for which discount tickets may be secured at any Town and Country store. These rides are on a "camel train," a beautiful camel-drawn bandwagon - type coach on rubber tired wheels, seating 20 passengers. There will be a pony ride consisting of a 30-foot sweep under canvas. Handsomely groomed Shetland ponies will ride the kiddies like a live merry-go-round. Two llamas pulling a sulky-type cart will provide rides for children or adults. Finally, a Sicilian goat team and wagon will offer a most unusual ride for child or child with parent.

The attraction, coming as it does just before school opening, offers the kiddes a "last fling" at vacation time. Large crowds are expected at Town and Country next week.

Dodger Slugger 'Chico' Strictly Frank At Home

By Gwen Greenfield

Los Angeles Dodgers' power-hitting slugger, "Chico" Howard, is still just Frank at home.

"It's what Frank wanted and he's happy doing it," said his mother, Mrs. John F. Howard of 370 Markison-av. "Of course we are proud of him, but we like him for what he is."

"Besides, it's not for me to take all the credit because he's doing so well." Mrs. Howard continued. "Often the juvenile delinquency problem is blamed on the parents, but like giving all the credit to the parents, it's just not fair. There are many other influences on a young boy's life."

In speaking of her son's successful sports career, Mrs. Howard pointed to the guidance Frank received in the sports field from his coaches and teachers at Mound Junior High, South High and Ohio State and from his participation in the Gra-Y sports program.

"The only thing I did was let him play!" she said. "Even when he was in the fifth and sixth grades, I didn't always know which field he was on, but if he wasn't around the house I could be pretty sure he was out playing ball."

A HARTLEY HEADLINER

Mrs. Howard is the mother of six children, four daughters, Mrs. Christine Deibel, 29; Martha, 28; Elizabeth, 23, and Grace, 20; and besides Frank, another son, Bill, 14.

None of the girls has any particular athletic inclinations according to Mrs. Howard, although Christine does enjoy bowling occasionally.

Bill is taking a real interest in sports. "He thinks so much of his big brother, as all boys would," Mrs. Howard stated. "He'd like to be an athlete too, but perhaps his talents lie in another field. He'll just have to keep at it for a while."

Not a regular follower of the sports columns in local newspapers, Mrs. Howard does enjoy looking over clippings about Frank which her husband and Bill clip to save. Often she is busy during the televised Dodger games, but she runs to watch Frank when he is at bat.

County Fair Fun Started

The Franklin County Fair opened for the 47th time on Monday and will run until Saturday of this week at the fairgrounds in Hilliard.

The McKinley Rodeo and Wild West Show was the first event on the fair program and played for two nights to large crowds in the grandstand.

Tuesday night during the rodeo, the Junior Fair King and Queen were crowned and will reign for the balance of fair week. They will be appearing on radio and TV stations for interviews all day Wednesday.

The first of three nights of harness racing started Wednesday. Pari-mutuel windows open at 8 p.m. each night and all facilities of modern racing will be in use; including pari-mutuel wagering, photo-finish and starting gate.

4-H members will act as outriders for the races. All of Ohio's best known stables will be represented during the three-night meet. Drivers will be racing for purses totaling over $11,000.

The 4-H Girls' Style Revue will take place Thursday afternoon at 1 p.m. in the grandstand. At 4 p.m., the Junior Fair Livestock Auction will be held. Last year's grand champion steer sold for $72 a hundred pounds to Doersam's Restaurant. Jeff Hockman, its owner, was also last year's Junior Fair King.

The 4-H Safe Speaking contest will be held on Thursday evening.

The FFA horseshoe pitching contest and safe driving contest will both be held Friday morning, as well as the 4-H tractor rodeo.

Showmanship awards for dairy and beef cattle will be held at 10 a.m. At 10:45 a.m., the Junior and Senior Livestock Parade and Farm Machinery, also will take place in the grandstand.

On Friday afternoon, the 4-H Float Parade, the Junior Fair Frolics, greased pig contest and greased pole contest are scheduled.

Friday will also close the sale of membership tickets for the Franklin County Agricultural Society at noon. From 4 to 8 p.m., the annual election of officers of the society will take place in the secretary's office. All residents of Franklin County are invited and urged to join the society.

Membership tickets are $3 and this entitles the member to vote in the annual election and also is a free ticket to the fairgrounds for fair week. More members in the society will mean a bigger and better county fair.

The last night of harness racing will be Friday. Trophies will be presented to the winners of the feature race each night by local businessmen. Local businessmen will also give free ponies away during the fair.

Franklin County high school bands will play each day of the fair.

The 1960 Franklin County Fair will close with the Joie Chitwood Auto Thrill Show on Saturday night in the grandstand.

There will be no charge to the grounds until 4 p.m. on Saturday. After 4 there will be an adult charge of 75 cents and 50 cents for children under 12. There will be no further charge to the grandstand to see the daring auto thrill drivers put on their exciting show.

Science, Inventors, Books Make Life Interesting For Outdoorsmen

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

While this technological world we live in is cussed and discussed, there is one point we have to admit. The outdoor sports have not been left out of the picture by scientists and researchers who probe for new knowledge and new products.

Glass fishing rode and light alloy reels are now old hat in the fishing fraternity. Light, dependable outboard motors are taken for granted. Synthetic-fibered guns are on the market, one company is making a glass shotgun barrel, and shot shells will be available this fall in a water-proof, scuff-proof miracle material.

Finally campers have benefited as much as anybody in this race to provide the ultimate in outdoor equipment. Disposable paper tents, portable showers, inexpensive sleeping bags and air mattresses, modern tent trailers and camp trailers are only a few of the new items available.

You begin to think that outdoor equipment cannot be improved further, and then somebody does. Such a case is the new monofilament spinning and casting line called Stren, produced by the DuPont Company. The Stren casting line is oval in shape, an innovation that seems to assist in casting ease and combats the old bugaboo of all monofilament lines—twisting.

Yes, the shape of future fishing is changing. (Will a square line be next?) In addition to the oval shape, Stren is clear and is difficult to see in the water. It is limp and does not coil like a springy line, and knots easily with the standard monofilament knots used to tie on a lure. A wide selection of pound tests are available, but I like the lighter ones. The stronger lines are surprisingly small in diameter.

An attractive book, Outdoor Ohio, is also among the new items available to sportsmen. Noted outdoor writers and editors all over the state donated their services for this 112-page book covering hunting and fishing in Ohio. Sponsored by the Outdoor Writers of Ohio, this is a selfless endeavor—the proceeds are to provide conservation scholarships to worthy students.

The book covers all the more popular sports such as bass fishing, rabbit and squirrel hunting along with some unusual things like catching moon-eyes on flies and bird watching. There are 30 articles in the book that covers the outdoor scene here at home. The book is well illustrated, and sells for $1 including tax. They are being distributed in this area by Merrill C. Gilfillan, 1500 Dublin-rd, Columbus 12.

Second Place Trophy Won By Hurricanes

The third trophy since its formation one year ago, was earned by the Hurricane-Majorette Corps in Xenia Saturday, Aug. 13, at the Ohio Open National Majorette Corps Contest.

As the whole corps captured second place honors, its color guard was called one of the finest color guards to participate in Xenia's Open Nationals for some time and was later asked to take part in the flag ceremonies.

Four days prior to the contest, the Hurricanes had to obtain and work in a complete drum section, as well as the complete color guard. The unit practiced every evening in preparation for the contest.

Under the direction of Thomas E. Bertman, the corps won second place as the unit traveling the farthest in the Warren Loyalty Day Celebration. In June, it won first place as the best marching unit in its class in the Dublin Sesquicentennial Celebration parade.

The Hurricanes will appear in a half hour show Sept. 3, as a part of the Millersport Sweet Corn Festival.

Schools In Whitehall Preparing For Fall

September, and with it the opening of school, is rapidly approaching as Whitehall City Schools busily prepare for both the returning and the beginning students.

At Beechwood School, eight new classroom teachers and three special teachers in art, music and physical education will join 12 of last year's teachers to meet the needs of the school enrollment which will exceed 550 pupils in grades one through five, according to Victor L. Will, principal.

Due to the increasing number of pupils in the district, six new classrooms have been added to the west wing of the building. These rooms will be completed and ready for occupancy by Sept. 6.

Robert V. Roshen, of the East Broad Street School, stressed the importance of the kindergarten phase of a child's education in preparation for the beginning of formal education.

He listed eight things which would help make the transition from home to school life a pleasant experience.

They include knowledge of his full name, address, telephone number and father's name; how to get home from school by himself; independence in his toilet training, how to use a handkerchief; how to follow simple directions; how to put on and remove outer clothing; how to put away toys, and how to observe simple safety rules.

Roshen stressed the importance of the parents attitude toward the school experience. They should "express happiness and look forward with pleasure to the child entering kindergarten" so that " a child can feel adequately confident in his coming experience," he stated.

Canines Will Be Featured At Ohio State Fair

Everyone will be in the "Dog House" at the 1960 Ohio State Fair, Aug. 26 thru Sept. 2. The "Dog House" during State Fair week will be the Little Theater Building on the Fairgrounds where many dogs and their abilities will be exhibited.

Long and short-haired dogs, working and hunting dogs, large collies and tiny chihuahua will be seen in the daily parade of dogs. Other familiar breeds on display will be the dane, pyrenese, basenji, cocker spaniel, Yorkshire terrier and dachshund.A not-so-familiar sight, a pink poodle, will be the charmer of the exhibit.

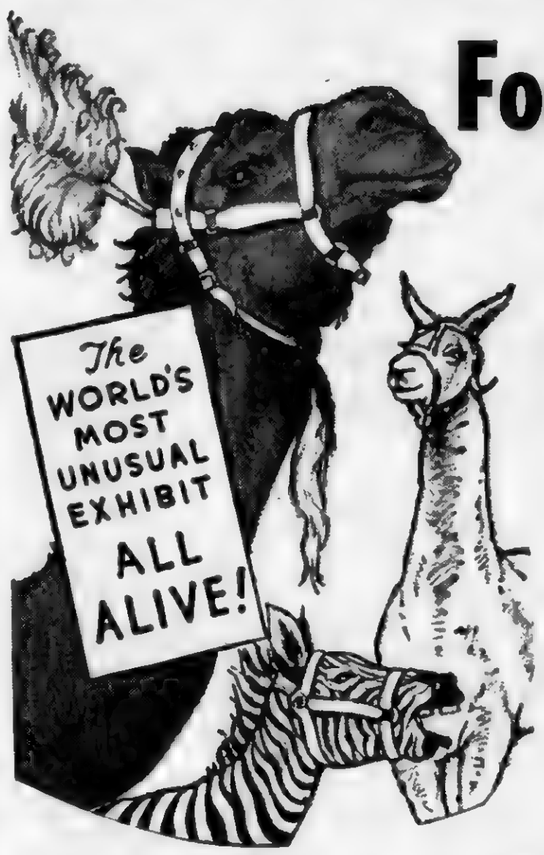
Willis Park Baptist Selects New Church Site

Willis Park Baptist Chapel will purchase six acres of land on Lattimer-dr at Ellery-dr, in the new Walnut Ridge Heights Subdivision as the site of a new church.

The congregation also voted to adopt the permanent name of Walnut Heights.

Members will continue to meet at Willis Park Elementary School until a new church is built. The chapel is sponsored by Whitehall Baptist Church.

An off-street parking area and recreation site are included in plans for the six-acre tract.



Files Now Kept On Ohio Boats

Quick identification of Ohio boats and their owners is now provided by the registration files of the Division of Watercraft. Such information is being increasingly used by state and local law enforcement agencies in cases of accidents, thefts, and violations.

"We are manning our file room from 8 a.m. until midnight, seven days a week," says C. B. Taylor, assistant administrator of the division. "Current plans are to continue this schedule through the main boating season, the end of September."

Shades Of Pink Accent Bridal White For Matson - Bline Nuptial Ceremony

White stock and pink carnations with emerald foliage decorated the altar of Faith Lutheran Church in Whitehall for the marriage of Miss Judythe Elaine Matson and Mr. James Roy Bline.

Rev. C. T. Langhoiz, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, read the wedding service, assisted by Rev. David Risch.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Castle, of 87 N. Warren-av, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Bline, of Newark.

The new Mrs. Bline will teach at Johnson Park Junior High School in the fall. Mr. Bline is head football coach at Whitehall-Yearling High School.

The bridal gown of peau de soie was designed with a scooped neckline, edged, as were the bracelet-length sleeves, with Alencon lace. The skirt continued into a wide chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was edged in scallops of hand-run Alencon lace and was caught to a contessa crown of seed pearls. She carried a full crescent of snowdrift fugi crysanthemums and pink demure sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Kenneth Wright served as matron of honor and Miss Sharon Morris and Miss Patricia DuVall as bridesmaids.

They wore afternoon-length gowns of silk organza fashioned with long torsos, scooped necklines, sheer bracelet-length sleeves and skirts softly flaring at front in contrast to the bouffant backs.

The honor attendant was gowned in ruby shade and the others in raspberry and pink, respectively. Each carried a cascade of rubrium lilies with matching satin streamers.

Dixie Romine, niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl. She wore a frock of white nylon over pink taffeta and carried a white lace basket filled with rose petals and trimmed with pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Phil Allen, of Columbus, served as best man and guests were seated by Mr. James Allen, of Newark, Mr. Harry Graham, of Saginaw, Mich., and Mr. James Nichols, of Youngstown.

MRS. JAMES ROY BLINE

The mother of the bride chose a sheath dress of turquoise organza over subdued print.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of powder blue lace. Their corsages were fashioned of Amazonicas and pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. John Utsinger, the bride's aunt, was organist for the ceremony.

Hostesses for the reception which followed at the church were Mrs. John Morison, Miss Carolyn Decker, Miss Maureen Krems, and Miss Joan Ream, all of Columbus; Miss Gretchen Prange, of Berea, and Miss Carolyn Schifer, of Bucyrus. Miss Nancy Holloway, of Columbus, provided background piano music.

Vicki Romine, niece of the bridegroom, was gowned in a white and blue nylon dress and gave each guest a packet of rice to throw at the bride and bridegroom as they left the church.

Mrs. Bline is a graduate of Capital University. Mr. Bline is a graduate of Muskingum College and is working toward his Master's Degree.

The couple's wedding trip included a stay at the University of West Virginia where Mr. Bline completed his final week of schooling for the summer.

They are now at home at 868 Pierce-av, Whitehall.

Method Sought To Cut Shoplifting

Editor's Note: This is the second of three articles explaining the costly business of shoplifting faced by local merchants. The first article dealth with the problem. This week's story deals with the attempted solutions.

By Gwen Greenfield

Ever try to follow the movements of three or four customers around a department store counter?

It's a rather difficult task, yet the constant observance of every single "customer" seems to be the singular key to protection from the shoplifter.

The smaller, well - staffed stores reported less problems with the shoplifter than did their larger self-service counterparts. Even the elaborate systems of checking used by the latter offer only slight relief as the stores attribute thousands of dollars in losses annualy to the shoplifter.

A large suburban department store set up protection for itself as early as its interior decoration was begun. Cash registers near the front of the store were positioned so the clerks can watch either of the two exits as they ring up sales.

Further protection is provided for the store by city policemen patroling the shopping area, sometimes in uniform and sometimes in plain clothes.

The manager related an incident which happened a few weeks ago when a group of boys came into the store together and began occuping the attention of the clerks in one department. When one of the boys noticed the uniformed policeman on duty that day, however, he called to his friends, "Hey boys, this is no place for us! They've got a cop."

The most effective method of protection against the shoplifter is a staff of employes trained "to help the customer shop" the manager stated. "If the clerks are fulfilling their duties, the opportunity to shoplift will not occur."

Typical of the small store's relatively smaller problem with the shoplifter was the situation at a Hilltop clothing store. "I can't say the shoplifting problem doesn't exist, but because of our situation it is not a big one," the store manager reported.

The store is patronized almost entirely by neighborhood people known to the employes. New people are easily recognized and can be observed by the clerks and the floor supervisor. Professional patroling is used by the store only during the Christmas season.

A group of out-of-town professional shoplifters who hit some of the shopping center stores quite hard a few years ago were easily spotted by the employes of the store and a close check was kept on them.

A South Side store has a full time employe who moves around the store as a customer in an effort to spot shoplifters. "There's a fifty-fifty chance that we'll catch some of them this way," the manager said. Some days we find three or four "trying to get away with something."

In January help came for the self-service store when the section of the Ohio Code dealing with shoplifting was revised. Previously an arrest of a suspected shoplifter had to take place outside the store itself. In the revision the suspect may be apprehended if he has taken the merchandise past the cashier's counter of the self-service store.

The search for a way to curb shop-lifting is a never ending one on the part of concerned store officials and those interested in enforcement of the laws.

Special Hours Slated By Election Board

To meet the anticipated large turn-out of voters in this 1960 presidential election year, the Franklin County Board of Elections has set special hours during the final week of registration to allow as many persons as possible to register.

In order to vote in the Nov. 8 election, registration must be made before 9 p.m., Sept. 28.

The Franklin County Board office at 410 S. High-st will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., Thursday and Friday, Sept. 22 and 23 and Monday through Wednesday, Sept. 26 to 28.

All precincts in the city of Columbus and Franklin County will be open on Sept. 28 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Change of address will not be accepted in the precinct polling places or by phone. This may be done by mail or at the Board's S. High-st office.

The office is open Weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

Two Receive ME Degrees From GMI

Boyer Hale

Two young men from this area were graduated Aug. 12 from General Motors Institute at exercises in Flint, Mich.

They are Ronald K. Boyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil C. Boyer, 871 S. Roosevelt-av, and Jan S. Hale, 3099 Chesterfield-ct. Both received baccalaureate degrees in mechanical engineering.

The degree culminates five years of cooperative college level training, with alternate periods of formal schooling at GMI and work in various sections of the Columbus Ternstedt plant.

While attending GMI, Boyer was elected to Alpha Tau Iota, honorary engineering society, and was president of his fraternity, Delta Chi Rho. After a short vacation in England he will be associated with Case Institute, Cleveland, to secure his Master's Degree.

Hale is married to Norma Lee and is the son of Mrs. Margaret Kolinick, 3897 Chiselhurst-st, and Clyde R. Hale, 1615 E. Cooke-rd. He was graduated from South High School in 1955 and started with GMI in the fall of that year.

Charles Tenge Will Participate In Talent Show

Charles Tenge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tenge, of 1222 Haddon-rd, will be among more than 1,000 youngsters between the ages of three and 21 competing in the Fourth Annual Ohio Youth Talent Contest at the 114th Annual Muskingum County Fair opening Aug. 15.

Tenge, who plays the accordian, will be an entrant in the field performing Saturday, Aug. 20, competing for trophies and ribbons.

Judges will be watching every performer during the many contests which will be in progress from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., starting Wednesday and their decisions and suggestions will be valuable assets to every participant regardless of the rating received.

The talent contests will be open to the public without charge. Each entrant will receive a written report from the judges showing the result of their efforts.

It's Just Algae Smell 'Fishy'?

Many angles sniff the water early in the season and remark that it "smells fishy." The vast majority really believe that the presence of an abundance of fish is what lends this distinctive odor to the water.

"Actually, this fishy smell is caused by the blooming of certain types of algae, small, microscopic plants in water which give it much of its color, taste and odor," according to Darrell Allison, Wildlife District 2 fish management supervisor.

Israelson Named Office Manager At Interstate

Robert C. Israelson, 1154 S. Cassingham-rd, has been promoted to office manager of the Interstate Securities Company automobile sales finance office in Columbus.

Israelson, who joined the company in 1958, was formerly collection manager.

Boat Show Tops Week's Event At Krumm Park

A boat show highlighted events at Krumm Park recently. week.

Most boats were made of popsicle sticks by the youngsters.

Winners of the contest were: largest, Emery Keen; smallest, Raymond Drinks and Tom Maxwell; fastest, Albert Allen, and most unique, Steve De Vuno.

Youths are starting work on the pageant to celebrate the 50th year of the Columbus Recreation Department.

Krumm Park has selected the theme "The Old Lamp Lighter," and children are going to wear costumes of 1910.

Sister Maryana Wins 86th Prize In Story Contest

Sister Maryana, O.P., of St. Mary's of the Springs, won the 86th prize in the 1960 Writer's Digest National Story Contest.

Called the "largest story contest of its kind," it has been sponsored by Writer's Digest, a magazine for free lance writers, for the last 26 years.

High palatability is the first requirement of good silage, say Ohio State University extension agronomists.

WORSHIP TOGETHER THIS WEEK

Somewhere in your town a man you may have never seen waits hopefully for you.

He is a minister. A priest. A rabbi. A man used to speaking out . . . making decisions . . . taking action for himself, for his congregation and his community.

But where you're concerned, he can only wait and hope you will come.

He holds something in trust for you—the powerful, crucial first introduction to Faith. And he is anxious to pass it on.

The strength and confidence of Faith can mean many things to many men . . . and to the families who count on them.

So together with your family start to find that Faith this week.

Area Resident's 'Poco' Seen As Medical Aid

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

With some Indian maize, a New Philadelphia born boy borrowed a Spanish word and came up with a product which he believes will revolutionize medicine around the world.

Jim Donahey, 1565 Truro-rd is the discoverer, plain old corn off the cob, is the maize, and he calls it "Poco" — a Spanish word meaning "small."

Donahey believes his Poco, nothing more than finely ground corn, will aid in the healing of wounds. He attributes this "healing power" to microscopic enzymes never before seen in a grain of corn.

"It was never believed before," Donahey said, "that corn contained these tiny enzymes. A scientist in California, however, managed to photograph one of them about six months ago."

An enzyme is a type of substance produced inside plants or animals which speeds up certain chemical changes. The best known enzymes in animals are those used in digesting food.

Donahey discovered the amazing power of crushed corn approximately 13 years ago when he and his brother, John W., Lieutenant Governor of the State of Ohio, "took several ideas and put them together."

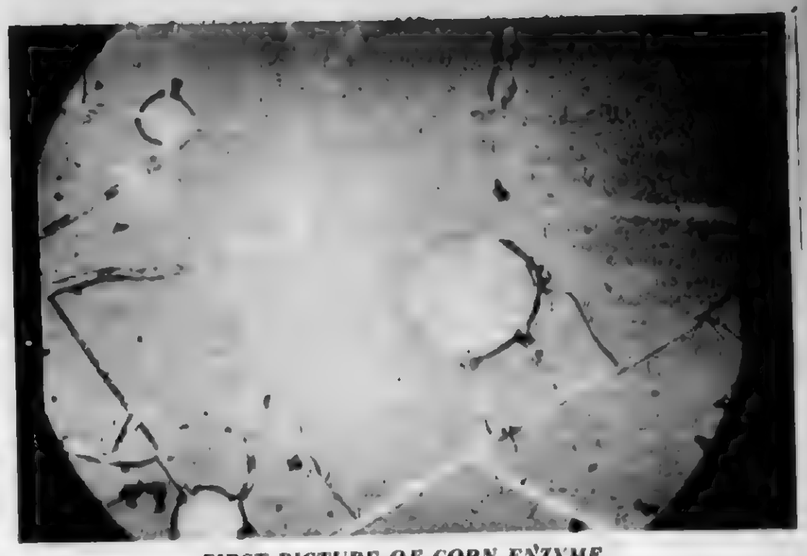
The brothers discovered that the corn cleared up bruises, hangnails and the like when applied externally.

"There are, however," Donahey said, "many different applications of the Poco."

They currently have it in powdered form and salve. The powder can be put on the tongue and swallowed with water for internal diseases.

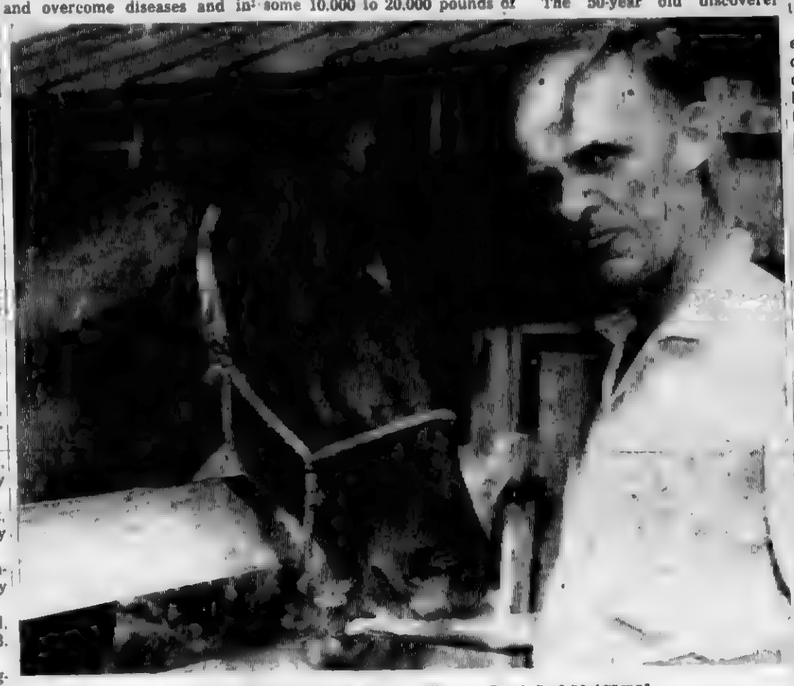
"It'll take a long time to prove that corn contains enzymes," he added. "If these enzymes are proven to be valid, the Poco can be a great aid to muscular distrophy — possibly even cancer."

Donahey believes that his Poco seems to fortify the body and overcome diseases and infections, a kind of preventitive medicine.



He says that he's found the Poco to be effective with animals. "This cancels out any chance of "psychological healing."

It has been said that perhaps even the most outdated, back swamp medicine would work if the user really believed that it would help him. "Not so with Poco," Donahey answered. "An animal can't think along these lines."



Donahey, who emphasizes that he's not a doctor, has made some 10,000 to 20,000 pounds of the corn substance.

The 50-year old discoverer has lived in Reynoldsburg for the past 22 years.

In concluding, Donahey stated, "If my Poco's effectiveness can be proven to scientists and doctors, it could improve the health of the United States 15 to 25 percent."

Little League World Series Will Be Presented Aug. 27

By Larry G. Holmes

The championship game of the "Little League World Series" will be televised over Channel 10 Saturday, Aug. 27 at 12:45 p.m. from Williamsport, Pa., national headquarters of Little League Baseball.

A conventional city of 46,000 citizens, Williamsport bulges at this time of the year as some 20,000 people pour into the area to witness eight teams from around the world taking part in a seven-game elimination series.

For this annual event, inaugurated in 1947, local industries print welcome signs for shop windows, flags go up, and the entire town takes on an atmosphere keyed to baseball and youth.

Information booths are established at the key entrances to the city to assist visitors in finding room accommodation—many in private homes because of the overtaxed hotels and motels during the series time.

When the first series was played in 1947, there were only 60 teams in 15 leagues, most of which were from Pennsylvania, participating in Little League Baseball.

Today the World Series represents 5,000 leagues all over the world and results of regional tournaments in all areas to select the eight teams to compete in the series.

Columbus television will team up with RAI, the Italian state network, to bring viewers the full story of the 1960 Olympic Games this summer in Rome.

The Olympics are scheduled to begin on Aug. 26 and close on Sept. 12.

Through use of video tape and jet transport, many of the events will be telecast on the same day. Mobil transmission units will be installed at New York's Idlewild Airport, permitting the "feeding" of program material to the networks directly on arrival, thus increasing the possibility of same-day reports.

Variety, music and comedy highlight three new programs now being shown over Channel 10 on Monday evenings.

Variety is supplied by Sam Levenson as he introduces the "Celebrity Talent Scouts." The program is a version of the Arthur Godfrey program of a few years back.

New professional talent is featured as before, but in the new production name starts introduce the performers to Levenson and the audience. Previously, Audrey Meadows, Ann Sheridan and Phil Silvers have been featured.

Spike Jones and his wife, Helen Grayco, will provide music. The zany Jones crew of musicians will be joined by comedians Len Weinrib, Joyce Jameson and Bill "Jose Jimenez" Dana.

Comedy will be presented on the "New Comedy Showcase." Slated for future episodes are Walter Slezak, Dick Van Dyke, Jack Carson, and other noted performers.

Park Of Roses Slates Concert Of 'Barbershop'

Park of Roses Summer Concert series will feature Buckeye Chapter of Barbershop Quartet Sunday, Aug. 21, 7:30 p.m. at Whetstone Park, N. High st at Acton-rd.

Buckeye Chapter is a member of the "Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America" and has been organized since 1950.

Chapter chorus numbers over 40, and is directed by Kenneth R. Keller, director of music, Columbus Public Schools. George L. Core is president of the Buckeye Chapter.

Several quartets of the chapter will also appear including the Four-Get-Me-Notes, Country Squires and others.

Youth On Wheels

By John Auble, Jr.

Roller skating, still considered by many as heretic or unorthodox among the more conventional sports, is currently coming into its own, thanks to groups like the RSROA and people such as East Sider Fred Smith.

Fred Smith, 798 Sheridan-av, participates in the sports some 20 to 25 hours per week. He skates under the supervision of the Roller Skating Rink Operators Association of America.

Sixteen-year-old Smith is a junior at Bexley High School. He's been roller skating for six years.

Since that time, Smith has grabbed the state and regional roller skating championship title, third and fourth places in national dance competition and first place in the novice men's free-style class on a national level.

The national honors were won in the T. H. Barton Coliseum, Little Rock, Ark., last July 23 to 30. He competed against 1,958 skaters in all divisions.

According to Smith, "Roller skating has been well accepted in most states except Ohio. This is a strange thing since most of the top-notch skaters come from the Buckeye state."

For example, the state meet, held in Elyria, had a total representation of 800 area skaters.

The RSROA, organized in 1937, has done much to promote skating throughout the country. Up until that time, roller skating had been by-passed by other sports and there had been no leadership within itself.

Smith admits that he doesn't care too much for roller derbys—says he likes free-style skating—which is considered due to the amount of work he's put into his free-style efforts.

"I've never received anything more than a few bumps and bruises in my six years of skating," Smith said. This year he'll enter intermediate men's competition.

Under the RSROA rules, a skater has exactly four and one-half minutes to perform his routine. "I practice all year for this," he added.

Smith maintains that skating is good conditioning and, besides, "keeps me busy." After he finishes high school he plans to teach skating as an aid to help him through engineering school. His choice of college is uncertain.

The 5'4", 128-pounder is currently skating under James Barney at the Roll-Away Club, Newark. He began his skating career at the Roller Land Rink of Columbus in the fall of 1954.

He lives at the Sheridan-av address with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, who tour with him to his meets. The longest distance traveled by the youth was to Boston, Mass., where he participated in the Nationals last year.

FRED SMITH

Young Adults Plan Outing August 21

The Young Adults of the Jewish Center have completed plans for an outing at Hoover Dam on Sunday, Aug. 21.

Included in the schedule will be sailing, softball, a cookout, folk sing and then the group will return to the center.

The group will meet at the center at 1 p.m. and proceed to the Hoover Dam site. Rides will be furnished for anyone who does not have transportation. All transportation will be arranged at the center when the group arrives.

Food will be purchased by the Young Adult group, and all attending will chip in for their share.

The Columbus Auto Club points out that driving in traffic and reading a map just don't mix. Motorists on trips should plan their routes in advance. A good driver always anticipates a change of direction. Last-second stopping or turning may result in an accident.

Tar Hollow Labor Day Party Plans Are Readied At Center

Jewish Center officials have announced that the entertainment slated for the Eighth Annual Tar Hollow Labor Day weekend is the Caps'ns, an American and English folk song group.

The group is composed of four men who specialize in a distinctive style of folk-singing. They play guitar, five string banjo, harmonica and mandolin. They'll also sing Israeli and Yiddush songs along with melodies from various European countries.

One of the men, Danny O'Dea, is a car mechanic by profession and a singer by choice. He has traveled all over Europe collecting folk songs.

Chuck White is a TV writer and actor on a local television station. Prior to his hook-up with the Caps'ns, White was a professional jazz singer and dancer.

Another member of the group, Roger Johnson, is a student in Education at Ohio State University. He is originally from Kentucky and has traveled through the hill country of the U.S. learning folk material.

The last member of the quartet is the Center's Young Adult Director, Marv Bienstock, who organized the group. Bienstock has been a professional folk singer for the last five years, singing and collecting songs in California, Minnesoto, Texas, New York and Ohio.

The group has appeared at various spots here in the Columbus area as well as Detroit. They've made numerous television and radio appearances. They are currently planning to make a record.

The Labor Day celebration, sponsored by the Young Adults of the Center, urge interested persons to make their reservations ealy by contacting Mav Bienstock at BE. 1-2731. Reservations close Aug. 24.

Stoney Creek Plans Slated

Alex Newpoff, owner and founder of the planned Stoney Creek Golf Course, recently announced the new limited membership policy for his club.

A single golf membership will go at $150 and family memberships will sell for $200.

The course is located one half mile south of Livingston-av on Rt. 256, just south of Reynoldsburg.

For further information, call BE. 5-3477 or stop in the Stoney Creek office, 2831 E. Main-st.

Volleyball Teams Invited To City-Wide Tournament

The Columbus Recreation Department will conduct a volleyball tournament for six-member teams at Whetstone Center on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 19 and 20.

Open to greater Columbus residents, the tourney will have a division for boys 18 and under and separate competition fom men 19 and over. A team roster may carry six players only and all teams are to be at Whetstone at 7 p.m. Friday, Aug. 19.

John Ketchum will be tournament manager for the final matches on Saturday.

275 Entries In Kiwanis Golf Tourney

Kiwanis Club members from every section of the state will tee off Wednesday (Aug. 24) at the Granville Country Club, Granville, in quest of Ohio District Golf Tournament prizes, selected to reward low handicap players as well as duffers.

Sponsored by the 10th Division of the Ohio District, Kiwanis International, the tourney already has its limit of 275 entries, according to Ford E. Adam of the Columbus West Franklin Kiwanis Club, general chairman.

"Sociability" awards will include prizes for the shortest drive, heaviest foursome, lightest foursome, highest individual score and highest foursome score. Each player will be given a Kiwanis-imprinted ball at the first tee as a memento or for tourney use.

A dinner will follow at 7 p.m. at Granville Inn, at which the awards will be presented.

These days bein' as solid as a dollar ain't much of a recommendation.

Notice Often Served Today By Printing

by James E. Pollard

Sometimes after a thing has been done, an interested party complains, "But they didn't tell me." If his complaint is justified it may or may not be too late to remedy the matter. In effect, however, the trouble was that he was not given due notice.

In the truly democratic countries an important legal principle is involved in the fundamental right ""to be put on notice." This is true for the individual, as well as for business and other interests and for the community at large. Only the dictator countries restrict or deny this right to be put on notice.

The purpose of being put on notice is two-fold: (1) To inform the individual or others concerned as to some contemplated action that concerns their rights, and or (2) to enable them to take whatever steps they deem necessary to protect those rights.

As is pretty well known there are various ways of being put on notice. One is by personal service or direct notice. Another is by posting in a public place, and a third is by actual publication. This last is usually done in a bona fide local newspaper of paid general circulation.

With the rapid growth of population and the complexity of modern living, personal service is not always feasible or is too costly where numbers of people are concerned . In such circumstances the bona fide newspaper is an effective medium. It is no accident that in thousands of situations, the law provides specifically for this method of giving notice.

Ralph O'Day Remains Big Racing Winner

It was three feature wins for Ralph O'Day over the weekend.

The Flying Irishman led Jim Cushman and Jack Bowsher to victory Friday night at Columbus Motor Speedway. He also led Dick Good, Boldy Bahler, Don Townsand and Todd Gibson over the finish line at Powell on Saturday night. O'Day also won a double heat at Powell.

Sunday night, the flying Irishman was really flying as he lapped all but one car in the 50-lap mid-season championship feature before some nearly 4,000 persons at Columbus Speedway.

Other event winners at the South Side oval were Carl Blankenship, Jack Morgan, Ray Murray, Norm Stillwell, Dean Stockey, Bud St. Amont, Chuck Glick, Larry Penilton and Don Townsand.

A total of 84 cars were in attendance for the scheduled eight event program which was

Ex-Russian Tells "Much Too Long" History

Clever Escape From Prison Started Skriptnik to America

By Nancirose Rush

An oath forsaken — for freedom.

Gregory Skriptnik, of the Russian engineer corps, tossed aside his gun and waited to surrender. Rich Ukrainian farmland lay barren as victorious Germans assembled the remnant Red force. By not using his last bullet on himself, as all Russian soldiers were sworn to do, he made himself a "criminal" to his country's communist government.

The young prisoner knew he faced a life of uncertainties and unknown future. It is unlikely he ever allowed himself to dream of American citizenship, or the high school diploma he received as a member of Columbus Evening School's graduating class last January.

A HARTLEY HEADLINER

Seated in class, Skriptnik listents to explanations of complex sentences, or adverbial clauses, items far distant from his capture that day in Russia. Yet a single question can stir old memories. He relates his "much too long history."

Volunteers as Cook

By autumn 1941, he had spent several months in German prison camp. The alloted bowl of soup a day could scarcely fight starvation. The situation, already "not good," worsened with winter's approach.

Hunger prompted him to volunteer as an "experienced cook," he tells. Lacking an English word, he falters, but laughing blue eyes convey the falseness in this claim—as well as his delight in fooling his captors.

Having achieved access to all the food he needed, Skripnik began to save bread. Three pounds was priceless store. He had no trouble finding a civilian prisoner willing to trade clothes for life-saving food.

Skriptnik tells with mounting excitement how he donned the clothes beneath his uniform coat, knowing prisoners were soon to leave. They marched through streets crowded with women seeking husbands and sons. At the right moment, he handed his cost to a friend and stepped into the maze of villagers.

Goes to Stalino

He made his way to Stalino, a large city where his family was.

Scriptnik goes deeper into past history, saying that such escapes were not new to Skriptniks, a family whose background had been labeled "unfavorable to the government" since the first communization of the Ukraine. His father, a prosperous farmer in Mickolajevka, had made similar flight to Stalino in 1931, after escaping communist prison.

Skriptnik tells of his father's arrest for non-payment of taxes. "If you opposed giving your fine farms to the communes, they made a high tax for you. If you could pay this, they made a higher tax until you couldn't pay," he remembers.

Original plans to send his father to Siberia were thwarted by objections from other villagers. "The people still had a little authority then," said Skriptnik.

They placed his father in the local prison.

Spoons Taken

Three months after the arrest, government officials sold their home. "Everything they took, even the spoons."

Skriptnik, then nine, moved with his mother and three brothers, ages six, four, and two, into one room of a house occupied by families evicted for the same reason. Here they shared one bed and food spared by friends. During this time, the youngest died for lack of food and warm clothing, also taken by communists.

After the father's escape, they left by night, joining him at Stalino.

"We moved from town to town," Skriptnik said, "afraid to stay too long in one place." Yet this constant migration was possibly life-giving. "In mass arrests of 1937, my two uncles who had stayed at home were taken. We never heard of them again."

Granted House

After his experience in prison camp, Skriptnik stayed with his family. When Germans took over their home village, he recalls, his father went back and was granted the house, but not the farm. They returned home after 11 years.

"Hope was strong in the village that Germans would divide the communal farms, giving them back to the original owners." The truth, as they sadly realized, was simply that the bosses had changed. They were not working for German communism.

Germans in the meantime pushed 500 miles deeper into Russia before being stopped. When it became obvious the Germans would be driven out, Skriptnik was forced to make a choice. He left home, one of hundreds of Russian civilians fleeing with the German army rather than stay for the Communists' return.

"I stayed first in Rumania and for a while in Budapest. Later, I worked in Berlin factories."

"Went to Americans"

In 1944, most foreign youths in Berlin were sent to southern German farms, "not much better than prison camps." It was there Skriptnik was when Germany surrendered, ten miles from Russian troop lines, three miles from American lines. Years of flight and fear climax as he says, "I went to the Americans."

Another escape soon became necessary, however. He barely eluded "repatriation—voluntary or involuntary," as agreed to in the Yalta conference.

Six years of waiting in displaced persons camps followed, when Skriptnik took advantage of vocational schools set up by the allies. He signed a contract for sponsorship to the USA with a Minnesota farmer in 1949. To his disappointment, two years of red tape proved too much for the mid-westerner who backed out of the agreement.

In 1951, Church World Service brought Skriptnik to New York, still without sponsor. Later that year, through the help Edgemont-rd, John R. Shaffer, 1936 Andover-rd, the minister and congregation of Trinity Methodist Church, Skriptnik found himself in Columbus.

Of Mrs. Richard Edwards, 1892 Established in home and job, he began studies in night school in 1956, and was naturalized two years later. His citizenship Skriptnik calls "the greatest present" Americans could give him.

The Ukraine and its people will always be with Skriptnik, but as a United States citizen, and now a high school graduate, it is an American future which dominates his thoughts.

More Hand Tools Utilized By European Manufacturers

Samuel H. Orr, 3495 Cemetery-rd, Hilliard, just returned from a six month stay in Europe as a European Manufacturing representative for the Denison Engineering Company.

Shoreham-By-The-Sea, a town in Southern England which is approximately 70 miles south of London, is where Orr spent most of his time.

Executive direction for the starting of production in England was the purpose of making the trip.

Europe's production is about the same as ours, but they use more hand labor, Orr said. Production is not as highly mechanized in the smaller plants.

He said production is accelerating very rapidly. Particularly the steel mills, automobile plants and the building industries. Everyone who wants a job can stay very busy.

A great number of American companies are building manufacturing facilities there to participate in the business activities, Orr noted.

Most of the bombed areas in the cities are re-built with much improved facilities, he said.

West Germany, France, Belgium, Switzerland and the Netherlands are other European countries he visited.

A HARTLEY HEADLINER

Orr said the law abiding citizens and their courtesy is what impressed him the most. The resurgence of buildings and industry was another object that impressed him.

Evaluation of our political picture was his most discouraging observance.

Their evaluation seems to be based on self interests or the amount of money that a particular political party or an individual gave to England, Orr said.

Weather conditions and parasites normally hold armyworms in check, but ditch banks, fence rows and barley fields provide excellent places for the moths to lay thir eggs, according to OSU extension entomologists.

FISHERMAN WHILE-A-WAYER

NO BETTER PLACE—What better place for a feller to spend a sunny summer day than to while away his time at his favorite fishing spot? Happily demonstrated by Lloyd Stevens, of 36 S. Ohio-av, as he serenely contemplates pulling in the next one, there is no better place than near the falls at Franklin South Park, East of Nelson-rd. Even if no nibbles arise, it's not the fish that count anyway, just fishing is all right.

Dedication Set For Addition At Children's

Dedication ceremonies for the opening of a new three million dollar addition to Children's Hospital have been scheduled for Sept. 12, at 10 a.m.

Bed capacity within the hospital will be about 400 when the addition is completely in use. It will then be one of the larger children's medical centers in the country.

The fifth story of the new addition will be set aside for use of youngsters between the ages of 13 and 19; 29 private rooms are included on the fourth floor for use by parents of children up to 12 years of age.

school are eligible for attendance.

Persons who establish residence at some subsequent date may enroll their children on the date of establishment of residence.

Principals will be available in their office from Monday, Aug. 22, through Friday, Sept. 2, from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., for conferences with parents and pupils.

All such conferences should be held during that week since all professional school personnel, both administrators and teachers will be engaged in the regular Pre-School Conference Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 6 and 7.

School hours are the same as before. Elementary children should report at 8:45 a.m., pupils in grades seven and eight at 8:30 a.m. and high school sessions open at 8:25 a.m.

Cafeterias in all buildings will be in operation on the first day of school.

According to the provisions of the Ohio Revised Code made effective July 7, 1959, all pupils, regardless of age, must have received or be in the process of receiving immunizations against polio, smallpox, diptheria, whooping cough and tetanus, prior to admission to school this September.

No pupils will be admitted without proof of these immunizations.

More than 600,000 American motorists lock themselves out of their cars every year, according to the Columbus Auto Club. The club advises you always to carry a spare key on your key chain or in your wallet. It could come in handy.

Rev. Bosse In Pulpit On Sunday

Rev. Richard C. Bosse will be installed as pastor of Good Shepard Evangelical Lutheran Church, Sunday, Aug. 21.

Dr. Herbert C. Leupold, professor of Old Testament Theology at the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary, will give the sermon and conduct the installation during one combined worship service at 11 a.m.

A reception for the new pastor and his family will be held Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

Rev. Bosse was graduated from Capital University in 1952 with a BA degree and holds a BD degree from the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary.

He has also studied at Ohio State University and is certified to teach in Ohio's elementary and secondary schools.

During the past four years he has served both as pastor of New Lebanon Evangelical Lutheran Church at Junction City and as principal of Junction City Elementary School.

Mrs. Bossee is the former Sylvia Stein, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Stein of Springfield. The couple has three sons—Ricky, six; Jamie, five and three-year-old Marty.

Seven Seek Fair Board's Six Positions

Seven candidates, including four incumbents, have filed for election as directors to the Franklin County Agricultural Association.

Seeking re-election to three-Madison Twp.; Findley L. DeWolfe, Norwich Twp.; A. E. Bogen, Perry Township; and Harold Cunningham, Franklin Twp.

Others on ticket are Victor K. Miller, Norwich Twp.; Paul F. Lehnert, Prairie Twp.; and Clyde Herron, Madison Twp.

Harold Hart, Prairie Twp., and Charles Roberts, Norwich Twp., are not seeking re-election.

TB CRUISER AT GREAT EASTERN

SIGN HANGERS — Whitehall's first Christmas Seal X-ray program of the season takes place Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 23 and 24, at Great Eastern Shopping Center, sponsored by Great Eastern's Businessmen's Association. Making sure all X-ray reminders are in place are Harry Lurie (left), 3906 Maryland-av, Schiff's Shoe Store, and Assistant Vice-President Frank Bohn, 1454 S. Weyant-av, Kroger Co. The Tuberculosis Society Cruiser will operate in front of the Gray Drug Store from 3 to 9 p.m. on both days.

Moling Names Hiatt To City Recreation Post

Linn L. Hiatt has been named as the new Whitehall Recreation Board member by Mayor Walter B. Moling. Hiatt replaces Board Chairman Robert Milligan who recently resigned due to a shift in job assignments.

Hiatt

Hiatt's appointment will become effective on Aug. 25, Moling said.

The new board member is currently vice-president of the Whitehall Boys Baseball Association. He said that he would not run for the veep post this year.

Hiatt, who lives at 876 Colegate-rd, has been a resident of the city for three years.

Moling said that Hiatt has been appointed as a board member. It will be up to the board next week to elect a new chairman, the mayor said.

Baptist Chapel Changes Name

Congregation of Willis Park Baptist Chapel has voted to accept the permanent name of Walnut Heights Baptist Chapel.

Approximately six acres are being purchased in the new Walnut Ridge Heights subdivision at the corner of Lattimer and Ellery for a building site.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

God's free gift is the Life of the Ages, bestowed upon us in Christ Jesus our Lord. —(Acts 6:23)

As He promised in the days when He walked among men, Christ Jesus is with us today when we open our hearts to Him in faith and devotion, when we love Him as He loved us, sacrificing our self-will and self-indulgence as tiny tokens of the sacrifice He made for us on the Cross.

"Goulashes I Have Et," by Culinary Culpepper.

WBBA Elects Tonight

Election of WBBA officers for next year will take place at the Whitehall High School cafeteria tonight at 8 p.m. at the group's annual meeting.

The ranks of women drivers in the U.S. are growing at a rapid rate, says AAA. Between 1957 and 1957 the number of women drivers increased 14.3% compared with and 8.5% increase for men drivers.

He Terms Opinion 'Unofficial'

Caught in a squeeze play over the differing stands on the seating of councilman Lewis Bower Whitehall Auditor Walter Helber has batted out a call to the state auditor's office to determine the legality of future city financial transactions.

The reply, according to Helber, is that Bower is legally a councilman until proven otherwise.

Helber admitted that the opinion was rendered unofficially.

The auditor is still waiting a final opinion from the attorney general's office, he said.

According to Helber, city officials cannot request an opinion directly from the attorney general. The law requires, he said, that an opinion request could only be forwarded to the attorney general by another state official.

As city auditor, however, he said that he felt he had a right to contact the state auditor's office on the impending matter.

Helber's consternation arose when council last week discussed an ordinance calling for the financial reimbursement to city officials for the use of private automobiles while on city business.

The orinance calls for pay-

Willis Awaits Sept. 6

Whitehall Council President E. D. Willis says he is waiting until Sept. 6 to fully rebut Solicitor James Maxwell's opinion regarding the seating of Councilman Lewis Bower.

Willis told Maxwell last week that he would like a "period of grace" in order to get the opinion organized. The council president, at odds with the solicitor over the seating of Bower, claimed that he had talked with law firms over the matter.

He did not say which firm was formulating the opinion, but that they had quoted "some of the same cases" that Maxwell had when he legally opined that Bower should not be on council.

Bower was seated after a tie vote which Willis claimed to have the right to break.

Willis said that by Sept. 6 he hopes to present his case to the public.

Maxwell countered that if Willis would reveal the name of the firm that he would be glad to talk the situation over with their representatives.

"The people," Maxwell stated, "are entitled to know who is advising council if not the city solicitor."

The discussion took place near

Dem Committee To Honor Pair

Two California-bound Democrats will be honored tonight when the Whitehall Democratic Committee gets together at the home of Lewis Bower, 215 Maplewood-av.

A. Z. Greely, former councilman-at-large, and Jesse Coultrap, who recently submitted his resignation as clerk of council, will be the honored pair, along with their wives.

Both are being transferred to take up new positions at North American Aviation's far west plant.

Greely plans on leaving with his family Friday morning. Coultrap is slated to leave Sept. 2.

Bower has been sworn in as Greely's replacement. None has as yet been chosen to succeed Coultrap.

Blackwatch Unit Of Canada Beckons Whitehall's Arbuckle

Jamie Arbuckle, of 4131 Abbey-ct, realized one of his ambitions last year when he joined the Blackwatch unit of the Royal Highland Regiment of Canada.

When most young lads around the age of seven desire to become cowboys or policemen, Jamie already had it in his heart to be a member of the Blackwatch.

"He has always been proud of his Scotch ancestry," his mother, Mrs. John LeB. Arbuckle, explained.

After his graduation from Whitehall High in 1958, Jamie attended Ohio State University for a year, then headed for Canada.

"The Canadian Army is made up of six regiments," he pointed out, "each distinct and unique in its respective tradition and history."

The six: Queens Own Rifles, Princess Patricias, Royale 22nd Regimente, Royal Canadian and Canadian Guards and the Blackwatch.

The Blackwatch came into being around 1862, he explained. The unit is so-called because of the dark colors of the kilt worn and the nature of the duties involved. The kilt is black, dark green and dark blue.

The nature of the duties, Jamie explained, began after the Scotch were beaten by the English in a skirmish a century ago.

"The English gave the Scots the choice of policing the highland themselves or having the highlands policed by the English. The Scots, naturally, formed their own unit.

"The police duties took place mainly at night," Jamie said.

Jamie joined for three years and expects to extend his service. His unit, he said, is slated to go overseas as part of the NATO Forces in Germany near the time for his enlistment to run out. He would like to go too.

His rank is that of private in, what he termed, probably the "highest paid army in the world." Most of his duties now consist of regular infantry training.

The outfit that he wears from head to toe:

A Balmoral, a tam-type cap, navy blue in color; the pom-pon on top is called a tourri and is red; on one side is another red pom-pon, a battle honor.

His coat is tropical worsted in color and is known as a doublet; shirt and tie are both olive drab. In front of the dark kilt hangs, in a military manner, a hair sporran. It serves as a purse. The reason: no pockets in a kilt.

JAMIE ARBUCKLE
"Proud of His Ancestry"

Diced hose, white spats and shoes complete the outfit.

The eternal mystery of what is worn under a kilt was unraveled: "According to regulations," Jamie said, "nothing has to be worn."

"Except," he mused, "when we are in the Queen's parade (whenever the Queen visits) we'd better not be caught wearing nothing."

Temple Israel – A Unique Edifice Of Jewish Tradition

DIRECTOR MELVIN HARRIS AND TEMPLE ISRAEL

By JOHN POEPPELMEYER

Out along E. Broad-st, approximately a mile past the Hamilton-rd intersection stands possibly the most unique structure of its kind, Temple Israel.

For nearly a year now, the structure has stood. It serves a three-fold purpose: a House of Prayer; a House of Study; a House of Assembly.

Its growing membership now numbers some 750 families, according to Executive Director Melvin Harris. He is an excellent guide to have along while viewing the Temple.

The architectural plan for Temple Israel is one that gives a feeling of openness on the inside. Light penetrates everywhere. In the sanctuary, one can read by the natural sunlight that beams through the windows.

"Time, in the Jewish tradition," commented Harris, "is measured from the days of Abraham."

Thus a plaque on the outside of the building registers four dates: 1846 and 5626 make a pair; 1959 and 5719 make another pair of related dates.

Harris explained that the first Temple Israel was founded by a small group of immigrants in 1846, "which corresponds to the Hebrew year of 5626."

In 1959, the cornerstone was laid, which is the same as the Hebrew year of 5719, he said.

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new Temple Israel were held in the summer of 1958 and cornerstone services the following spring.

Before that the Temple had been located at 925 Bryden-rd.

Some of the mementos of the old Temple were moved to the new one and now occupy traditional places.

The building contains the usual classrooms, offices, corridors and assembly areas. The design of the interior, however, gives one a feeling of spaciousness, rather than of being forced to squeeze through throngs.

The sanctuary is awe-inspiring. Its wide doors fold back on rollers into the hollow walls if need be. The entire sanctuary, with all the doors open, could seat some 2000 person, Harris said.

Glass blocks situated in brick walls allow light to enter. A pipe organ, removed from the old Temple and a tradition since 1903 is still in use. Harris said that he was told that the old pipes of the organ are "far better" than those that could be purchased now.

The length of the pipes rang-

Pegasus Slates Dance

Pegasus, one of the philanthropic clubs at the Jewish Center, is sponsoring its second annual alumni dance at the Fort Hayes Hotel Sept. 3 from 9 to 12 p.m.

Part of the proceeds will go to a charity.

Music will be provided by Sir Raleigh Randolph and his Sultans of Swing.

Honored at this event will be the favorite alumnus from each club in Teen Age Council. These include Joel Ziskind, of A.A.Y.; Joe Merman, of A.Z.A.; Dina Flaum, of B.B.G.; Suzanne Hackman, of Councilets; Aileen Brenner, of Junior Hadassah; Steve Brown, of K.T.Z.; the 40 alumni of Pegasus; Lynn Goorey, of S.T.P.; Jerry Zelizer of U.S.Y., and Dave Forman, of Y.F.T.L.

For reservation, call Jerry Friedman, CL. 2-3525, Steve Rosenthal, BE. 8-7948, or Larry Lieberman, CL. 2-0794.

Whitehall Elementaries Getting Old

No Plans For Abandonment Of E.Main, E.Broad Schools

Of all the school units in Whitehall, the ones that appear to be the most centrally dislocated are the two elementaries at E. Broad and E. Main.

Both were constructed over 30 years ago when Whitehall was still in the Truro Township school district.

"At that time," commented Superintendent Robert Crabbs, "the two elementaries were centrally located."

But with the growth, he continued, annexation, the development of commercial districts and of Town and Country Shopping Center, the center of the school district has inevitably changed.

"If I were a magician," Crabbs mused, "I would prefer that they weren't located where they are."

"But," he hastened to amend, "the buildings, after all these years are in good shape."

"They are well maintained, have fairly adequate playground space, modern lighting. There are no deterrants to a good educational program, which is, after all, the basis for schools."

Crabbs pointed out that Rackoff Associates, formulators of the city's Master Plan, has discussed the obvious possibility of someday using the two schools for other than educational business.

Crabbs said, however, that such a move is not contemplated in the foreseeable future, "and by that I mean 10 years."

One of Whitehall's councilmen, Robert Garnon, approached Crabbs some time ago, the superintendent related, to make use of the E. Broad-st building as a possible city hall, by selling the building to the city.

Crabbs stated that the only way that such a transaction could be negotiated would be on one such as a cost replacement basis. "We couldn't afford to give it away."

On today's market, the E. Broad building, including the site, would possibly reach the half-million dollar figure, the superintendent said.

The transportation question also enters into the discussion.

Youngsters in Country Club Village, for instance, who live closest to the Etna Road Elementary, are transported to the E. Main building.

"Even if they attended Etna," Crabbs pointed out, "they would still have to be transported. That area has no street development and I don't feel that the end of a polite debate between Maxwell and Willis. Each was given time to state his side of the situation.

When the special session began last Thursday, Maxwell noted, technically, that "there were only three councilmen present, therefore not a quorum." Bower had walked in and taken a seat behind the council table.

Willis remarked that "I realize that is your opinion Mr. Maxwell, but the chair has seated Bower."

Maxwell then questioned Willis' right to swear Bower in by noting that only a notary or a judicial officer could administer the oath of office, and that Willis was neither.

Willis recalled that he had been able to swear in Council Clerk Jesse Coultrap. But his memory was refreshed when Mayor Walter Moling reminded him that at that time he was acting-mayor.

Maxwell then went into a soliloquy defending his position of the opinion that he had previously handed down, mentioning "that I call shots as I see them." He is, he said, convinced that "Bowker is not a councilman in the City of Whitehall.

"This is a poor time to come in with conflicts and what amounts to usurping the authority of council and endangering the credit of the city.

"You cannot do things wrong and expect an attorney to back you—I won't."

He reiterated that two votes do not constitute a majority of a six-man council.

Willis waited until Maxwell had finished before launching into his own defense.

He stated that he had tried to the "best of his ability" to make a decision. He mentioned the anonymous law firm, and requested a grace period. "I want Bower to remain seated until we decide who is correct."

He told Maxwell that being solicitor doesn't put him in a dictatorial position, and that "your opinion doesn't happen to constitute the law."

But apparently, the Democrats heeded Maxwell's words as to the legality of the swearing in opinion. After a short recess, Bower was resworn, this time by a notary and an attorney, Paul Haytcher.

HEAR THIS DAYTON WOMAN'S PLEA

'Friend Drunk... Dog Gone... Momma's Dying...

by John Poepplemeyer

A Dayton lady has lost her dog and doesn't know where to find him.

Mrs. Vera Clark, of 340 S. Main-st, Dayton, has driven over 1000 miles, she says, searching for her pooch, Butch.

This is not the first time her favorite pet, a black and white spotted male fox terrier, has wandered away.

But this time he did not wander on his own. He went for a ride with a friend and has not been heard of since, according to Mrs. Clark.

Mrs. Clark has searched high and low, in five counties and in cities including Columbus.

The traveling twosome, the dog and a guy named Joe, were last seen in the Whitehall area.

Butch, the dog, was very fond of Joe the friend. And according to Mrs. Clark's letter, it appears that Joe was very fond of the bottle at least during the period when Butch got lost.

Mrs. Clark's information noted that Joe and Butch left for a fishing trip and ended up in a motel along E. Main-st.

"Joe," Mrs. Clark explained, "Didn't know he was in Columbus until he got there." He apparently came in on Route 33, missed a turn, and discovered he wasn't on Route 33, she said.

Joe, not the dog, pulled up to the Robert E. Lee Motel, under the assumption, Mrs. Clark reported, that it was a filling station.

In backing out, Joe apparently rammed his car into a post. "He did know that the law would soon be there," she explained, "and he also knew if he left he would be leaving the scene of an accident."

Apparently Joe solved the dilema in his own mind. He left the car at the scene and started walking. Mrs. Clark said that he got 30 feet away "when the law arrived." Apparently Joe feels that is the spot that Butch got lost. Either that, Mrs. Clark recounts, or Butch was lost at an earlier stop near Indian Lake.

She thinks that Butch probably got out of the car and started browsing around.

On checking back over the trail, Mrs. Clark stated that she inquired at trailer courts and around the E. Main area. Nobody, apparently, had seen the dog.

Meanwhile Joe and the law were having their troubles, as Mrs. Clark later found out. The policeman who ticketed Joe, according to Mrs. Clark, said that Joe didn't say one thing about the dog. "He kept insisting," Mrs. Clark said the policeman said," that his wife was in the car."

So the despondent lady has taken to advertising in newspapers and writing to various editorial departments around the state besides checking with dog pounds.

To round up the story, Mrs. Clark is offering a $50 reward for the return of Butch. The dog is wearing a collar with a 1959 Montgomery County license. He has flop ears and side burns.

"His, (the dog's) mother is dying, grieving herself away," Mrs. Clark states.

Mrs. Clark also says that if her dog is returned, "No questions will be asked."

On whose part, she did not stipulate.

Momma, Before . . . Butch . . . Momma, After "Grieving away for her lost son."

Two Whitehall Residents Killed In Auto Accident

Mrs. Virginina Jacobs, 38, and her daughter, five-year-old, Cynthia, of 4050 Beechbank-dr, Whitehall, were among four persons killed Monday on Rt. 122 near Eaton, when the car in which they were riding struck a gasoline truck.

The driver of the ill-fated car, Mrs. Donna Jean Shellhammer, 30, of Eaton, was killed and her daughter, Hazel Diane, 7, was in critical condition in Ried Memorial Hospital at nearby Richmond Ind.

The car was cruising along a country road and failed to halt for a stop sign, and was rammed in the left side by the 1500-gallon truck, sheriff's deputies said.

The driver of the truck, Charles Clark, 60, of Eaton, sustained a fractured leg. Although the truck was loaded with highly inflammable gasoline, and turned over some three times, there was no explosion.

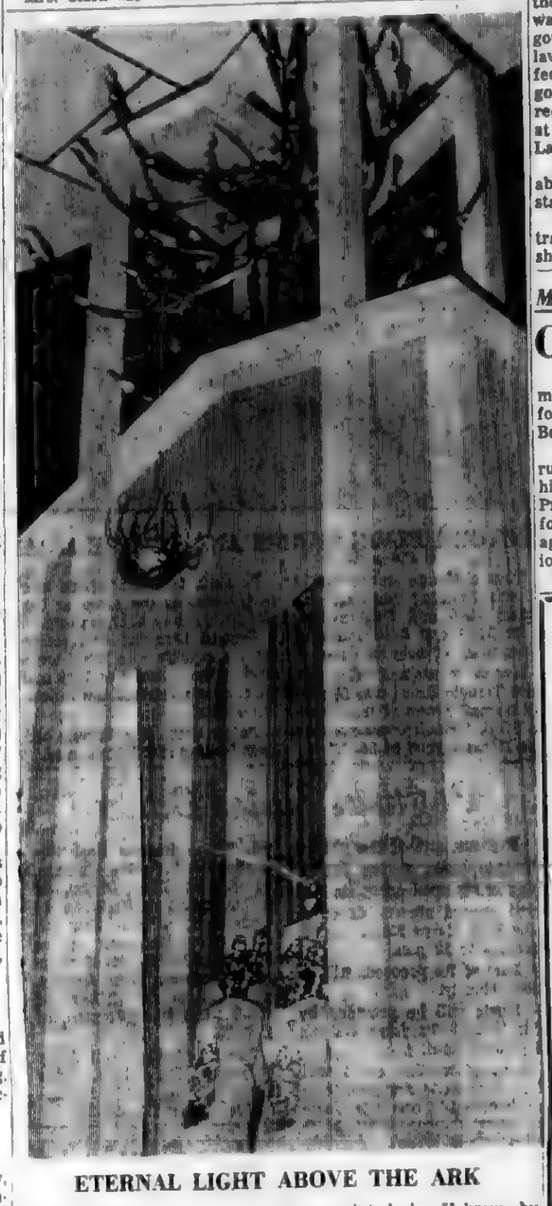
ment of 10 cents a mile. Only four councilmen were present. Bower was one of them.



Solicitor James Maxwell has ruled that Bower has attained his solon post illegally. Council President E. D. Willis has informed Maxwell that he disagrees with the solicitor's opinion.

Helber, in order to make sure that future city financial negotiations could not become entangled with the law, said he checked the situation out with the state auditor's office.

Helber says he feels no qualms of continuing his job in the same way he did before the fuss over Bower erupted.

ETERNAL LIGHT ABOVE THE ARK

es from one-quarter inch to several feet, Harris said.

Stained glass windows on either side of the altar are surrealistic works, one depicting fire, the other water. Both are stimulating effects of diverse colors.

A general theme follows the viewer wherever he goes. It is provided by a Hebrew letter that resembles a "W." One can ee it on doors, on the outside, on stained glass windows. Harris explained that the symbol is called "shin" and means "the Almighty."

Another theme permeates the atmosphere, that of the burning bush. Harris commented that "the bush is eternally burning, but never is burned up."

The outside of the building, as seen from the highway, is probably a good place to view the idea of the burning bush. Against the white side of the building, fingers of copper appear to be leaping skyward.

Inside, over the "Eternal Light," the same symbolism appears.

The outside symbol was created by Laura Ziegler, internationally famous Columbus artist.

The "Eternal Light," never is allowed to burn out, Harris said.

One "Eternal Light" hangs suspended above the ark. Inside the ark is the Torah, laws from the first five books of the Bible. The Torah is written on scrolls and is read at services.

The scrolls, Harris explained were printed in Hebrew by hand. "No mistakes, no erasures and no vowels can be found in the Torah," Harris said.

One other item that will not escape interest is a seven stick candelabra, called a minorah. Harris says that it could represent a lot of things, the days of the week, the lives of humans.

No two of the candles are alike, he pointed out. Each has a different height, a different shape. Each is unique.

And so may it be said about Temple Israel.

having them walk would be a safe procedure to follow."

It costs money to transport children, Crabbs admitted, but added that the district obtains state support in the amount of $25,000 a year for transporting the youngsters.

"To eliminate transportation would mean new schools, which would be a tremendous outlay in money." It would amount to something like paying out over $1 million in capital outlay to save $25,000, he explained.

The East Broad Street School was built in 1927. It originally consisted of eight classrooms and two basement rooms. No major additions have been made, Crabbs said, but a four-room portable now forms the entire elementary classes. He expects 375 children at East Broad Elementary this year.

The E. Main building is a 20-room unit constructed in 1922. It originally consisted of only eight rooms, but when the growth in Whitehall started the building was expanded to its present capacity. Some 600 youngsters are expected to occupy it this year.

At the time the buildings were erected, the superintendent pointed out, "the Truro Township boundaries extended to Gould-rd on the west, east to the present boundary line of Walnut Creek, north of Broad to the railroad tracks and south to Refugee-rd.

The basement rooms of the schools are now being utilized, Crabbs said, but he does not feel that they should be.

"The buildings are old," he admitted, "but Columbus has some older ones." Crabbs feels that they could last another 20 years or so.

"We do not anticipate the rapid abandonment of these two schools," Crabbs said. "Such a move would be economically unsound at this time."

COOK-OUT PLANNED

Scottwood Park Ends Summer Activities

Scottwood Playground will close out its summer recreation activities with a cook-out tonight.

Events will begin at 5 p.m., and everyone is invited and is to take hamburgers, hot dogs and buns. Steve Goodwin, entertainment chairman,, has planned an hour of entertainment.

Youngsters at the park participated in the Columbus Recreation Department's pageant Aug. 22. The youths danced a polka in a German scene. Participating in the dance were Jo Ellen Traphagan, Mary Harper, Barbara Kosiuk, Corrine Shaevitz, Nancy Cherry and Carol Linsk.

Baseball season at Scottwood has ended. Coaches were John Engle, Ed Orenic, Dale Johnson, Dick Keene, Jim Kelly, Mr. Robinson, Jay O'Neill, Dick Trimmer, Steve Goodwin, Jerry Aggas, Ron Bissinger, Rod Beery, Ron Seigal, Don Wood and Mr. Moore.

Playground assistants were Steve Goodwin, Gary Edison, Dick Traphagan, Jeff Williams, Jay O'Neill and Ronnie Savola.

An arts and crafts display from the various playgrounds is being shown at the City Hall. The display will be taken to the Ohio State Fair, and finally to the Children's Center at the Art Gallery in October. Kathy Gallagher, Steve Linsk, Patty Kuhn and Danny Gallagher will represent Scottwood.

City Pageant Is Tonight

At 7:30 p.m. this evening (Wednesday) the doors of Central High School will open to people from all over the city who will see a "grass-roots spectacular."

It is the Columbus Recreation Department's 50th Annual Anniversary Pageant. The cast includes nearly 800 children from 78 playgrounds. All have worked like beavers getting up their own scripts, props and costumes.

The Singing Sheriffs will start things off. Admission is free to the public.

Old Tent Circus Is State Fair Feature

Cristiani Brothers Circus, the largest tent show in the world, is the major grandstand attraction for all eight days of the 1960 Ohio State Fair.

This is a new concept in grandstand entertainment. For the first time in the history of present day circuses, a real old-fashioned touring circus will shed its bigtop and erect its equipment out in the open area in front of the grandstand.

The circus is preparing special back drops and other equipment for erection on the track in front of the grandstand so that the outdoor performance will take on the appearance of its own big-top.

The fast-paced three ring performance will include such stellar circus standbys as bareback riders, trapeze stars, aerialists, tight and slack wire performers, jugglers, acrobats, the largest contingent of clowns to be found anywhere on earth, all kinds of performing animals and featuring the largest traveling herd of elephants in the world.

There are 110 performers in the show, thirty-nine of whom are Cristianis. The Cristiani

'Days Of The Dog' Slow Living, Sultry Times

The heat of July and August is often referred to as "Dog Days," especially by those who live with a rural background. A considerable amount of lore has developed concerning this period.

It was always considered dangerous to go swimming during Dog Days because infection was supposed to be more common at that time. Scratches and cuts were always tended a little more carefully during this period Life, in general, was at a slower pitch during these hot sultry times.

According to the dictionary, "Dog Days" represents the time when the conjunction of the rising of the sun and Sirius the Dog Star, causes these hot sultry days and the maladies which are common during the period. The name originally came from the Dog Star.

What ever the origin, Dog Days are a time of slower fishing in most years. But the heat of this time drives lots of Ohioans to public recreation areas where they attempt to escape some of the discomfort of the period by swimming, picnicking and enjoying the shade.

Willis—

the end of a polite debate between Maxwell and Willis. Each was given time to state his side of the situation.

When the special session began last Thursday, Maxwell noted, technically, that "there were only three councilmen present, therefore not a quorum." Bower had walked in and taken a seat behind the council table.

Willis remarked that "I realize that is your opinion Mr. Maxwell, but the chair has seated Bower."

Maxwell then questioned Willis' right to swear Bower in by noting that only a notary or a judicial officer could administer the oath of office, and that Willis was neither.

Willis recalled that he had been able to swear in Council Clerk Jesse Coultrap. But his memory was refreshed when Mayor Walter Moling reminded him that at that time he was acting-mayor.

Maxwell then went into a soliloquy defending his position of the opinion that he had previously handed down, mentioning "that I call shots as I see them." He is, he said, convinced that "Bowker is not a councilman in the City of Whitehall.

"This is a poor time to come in with conflicts and what amounts to usurping the authority of council and endangering the credit of the city.

"You cannot do things wrong and expect an attorney to back you—I won't."

He reiterated that two votes do not constitute a majority of a six-man council.

Willis waited until Maxwell had finished before launching into his own defense.

He stated that he had tried to the "best of his ability" to make a decision. He mentioned the anonymous law firm, and requested a grace period. "I want Bower to remain seated until we decide who is correct."

He told Maxwell that being solicitor doesn't put him in a dictatorial position, and that "your opinion doesn't happen to constitute the law."

But apparently, the Democrats heeded Maxwell's words as to the legality of the swearing in opinion. After a short recess, Bower was resworn, this time by a notary and an attorney, Paul Haytcher.

ETERNAL LIGHT ABOVE THE ARK

More About . . .

Temple—

es from one-quarter inch to several feet, Harris said.

Stained glass windows on either side of the altar are surrealistic works, one depicting fire, the other water. Both are stimulating effects of diverse colors.

A general theme follows the viewer wherever he goes. It is provided by a Hebrew letter that resembles a "W." One can ee it on doors, on the outside, on stained glass windows. Harris explained that the symbol is called "shin" and means "the Almighty."

Another theme permeates the atmosphere, that of the burning bush. Harris commented that "the bush is eternally burning, but never is burned up."

The outside of the building, as seen from the highway, is probably a good place to view the idea of the burning bush. Against the white side of the building, fingers of copper appear to be leaping skyward.

Inside, over the "Eternal Light," the same symbolism appears.

The outside symbol was created by Laura Ziegler, internationally famous Columbus artist.

The "Eternal Light," never is allowed to burn out, Harris said.

One "Eternal Light" hangs suspended above the ark. Inside the ark is the Torah, laws from the first five books of the Bible. The Torah is written on scrolls and is read at services.

The scrolls, Harris explained were printed in Hebrew by hand. "No mistakes, no erasures and no vowels can be found in the Torah," Harris said.

One other item that will not escape interest is a seven stick candelabra, called a minorah. Harris says that it could represent a lot of things, the days of the week, the lives of humans.

No two of the candles are alike, he pointed out. Each has a different height, a different shape. Each is unique.

And so may it be said about Temple Israel.

having them walk would be a safe procedure to follow."

It costs money to transport children, Crabbs admitted, but added that the district obtains state support in the amount of $25,000 a year for transporting the youngsters.

"To eliminate transportation would mean new schools, which would be a tremendous outlay in money." It would amount to something like paying out over $1 million in capital outlay to save $25,000, he explained.

The East Broad Street School was built in 1927. It originally consisted of eight classrooms and two basement rooms. No major additions have been made, Crabbs said, but a four-room portable now forms the entire elementary classes. He expects 375 children at East Broad Elementary this year.

The E. Main building is a 20-room unit constructed in 1922. It originally consisted of only eight rooms, but when the growth in Whitehall started the building was expanded to its present capacity. Some 600 youngsters are expected to occupy it this year.

At the time the buildings were erected, the superintendent pointed out, "the Truro Township boundaries extended to Gould-rd on the west, east to the present boundary line of Walnut Creek, north of Broad to the railroad tracks and south to Refugee-rd.

The basement rooms of the schools are now being utilized, Crabbs said, but he does not feel that they should be.

"The buildings are old," he admitted, "but Columbus has some older ones." Crabbs feels that they could last another 20 years or so.

"We do not anticipate the rapid abandonment of these two schools," Crabbs said. "Such a move would be economical'y unsound at this time."

HEAR THIS DAYTON WOMAN'S PLEA

'Friend Drunk... Dog Gone... Momma's Dying...

by John Peopplemeyer

A Dayton lady has lost her dog and doesn't know where to find him.

Mrs. Vera Clark, of 340 S. Main-st, Dayton, has driven over 1000 miles, she says, searching for her pooch, Butch.

This is not the first time her favorite pet, a black and white spotted male fox terrier, has wandered away.

But this time he did not wander on his own. He went for a ride with a friend and has not been heard of since, according to Mrs. Clark.

Mrs. Clark has searched high and low, in five counties and in cities including Columbus.

The traveling twosome, the dog and a guy named Joe, were last seen in the Whitehall area.

Butch, the dog, was very fond of Joe the friend. And according to Mrs. Clark's letter, it appears that Joe was very fond of the bottle at least during the period when Butch got lost.

Mrs. Clark's information noted that Joe and Butch left for a fishing trip and ended up in a motel along E. Main-st.

"Joe," Mrs. Clark explained, "Didn't know he was in Columbus until he got there." He apparently came in on Route 33, missed a turn, and discovered he wasn't on Route 33, she said.

Joe, not the dog, pulled up to the Robert E. Lee Motel, under the assumption, Mrs. Clark reported, that it was a filling station.

In backing out, Joe apparently rammed his car into a post. "He did know that the law would soon be there," she explained, "and he also knew if he left he would be leaving the scene of an accident."

Apparently Joe solved the dilema in his own mind. He left the car at the scene and started walking. Mrs. Clark said that he got 30 feet away "when the law arrived." Apparently Joe feels that is the spot that Butch got lost. Either that, Mrs. Clark recounts, or Butch was lost at an earlier stop near Indian Lake.

She thinks that Butch probably got out of the car and started browsing around.

On checking back over the trail, Mrs. Clark stated that she inquired at trailer courts and around the E. Main area. Nobody, apparently, had seen the dog.

Meanwhile Joe and the law were having their troubles, as Mrs. Clark later found out. The policeman who ticketed Joe, according to Mrs. Clark, said that Joe didn't say one thing about the dog. "He kept insisting," Mrs. Clark said the policeman said," that his wife was in the car."

So the despondent lady has taken to advertising in newspapers and writing to various editorial departments around the state besides checking with dog pounds.

To round up the story, Mrs. Clark is offering a $50 reward for the return of Butch. The dog is wearing a collar with a 1959 Montgomery County license. He has flop ears and sideburns.

"His (the dog's) mother is dying, grieving herself away," Mrs. Clark states.

Mrs. Clark also says that if her dog is returned, "No questions will be asked."

On whose part, she did not stipulate.

Momma, Before . . . Butch . . . Momma, After "Grieving away for her lost son."

Two Whitehall Residents Killed In Auto Accident

Mrs. Virginina Jacobs, 38, and her daughter, five-year-old, Cynthia, of 4050 Beechbank-dr, Whitehall, were among four persons killed Monday on Rt. 122 near Eaton, when the car in which they were riding struck a gasoline truck.

The driver of the ill-fated car, Mrs. Donna Jean Shellhammer, 30, of Eaton, was killed and her daughter, Hazel Diane, 7, was in critical condition in Ried Memorial Hospital at nearby Richmond Ind.

The car was cruising along a country road and failed to halt for a stop sign, and was rammed in the left side by the 1500-gallon truck, sheriff's deputies said.

The driver of the truck, Charles Clark, 60, of Eaton, sustained a fractured leg. Although the truck was loaded with highly inflammable gasoline, and turned over some three times, there was no explosion.

ment of 10 cents a mile. Only four councilmen were present. Bower was one of them.

Solicitor James Maxwell has ruled that Bower has attained his solon post illegally. Council President E. D. Willis, has informed Maxwell that he disagrees with the solicitor's opinion.

Helber, in order to make sure that future city financial negotiations could not become entangled with the law, said he checked the situation out with the state auditor's office.

Helber says he feels no qualms of continuing his job in the same way he did before the fuss over Bower erupted.

COOK-OUT PLANNED

Scottwood Park Ends Summer Activities

Scottwood Playground will close out its summer recreation activities with a cook-out tonight.

Events will begin at 5 p.m., and everyone is invited and is to take hamburgers, hot dogs and buns. Steve Goodwin, entertainment chairman, has planned an hour of entertainment.

Youngsters at the park participated in the Columbus Recreation Department's pageant Aug. 22. The youths danced a polka in a German scene. Participating in the dance were Jo Ellen Traphagan, Mary Harper, Barbara Kosluk, Corrine Shaevitz, Nancy Cherry and Carol Linsk.

Baseball season at Scottwood has ended. Coaches were John Engle, Ed Orenic, Dale Johnson, Dick Keene, Jim Kelly, Mr. Robinson, Jay O'Neill, Dick Trimmer, Steve Goodwin, Jerry Aggas, Ron Bissinger, Rod Beery, Ron Seigal, Don Wood and Mr. Moore.

Playground assistants were Steve Goodwin, Gary Edison, Dick Traphagan, Jeff Williams, Jay O'Neill and Ronnie Savola.

An arts and crafts display from the various playgrounds is being shown at the City Hall. The display will be taken to the Ohio State Fair, and finally to the Children's Center at the Art Gallery in October. Kathy Gallagher, Steve Linsk, Patty Kuhn and Danny Gallagher will represent Scottwood.

City Pageant Is Tonight

At 7:30 p.m. this evening (Wednesday) the doors of Central High School will open to people from all over the city who will see a "grass-roots spectacular."

It is the Columbus Recreation Department's 50th Annual Anniversary Pageant. The cast includes nearly 800 children from 78 playgrounds. All have worked like beavers getting up their own scripts, props and costumes.

The Singing Sheriffs will start things off. Admission is free to the public.

Old Tent Circus Is State Fair Feature

Cristiani Brothers Circus, the largest tent show in the world, is the major grandstand attraction for all eight days of the 1960 Ohio State Fair.

This is a new concept in grandstand entertainment. For the first time in the history of present day circuses, a real old-fashioned touring circus will shed its bigtop and erect its equipment out in the open area in front of the grandstand.

The circus is preparing special back drops and other equipment for erection on the track in front of the grandstand so that the outdoor performance will take on the appearance of its own big-top.

The fast-paced three ring performance will include such stellar circus standbys as bareback riders, trapeze stars, aerialists, tight and slack wire performers, jugglers, acrobats, the largest contingent of clowns to be found anywhere on earth, all kinds of performing animals and featuring the largest traveling herd of elephants in the world.

There are 110 performers in the show, thirty-nine of whom are Cristianis. The Cristiani

Mayor Would Like One Too

Hyatt Proposes New City Hall Building

Dick Hyatt wants a new city building in Whitehall and he made no bones about his desires at last week's special council session.

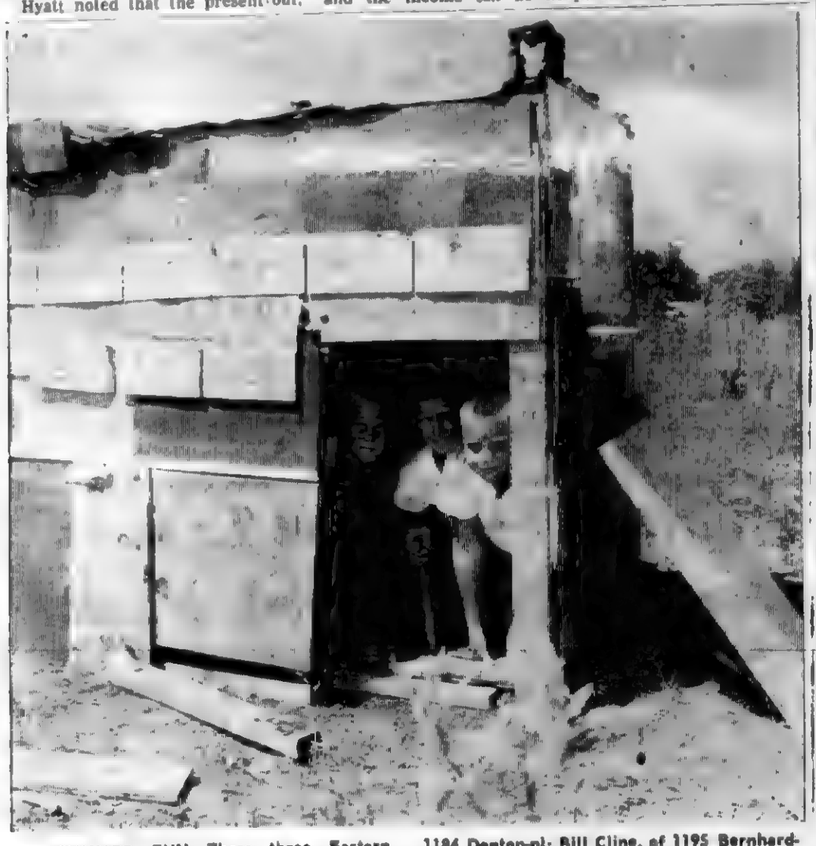
"It may not be number one on Rackoff Associates thoughts, and even if my colleagues aren't for it," Hyatt said that he felt the need is there.

Rackoff Associates are the city's Master Plan formulators.

Hyatt noted that the present city hall "doesn't have adequate space now." The auditor is working in his home, he pointed out, "and the income tax department is in a bad state." The feeling, evidently, is that a new city hall also would house the tax department.

The city hall is also a favorite project of Mayor Walter B. Moling. Thus far he has been rebuffed in his efforts to push the project through. Council keeps insisting that the Master Plan recommendations should be studied first.

In the meantime, the Whitehall Chamber of Commerce has offered a protest of its own to the recently enacted commercial garbage rates.



Leonard Hass, in a letter to council, requested the ordinance be repealed until it has been thoroughly studied.

The rate was passed last month over the objections of Republican Ray Shipley who contented that the businessmen should be allowed to "look it over."

Hyatt had a motion to table indefinitely Pierce and Bernard-rd improvement projects turned down.

Council took a second reading on the matter.

Kids Construct A Clubhouse, But Passwords Are Forgotten

Events or scenes that can conjure up nostalgia often happen in funny ways

It can come upon you in the middle of a daydream, or when you see something that you haven't seen for a long time . . . a club house, for instance

There just aren't too many of these childhood hide-a-ways to be found anymore, probably because there aren't too many vacant lots available upon which to build them.

But a group of East Columbus boys has banded together and helped to bring back the days of old. Of course, to the boys, this idea of building a club house is something new, different, dynamic, secretive

It may be a terrible thing to do, to spoil their illusion and report that really, such things are not new.

They do not use passwords. They do not have secret pledges, or blood oaths, or a mystic knock. They have not even thought of the girl situation—keeping them out, that is

But, then maybe that would be asking too much. This group finds their club house to be a convenient hideout in which to "play cards, listen to the radio" and just plain "mess around."

But a club house, it seems, should mean much more than that. It should be a place that nobody knows about, not a startling edifice in the middle of some vacant lot. Such a joyful place should be secured "way back" amongst the dutiful protection of a grove of trees.

Passwords should be adhered to. Girls should not.

It should not be a place to have fun just "messing around," but a place to plot and connive and then sneak forth, one at a time, upon all fours, "so's nobody could tell who you are."

It should be a place where you can come forth to conquer demons and dragons with imaginary swords and on stalwart ghost-like stallions.

But, as times change, so it can be expected that children and their club houses will change.

So, it will have to be admitted, that it is nice to know there are still a few around who can build a club house to bring back the memories and plots that once again make one a "dragon conqueror" . . . if only for a little while.

X-Ray Cruiser Slated For One Week Program

Robert A. Santeler, whose business offices are at 950 E. Main-st, has been named general chairman of the Tuberculosis Society's week-long X-ray program for Columbus' Southeast Side, running from Aug. 29 through Sept. 2.

Although this district houses only six per cent of the city's population, it accounts for 10 per cent of Columbus' tuberculosis cases.

Assisting Santeler in distributing X-ray posters and schedules will be Boy Scouts from the following troops: First Presbyterian Church, Holy Rosary, St. John's, Oakwood Methodist, First English Lutheran, Grace Lutheran, St. Vincent's Orphanage, Morgan Memorial Methodist, First Methodist and Hope Evangelical Lutheran.

Churches within the Southeast Side X-ray area, bounded by Oak-st and Livingston-av, 18th-st and Kelton-av, will cooperate by making announcements from their pulpits and printing the cruiser schedule in their church bulletins. Father Vincent Mooney, Holy Rosary, is in charge of church promotion.

The Christmas Seal X-ray cruiser is scheduled for the following locations:

Monday, 18th and Main-sts; Tuesday, Kelton and Livingston-av; Wednesday, Oak-st at Wilson-av; Thursday, Champion and Livingston-av; and Friday, Miller-av at Main-st.

The cruiser will operate from 12 to 7 p.m. daily.

1,000 Crippled Children Plan Day At State Fair

A chance to help nearly 1,000 crippled children enjoy a day at the Ohio State Fair is being afforded area residents.

The crippled Children's Entertainment Association, Inc. plans to play host to that many crippled and handicapped youngsters next Monday, Aug. 29, at the fairgrounds.

Anyone wishing to help the Association may join by contributing one dollar. The fee may be sent to Carl J. Schumann, 115 Demorest-rd, who will return a membership card to the donor before the Monday event.

Charles Tenge Gets Superior Rating At Fair

Charles Joseph Tenge, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tenge, of 1222 Haddon-rd, received a superior rating in the accordion solo at the 114th Annual Muskingum County Fair in Zanesville last week.

As a result of the rating, Tenge received a blue ribbon and will receive a personal score card from one of the judges commenting upon his achievement at the fair.

The rating was given by two well known judges for instrumental and vocal music, Norman English, of Lansing, Mich., and Jack Moore, of Chicago, Ill. Scoring was made on quality of performance.

More than 1,100 entrants performed in the four-day event.

Dad Asks $51,875 In Two Deaths

The father of two boys killed last Oct. 19 when a stolen state auto ran into a group of school children at High-st and Williams-rd, filed a sundry claim for $51,875 against the state.

T/Sgt. Arden L. Kline of 3433 S. High-st, with the U.S. Air Force at Lockbourne Air Force Base, asked $50,000 damages and $1875 expenses in the death of his two sons, Raymond, 4, and Randy, 7.

They and Jane Bellah, 7, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Jerry Bellah, also of 3433 S. High-st, were killed when Paul W. Graham, 22, ran into a group of children waiting for a school bus. A fourth child was injured in the mishap.

Graham was driving an auto assigned to the State Auditor's Office, which he had stolen from a State House parking lot.

Graham was sentenced to three to 60 years in Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield on three second degree manslaughter charges, to run concurrently, and three auto theft counts.

The claim, filed for Kline by Attorneys S. P. Dunkle and William Edwards, will go to the State Sundry Claims Board. The State cannot be sued in a court in such cases.

The claim was sent to the auditor's office for investigation and report. After receiving the report, the board will set it for hearing.

If any claim for more than $200 is approved by the board, it will then be included in the sundry claims bill for consideration of the General Assembly next year.

EASTERN CHURCHES BOOMING

Church construction is booming on Columbus' East Side.

It seems that everywhere one looks, either a completely new structure or an addition to an older one is winding its way skyward: Scottwood Community, St. Catherine's, Holy Spirit, Whitehall Baptist, Good Shepherd Lutheran and Faith Lutheran. All are either in the renovating stage or having new sanctuaries constructed.

Is it because of more people deciding to go to church? It it some sudden but welcome, religious upheaval? Or is it that there are just home people living in, or moving into, the Eastern Columbus area?

Churchmen do admit that the last factor has a lot to do with the necessity of providing more room for their respective congregations.

It is gratifying to know that our people are responding to the need for construction of buildings in which the people of this growing community may worship.

BIBLE COMMENT:

Eternal Life Is Foundation Of Christian Faith

Belief in a future life, in survival after death, has not been confined to any one race or religion. This belief has been almost universal, witnessed by hundreds of beliefs and practices, emphasized by ancestor worship, the notion that souls of the departed live within animals, and the well-known practice of burying the dead with food and the utensils of this earthly life.

But with Christians, life after death has had a very different meaning.

"The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord," (Romans 6:23). It is the undying nature of the soul through the experience of the new life in Christ.

But this fact and experience has its definite foundation in history in the life, death and Resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth. The foundation of the experience is in the divine, eternal life of Jesus himself, and His words to His disciples, "Because I live, ye shall live also." (John 14:19).

From this view, the Resurrection is the very foundation of the Christian faith, though it should not be forgotten that the prior foundation is in the moral and spiritual in the life of God, and in the Godlike life of man.

Celebrities Will Initiate Dunk Seat

The list of Columbus area celebrities and public figures who will initiate the "Dunkem" machine to be operated by the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Ohio State Fair has been announced.

A "Dunkem" machine consists of a seat precariously installed over a tank of water. When a target is struck by a softball, the seat falls, dropping the occupant into the tank of water.

Perched on the hot seat Friday, Aug. 26, will be: WVKO DeeJay Bill Brabson, 2 p.m.; Columbus Police Chief George W. Scholer, 3 p.m.; Judge Fred J. Shoemaker, 3:30 p.m.; Franklin County Prosecutor Earl Allison, 4 p.m.; Judge Alan Schwartzwalder, 4:30 p.m.; Columbus City Councilman Robert L. Van Heyde, 7 p.m.; Columbus Citizen-Journal Columnist Ben Hayes, 7:30 p.m.; Columbus City Attorney Russell Leach, 8 p.m.; WMNI DeeJay Bill Robinson, 9 p.m. Also on hand sometime Friday afternoon will be Franklin County Sheriff Stacy Hall and WBNS-TV Newsman Wayne Byers.

Ferguson Editorial Is Seen As Timely By This Reader

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Hartley Newspapers, seven in all, are certainly doing a great services to the people of all the homes that these papers visit. This is true especially when we consider all the things that these papers stand for. In the Aug. 17 issue, The Hartley Papers published all the things they stand for.

About four years ago, on account of failing health, Mrs. Downey and I had to make a change. In making the change we decided to enter the Presbyterian Home near Sidney.

I spent 18 years of the thirty years that I was a resident of Columbus as an employe of the State Treasurers office. In that time I became familiar with the duties of the different state offices. This was especially true of the Offices of Auditor and Treasurer, for it was the duty of the Auditors Office to audit the records of the State Treasurers Office.

In the last issue of your paper, which I receive each week like a letter from home, there was an article published under the caption, "Look this one over carefully", In reading it over, I noted that six of the immediate members of certain family already were on the state payroll and that another immediate member was seeking the office of auditor.

I am not in a position to know whether or not this is the last member of that family. But if it is, when will that family start in on the grandchildren. Surely somewhere along the line there is a stopping place. Maybe this is the time for the people of Ohio to stop this family from holding so many state payroll positions.

I am no longer a citizen of Columbus, but I am a citizen of the State of Ohio and I am interested in who shall have the right to have charge of the pension funds the checks from which make it possible for me to remain a resident of the Home.

It is not a question of integrity, but is it expedient for father and son to hold the two offices so closely related?

The article was timely. It now remains for the people to decide the problem. I am certainly passing the word around, not only here, but to my friends in Ohio.

— John A. Downey

'NEWSCHICK' GETS NEIGHBORHOOD SCOOP

"Hey!" Did'ja see where there's a new kid in the neighborhood?"

"Yeh! And did'ja know there's a lot of people sick around here, too?"

"Hey! What you kids reading? I didn't see any of that stuff in the Eastern Review!"

"'Course ya didn't. There's a 'white sheet' in the neighborhood now. Boy that ol' Eastern Review had better start looking out."

The cause of all those comments that could be beard about the Beechbank neighborhood in Whitehall, is the recent publication of "Jeanne's Jive."

Reported, printed and delivered by one Jeannie Gressel, age 6½, the infant newspaper has already seen the light of day twice.

Jeannie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Yale Gressel of 145 Beechbank-av. "I thought of it," the precocious young "newschick" said, "and me and my sister, Rachel, help put it out."

Rachel is five years old, and already holds the title of assistant editor.

Helping Jeannie is her neighbor, Mrs. R. R. Nichols. "She thought of the name, and helps me get it in print," Jeannie commented.

The weekly comes out on Fridays. It usually runs one page in length and contains around half a dozen inside scoops on neighborhood doings.

Samples: "Monday, my Mothwent runing around the house shutting the windows becase it wus raning."

Epidemic: "Everybody is geting sicke in the neighborhood."

Curiosity (ahem): "A boy just moved in on Wednesday . . . his name is Eddy."

Intriguing: "A boy wus riding on a hobby horse and fell off and cut his head and they couldn't stitch it up."

Jeannie delivers 25 copies to neighborhood kids each week with the help of her sister. At times she has been known to charge a "penny a copy."

"One boy," she related, "he gave me a penny and then he wanted it back, after" she pointed out, "he had read the paper."

She made enough money one week to buy a child's pack of playing cards, according to her mother.

What kind of a reward does Rachel, her sister, get for putting in her time? "I let her play cards with me."

In spit of her young years in the business, she instinctively realizes that "names make news."

When asked who usually gets the first copy, she replied, "The person whose name is in it."

Activities End At Fairmoor

Firmoor inagurated an "old-timers" night last week as the boys over 19 played the younger set in a softball game.

After seven innings of hard fought ball the "old-timers" came out on top by an 8 to 5 score.

In Junior Jet League all-star play, the Fairmoor team defeated the James-rd nine by 9-2.

The game, which was played at the Fairmoor Park, was highlighted by the pitching of Bob Casto, Mike Marsh, and Steve Langerman.

Fairmoor's champions were honored at Jet Stadium Aug. 23. The Red Sox and the Reds received special awards.

'Cinderella' Salon Plans Gala Opening

Agnes Geiger

Formal opening of Cinderella Beauty Salon, 3723 E. Broad-st, will be held Sunday, Aug. 28, from 4 to 7:30 p.m.

For the children there is an unusual display of a live Cinderella and her pumpkin coach.

The ladies will be invited to try on a glass slipper. A free permanent will be given to the first who can wear the slipper. Door prizes will be given, roses for the women, favors for the kiddies and refreshments for all.

Agnes Geiger is the owner.

Neuron Slated To Address Local Jaycess

East side businessman Walter Neuron, 107 N. Broadleigh, proprietor of Neuron Town and Country Photo Studio and one of Columbus' top water skiers, will speak to the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce at their weekly luncheon at the Virginia Hotel Thursday, Aug. 25.

Neuron's topic will be "Fundamentals of Water Skiing." He has placed second in the slalom and in the overall competition at last year's national amateur water skiing competition.

He is an active member of the Columbus Aqua Ski Club and is developing a water skiing equipment store.

BUILDS HOUSE

Charles Gilligan et al, 1428 Miller av, received a permit to build a one-story frame dwelling at 2757 Castlewood rd, Lloyd Elliott is the contractor.

BUILDS DWELLINGS

J. Eisenberg and T. Yassanoff, 44 E. Broad-st, have been granted permits to construct one-story twin single brick veneer dwellings at 956-958 and 960-962 Ferndale-pl. Ireland Builders will be the contractor.

UNCLE LOOIE SEZ:

Views expressed by husbands are not necessarily those of the management.

Stellman Boy Will Compete At State Fair

Steven Stellman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stellman, 3019 Templeton-rd, has been selected by WMNI Radio as its teen-age talent to compete at the State Fair Aug. 26.

Stellman, a 15-year-old pianist, has been studying piano for the past eight years. He is a student of Loy Kohler of Capital University.

Previously he was a guest star on WMNI's "Sunday Spotlight" program. By popular request he has played for five programs and will be heard again this Sunday, Aug. 28, between 1 and 2 p.m.

Stellman is a junior at Eastmoor High School. He was a member of the Eastmoor Senior High Orchestra and the Columbus Youth Symphony.

His father is Assistant Executive Director of the Jewish Center and Mandy Stellman is director of the Center's Women's Physical Education Department.

All radio stations in Central Ohio choose a local teen-age act to compete for a trip to Chicago, Ill.

ALTERS HOUSE

A permit was granted to Karl T. Duerler, 163 S. Ohio av, for alteration to a frame dwelling. The Midwest Roofing and Furnace Company is the contractor.

ENLARGES HOME

Permission has been granted to Robert L. Ruhling, 246 N. Cassingham-rd, to enlarge a breakfast room. The Good Home Maintenance Company is the contractor.

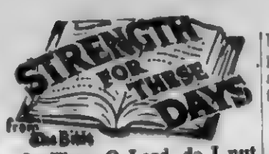
Johnson Park School Opens Sept. 7

THIS ARRANGEMENT COULD POSSIBLY BOTHER SOME

AMOOZIN', BUT CONFOOZING—Along the corridor to the administrative offices at Whitehall High School can be seen this dizzing pair of signs. The one on the right, (Room 152), requests all to use the next entrance. But the next entrance, (Room 151), allows none to enter. But this is a hectic time of year for school officials, so things will probably be cleared up by the time school starts.

Johnson Park will open its doors to more than 1000 Columbus Junior High school students Wednesday, Sept. 7.

Ninth grade classes will be offered at the new school and approximately 400 seventh grade students will be starting their Junior High school experience.



Johnson Park receives its students from the James-rd, Berwick, Scottwood, Pinecrest, Courtright, Shady Lane, and Willis Park elementary school districts.

Registration of students new to the school district is urged before the Labor Day weekend. The school office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Students who indicated that they might move from the school district during the summer and have not, are asked to contact the school office at BE. 7-2583.

Bus stops will be the same as last year at Carolwood and Colby, Livingston and Elderwood, Livingston and Elaine, Livingston and Burlington, Livingston and Grattan, Hamilton and Livingston, Shady Lane and Livingston, Simpson and Dundee, Dundee and Baxter, Huxley and Janis, Livingston and Simpson, Amesbury and Simpson, Maetzel and Grimsby, Grimsby and Errington, Errington and Simpson, Matezel and Thurston, Manfeld and Teddy, Manfeld and Justin, Manfeld and Betsy, Lillian and Folger, Country Club and Benson, Country Club and McAllister, McAllister and Little Plum, Shady Lane and Ludington, Shady Lane and Marble, and the stops made by the Catalpa Park bus.

Two new stops have been added, Bernhard and Mound, and Yearling and Mound. Bus riders are asked to be at their stops at 8 a.m. the first day.

Students who requested 8 a.m. classes are not required to report early the first day. All students are to report between 8:30 and 8:45 Wednesday, Sept. 7 and are to receive their schedule in their homerooms.

In Thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion.—(Psalm 71:1)

Those who put their trust in God, completely and without reservation—who say "Thy will, not mine, be done" in wondrous faith, shall evermore be calm and strong, free from doubt and confusion.

ALTERS HOUSE

Hank Bobulski, 1285 Hamlin-pl, received permission to alter a frame dwelling. Ira Mullins is the contractor.

BUILDS GARAGE

A permit was granted to Howard Stepp, 583 Stockbridge-rd, to build a two-car frame garage.

You Don't Stand Single Chance Of Losing At Annual Nickel Day

In Las Vegas you pay your money and take your chances, but the Hartley Newspapers and Norwood Amusement Park 2025 E. Main-st, have taken all the gamble out of the five-cent investment.

Hartley and Norwood will co-sponsor a summer-ending Nickel Day program on Saturday, Sept. 10, at the popular E Main-st amusement plant.

So, Mom and Dad, plan now to take the entire family to Norwood on Sept. 10, the Saturday after Labor Day, where you can parlay a nickel into an action-packed day of entertainment.

Thrills a plenty are in store for you on 18 of the park's 19 rides. Only exception to the nickel admission price is the remodeled Speedway Ride.

Guests of honor for the day-long fun fare will be the 70,000 families that read the Hartley Newspapers, including the Hilltop Record, West Rural-Urban News, West Side News, South Side Leader, Eastern Review and Reynoldsburg Record.

Norwood has an enviable record of providing entertainment for Columbus families for the past 19 years at the same old stand on the banks of Alum Creek.

Prancing ponies on the carrousel, the park's all-time favorite, will be off and running at the 1 p.m. opening time and will continue their tireless performance until the 11 p.m. closing.

Yes sir! Hartley and Norwood is a daily double that just can't be beaten when it comes to offering thrills and chills for the entire family.

Make your plans now to attend the giant jitney jamboree at Norwood Park in this back-to-school special. Don't forget the date, Sept. 10, starting at 1 p.m. There's plenty of free parking.

Chairmen Named

Appointment of Dr. George T. Harding, 430 E. Granville-rd, as chairman and Mrs. Robert B. Green, 2722 Bryden-rd, as chairwoman of the Volunteers for Nixon for Franklin County has been announced by Dr. Clyde E. Williams, Ohio chairman of the organization.

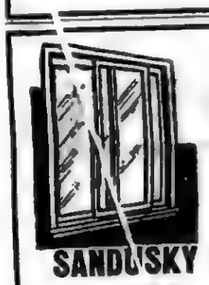
Perpetually snow-capped Mount Hood rises 11,245 feet above sea level, the highest elevation in Oregon. According to AAA, many living glaciers extend to near timber line on all sides.

Display Will Show Points Of Olympics

Recognizing Columbus participation and interest in the 1960 Olympic games in Rome, representatives of the Wheaties Sports Foundation will erect Olympic displays in five of the area's major shopping centers this Thursday, Aug. 25.

The Columbus delegation in the games which open Friday include OSU Coach Larry Snyder, head coach of the U.S. track and field squad; Jerry Lucas, member of the U.S. basketball squad; Sam Hall, member of the diving team; weightlifters, John Pulskamp and Jim George, and Glen Davis, track.

The displays in the parking lots of Northern Lights, Great Eastern, Great Western, Great Southern, and Lane Avenue Shopping Centers will include exhibits of equipment used in the various Olympic events. The equipment is being supplied by the Ohio State athletic department. There will be attendants on hand to answer Olympic queries.



Hull States Ten Votes Decisive

"From one to ten votes per precinct will determine the winner in most of the contests in Franklin County at the election on Nov. 8," Dr. James R. Hull, Franklin County Chairman of the Ohio Information Committee, predicted recently in a speech to the membership of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Southern Hotel.

Hull, former All American Basketball player at Ohio State, urged the Jaycees "regardless of partisianship" to work their precincts, get their friends registered by Sept. 28 and to the polls on Nov. 8, "in the interest of good government."

"Based on the Franklin County election results in 1958 and 1959 most of the races in Franklin County will be close this year that those who register between now and Sept. 28 may pick the winners," Hull said.

The Ol' College Try Will Be Big Bexley High Grid Factor

By John Auble Jr.

The ol' college try—with all the whoopdedos and sis-boom-bahs available—will be a prime factor in the outcome of the 1960 Bexley High School football campaign, according to Coach Ben Tenwalde.

"We rely an awful lot on spirit here at Bexley," Tenwalde said. "Support from the student and faculty bodies is always important in the success or failure of a ball team."

Tenwalde is beginning his 10th year as coach at the Lion school. He's been head coach for the last four years. He remembered an incident last year when spirit played an important part in winning a grid battle. He told it this way:

"It was going into the latter part of the season and we were scheduled to meet Mt. Vernon—then the number one team in the league.

"Twenty-five students organized together and built up the school spirit. Our record wasn't very impressive up until that time.

"The boys felt that the school was behind them and they went on to knock Mt. Vernon out of the championship. I feel that school support is about 80 per cent of the battle."

Last Wednesday, the Bexley gridders met for their ninth time. Seventy-five boys turned out for the squad, including freshmen. Tenwalde believes that a few more boys will turn out after school starts.

Nine lettermen are returning, including backs Jerry Mechling and Jerry Durham. Other returnees include Jim Westwater, end; Bill Goldberg, co-captain, tackle; Jim Wacker, guard; Dave Helmick, co-captain, guard; Steve DeVoe, center; Terry Lane, backfield and Chris Tisouris, fullback.

About high school football in general, Tenwalde commented:

"There is a whole lot of difference in personnel at any of the schools. If there is much of a difference, of course, they go undefeated.

"Most of the leagues are getting pretty evenly matched. There seems to be an increased interest in the sport. You'll find that there are more boys turning out for football, as well as more coaches."

But, it's a funny sport and the ball can bounce in odd directions. That's evident from the increased amount of upsets which occurred last football season.

Speed, speed and more speed is being emphasized this year by the 39-year-old Tenwalde. "We were in positions last year which we could have taken advantage of," he said. "We lost out, however, because we just weren't fast enough."

Tenwalde is a graduate of Bowling Green University. He coached for a time at Upper Sandusky. His squad closed out last season with a 3-6 record in Central Buckeye League play.

"We're naturally hoping for a better season this year," he added. "I expect a lot of improvement from some of my younger boys, and if my expectations come true we just might surprise somebody." Indications are that the Lions are out to surprise Arlington, a team which has given Bexley a bit of trouble over the years.

So far, the Lions have not been plagued with an injury problem. They'll open their campaign Sept. 9 against Logan at Logan. A win could make the smell of roses intoxicating.

EASTMOOR FOOTBALLERS TRY MOUTHGUARDS

GET PROTECTORS—Through the benevolence of the Bex-Hall Chapter of the American Business Clubs, and with the cooperation and help of several East End dentists, the principal, the coach, and the Warrierettes of Eastmoor, the varsity football squad of Eastmoor Junior-Senior High School has been fitted with latex rubber mouth protectors. Left to right, Dr Joseph Venook, chairman of the project; Dr. Hal Platt, president of Bex-Hall Chapter of ABC; Jim Casserly, co-captain of Eastmoor High football team, holding his mouth protector; Coach Bob Stuart presenting Co-Captain Nick Cooper with his mouth protector; and Dr. H. C A. Beach, Fourth District Governor of ABC.

Muny League Keglers Sought

Paul Knoblauch recently announced that there are openings in the Whitehall Municipal League for interested bowlers in the area.

Knoblauch, secretary of the league, stated that keglers with a 180 average or below are invited to participate in the six-team league.

Interested bowlers may call him at BE. 1-3073 or BE. 1-9041. The league bowls on Saturday nights at 8 p.m. at the Main Lanes Bowling alley.

Tennis Anyone? Tourney Entry Deadline Is Friday

The annual Central Ohio Tennis Tournament will be held at Franklin Park tennis courts starting at noon Saturday, Aug. 27.

Competition will be held in singles and doubles for men and women.

Entries will be accepted on official entry blanks at the Columbus Recreation Dept., in Room 124, City Hall, and at Franklin, Beatty and Westgate tennis courts through Aug. 26.

Drawings will be held at noon on Saturday, Aug. 27, at Franklin Park, and play will begin immediately.

Competition Open To Bow, Arrow Clan

Columbus Recreation Department will conduct a 50th Anniversary tournament at OSU archery course on Aug. 27 and 28.

Open to novice and experienced archers living in Greater Columbus, the tournament will be divided into two age groups, 16 and under, and 17 and over, for male and female participants. Competition will include a target shoot, field course, clout and archery golf.

Registration will be held at the parking lot on the west side of OSU Stadium on Saturday from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. and on Sunday from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Cushman Takes Over On 18th Lap To Win

By Bill Gray

Jim Cushman took over in the 18th lap of the super-modified feature Friday night at Columbus Motor Speedway to win the feature event. He was followed by Jack Bowsher, Emerson Sayre, Don Townsend and John Campbell.

Friday night's flying stock feature was won by Bud St. Amant followed by Sam Belfiore, Bob Smith and Roy Murray.

Sunday night's 25-lap super-modified feature, at the Columbus Motor Speedway, went to Jack Bowsher, who moved ahead of Bob Marvin on the 24th lap. Dick Pratt finished second, followed by Marvin, Jim Cushman, Bob Smith and Curt Kraft.

Ralph O'Day looked like he was going to get back into the win column, but mechanical trouble on the 21st lap forced him out of the race, after he had led for three laps.

Jess Grider took the 20-lap "flying stock" feature, trailed by St. Amant, Joe King, Ed Edwards and Clarence Wynes, in quick order.

CAP PLANS EXHIBIT

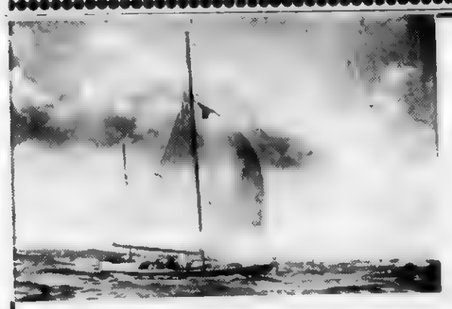
STILL LIFE—Mrs. Richard Andersen, 4311 Yearling-cl, Whitehall, adds a finishing touch to her still life painting which will be on exhibit Aug. 26 at Capital University, along with watercolors, oils and ceramics, representing the works of 65 adult student artists who attended the second summer art term at Capital University. The exhibit will be held in the Shumacher room, foyer and fountain entrance of Huber Hall on Mound-st, from 7 to 9 p.m. Instructor is Professor Richard G. Bauer. Mrs. Anderson, a 1958 graduate of Ohio State University, teaches kindergarten at Whitehall.

Fair Termed 'Successful' By Officials

Although official figures have not been compiled, Franklin County Fair officials said that this year's fair was a definite success as far as the exhibitors, fair officials and the general public were concerned.

They estimated that between 25 and 30 thousand people attended the five day event.

Many requests for additional displays and exhibits were received by the fair board and these will be taken under consideration for next year.



IS FIRST

DIRECTOR — Tom Rankin has been appointed Community Club Awards Director for WVKO, making him the first man to be named to such a position in the nation. A member of the WVKO sales staff since May, 1959, Rapkin will have complete control of the awards campaign, according to Bert Charles, general manager.

IN YOUR SPARE TIME

WRFD Radio Will Report Ohio State Fair Activities

By Larry G. Holmes

WRFD Radio will mark its 11th year of Ohio State Fair broadcasting with complete and concise reports from the 1960 agricultural and industrial exposition.

Special reports of the events will be broadcast four times each day from Aug. 26 through Sept. 2, with the exception of Sunday, Aug. 28, at 9:15 a.m., 11:25 a.m., 3:15 p.m., and 4:15 p.m. Dave Collins and Clyde Keathley will handle broadcasts of special events at the fair.

Keathley and "Pop" Hess will present a complete run-down of winners in the different areas of livestock judging on the regular Ohio State Fair Parade of Champions programs. These programs will be broadcast at 9:30 a.m. 2:30 p.m., and 4:45 p.m.

Bob Geis will present his Landmark "Salute to Youth" program live from the tent each day from 11:30 to 11:50 a.m., except on Sunday, Aug. 28, when it will be broadcast at 1:30 p.m.

The highlight at WRFD's Ohio State Fair studio tent will be the presentation of 15-minute and 5-minute hourly newscasts throughout the day. A display depicting the United Press International news setup throughout the world will be in the tent.

Other things of interest to the fair-goer at the tent are an up-to-the-minute weather report and the WRFD collection of antique farm machinery.

In addition, the station will present a broadcast of the Ohio State Worship Service which will originate in the coliseum at 9:15 a.m., Sunday, Aug. 28.

A colorcast production "The Accused" will be presented on Moment of Fear Friday, Aug. 26 at 10 p.m. on Channel 4.

The script concerns a concentration camp official tracked down by his former victims, determined to seek revenge for themselves and those who died under the man's hand.

Attorney Elfego Baca of Santa Fe, portrayed by Robert Logga, becomes the counselor for a band of persecuted nomads, known as Mustangers on Walt Disney Presents Friday, Aug. 26 at 7:30 Channel 6.

The Mustangers attempt to end their gypsy life and homestead a newly opened section of government land in "Move along Mustangers.

Twentieth Century will present "The Olympics," the story of the world's leading sports spectacle Saturday, Aug. 27, at 5 p.m. on Channel 10.

Walter Cronkite narrates the program, which traces the Olympic Games from the days of ancient Greece to the present.

The townspeople of Cimarron, suspicious of foreigners, clash with a peaceful band of Danish settlers on Cimarron City Friday, Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m., on Channel 4.

The clash is made worse when matt finds that he is vying with the leader of the Danes for the affections of a lovely widow in Cimarron. George Montgomery co-stars with guest Peter Graves.

It's Catch-As-Catch-Can Battle When You're After Big Catfish

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Quite a few local anglers have been having a ball catching catfish in the Scioto above Griggs Dam. Channel catfish are feeding on shad, which are very plentiful in the river right now, and anglers have been making good catches.

With a good bait supply at hand, it makes for easy fishing. Most anglers search along the bank until they find a school of shad, and then scoop at a batch with a seine or dip net. One haul and you have enough bait to last all day. The shad are about two inches long, evidently this spring's hatch, and it makes no difference to the catfish if they are used dead or alive.

Walter Evans, Franklin County game protector, told me that he considered fishing at Griggs pretty fabulous during the last couple of weeks. While making his routine rounds, he finds that nearly everybody has fish. He has checked stringers of fish weighing up to 40 or 50 pounds.

Most of the catfish, according to Evans, are in the pound to three-pound class, but larger ones are not uncommon.

Good fishing spots are found all along the reservoir, but very popular is the area north of Fishinger Bridge. Here, with convenient parking along the water, catfishermen can be found every day hauling them in. Other good locations are farther north.

Shad Popular Bait

Along with the catfish, bullheads and carp also are being taken. The bait is the same for the most part — shad. A few fishermen who hate to part with the traditional earthworms for bait, are catching bluegills. These are in the minority, however, for the catfishing fever has hit these parts.

"It's not difficult to get bites at Griggs," said Evans, "but to hook the fish you need some experience. Most anglers wait while the fish makes a long run before attempting to set the hook, and then nine times out of ten the fish will be hooked lightly in the lip. Many catfish are not hooked, even after they have made a long run. Shad are broad, flat fish, and it may be because of this that it is difficult to hook fish when using them for bait. If a shad were being held upright in a fish's mouth, setting the hook would merely pull the shad out. So, it's catch-as-catch-can in a wrestling match with these bruisers.

Catfish, of course, make an admirable showing on the table. They are skinned, and a few people fillet them. The fine white meat takes a little more frying or cooking than the average fish. When a pan full of bluegills or bass would be ready to serve, catfish fillets would be about half done.

Fried catfish and hushpuppies are a traditional meal in a large segment of the country. We are too far north to find this combination on many menus. But I can tell you this —we could take an eating lesson from our angling neighbors to the south.

CARRIER OF THE WEEK

'Green Sheet' Carrier Was One Of The First

One of the first Eastern Review carrier boys was Daniel Sandy, Jr., of 192 Mayfair-blvd, and he has stuck with his route of 280 customers for the past two years.

Daniel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sandy. He is a student at St. Catharine's, where he will enter the sixth grade this year.

Danny and his dog, Zippy, a sharp looking Chihuahua, get along pretty good together, he says. Danny also has three brothers and a sister.

The thing that this young lad likes best about carrying papers is "the pay check." He also mentioned that he likes to carry papers better in the summer than in the winter.

"I can ride my bike in the summer, but I can't in the winter."

BUILDS GARAGE

Permission to build a two-car frame garage was granted to Frank Nelson, 3397 Livmoor-dr. City and Country Builders are the contractors.

So far the money he has made off his job has been used to buy sporting equipment or has been banked for future school use.

He also enlists the aid of his sister, Deletta, while he carries papers.

Whitehall Lady Sues Company For Loss Of Eye

Mrs. Ruth M. Huntsman, 4984 Vanderbilt-dr. Whitehall, has sued a New York cosmetic company for $163,848 damages.

In a claim filed in Common Pleas Court, Tuesday, she stated that she lost an eye from injuries incurred in 1955 while applying the firm's mascara.

The mother of five children said she had to wear an artifical eye.

DEATHS

Mae Seddon Passes Away

Mrs. Mae B. Seddon, wife of prominent Charles E. Seddon, well-known director of welfare and recreation at the Columbus division of North American Aviation, passed away Sunday morning at 8:15 a.m. in White Cross Hospital after a severe heart ailment.

Mrs. Seddon, although a native of Royalton, lived in Columbus most of her life after moving with her family here when only a child.

Seddon was at one time a star for Ohio State University in football and was Columbus recreation director several years ago.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are a son, Charles Richard, of Columbus; two daughters, Mrs. Marjory Knipe, Groveport, and Mrs. Lois Reed, Lima; five grandchildren; her mother, Mrs. Effie Balthaser, Lancaster; brother, Fred T. Balthaser, Columbus; three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Cook and Mrs. Myrl Harsh, of Hiram, and Mrs. Adele Fuhrmann, Cleveland.

The funeral was Wednesday at Rutherford Funeral Chapel. Burial was in Union Cmetery.

Requiem Mass Sung Saturday For Sister Bertille

Solemn Requiem Mass was sung in the Convent Chapel of St. Mary of the Springs Saturday, Aug. 20, for Sister M. Bertille Coyle, O.P., St. Mary of the Springs.

She died Wednesday, Aug. 17.

A native of Zanesville, she entered the Dominican Community in 1907 and made her first vows in 1909. For two years she was stationed in New York and New Haven and the rest of her life she taught in Ohio schools. Since 1955 she had been a music teacher at St. Mary's in Marietta.

Interment was in the Community Cemetery by Egan-Ryan Funeral Home.

NICK PRIMAVERA, SR.

Nick (Nicola) Primavera, Sr., 74, of 1076 Beechwood-rd, died Thursday, at St. Anthony's Hospital. He was a retired tailor.

Formerly the operator of the Venetian Gardens Restaurant, E. Main-st, he is survived by his wife, Jessie; sons, Vincent and Nick Primavera; daughter, Mrs. Carmela Powell; nine grandchildren.

The funeral was held Monday at St. John the Baptist Church. Interment was at St. Joseph by John Quint and Sons.

Food Market This Week

by ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Vegetables—Snap beans, sweet corn, tomatoes, potatoes, squash, peppers, lettuce, lima beans.

Fruits—Peaches, cantaloupe, apples.

Meats and Poultry—Fryers, small eggs, chuck roast, ham, rib roast.

IT'S FUN TO MAKE SUMMER SALADS

Of all the dishes you can create to withstand the heat and humidity of summertime, salads are perhaps the most appealing. That holds true whether you're inclined to "three squares" a day, or just go in for "nibbling." The fact is, there's nothing like a salad to tempt a failing appetite during the summer months.

Vegetables—a sure bet for salad uses at this season. Such favorites as . . . tomatoes, green peppers, cabbage, cucumbers, lettuce, tiny red beets, beans and sweet corn . . . are well suited for the purpose. And fortunately, they are all in abundant supply now. Prices are at the low ebb for the year.

Fruit salads can be a real spectacular in eye and appetite appeal. There's a variety for you to use now—rosy red watermelon, cantaloupe, peaches, plums, grapes and many more.

SALAD MAKING IS AN ART

"In no phase of the culinary art is genius so necessary as the compounding of a salad," said a gourmet cookbook popular some 50 years ago. And this rule holds true today.

The important thing is to keep in mind the purpose a salad is to serve. If it's to be the main dish of your luncheon or dinner meal, you'll want to include generous amounts of nutritional protein foods such as meat, fish, poultry, eggs, or cheese, along with salad vegetables. On the other hand, if your salad will serve as an accent to the main course, a crisp wedge of lettuce or a tossed salad with a tasty dressing will be just right.

Whichever purpose a salad is used for it, is sure to make a hit if you just use a little imagination and follow the simple A-B-C's of salad making.

SALAD A-B-C's

- Select ingredients which will combine well in . . . color, flavor and texture.
- Make sure all ingredients are . . . clean, cold and crisp.
- Handle ingredients carefully to avoid bruising or injuring the delicate leaves.
- Be sure ingredients are in pieces of convenient size.
- Combine ingredients just before serving and keep salad well chilled.
- Mix dressing with salad greens just before serving.
- Arrange salad ingredients . . . attractively.

Income Tax Building Condemned -- Again

The little white shack has twice been condemned —still people go on working in it.

Now comes a notice from one city official to another to either make repairs on the building or move out within 30 days.

The building is the one that houses the Whitehall Income Tax Department. The condemnation order was given by Building Inspector A. W. Martin to Safety-Service Director Robert Mickey.

The matter was brought to Martin's attention over a fortnight ago by First Ward Democratic Councilman Richard Hyatt.

At that time, Hyatt requested that the building be inspected with the comment that "I wouldn't be surprised that it should be condemned."

He also recalled a time last winter when, because of the improper heating facilities, "women employes had to wear fur-lined galoshes" while on the job.

Charles Laird, tax commissioner, concurs. "A couple of us had to sit around with boots on and blankets wrapped around our legs with our feet in a box."

He went on to explain that rats infested the place at night.

"But the big thing is, he said, that we could save some money by moving out of here into a bigger office."

Laird pointed out that because of the lack of space for supplies, he has to order his necessary materials in smaller quantities.

"With more space to store supplies," he said, "we could order in larger quantities, thus saving money."

According to Martin, the building has twice been condemned. The white building was once the police headquarters.

After the first condemnation, the building's defects were repaired, according to Martin.

The second condemnation came last week at the council meeting. Martin, in his letter to Mickey, noted such offenses as doors opening the wrong way, bad wiring, etc.

His order stated that repairs to the shack must be made within 30 days or "move out."

Mickey feels that it would take too much to fix the place up. "There's nothing to start with," he said.

LIKE OLD TIMES—Sister Mary Lucille, vice-principal of Bishop Hartley High School, looks on as Klaus Williams and Roswitha Manuel converse in German. Both have spent most of their young lives in a Catholic orphanage near Munich. This year they will be attending Bishop Hartley.

Kids' Summer Hibernation Over—Schools Set To Open

Like members of the animal world creeping from hibernation after a long winter's nap, the next week will see literally thousands of youngsters leaving their swimming pools, ball fields and vacation areas in a mass exodus back to school.

For some it will be the first time. For others it will be the last. But for all, students, teachers and principals, the next few weeks will be a time for adjustment, making new acquaintances and getting back to the idea of school work first.

At Eastmoor Junior-Senior High School, some 1,400 students are expected to assemble on opening day, according to Principal T. H. Mayers, "about the same as last year."

Bexley's Superintendent Dr. E. D. Jarvis is looking for an increase of from 25 to 50 more students in the overall system picture, or an approximate total of 2,566 ex-vacationers.

One of the biggest increases will be at Bishop Hartley High School where Sister Mary Lucille, vice-principal, estimates an enrollment of some 300 more students this year than last. Approximately 750 to 800 youngsters will occupy classrooms opening day, she said.

Another area where a large increase is expected is at Whitehall

Superintendent Robert Crabbs said that his staff and personnel are prepared to take care of 4,850 students, 300 more than the system ended with last year.

Whitehall-Yearling High School Principal Austin Peel anticipates 1,235 Yearling entrants, "99 more than last year."

Both Eastmoor and Whitehall will be using electronic equipment in language laboratories this year. Whitehall's is expected to be ready by the time school starts. Eastmoor's Mayers says that the innovation should be ready some time in the early part of the term.

Eastmoor will also include more classes for the academically inclined, Mayers said, in math, science and English departments.

This past spring, the energetic principal attended a conference on curriculum development at Washington, D. C., where he presented a review on the subjects available at Eastmoor for talented students in the three areas.

Ex-German Orphans Looking Forward To School Year Here

A decade ago, two children were placed in a Catholic orphanage near Munich, Germany.

Today, these two children, 10 years older and a life-time wiser are preparing to start school at Bishop Hartley High School.

For both Roswitha Manuel and Klaus Williams, the decade of the sixties promises to be an auspicious one.

Klaus has been in this country a year. Roswitha not as long. In fact, Klaus was instrumental in bringing his friend to these shores.

Through his father, William Williams, a contact was made, and Roswitha found herself on the way to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sherman Manuel, of 3270 E. Livingston-av. Klaus lives with his family at 1651 Merryhill-dr.

Life in the German orphanage was a pot-pourri of developments, according to the kids.

The orphanage consisted of "about 100 kids," Klaus said, ranging in ages from two to 14.

They used to take long walks, some times as many as 20 miles a day to explore by-ways and interesting villages in the vicinity, Klaus recalled.

It took them a half hour to walk to school.

The orphanage contained six family rooms in which all of the children were housed, with "one sister" in charge of each room, Roswitha said.

Klaus stated that it took him two years to reach this country after he had written a letter declaring his intentions. But with Klaus' help it did not take Roswitha that long.

Both speak English fluently. Klaus spent last year at St. Charles being tutored in the Office Closed Labor Day

In keeping with the thought behind Labor Day, the offices of Hartley Newspapers will close Monday, Sept. 5, to allow the staff members a day of rest before the scurry of fall activities.

Because of the holiday, club reporters and other news contributors are asked to send in their reports as early as possible. All photo appointments must be completed by Saturday noon.

Both classified and display advertising also have stepped up their deadlines and advertisers are urged to place their advertisements at their earliest convenience.

Maxwell To Head For Courts If Bower Doesn't Resign Post

By John Poeppelmeyer

The "is-Bower-in" or "is-Bower-out" situation in opinion-prone Whitehall may be headed for the courts.

Republican City Solicitor James Maxwell is preparing to take on council Democrats single-handedly, if need be, and is prepared to go to court, unless newly seated councilman-at-large Lewis S. Bower resigns.

Backed by an opinion which he sought from a legal firm, Maxwell said this week that he will head for either the State Supreme Court or to the Common Pleas Court "unless Bower relinquishes all claims" to his council post.

To which court Maxwell will take his case depends, he said, under which title he enters his suit.

Bower said Wednesday that he has no thought of resigning and that if the case does go to court he will stick with his decision until the verdict is in.

Maxwell contends that Bower has not been seated legally as a member of the city's legislative body.

For nearly a month now, Maxwell and council Democrats have "had a go at it."

The first spark was ignited at a council meeting when after a two-two-one "tie" vote Council President E. D. Willis threw his weight behind Bower and asserted that an abstaining vote by Solon Robert Garnon gave the majority and the council seat to Bower.

Maxwell has since stated that "two votes do not constitute a majority of a six-man council." Furthermore, when Bower was sworn in, Willis administered the oath. This, Maxwell believes, was also not legal.

Since then, Bower has been sworn in by a notary. And, since then, in opposition to Maxwell's opinion, Willis has maintained that Bower will stay seated.

What gives Maxwell the inclination to head to the courts is a letter he received recently from a noted legal firm: Bricker, Evatt, Barton, Eckler and Niehoff.

Among the questions that Maxwell referred to the firm was one concerning Bower's status, to which the firm has replied.

"Your first question deals with the validity of the election of Mr. Bower . . . and you ask if we concur in your opinion that there is still a vacancy on council.

"It is our opinion that under

Bexley Dems Plan Meeting For Sept. 7

A get-together of the executive committee, chairmen and co-chairmen representing Bexley supporters of the Democratic party is set for Wednesday, Sept. 7, at the Desert Inn, at 8 p.m.

Purpose ofthe meeting is to complete plans for a major Democratic meeting to be staged in Bexley early in October. A nationally prominent Democratic speaker will address the meeting, described by John V. Holden, ward committeeman, as "the first open Democratic meeting ever to convene in Bexley."

The executive committee, headed by Oscar L. Fleckner, has named the following committee chairmen and co-chair-

OPEN HOUSE FESTIVITIES . . .

North American Slates Observance

. . . TO CELEBRATE 10 YEARS HERE

It's all set for a gala get-together at North American Aviation's Columbus division plant.

Come Saturday, Sept. 17, a day-long open house has been scheduled for any and all as part of the plant's observation of its 10 years of being.

Although the Columbus Division has been in action just 10 years, North American Aviation was founded 32 years ago. In 1953, NAA celebrated its 25th anniversary.

An open house program will feature North American Aviation's observation of the tenth anniversary of its Columbus Division.

From 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sept. 17, plant tours will be available and special exhibits will feature North American's plans for the future as well as their accomplishments.

Employees and their families may tour the plant during the morning and the general public during the afternoon. Concerts by the North American Band and Chorus are scheduled for 11 a.m. and 1.30 p.m.

Ample free parking space is available at the company's plant on 4300 E. Fifth-av. Tour routes through the plant and to the exhibits will be set up to guide visitors.

Special displays will be set up, centering around Building 5, and illustrating the theme of the program "North American is at work in the fields of the future."

No cameras are permitted on the plant grounds because of government security regulations. But the accomplishments of the past, the plans of the present and the visions of the future will be on display.

Airplanes built during the last 10 years at the North American Plan will be parked outside Building 5.

Inside the building scale models of systems and projects originated or perfected at the local plant will be shown.

This will be the second family day open house program of this kind since the opening of the Columbus Division Plant of North American 10 years ago.

The Columbus plant, which at

Bexley Man In Extra-Curricular Job As 'Doctor' Of Reading Ills

A tachistoscope is an instrument employed in projecting figures on a screen for less than one-fifth of a second.

Fred W. Shafer, of 50 N. Cassingham-rd, Bexley, uses such an apparatus in his work. Shafer is, what he terms, a "reading diagnostician."

As such his work, outside of teaching school at Maryland Elementary, consists of aiding above average students with reading problems.

Some of his students come from as far away as 65 miles, he related.

Shafer has been at this activity for the past three years. Included in his background is a master's degree in education from Bowling Green State University, a bachelor of science from Ohio State University, and specialized graduate work in reading.

He continues his diagnostic work all year long, during the summer, after school during the usual nine months and on week ends. He generally takes only one pupil at a time except in cases of twins, and his students number seven a day.

He points out that he has a "long waiting list."

Basically, Shafer's work centers around providing a series of tests to determine the "instructional level" of teaching students how to read.

His proteges come in all shapes and sizes and so do their reading peculiarities.

Shafer points out that some have a tendency to reverse words, i.e., interpreting the word "saw" as "was." Others drop off the first parts of a long word, or the middle, or the ending.

His job is to diagnose the trouble, and he does so with a steady degree of "a job well done" results.

Employed in the testing procedure are non-verbal IQ exams, achievement test, an oral clinical exam and the tachistoscope.

"The 'scope is employed," he says, "to flash a series of numbers or symbols on a screen at a fast rate, around 1/125 of a second." Students are asked to recall what they have seen.

For instance, if three numbers appear on the screen, such as 235, but the student can only recall the 2 and the 3, then Shafer can predicatably surmise that the pupil has trouble with the last syllables of words.

From the results of these tests, he goes to work on the instructional level of the students. "First, I attempt to find

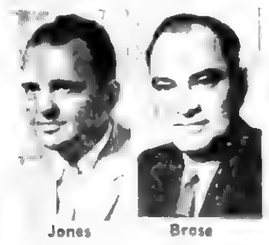
MOTORIST SHOULD WATCH FOR KIDS

With the opening of school upon us motorists are reminded that the primary responsibility for safety rests in their hands.

Youngsters, seldom sufficiently aware of traffic dangers, take unnecessary chances in crossing the street. It's up to the motorist to watch out for them. Many are just learning the fundamentals of traffic safety.

Deaths among school children account for 15 per cent of all pedestrains killed. They come to school on foot, by bike and by bus.



Motorists, who should represent mature conscientious adults, ought to recognize their responsibility by looking out for the kids.

Hospital Administrator Named Division Deputy

Frederick J. Zuber

Frederick J. Zuber, 777 S. Hampton-rd, who has been the hospital administrator at Columbus State Hospital since Oct. 1, 1956 has accepted a position in the downtown office of the Division of Mental Hygiene.

He will become deputy assistant to State Commissioner of Mental Hygiene Dr. Henry Luidens. Appointed to take Zuber's place at the hospital Sept. 16 is Rodger Mendenhall, who has been administrator of the Woodside Receiving Hospital, Youngstown.

Zuber and his wife, Eileen, were guests of honor when a group of more than 30, including state hospital department heads, entertained at a cook-out at Maxine Lake, Aug. 28. A fishing reel was presented to him by his co-workers.

Widely known as "Jack" to his friends, Zuber is a native of Columbus and attended St. Catharine's and St. Charles Borromeo schools. He was graduated from Ohio University and received his masters degree in hospital administration from St. Louis University in 1953.

He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Toastmasters International, Columbus Federation, and American College of Hospital Administrators. He is also past secretary of the advisory board of St. Anthony Hospital and was recruitment chairman of the Fairfield County American Red Cross blood program.

ARABESQUE® BRA
VARIATION® HIGH TOP GIRDLE

ARABESQUE®
Here's a little dream designed with French fashion clearly in mind! The cups are embroidered in a lovely floral pattern. Circular stitching and spoke stitching keeps you in beautiful shape. Bias-cut insert between cups for superb separation. For unusual flexibility... under-the-cup broadcloth bands join with center elastic. And the price... just 2.50 White all cotton broadcloth. A, B, and C cups.

VARIATION®
Airy light, comfortably cool and absolutely seamless. What a difference Variation High Top makes! Its waist cinching band rises to the occasion and snugs into the tiniest waist ever. Tapers and tames so gently... so smoothly. High Top washes like a dream, right in the washing machine. Girdle and pantie styles, S, M and L only 3.95

The new padded bra at the pleasantest possible price! You'll be much admired in Much Ado... Smooth and supple foam rubber padding shapes you to fashion's new silhouette... with rounded curves that look like nature's own. Cups are embroidered above, V-stitched below... and the whole bra is topped off with lace! A and B cups, in white cotton broadcloth. It's yours for only 2.00!

leads the fashion parade with fashion-wise
VARIATION®

GIRDLE
It's a smooth, uninterrupted you in this light little Variation girdle ...spun all around of smooth uninterrupted power net (no, there's not a single seam). You have to feel its kitten-soft inside, its smooth-as-silk outside... actually try it on to realize what a dreamy little girdle Variation is. And, Variation's cool, airy knit stretches to just the right proportion.
Girdle and pantie styles, S, M and L, only 2.95

HIGH TOP
Airy light, comfortably cool and absolutely seamless. What a difference Variation High Top makes! Its waist cinching band rises to the occasion and snugs into the tiniest waist ever. Tapers and tames so gently... so smoothly. And, like all Variation styles, High Top washes like a dream, right in the washing machine. Girdle and pantie styles, S, M and L only $3.95

Nickel Value At Norwood

Mom and Dad!

You can help the youngsters chase those back-to-school blues away by taking the entire family to Norwood Amusement Park 2025 E. Main-st, for the summer-ending Nickle Day celebration being sponsored by Hartley Newspapers.

Norwood is planning one final blast for the summer season over the Labor Day weekend, then will return to weekend operation after the kids go back to school Sept. 7.

The Nickel Day slated for Saturday, Sept. 10, will probably be the biggest celebration of Norwood's 19th successful season at the popular E. Main-st amusement spot on the banks of Alum Creek.

Thousands of Hartley Readers visited the park during last year's event, and even more are anticipated for this year's program.

Rememeber, plan now to visit Norwood Park from 1 to 11 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 10, as guests of Hartley Newspapers.

Hilltop Record, West Rural-Urban News, Southeast Rural-Urban News, West Side News, South Side Leader, Eastern Review and Reynoldsburg Record.

Each and every one of Hartley's 70,000 family readers is welcome to spend the day at Norwood where you can get a nickel's value for nickel spent, somewhat of a rarity in these days of inflation.

Genial Jaames P. Kenny, retired New York Central railroad engineer, will again be at the throttle of the now-famous kiddie train that chug chugs around the park grounds.

In addition to the kiddie train, Norwood offers a menu that can satisfy the entertainment appetite of kids of all ages. There's the giant ferris wheel, sky ride, dodgems, caterpillar and a special selection of rides, including the flying saucer, for the tiny tots.

For those who prefer to keep both feet firmly planted on the ground, Norwood offers a beautiful miniature golf course that's second to none in Central Ohio.

Mark the date on your calendar today and plan to bring mom and the kids to Norwood Park, 2025 E. Main-st, on Saturday, Sept. 10, for a day of exciting thrills and chills.

DOG GROOMER—Tom Glassford, groomer at the Poodle and Pooch, 3724 E. Town and Country-rd, Town and Country Shopping Center, is seen holding one of his patrons at the newly opened shop. The salon will handle dog perfumes, fancy collars and toys. All breeds of dogs will be bathed, trimmed, stripped and beautified.

New Dog Grooming Salon Opens Its Doors At Bexley

A new grooming salon for all breeds of dogs opened its doors Saturday.

The Poodle and Pooch, 3724 E. Town and Country-rd, East Town and Country Shopping Center, will be under the direction of Tom Crowe, American Kennel Club licensed professional handler and poodle specialist.

The salon will handle dog perfumes, fancy collars, toys and beds. All breeds of dogs will be bathed, trimmed, stripped and beautified.

Crowe is nationally known as a poodle specialist, having taken top honors in shows over the entire United States. He recently handled a black miniature poodle to Best in Show at the Columbus All-Breed Dog Show.

Handling the grooming of the dogs will be Tom Glassford. He has been associated with Crowe for the past several years as an assistant handler and kennel manager at Blackbird Kennels in Warren. As a youngster, Glassford won national honors in junior showmanship for grooming and showing his won dogs in shows over the United States.

Shoe Store Opening Set For Thursday

A three-day housewarming celebration of the opening of the new Evans and Schwartz Shoe Store in the Great Eastern Shopping Center, 862 S. Hamilton-rd, gets under way Thursday, Sept. 1.

From its beginning in 1888, the successful chain has branched out from 479 N. High-st with stores at 2468 E. Main-st in Bexley, 5041 N. High-st in the Graceland Shopping Center and 107 N. Main-st in Marysville.

The Evans and Schwartz group follows a consistent pattern of keeping their stores modern in appearance and function. Since they are family stores, the plans usually includes separate departments for men, women, children and teenagers.

Although known for featuring arch-type and prescription shoes, Evans and Schwartz stores also carry a full line of regular type footwear, including nationally known brands.

Door prizes and souvenirs will be passed out during the housewarming with everyone invited to stop and see the new shoe salon.

Nature Walks Slated

A new series of autumn nature walks in the metropolitan parks begins Sunday, Sept. 18.

Walks will be scheduled simultaneously in three parks, Blacklick Woods, Blendon Woods and Darby Creek.

Groups meet at 2:30 p.m. at the Trading Posts in each park. Tours will be conducted by park naturalists and guest leaders.

Funeral Rites Held Monday

Funeral services were held Monday for Dr. Casper Benson, 79, of 2175 E. Broad-st, who died Friday afternoon at Grant Hospital.

He was graduated from the Ohio Medical University in 1904 and has served 14 years as professor of clinical medicine at Ohio State University.

Dr. Benson was also a member of many medical and fraternal associations, including the Columbus Medical Academy, Ohio State Medical Association, American Medical Association, National Tuberculosis Society and American College of Physicians. In addition, he was a member of the Columbus Country Club, Executive Club, Masons, Shriners and the Columbus Commandery.

Surviving are his wife, Cora R.; son, John and four grandchildren.

Service was held Monday at the Schoedinger State Street Chapel. Interment at Green Lawn Cemetery.

Five Attendants Precede Lois Carsey To Altar In Saturday's Ceremony

MRS. DEAN EDWARD DI NUCCI

Miss Lois Arlene Carsey and Mr. Dean Edward DiNucci repeated their marriage vows Saturday, Aug. 27, 7:30 p.m., at Brookwood Presbyterian Church. Rev. Keith Conning read the double-ring wedding service at 7:30 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Carsey, 1312 Zettler-rd, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DiNucci, 476 Napoleon-av.

The bridal gown of imported chantilly lace was designed with a basque vee bodice, scalloped sabrina neckline strewn with seed pearls and iridescent paillettes and long, tapering sleeves. The bouffant skirt of alternating tiers of lace and pleated tulle extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade of white feathered carnations centered with pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Torence Carsey served as matron of honor for her sister-in-law. Bridesmatrons were Mrs. Ernest Gary, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Richard Papai. Miss Susan DiNucci, also a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Snyder were bridesmaids.

They were identically gowned in aqua lace over taffeta gowns, styled with fitted torsos, sabrina necklines, brief sleeves and bouffant skirts accented with satin bows. They wore matching hairbraid crowns with pearl motifs and circular veils.

The honor attendant carried a cascade of pink and white feathered carnations and the others carried bouquets of pale pink feathered carnations.

Bamy Lyn Gary, niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl. She wore a white nylon organdy frock with small flower appliques at the hemline and carried a miniature bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Ernest Gary served as best man for his brother-in-law and guests were seated by Mr. Torrence Carsey, brother of the bride; Mr. William Jagerski, Mr. Joe DeCarlo and Mr. Terrance Welch.

Wayne Allen Carsey, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Carsey chose for her daughter's wedding a sheath dress of dusty rose lace over taffeta, matching velvet hat, white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise organza tunic gown with lace trim on bodice and overskirt, and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Hostesses for the reception held at the church were Mrs. John Schlicter and Mrs. Robert Freedman.

The new Mrs. DiNucci was graduated from Bexley High School and is employed at North American Aviation Co. and J. C. Penney Co. Mr. DiNucci attended East High School, served two years in the U.S. Army and is employed by Shell Oil Co.

Following a trip to Virginia Beach and Williamsburg the couple will be at home at 94 Fairway-blvd, Apt. H, after Sept. 4.

Capital Names New Chaplain; 14 Other Appointments Made

Fifteen new members will join the faculty and administration of Capital University at the start of the 1960-61 school year, Dr. Harold L. Yochum, president, announced last week.

Rev. Howard Wilson, a graduate of Capital University and the Evangelical Lutheran Theological seminary, was appointed chaplain and will be an instructor in religion. He will replace Professor David Owens who served as the university's chaplain for 13 years. Professor Owens will take over as head of the English department.

A former Capital faculty member, Dr. William Young, will return to the campus as a part-time professor of English. After Jan. 1, Dr. Young will be assistant to President Yochum in the area of research.

A Capital University graduate, Dr. Young has served as executive secretary of the Board of Higher Education of the American Lutheran Church since 1946.

Other new faculty members at Capital University are Dr. Charles Oestreich, chemistry instructor; Keith Young, economics; H. Richard Wood, physics; Mrs. Patricia Adams, physical education; Charles S. Wehrer, Jr., education; Mrs. Elaine Oleska, piano; William H. Bonner, business education, and Richard Dargatz and Eugene Fogt, 1957 Capital graduates, part-time instructors in religion.

Stephen Lacey will serve part-time as a cello instructor at the Conservatory of Music. A former instructor at Capital, Lacey will also teach part-time at Denison University.

Joining Capital University's administration staff are Mrs. Rita Martin, treasurer's office, and Willard Books, director of public information.

Mrs. Marie Meyer, a head resident at Ohio State University for seven years and a past head resident of the Univeristy of California, will join the staff as a housemother.

New Elementary School, Addition To House Increase In Area Pupils

By Betty Daft

An estimated 83,500 youngsters will answer school bells in the city next Wednesday morning, swelling last year's enrollment by more than 3,500.

Low birth rates of World War II are reflected this year with a drop in high school registrations—500 under last September. However, a sharp upsurge in the number of new elementary students accounts for a total increase in city school population for the 13th consecutive year.

Elementary school doors will open Sept. 7, 8:30 a.m., and the tardy bell will ring at 9. Junior and senior highs will open at 8:15, with the tardy bell sounding at 8:45.

All pupils will be dismissed at noon on the first day.

First full day of classes for all grades, one through 12, will be Thursday, Sept. 8. Cafeterias will be in full operation.

Kindergarten pupils will report for the first time Monday, Sept. 12.

School buses equipped with loud speakers will travel their usual routes Wednesday and Thursday, announcing their schedule for picking up students on school days.

Evening school classes will also begin operation on Sept. 12, with evening high sessions held at Central High School and Champion Evening School at Champion Junior High.

Registration for adult vocational and trade extension classes is scheduled Wednesday, Sept. 14, 7 to 8 p.m. at Central High.

Among the seven new buildings joining the city system in Hartley Newspapers areas are Eakin Elementary, 3774 Eakin-rd, with a capacity of 330 students and costing $259,891.

Leawood Elementary, 1677 Hamilton-rd, 627 students, $376,804; Kent Elementary, 1414 Gault-st, 297 pupils, $216,190, and Parsons Elementary, 3231 Lee Ellen-pl, 396 pupils, $301,731.

In addition, classrooms have been added to three existing elementaries.

They are, Pinecrest Elementary, 4025 E. Astor-av, 12 classrooms, $226,800; Lindbergh Elementary, 2541 Lindbergh-dr, six classrooms and multi-purpose room, $145,115, and Livingston Elementary, 825 Livingston-av, three classrooms, $35,000.

Also scheduled for completion is a major remodeling project at South High School totaling $191,362, and minor remodeling projects at Reeb Elementary, $15,144; Main Street, $19,700 and Fulton Elementary, $13,278.

A language laboratory has been installed at Central High School in another improvement development.

Instructional improvements for the school system include 50,000 new textbooks, new filmstrips and 16 mm. films for audio-visual laboratories, and 10 phonics charts for use in elementary school reading.

Nine new program series will be broadcast over the school system's FM broadcasting station for instruction in languages, science and literature at varying grade levels.

Televised lessons in seven subjects will be broadcast again this year, with instruction in three other courses added.

Annual pre-opening conference for teachers will be held at Mershon Auditorium, Ohio State University Thursday, Sept. 1. Opening session is planned at 9:15 to 11:30 a.m., a special film at 12:45 p.m. and the second session, 1:15 to 3:30 p.m.

Orientation program for new teachers is scheduled Friday, Sept. 2 at the Seneca Hotel. Breakfast at 7:30 a.m. will be followed by the general session, 8:10 to 10 a.m. Specialized activities at each school are planned from 10:45 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Teachers will attend the superintendent's convocation at Veterans Memorial Building Tuesday, Sept. 6, 10 a.m., and report to their respective schools after lunch.

Offices of all schools are now open to register kindergarten and first grade pupils who did not register last spring, to enroll students new to the Columbus Public Schools and to serve those who have moved from one school district to another within the city.

NEW LEAWOOD ELEMENTARY

Catholic Schools Open Next Week

Parochial schools in the Columbus Diocese will admit 20,500 students in the metropolitan area alone next week. Elementaries will open Wednesday, Sept. 7 and high schools, Sept. 8.

The registration figure is an increase of from 1100 to 1400 over last year.

Two new elementary schools in Hartley Newspapers' areas, opening for the first time this fall are St. Pius X in Reynoldsburg, enrolling grades one through three and Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Grove City, grades one through four.

Elmer-st Man Fair After Auto Accident

Frank G. Moore, 75, of 1645 Elmer-st, was reported in fair condition in St. Anthony's Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car collision on Main at Bernhard-rd.

The driver of the other car, Miss Barbara Clark, 22, of 874 Carpenter-st, told Whitehall police that the head-on collision occurred when Moore's car crossed the center line into her traffic lane.

Miss Clark and a passenger in her car, Miss Barbara Snow, 24, who also lives at 874 Carpenter-st, suffered minor injuries.

Discussions On Hearing, Speech Set

Newly - organized Parents Organization of the Hearing and Speech Center will begin an informative series on hearing and speech-handicapped children, Wednesday, Sept. 7.

All programs beginning at 8 p.m. will be held at the center, 209 S. High-st. Other dates are Oct. 5, Nov. 2 and Dec. 7. Experts in the two fields will deliver the lectures and lead panels.

Parents and friends of the deaf and speech-handicapped are invited to register for the series before Aug. 31 with Mrs. Dale Hoppert, at the above address.

Parochial Curriculum Expanded

Columbus parochial schools may be tough, as many critics contend, but from the looks of things, they're going to be even tougher this year.

Reports say that French will be taught, on an experimental level, in Holy Spirit, Christ the King and St. James the Less elementary schools. This course will be given to third graders.

A general overall "beefing" of the curriculum will also prevail, according to results from a recent pre-school convention held at St. Mary of the Springs.

News from the convention also tells of new curriculum devices that the Diocese would like to try, but is not quite sure how they will develop.

The new addition of Christ the King School will also be open in time for this year, it was revealed last Wednesday.

Columbus Diocesan officials expect 20,500 parochial pupils to enroll this year in the metropolitan area alone. Parochial elementaries will open Sept. 7 and parochial high schools on Sept. 8.

This is an 1,100 to 1,400-pupil increase over last year, Msgr. Bennett Applegate, diocesan superintendent, said.

Two new elementary schools will open; St. Pius X in Reynoldsburg and Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Grove City. St. Pius will house grades one through three and Our Lady grades one through four.

Armand Abel Funeral Rites Held Monday

Services were held Monday for Armand H. Abel, 54, of 2760 Bryden-rd, who died unexpectedly in White Cross Hospital Saturday morning.

He was a co-founder and executive vice-president of the Abel Corp., 80 E. Chestnut-st., national distributors of Abel Lable tires and auto supplies.

Abel was active with the United Appeal fund campaigns and the United Jewish Fund Council for many years. He was also a member of the Quarter Century Club of the Automotive Trade Association, Columbus Chamber of Commerce, Winding Hollow Country Club, Temple Israel and Pi Lamba Phi Fraternity

Surviving are his wife, Gladys; son, Fred; daughter, Mrs. Alan Morris, and brother, Richard J. Abel.

Service was conducted by Dr. Jerome Folkman at Temple Israel Monday. Interment was held in Green Lawn Cemetery.

Joseph Bender Funeral Service Held Wednesday

Joseph Bender, 77, of 1079 S. Cassingham-rd, died Monday in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

He was ine of the first used car operators in the Columbus

He was one of the first used lot at 1701 E. Main-st.

Bender was a member of the K. of C., and the Holy Name Society of Christ the King Church.

Surviving are his wife, Marie; three sisters, Mrs. Carolyn Frey, Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Carl Sachs, and a brother, David.

Service was held Wednesday in Christ the King Catholic Church with burial in St. Joseph Cemetery by Egan-Ryan Funeral Home

Art Student's Work Featured At Whitehall Branch Library

A 40-piece showing in variety of media by a 19-year-old art student currently featured at the Whitehall Library, 4371 E. Broad-st, will be on display through Sept. 30.

The exhibit marks the 14th public showing by Brenda Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Robinson of 2187 Dartmouth-av. Miss Robinson, a part-time assistant in the children's department of the Main Library, has been attending the Columbus College of Art and Design since 1957 but will transfer to an art education curriculum at Ohio State University this fall.

Included in the branch library exhibit are portraits, still lifes, animals, designs and children's illustrations. Media represented include oil and watercolor, charcoal, pen and ink, pencil, etchings and prints.

Miss Robinson earned a first place ribbon in graphics at the Ohio State Fair last year and a second place ribbon in graphics and a third place ribbon in oil painting in 1958. A sculpture and a painting have been accepted for display at the 1960 fair.

Former Charity, Relief Employes Plan Picnic

First reunion and picnic of former employes of the Columbus Division of Public Charities and Franklin County Relief Administration, from February, 1934 to Octoberm, 1943, will be held at Westgate Park, Sunday, Oct. 2.

You never know until you try...

You never really know what you can do until you try. No one ever whacked a ball without trying. Or hemmed a skirt. Or painted a picture.

Many people never even try.

It's that way with Faith, too. Many people never try to find it—by opening their eyes and ears, their hearts, their minds.

So they never learn the courage, the dignity, the hope that come with Faith.

But aren't these things worth a try? The first step is so easy: visit your Church or Synagogue this week. You can be sure you are always welcome.

out what reading level the student is at now." Then he is pressured to read at his top rate, or "ceiling level."

"Between the two is the instructional level," Shafer explains.

During his diagnostic testing, Shafer checks for errors in reading, words or parts of words omitted, how well words work together or if trouble arises over isolated words.

"Some students," he says, "cannot tell the word "man" when it is standing alone. Others have trouble coordinating words into a workable sentence."

"It must be remembered," he points out, "that there is no reading without comprehension."

During his program, he tests and re-tests constantly, trying to pinpoint and to guide the students in their reading.

"Reading is getting to be a "science in itself," he declares. "It once was when a student could fool a teacher by looking at pictures on a page and coming reasonably close to the thought of the page."

Pictures are a pleasure to look at, it is true. But with the methods and the patience employed by men like Fred W. Shafer, of Bexley, reading becomes more than a pleasure. It becomes a rewarding experience.

And it is sure that this reading diagnostician would be the first to agree.

language.

Roswitha studied English at Ohio State University, she said.

Both like Columbus, expressing themselves with the thought "that it is not too big."

When Klaus arrived in New York, his father met him and on the drive to Columbus he was able to take in a bit of the country.

This past summer, Roswitha took a week's boat trip to spots that included Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Both think that the other cities are "too big."

way for six years, he pointed out, "one year before "Sputnik" was launched.

At Bexley, the size of the English classes has been "cut down," Jarvis reported.

Teachers will now have to handle between 100 and 110 students a day. The reason, he stated, is to allow more written work to be completed, as well as giving teachers more time to correct it.

French via television listings will be taught from the fourth grade up.

Dr. Jarvis said that the high school will probably contain around 760 students and the elementaries, from Kindergarten to eighth grade, will house approximately 1,760.

Bishop Hartley doors will open to freshmen and sophomores Sept. 8 and to upper classmen Sept. 9, according to Sister Mary Lucille. The first full day of school, however, will be conducted Sept. 12, she said.

Included in this year's curriculum expansion are the completion of the business department, a four-year course in science, including physics, chemistry, advanced biology and more courses in the art department.

Four years of Latin will be offered, along with three years in Spanish and French. Classes in journalism and speech are also planned, she said.

One important item: this year's seniors will be Bishop Hartley's first graduating class.

At Whitehall, only three churches will be utilized for kindergarten classes this year, Crabbs said, compared to five last year. Classes will be conducted at Norton Church of Christ, the Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Faith Lutheran Church, with approximately 300 students occupying the facilities.

All kindergartens will be under the supervision of Robert Roshawan, assistant principal at East Broad Street Elementary.

Crabbs is hoping, from advanced indications, that the teacher-pupil ratio in all schools will approach the norm of 30 students per teacher. "It has been as high as 33 to 1," he explained.

A unified social studies program will be introduced in grades three to seven, the superintendent pointed out. The school board recently adopted a series of texts that will permit continuity and uniformity of subject matter as pupils move up through the grades, Crabbs said.

At Rosemore Junior High, an experiment in lunch prices is being tried, he said. Tickets for five meals at a rate of $1.35 will be offered. This is an overall savings of 15 cents for five lunches, Crabbs stated.

If successful, he pointed out, the idea will be expanded to the other school lunch programs in the district.

the rules of the Whitehall City Council Mr. Bower was not duly elected and there is still a with it corporate headquarters vacancy."

Meanwhile, Willis has related that he too will have an opinion from a "noteworthy" legal firm which he has promised to reveal by Sept. 6. Who the firm is only Willis apparently knows and he is not telling.

In addition, Whitehall Auditor Walter Helber last week said that he had an "unofficial" opinion from the state auditor's office stating that Bower is on council until proven otherwise. Helber said that he is awaiting an official opinion from the Attorney General's office.

According to Maxwell, three paths are open along which he could travel to bring the matter to court:

Quo Warranto (by what right does a person hold a claim to office; by mandamus action (by keeping the auditor from paying a salary); and by action for a declaratory judgment (not being able to render a decision on council status).

The first two, Maxwell said, would go to the Supreme Court, the last one to the Common Pleas Court.

present has approximately 9,000 employees, is producing the carrier-based A3J Vigilante, a Navy attack bomber capable of carrying nuclear weapons at twice the speed of sound, and the T2J Buckeye, an all-purpose jet trainer, also used by the Navy.

At present tooling-up procedures are under way for the fabrication of a 600-foot antenna for the Naval Research Laboratory's radio-telescope at Sugar Grove, W. Va. This instrument will be used in radio-astronomy, probing the frontiers of space farther than any telescope now in use.

Work will also begin on a high or low level supersonic target missile for the U.S. Army.

Jewish Pre-Schools Resume Sept. 11, 12

Pre-schools for children of the Jewish faith will be conducted again this year by Agudas Achim congregation and the Jewish Center.

The Agudas Achim religious school will open at 10 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 11, according to Phillip Waldman, congregation president.

The program is centered about the Sabbath, holidays, customs and history of the Jewish people. A staff of experienced teachers will carry out the instructions under the supervision of Irving Stern, Agudas Achim director of education, Waldman said.

Grade and room assignments will be sent to all students who attended last semester. Parents may enroll new students by calling the school office, BE. 1-2747.

Monday, Sept. 12, at 9 a.m. was set as the opening date of the new school year for members of the Jewish Center. Now entering its 10th year, the preschool has a record high enrollment this fall. Mrs. A. R. Schwart, director, reported that transfers and changes in family plans have brought about the first entirely new faculty in several years.

Present schedules call for four sessions in the morning for children three and four years of age and two groups in the afternoon for those aged four and five.

Persons who want more information should contact the office staff between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. The phone number is BE. 1-2731.

Serving on the Jewish Center pre-school committee are Robert Aronson, chairman; Dr. S. D. Edelman, Marvin Glassman, David Goldsmith, Allen Gundersheimer, Jr., Mrs. Seymour Luckoff, Mrs. Robert Levy, Morris Mattlin, Morris Mendel, Richard Neustadt, Mrs. Walter Robinson, David Roth, Mrs Isadore Rosenwasser, Harry Califf, Mrs. Albert Glick, Sam Schwartz, Mrs. Howard Schoenbaum, Dr. Burton Berk, Herbert Gordon, Arthur Meizlish and Mrs. Allan Mickler.

Student And Parent Topics On Back To School Series

With the opening of school just around the corner, the "Back To School' series will incorporate entire live programs, interviews, air announcements, and many other special features pointed at young students and their parents to help facilitate the event.

Many local civic organizations are assisting in this third year of Channel 4's award winning public service venture.

The Ohio Education Association will cooperate on the telecast "BTS 1960" Sunday, Sept. 4 at 12:45 p.m.; the Columbus Board of Education on "Morning Mirror" Wednesday, Sept. 7; and the Columbus Area Council of Churches with "Five Minutes To Live By" during the week of Sept. 5 at 8:25 a.m.

Special interviews on the subjects of immunization, nutrition, poison prevention, physical and dental check-ups, hearing, vision and safety going to and from school are being arranged by the Columbus Health Department and the Columbus Auto Club.

The interviews will be scheduled every morning in "Playhouse" at 10:15 a.m. and every afternoon in "Gold Cup Matinee." Channel 4's Stan Robinson is coordinating the series, and will host most of the live programs and conduct most of the interviews.

"Jimmy Crum Sports" at 11:15 p.m. on both weekends of Sept. 3 and 4 and 10 and 11 will spotlight football previews with pictures and guests.

Last year's city champs, Eastmoor High School, will be seen in filmed action on Saturday, Sept. 3, while Marion Harding High School workouts will be shown on film on Sunday, Sept. 4.

The Summer Olympics being held in Rome are still underway. Channel 10 has scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 1, at 7:30 p.m. the Men's 400 meter hurdles heats, 100 meter dash heats, 88 meter run heats, shot put finals, ladies' broad jump finals, ladies' 80 meter hurdle semifinals and men's 5000 meter run heats.

Events scheduled for Friday, Sept. 2 at 8:30 includes the ladies' javelin finals, men's high jump finals, ladies' 800 meter hurdle finals, men's 100 meter dash finals, boxing quarter-finals and the basketball semi-finals. A telecast the same night at 11:15 will have the men's 400 meter relay finals, ladies 100 meter backstroke finals, ladies' 400 meter freestyle finals and men's 800 meter relay finals.

At 12 noon Saturday, Sept. 3, the men's diving finals, water polo finals, ladies' 100 meter dash semi-finals and finals, ladies' shot put finals, men's broad jump finals, men's team foils finals and basketball semi finals will be telecast.

In the evening at 8:30 on the same night the men's 200 meter Butterfly finals, ladies' 400 meter relay finals, men's 1500 meter freestyle heats, water polo finals, basketball semi-finals and boxing quarter finals are scheduled.

Society Slates Trip To Niagara

A weekend tour to Niagara Falls and historic Old Fort Niagara at Youngstown, N.Y., will be conducted by the Franklin County Historical Society the weekend of Sept. 17 and 18.

Air conditioned buses will depart from the Greyhound terminal at 7 a.m., Saturday. It will be a field day for camera fans.

Price of the tour is $35 to adults and $30 to children under 14. Price includes round-trip bus fare, bridge tolls, admission to old Fort Niagara and two dinners.

For reservations (deadline Sept. 14) or more information, call CA. 1-7487 weekdays. Evenings and weekends call HU. 6-3228 or AX. 4-1027.

Autumn's Splendid Pastime Rings In Anew Next Week

By JOHN POEPPELMEYER

While rockets rattle and dictators are condemned on foreign fronts, here in Columbus, Ohio, USA, attention is being turned to the wars to be fought on the battlefield that is a gridiron.

It won't be rockets sniping through the air, it will be footballs. And the only dictating will be that imposed by the discipline of training.

Two of last year's champion elevens, the Central Buckeye League's Rams from Whitehall, and the City loop's Warriors from Eastmoor will be seeking to repeat.

Roaring Lions from the Bexley clan hope to improve over last season's 3-6 mark.

While at Bishop Hartley, new coach John Murphy, who, in his own words, has never suffered a losing season, girds to bring the winless Hawks its first win, and many more.

The fun, the frolic, the disappointments the hysteria of autumn's splendid pastime has yet to begin. And until it does every schedule is a winning one and every team is a champion.

EASTMOOR'S STUART

WHITEHALL'S BLINE

BEXLEY'S TENWALDE

HARTLEY'S MURPHY

ENCORE AT WHITEHALL?

'No Predictions For Season'

You won't get any predictions as to how the Whitehall Rams will fare in the CBL this year from coach Jim Bline.

He will tell you that he is looking forward to "an interesting season in a well-balanced league."

He'll also tell you that he expects Mt. Veron, Worthington, Arlington and Urbana to be tough. And he'll add that "anybody is capable" of running off with the loop diadem.

But as to the football fortunes of the forces of Whitehall, he merely points out that "we lost 10 men from a championship squad (that won 6, tied 3 and lost none) and that the Rams are a "little thin" in the depth and speed departments.

He has his contingent rocking dummies and battering helmets from 8:30 to 10:30 and from 2:30 to 4:30.

Bline feels that it was his defense that won the loop diadem last year and he is hoping that it comes through again.

The enegetic young coach is starting his sixth as the Ram shepherd.

Behind him are assistant coaches Phil Allen, Pat McMillin, Ted Georgeff, John Peters, Dick Kane and Jerry Case.

Behind them are co-captains Don Justice, a tackle, and Bill Gornall, a center.

And backing them up are over 40 lads, 11 of them lettermen, who are not anxious to see that glittering crown slip away from them.

Their chance to get a peek at the first gem comes at Westerville Friday, Sept. 9.

LIONS ROAR CRY:

'Right Last Year's Wrongs'

Bexley mentor Ben Tenwalde, starting his fourth season at the head of the Lion contingent, has half an eye cocked toward last year's miserable start and the other one on a half-focused on the coming campaign.

"We'd have made out all right, I believe, during last year's early games if we had been able to hold out to the end. As a result, we lost and the boys' morale tumbled."

Tenwalde has his Lions up and charging at 7:30 a.m. practices and again at 5 in the evening. He is hoping to improve, not only over last season's mark but on his overall 17-10 record.

He looks for more backfield speed and is depending upon the reliance of nine experienced lettermen.

Tenwalde contends that the "kids we've got right now are as good as the ones we had last year." He admits that he may have a few bad spots to fill.

Among the returning Lions are four backfieldmen: Jerry Mechling at quarter; Jerry Durham at full; Chris Tistouris at full, and Terry Lane at half.

Some 72 boys turned out in practice togs, but Tenwalde expects to pare the list to around 40, he said.

In the CBL, which he pictures as a well-balanced league, he picks Mt. Vernon for the top slot with Worthington, Arlington, and Whitehall ready to take over if the Jackets fall.

Co-captains this year are guard Dave Helmick and tackle Bill Goldberg.

Tenwalde's assistants are Dana Swinehart, Russ Owen, Chuck Kessler and Curt Tong.

Bexley's first chance to undo last year's early season wrongs: next Friday night, Sept. 9 at Logan.

AT THE HAWKS' AERIE

'A Need For Fundamentals'

John Murphy, of Bishop Hartley's loss prone legions is looking forward—to what, he as yet doesn't know.

One thing he is happiest about is that his boys will play their first five games at home—on a new athletic field.

Murphy's uncertainty stems from the hold overs of last year's team, who failed to garner a single victory (0 and 9 they were), and from the fact that this will be the first year that the Hawks will field some seniors.

Murphy will start his 18th year as a gridiron mentor with the knowledge that he has yet to have a losing season. Last year he coached at Watterson.

Some 48 stalwarts turned out for opening practice. Of these, 14 earned letters last year.

"It's really too early to tell how things will stack up," he declared.

"The boys need fundamentals badly and that's what we are concentrating on." He terms Watterson and St. Charles the teams to watch for.

The boys practice from 9:30 to 11:30 and from 1:30 to 3:30. He believes, he says, in keeping the boys together as long as possible during the season in order to build a sort of "esprit de corps."

He bases his football philosophy on the fact that an undefeated season he had a few years back, when he coached in in the East, came about after the practice part of the season was spent at a camp, away from any outside inducements.

Three captains have been designated to carry the leaders' load this year: halfbacks Mike Hanf and Buddy Thomas and guard Ronnie Glass.

The only thing that Murphy cannot bemoan, is that since this is the high school's first year with a senior class, the team suffered no losses through graduation.

The road to the Hawks first winning season starts next Saturday when they host Big Walnut.

WILL WARRIORS REPEAT?

'It'll Be A Building Year'

Champion Eastmoor's coach Bob Stuart would like to be able to pick up the City League laurels again, but maintains a realistic attitude toward the possibility of doing so.

"It'll be a building year," he intones.

Stuart points out that his entire backfield is gone.

Out of 90 prospects, only 11 earned letters last year. Of this [illegible] four are seniors.

Besides the four backfield men from the '59 squad who won't be there for the coming game, the Warriors also have to fill gaps left by four non-returning linemen.

Eastmoor's chances to survive another undefeated season roost upon the development of its under-classmen during the early foraging into enemy territory.

Out of its first five games, the schedule calls for four of them to be played away from home.

Stuart looks for Aquinas and West to provide the stimulant "you love to catch." The Warriors are practicing from 8 to 10 a.m. and from 6 to 8 at night.

Co-captains are Nick Cooper, a back, and Jim Casserly, a guard. Coaching assistants are March Mobberly, Paul Eckelberry and Red Courtney.

The Warriors first charge will take place Friday, Sept. 9. Defending their home fort will be Linden.

Here's The Girls That Made Softball Program A Reality

The names of the girls participating in the softball league in Whitehall was recently announced. These girls were the "pioneers" in the softball program, now ending its first year.

The girls are:

Suburbia Today Offers Contest

If you've never entered a contest before, you're in for an unusual treat! For we are certain that as soon as you see the novel contest in the September Suburbia Today, you'll feel a compelling urge to enter.

Here, for the first time, is a contest for people who never enter contests. It's the most refreshing new contest in years! And, there are 300 valuable prizes, including a station wagon, pianos, washer-dryers and many other household items. See the September issue of Suburbia Today with the Sept. 8 Eastern Review. Call BR. 4-1155 for subscription price.

A CONTEST FOR PEOPLE WHO NEVER ENTER CONTESTS
300 PRIZES!
EVERYONE WINS A PRIZE
(If there are 300 contestants, that is)
If you have always been too busy, too lazy, or just not interested in contests, then we have great news for you. Well, maybe not great news like a free source for a lifetime supply of happiness, but good news. The news is that we have created a contest just for people who never enter contests. And participating in it will be as much fun as going to a party. (If you don't like parties, forget that last line.) Watch for the September issue of SUBURBIA TODAY. (But no fair using your SUBURBIA TODAY — watching as an excuse for not doing anything else.)

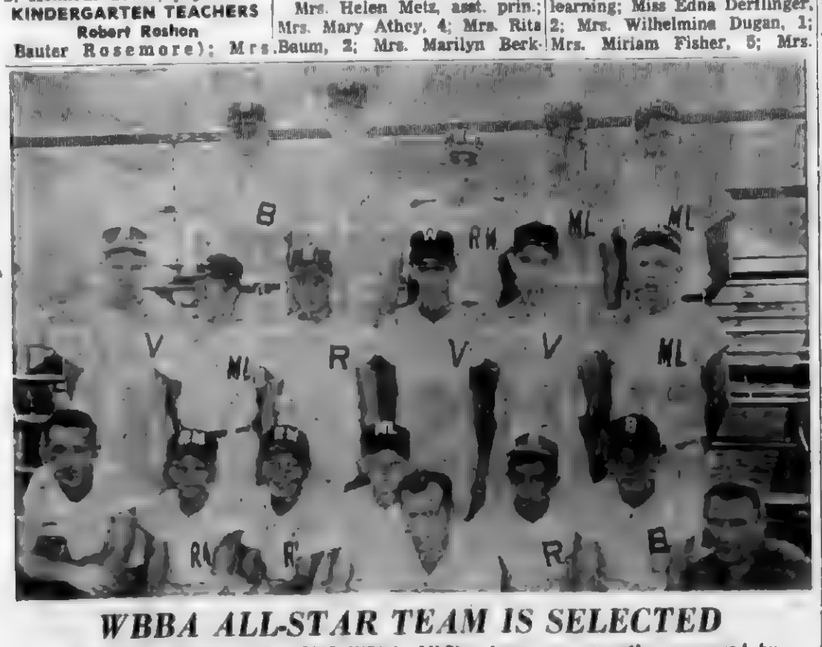
East Main School Ready For Opening



Most East Main Elementary students will be transported again this year, according to Francis Beard, principal. This will be Beard's first year in the Whitehall school system after serving as principal in the Madison Local School District.

Attendance areas will be established and transportation schedules will be similar to last year, he said. The school day will begin at 9 a.m., one-half hour later than last year. Dismissal will be at 3:30.

Three new teachers in grade one, elementary art and music, will assume duties. Twenty former teachers are also returning to meet an expected enrollment of nearly 600, Beard said.

Cafeterias will be opened on the first day of school to serve the students purchasing a hot lunch. The 30 cents price for lunch has not been changed from last year, he said.

Resurfacing driveways and parking facilities have added convenience and utility.

WBBA ALL-STAR TEAM IS SELECTED

Read About A Guy That's In Love With Women—400,000 Of Them

A Thurber's-eye-view of life from "rosy-fingered dawn" to "beddy-bye" (with clues as to how to keep your breakfast down, where to put the morning mail, and how to handle the "nip before dinner" situation), is only the first treat you could turn to in the September issue of SUBURBIA TODAY, Eastern Review's magazine supplement, which will come to paid subscribers on Sept. 8.

The other treats, all calculated to soften that post-vacation letdown, start off with a story by noted actor Vincent Price, who spends two months each year lecturing to clubwomen, and who is madly in love with all 400,000 of the ladies he's addressed over the past 15 years.

Then there's a story of for all mothers who have baby-sitting teen-age daughters. It seems, according to author Jennifer L. Barrett, that the sitter's mother is often more jittery than the mother of the children she takes care of.

Author Fitzhugh Turner tells about the history of the Middleburg, Va., Community Center, which replaced the town dump and which now houses everything from church services to water carnivals.

The garden pages this month will remind you that window boxes make excellent greenhouses that can provide much fun—and beauty—from September until next spring. The food pages, on the other hand, are full of year-round fun, with Apple Ambrosia, Schneken, Fresh Purple-Plum Ice Cream, and many other delicious, kitchen-tested dishes that could be the specialty of any house.

Finally, September in SUBURBIA TODAY marks the first month of the "Contest For People Who Never Enter Contests," which we promise, will be more fun than a flat tire on a Sunday night in a full car while crossing the one lane-three mile bridge that comes from the beach.

Hurt In Fall

Catherine Simmons, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Simmons, 4063 Abby Court, was reported in good condition Wednesday at Children's Hospital.

She was injured in a fall from a third floor window at her home about 9 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Nancy Keel Reported Fair; Crash Kills Three

Mrs. Nancy Keel, 31, 1035 Fair-av, was in fair condition Wednesday in Chillicothe Hospital as the result of injuries received in an automobile crash on Rt. 23 seven miles north of Chillicothe that killed three persons.

Killed in the crash were Mrs. Keel's sister, Mrs. Barbara Garnes, 26, 1035 Fair-av; Clarence E. Jennings, 22, and Sgt. Samuel H. Terrance, 26, both of the 301st Organizational Maintenance Squadron, Lockbourne AFB.

Mrs. Keel had her left leg amputated and physicians were trying to save her mangled right leg. She also suffered internal injuries.

If you have always been too busy, too lazy, or just not interested in contests, then we have great news for you. We have created a contest just for people who never enter contests! And there are 300 valuable prizes, including a station wagon, pianos, and home equipment.

Whitehall's Master Plan Nearly Ready

It'll be another month at least before the Whitehall master plan is completed.

So said Mel Rackoff, of Rackoff Associates, formulators of the city's major improvements program this week.

Rackoff stated that the plan, "approximately 85 per cent completed," should be ready by Oct. 1.

All of the basic work has been completed, according to Rackoff, and what remains is to coordinate the individual reports.

Rackoff said that he plans to get together with Whitehall officials next Thursday in an effort to outline his company's recommendations.

Certain chronological procedures will be recommended to the city fathers, Rackoff said. In what order the improvements will be listed, he did not stipulate.

He did mention that a municipal building, street needs, recreation facilities, sewage, water and garbage disposal, all "pretty warm" items in the community, are among the most urgent wants of the city.

So far, Rackoff said, the master plan has been five months in the making. All of the recommendations from various planners are in. At the present time, his organization is immersed in drafting the various elements of numerous reports, he said.

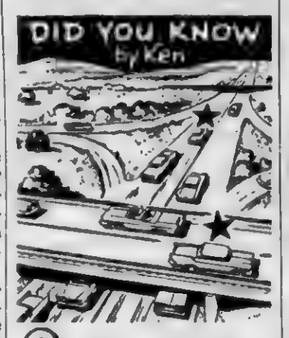
Community Art Course For Adults At Capital

A community art laboratory, designed for adults who seek to develop interests in painting or ceramics under professional guidance, has been scheduled this fall at Capital University.

Under the direction of Richard Bauer, instructor in fine arts, the laboratory will be held in Huber Hall each Thursday from 7:15 to 8:55 p.m. during the first semester.

Since the class requires no college entrance requirements, it is open to all adults as a non-credit laboratory. The enrollment will be limited to 25 students, with the usual college and laboratory fee.

Registration is open Sept. 8-16-17. Additional information may be obtained from the office of Earl C. Metz, director of the evening school at Capital University.



HAMILTON-LIVINGSTON CIVIC GROUP ELECTS

The Hamilton and Livingston Civic Association held its officer election at a meeting Aug. 29.

Members elected to positions were: Paul Gerhart, president; Jack Green, vice president; Bobbie McLevery, secretary, and Sy Zimmermon, treasurer.

The next regular meeting will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 27 at Shady Lane Restaurant.

Hartley Nickel Day At Norwood Park Will Chase 'Back To School' Blues

Attention bargain hunters!

The seven Hartley newspapers and Norwood Amusement Park, 2025 E. Main-st, are offering the bargain bill of the year Saturday, Sept. 10, at the E. Main-st entertainment plant.

Hartley and Norwood are teaming up to offer a bargain day program that can't be matched with a value that can't be beat, not even by a fire sale.

One nickel will pay your way on Norwood's 18 thrilling and exciting rides, ranging from the special assortment of kiddie rides to the spine-chilling sky ride.

Plan to take the entire family for a day's economical entertainment. Hours will be from 1 p.m. until 11 p.m.

Honored guests for the afternoon and evening program will be the 70,000 families that each week read the Hilltop Record, West Rural-Urban News, Southeast Rural-Urban News, West Side News, South Side Leader, Eastern Review and Reynoldsburg Record.

Norwood has completed its regular summer schedule, ringing down the curtain on its 19th successful season on the banks of Alum Creek, but Saturday's program is expected to provide a fitting climax to a summer full of fun.

Entertainment for the fun-o-rama will be provided by the giant ferris wheel, dodgems, skyride, caterpillar and other assorted rides.

Norwood offers a special selection of rides, including the flying saucer, for the kiddies, and Genial Jim Kenny will be at the throttle of the now-famous kiddie train.

For the less-adventurous, the park sports a beautiful 18-hole miniature golf course, picnic grounds and shooting gallery.

Remember! Saturday's the day. 1 p.m.'s the time. The kids can forget about those back-to-school blues, at least for the day.

WATCH OUT—The Dodgems is one of the thrill-filled rides which fun seekers can board for a slim nickel during Hartley Newspapers' Nickel Day this Saturday.

EAST SIDE AFFECTED

Hoover Reservoir Will Raise Water Pressure, Volume

Eastern Review

TEN CENTS PER COPY — A Hartley Newspaper — $3.00 PER YEAR BY MAIL

Vol. III, No. 1 — 2465 W. Broad St., Columbus, Ohio, Thursday, Sept. 8, 1960 — Total No. 105

Council Will Be Asked To Approve Line Bids

Hoover Reservoir water will soon step up the volume and pressure of water lines on the East Side.

This is the second step in this program, and Water Supt. Frank Wright said City Council will be asked Sept. 19 to approve bids for a projected 20-inch line.

This line will run from the 48-inch Stelzer-rd water main into Port Columbus at 19th-av, and will directly affect the area to the east, where the Western Electric Co. plant stands.

Planning further envisions the carrying of Hoover Reservoir water to Livingston-av, Wright said. He stated that 95 per cent of the engineering plans for this southern extension of the water main had been completed by the firm of Burgess and Niple.

The 25,000-foot Stelzer-rd line from Morse-rd is almost a third complete, and will connect with a 20-inch liner near Fifth-av.

This will be the terminus of the line, until the extension from Fifth-av and Stelzer-rd, to Maryland-av and James-rd, east to Hampton-rd, and south to Livingston is completed.

The Dublin-rd pumping station and Nelson-rd wells will feed water into the 20-inch line. Wright stated that the new setup should give plenty of water and pressure. He stated that water from Hoover Reservoir will also flow westward from the Stelzer-rd, Fifth-av connection.

Wright said that plans call for the Dublin-rd pumping station to furnish water only as far as Alum Creek, with the Nelson-rd wells to be placed on a standby basis.

The Stelzer-rd line has been designed to carry a maximum load of 70 million gallons daily to the southeast and east sections of Columbus. Further plans call for this line to carry water south of Livingston-av to Refugee-rd, the water superintendent said.

DEATH CAR—Death car for two Pataskala youths is smashed into the back of the Ballman car, throwing it in front shown here, center, shortly after flames engulfing it were extinguished by firemen. At extreme left is front of car which struck a westbound vehicle, shown in background.

Area Youths Die In Fiery Rt. 40 Wreck

Two Pataskala youths died following a three-car collision which occurred at Noe-Bixby-rd (State Rt. 751) and E. Main-st late last Monday evening. Their car was turned into a mass of flames.

Dead are:

Thomas Young, 18, RFD 3, Pataskala.

Paul Ballman, 17, RFD 3, Pataskala.

The youths suffered third degree burns over most of their bodies. Six others were injured and taken to three hospitals.

Police said that Ballman's car was traveling east on Main-st and stopped to make a left-hand turn into Noe-Bixby-rd. He was rammed from behind by a car driven by Willie Martin, 34, of 1244 Maynard-av.

Ballman's auto was knocked into the westbound lane, where it was smacked by a car heading west, driven by Clarence Morton, 38, of Dayton.

Willard Crabtree, Reynoldsburg, said he saw the car on fire, stopped his pickup truck and ran to a nearby house to summon help. Back at the scene, he saw two children lying on the pavement and heard voices in the burning car calling for help.

Just then he heard a "whoof." The car which Ballman and his companion were in was engulfed in flame, the doors burst open and the youths were hurled out.

Both were lying in pools of blazing gasoline.

Crabtree said he and a buddy ripped off their shirts and helped bystanders with blankets to

SET FOR EAST COLUMBUS CHRISTIAN CHURCH

25th Ordination Anniversary Service For Dr. Joseph Belcastro Slated Sept. 11

Dr. Joseph Belcastro, pastor at East Columbus Christian Church, will be honored by a 25 year ordination anniversary service Sunday, Sept. 11.

Dr. Belcastro was ordained at the Second Christian Church, Washington, Pa., on Sept. 8, 1935. He became pastor of the East Columbus Church in 1942 with a congregation of eight in a small frame structure.

The church now has a membership of 900 and conducts its services in a modern, air-conditioned, stone structure.

Dr. Belcastro was born in Italy on Mar. 10, 1910 and came to America at an early age. He has earned five college degrees and has attended Bethany College, Phillips University, Oberlin School of Theology, Ohio State University, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Butler School of Religion, University of Chicago, and Lutheran Seminary at Capital University.

The service, starting at 10 a.m., will include special music by the Chancel Choir and presentation of a doctorate's robe, a new automobile and an ordination certificate. The program will be conducted by Dr. Ronald Osborne, a professor at Christian Theological Seminary and a

Scottwood Sets Service Times

Scottwood Community Church will resume its regular schedule of services this Sunday.

The schedule is: Sunday School, 9:15 a.m. and children's chapel and worship service, 10:30 a.m.

All Sunday School classes will continue to meet in the Scottwood School until completion of the new church facilities in the near future.

The nursery, children's chapel and adult worship services are being conducted in the new church, located at 3330 Scottwood-rd.

Local Resident Joins TB Staff

Eelective screening, through a series of tests, is used by the Tuberculosis Society to choose accurate workers for its Christmas seal mailing list.

New, permanent employes who have joined the society's 22-member staff are Mrs. Rose Botkin, 527 Napoleon-av, and Mrs. Helen Howard, 240 S. Algonquin-av.

Other staffers are concerned principally with X-Ray, tuberculin testing and educational programs for schools and community and professional groups.

A 45-Cent Investment

Here's the success story of Mrs. Daniel Huerter, 4627 Morris-av: She decided to do ironings for other people in her home. She ran a 10-word ad in the Hartley Newspapers classifieds. For her 45-cent investment she had "so many calls I didn't know what to do. I now have 12 steady customers." Place your ad. Call BR. 4-1155.

Leawood School Opening Delayed

The new Leawood Elementary School will not open until Monday, Superintendent Harold H. Eibling stated Tuesday, just before the Wednesday opening day.

Eibling said that construction and equipment problems caused the delay. In all, six new other elementaries were forced to postpone their openings for the same reasons.

Dramas Set For Season At Center

The Gallery Players of the Jewish Center will feature productions never before offered in the Columbus area in their 10th subscription season, beginning Dec. 10.

The Columbus premiere of Jean Giraudoux' "Ondine," will take place on Dec. 10, and this fantasy will be given for at least five performances.

"Ondine" was produced on Broadway several years ago at the Theatre Guild. It was probably the most expensive non-musical show ever mounted on Broadway, and has had excellent reviews.

Tryouts for "Ondine" will be held later this month. The play will be staged by Harold M. Eisenstein.

On Feb. 25, "A View From the Bridge" will make its debut in Columbus. Although this play deals with Sicilian immigrants living in Broklyn's Red Hook dock district, it is constructed

BEXLEY MEN VETS OF TWO WARS

ECKMANN, SECOND FROM LEFT
"It was a chivalrous war."

By John Poeppelmeyer

Two men repose and repast in a single house in Bexley. But between them they could constitute a legend of sorts.

One of them isn't sure that he has been officially discharged from the Spanish-American War. The other "flew for the other side" in World War I.

The house is located at 654 S. Remington. The men: Lutrelle H. Amrine, 82 years old, and a veteran of the Spanish-American War; Kurt P. Eckmann, a lieutenant in the German Air Force during World War I and a member of the Richthofen Red Knight Flying Circus.

The wars in which they fought were of two different types.

The Spanish-American War, according to Amrine, was made up entirely of volunteers. In fact, as far as he knows he has never been mustered out of the service. There is no definite date on the roster when he was discharged.

Eckmann's war was a "chivalrous" one, he stated. "When it first broke out, we used pistols and hand grenades as firing equipment in our planes.

"Enemies waved at each other as they flew past. One time, when we shot down an American plane behind our lines (that of Judge Wannamaker, of Akron), we landed and took him to a hospital."

Amrine never saw action in the war of '98. He came down with malaria six months after enlisting and was sent home to recuperate.

Eckmann was shot down a half dozen times, but was able to stick through the war to the end.

ECKMANN TODAY

Amrine enlisted in the cavalry at the age of 20 in Marysville. He camped, he claims, just "three and a half squares" from where he now lives.

His regiment was the First Ohio Cavalry, and the officer ranks were also made up of volunteers. "They didn't know much more than we did," he commented.

One of the things he remembers vividly was when training with the horses, "it was a beautiful sight to see 800 horses bow at the command of 'down.'" He also recalled a certain swimming maneuver the men engaged in.

"We'd take the horses for a drink and a bath, while we hitched onto their tails for a nice swim."

Amrine said that it was no trick for him to ride; he'd been doing it ever since he was five years old. "But some of those city fellers had the habit of digging in their heels. Well, once we were issued spurs, that came to a halt soon enough—or else they did."

He recalled that it was 62 years ago Sept. 1 that he left an encampment at Florida for sick leave. At the time, the troops thought they were on their way to Cuba, he said.

While in the hospital in Florida he became delirious and one night sneaked over to the mess hall without any one knowing. "Sometimes, though, we'd find five or six flies to a cup of coffee. We had only one doctor for 108 sick men," Amrine stated.

City's Twelfth Golden Age Hobby Show Slated At Fine Arts Gallery

Twelfth Annual Golden Age Hobby Show will be held at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, 480 E. Broad-st, Sept. 16 through Sept. 19. The show has been extended an additional day, Monday, to enable visitors to the Governor's Conference on Aging, being held at the Veterans Memorial, to be able to attend.

Anyone in the Central Ohio area who is 60 years of age or over, is invited to exhibit at the show. First, second, and third place ribbons will be awarded along with honorable mentions and three outstanding "judges choices."

Included in the hobbies which may be shown are hand-made articles, which have been made since a person has reached 60 years of age, and not previously exhibited at a show, or collections which have been collected since one became 60, or to which one has added during the years after reaching 60.

Entries must be taken to the hibits made. Dancing in the patio will follow the program.

Mrs. C. William O'Neill is general chairman this year.

Chairman of the Hilltop area is Mrs. F. S. Jester, 94 S. Westgate-av; of the South Side, Mrs. Glendora Wrightsel, 316 E. Main.

For further information call Mrs. Jester, BR. 4-6329; Mrs. Wrightsel, HI. 3-4078; or Miss Dorothy Jones at the Columbus Recreation Department, CA. 1-2211, Ext. 262.

gallery on Tuesday, Sept. 13 and Wednesday, Sept. 14, between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Formal opening of the show will be held on Friday night, Sept. 16, at 7:30 p.m. with Mayor W. Ralston Westlake speaking. A king and queen of the show will be crowned, and the awards for the winning exhibits made.

He Works To Increase Number Of Subscribers

Some three months ago, a young newspaperman started on his way to deliver the Eastern Review. At that time, he had 12 paying customers.

Today, just a bare 90 days later, Randy Glick has upped that number nearly six-fold.

His secret: he goes out and talks to people, asking if they would be interested in taking the weekly "green sheet."

His formula must be a success. He now numbers his clientele in the near 70's, and always takes a couple of "extra papers" along with him, just in case.

Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross L. Glick, of 916 S. Remington, Bexley.

His route, which takes him a half hour to cover, extends from Astor to Livingston-avs and from Montrose to Chelsea.

"I go out about three times a week, trying to get people to subscribe," the erstwhile young businessman said.

He has slacked off for a while, getting ready for school and practicing for the band. But he plans to start out again, as soon as he feels the "time is ripe."

Randy will enter the seventh grade at Bexley Junior High this year. Among his activities he lists, building models of all kinds, ships, cars, planes and playing the clarinet.

Maybe Randy's formula isn't so secret after all. The best thing about carrying papers, he says, "is the pay check."

BIBLE COMMENT:

Christian Life Characterized By Open Mind

Christians by nature should be open-minded. Certainly as practicing believers in words and deeds of Jesus Christ, Christians must accept on faith much about their religion.

In the words of Sophocles, ancient Greek poet, "Man's "Man's worst ill is stubbornness of heart."

In Eccl. 4:13 we are told, "Better is a poor and a wise child than an old and foolish king, who will no more be admonished."

Thus, when we attempt to prejudge our neighbors, or stumble blindly through life depending on opinions which we enclose in iron in our hearts, is this not like the foolish king in the scriptures?

The man who keeps his open mind and changes his opinions with the times is behaving like the true Christian he should be. The man who constantly seeks to reaffirm or disprove his attitudes is much like the poor child who was not beyond correction.

Altered Money Discovered By Whitehall Police Force

Whitehall police and U. S. Secret Service agent arrested Paul F. Gilmore, 1b, of 2728 Joyce-av, for attempting to pass altered bills.

Police reported that they caught the youth in the Town and Country Shopping Center Saturday night after a variety store clerk had reported that altered money had been discovered.

The head of the Columbus Secret Service Office, Andrew O'Malley, stated that Gilmore admitted attempting to pass altered bills in two stores.

He was charged with fraudulently altering U. S. currency. One dollar bill was reported to have been changed to $5 denomination, and two others to be $20 in apparent value.

Gilmore had the altered bills with him at the time he was arrested, Whitehall police stated.

A preliminary hearing was tentatively set on the charge for Wednesday, by U. S. Commissioner William G. Corson.

Gilmore has been held at the Columbus City Prison under a $2,500 bond. He has denied being implicated in two similar incidents Friday, when altered bills were reported to have been spent at an E. Livingston-av drive-in.

Many Ohio commercial tomato growers follow a strict spray program to insure them against losses from blight and other diseases.

Trademarks of the Cooperative Extension Service have been the ideas, "Everyone can benefit from education," and "Most people will help themselves if they're shown the way."

Tom Ayers says, "a home should be decorated to suit the taste of the owner, and taste is as individual as fingerprints. Most of us, however, can benefit greatly from the guidance of a professional decorator in avoiding the decorating errors that are expensive and lessen the beauty and comfort of our homes. Star offers a free decorator service, without obligation, to guide you by making suggestions that are keyed to your taste and personality. Make a rough sketch of your room or rooms, showing the distance between doors, windows, and fireplaces; and bring it in for ideas and suggestions. Our decorator service also includes free advice in your home if desired. Ask for Tom when you come in!

ORCHESTRA SETS FIRST MEETING

Columbus Orchestral Society is beginning the current season with a brief rehearsal, business meeting, and social hour on Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 7:45 p.m. at Indianola Presbyterian Church, Waldeck, and 18th-avs.

Rehearsals hereafter will be at 7:45 p.m. in Central High School. A tentative schedule of performances is ready for approval, and the music committee has selected music.

Included are the Mozart "Jupiter" Symphony and Piano Concerto No. 10 which is to be performed with duo-piano guest artists early in the year.

Semi-popular music of the type which has been so well received in the past is also listed.

All members of the orchestra should try to be present and to bring prospective members. Membership is open to the public, and musicians who are interested in joining may call David Bolon, president, at TU. 5-6614, or Mrs. William Green, librarian, at HU. 6-2102 for further information.

Another oboist and more violinists are especially desired.

Wood Duck Hunting Looks Good This Fall

Wood duck hunting this fall should be good.

Take this word from Ray Sickles, game production foreman at the Waterloo Wildlife Area in this southern Ohio county.

Ray has trapped more than 60 ducks this year, mostly juvenile "woodies," which he has leg-banded and then released. The ducks have all been trapped on the Hocking River.

"As a result of the same project carried out last year," Sickles says, "a number of the banded birds have returned. Bands, sent in by hunters also provide useful information concerning migration and other

Two Pupils Win $150 Grants In Main Federal Competition

An eighth grade student from Immaculate Conception School and an 11th grader from Eastmoor Senior High were the winners in Main Federal Savings and Loan Association's "Free Scholarship Contest."

Mary Lynn Clifton, from Immaculate, won a $150 award in the junior high division. In her entry she said, "I want to go to college, because I would like an opportunity to climb the ladder of learning with eagerness to attain my goal toward higher education."

In his winning essay for the senior high award, Eastmoor's Ira Hartman said, "Young minds need cultivation, guidance, and discipline to promote self-assurance, allay prejudices and misconceptions, preparing for leadership to help our country master tomorrow's problems."

He also won $150 for use in the college of his choice.

Winners were selected by educators in the school system on the basis of originality, aptness of thought, and neatness. Over 500 entries were submitted.

Broad-st Woman Takes Own Life

Mrs. Margaret A. Jefferson, 79, of 7344 E. Broad-st, took her own life Tuesday, Aug. 30, by tying a plastic bag over her head while seated in a rocking chair at her home, it was ruled by Dr. Carl Tetrick, deputy coroner.

The deputy coroner, who is filling in for Coroner Dr. Robert A. Evans, who is on vacation, said that Mrs. Jefferson's body was found by her daughter, Mrs. Helen M. Carrico, of the Broad-st address, on Tuesday afternoon.

Certain Type Fish May Be Pond Answer

Ohio fisheries men may have found the answer to one of their problems—a predator type fish that can adapt itself to small impoundments.

Mark White, district fish management supervisor, and his assistant, George Billy, believe the eastern chain pickerel, a member of the pike family, may fill the need.

Similar in appearance to the Northern Pike, the chain pickerel seldom exceeds 25 inches in length. It bites well on both natural and artificial lures and, being a predator, subsists mainly on other fishes.

This fact alone, it is thought, may make the chain pickerel an acceptable fish for stocking in ponds and lakes having an abundance of small bluegills, since they might help keep the small fish under control.

The chain pickerel is also a fast grower when there is adequate food. This was found out when an experimental planting was made in a one-eighth-acre pond on the Wolfe Creek Wildlife Area, Morgan County.

Baby pickerel, averaging one-half-inch long on Apr. 29, now average six and one-half inches with some going to eight and one-fourth inches.

It's School Time! DRIVE CAREFULLY

More and more children are on the streets again—some of them going to school for the first time. Children will be crossing the streets, walking along country roads, waiting for school buses. Children are sometimes unpredictable and it is up to drivers to stay alert and in full command of their vehicles in case an emergency arises. PLEASE drive extra carefully. Watch for children at crossings and on the streets. Give the right of way to school buses. Be alert. The children may not see you—be sure you see them!

Army Surplus Sales Office Opens At Depot

A new Consolidated Surplus Sales Office has opened at the Columbus General Depot.

All Army and Navy installations in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan will sell their surplus property through the Columbus office which will decide how the sales will be made. The office will also handle all advertising details connected with the sales.

Consolidated sales offices are being established throughout the country as an economy move to reduce the number of offices with which the general public must deal in making purchases of surplus property.

Chief of the new Columbus office Maj. James G. Monteith, an Army disposal officer with experience both here and over-

Knit Shop Moves To New Quarters

Evelyn's Knit Service and Yarn Shop formerly located at 281 Kelso-rd, moved to new quarters at 8 W. Woodruff-av, just off High-st, Tuesday, according to owner Mrs. Evelyn R. Stewart.

Name of the firm has been changed to Evelyn's Knit Service and the Campus Yarn Shop. Buttons, notions, ribbons, yarns, kits, sweater and skirt sets, accessories, instructions are other items that will be available.

A department of alterations for ready-to-wear is being added. Shortening of skirts, changing hems, altering all items and tailoring of fabric skirts to match customers' handknit sweaters will be supervised by Mrs. Marjorie Ota, seamstress and designer.

Seek To Reduce Speed On Street

Traffic Engineer John L. Gallagher was asked Tuesday by Safety Director Albert G. Giles to seek Ohio Highway Department authority to reduce to 25 the 35-miles-per-hour speed limit on Country Club-rd, between Livingston-av and E. Main-st.

Giles said he believes 35 miles an hour is too fast for the twisting residential street.

NEW LOOK(S) FOR BEXLEY

By Phyllis Schechter

Six new teachers and 15 new rooms have been added to Bexley High School to serve its 760 students.

The new teachers include James Eliopulos, Janet Buessom, Sara Carty, Elwin Fador, Larry Metz, and Richard Z. Smith.

Eliopulos teaches dramatics and speech and is Dramatics Club advisor.

Janet Buessem, Sara Carty and Falor are new additions to the English Department.

Mrs. Buessme teaches English II and III, Miss Carty English I, and Flaor English III.

Metz teaches biology in the science department, while Smith is in charge of the library.

Miss Close, who teaches social studies, is returning after one year's absence due to ill-

The new wing, composed of 15 rooms, expands Bexley High, which was designed for 500 students to fit its present enrollment of 760.

The language lab accommodates 25 students. It is used for both modern and classical languages.

The new gym, opening on to the lobby, has spectator seats both on the main floor and on the balcony for home basketball games. Modern equipment supplements the new science lab which adjoins the old biology room.

With seating space for 80 students, a study hall connects to the library for research availability.

There is an individual lab for research and study, a nurse's room, and an administrative suite.

Of the eight general classrooms, one room has an office at the back which serves as a workroom for staff members of the "Torch," the school newspaper, and the "Bexleo," the school yearbook.

The kick-off game for Bexley's football season will be with Logan at Logan on Friday night, Sept. 9.

The eleventh annual Cheerleaders' Dance, a girl ask boy turnabout, will be held at the Jeffrey Mansion on Saturday, Sept. 10, 9 p.m. until midnight.

Vapor Flames Burn Worker

Leslie Cron, Jr., 32, of 3211 E. 13th-av, suffered face, arm and hand burns Aug. 31 when a blow torch ignited vapors from a waste oil tank truck in the rear of 3147 E. Fifth-av, firemen said.

Cron was working on the tank at the time. A passerby took Cron to St. Anthony Hospital. He was treated, but refused to be admitted, a hospital spokesman said.

Shopping Center Plans Approved

The construction of a new shopping center on E. Livingston-av was approved Wednesday by the City Planning Commission.

Permission was also granted by the commission for a used car lot at 3000 E. Livingston-av.

The approved shopping center is planned for construction on the north side of E. Livingston-av at the west line of the proposed outerbelt.

The homelike atmosphere of the private chapel, or the spacious air conditioned church chapel, and efficient service of our staff, help to comfort the loved ones at the time of their bereavement.

Scottwood PTA Names New Officers

TO HEAD PTA—New officers of Scottwood PTA and the school principal are completing plans for the year ahead. They are, from left, seated, Mrs. Gertrude Kircher, principal; Gene Kennon, vice-principal; Mrs. Robert Allerding, president; Mrs. David Seabolt recording secretary, and, standing, Mrs. Richard Traphagan, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Donald Bollie, treasurer.

Juniors To Exhibit Flowers In Whitehall Garden Show

Junior Division of the Whitehall Garden Club will participate in the club's annual flower show in the East Broad Street Auditorium Saturday, Sept. 10.

The club distributes zinnia and gourd seeds to third grade students each June.

When the program originated five years ago, 85 students received seeds, pots and soil in classroom presentations.

Because of the program growth, it has become necessary to distribute the seeds in packets along with instruction.

Mrs. Robert Kiebel, committee chairman, reports that seeds were distributed to more than 600 students at the Etna Road, East Main, East Broad, Beechwood and Holy Spirit schools.

Women Talk On Politics

"Woman's Role in Politics" will be the timely subject of Columbus Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Phi the first fall meeting of the season, Tuesday, Sept. 6, at the home of Mrs. James H. Scott, 3924 Lyon-dr.

Hostess-chairman for the 8 o'clock dessert meeting is Mrs. George R. Cleary, 180 E. Dunedin-rd, assisted by Mrs. Craig Walton, 2148 Wesleyan-dr.

Mrs. Richard D. Ison, 695 Binns-blvd, alunae president, the new officers, and committee chairmen will present plans for the coming year. The evening's program was planned by Mrs. William E. Arthur, 3595 Ramsgate-rd.

All Alpha Phi newcomers to grater Columbus are invited to attend the meeting and may contact Mrs. David R. Green, 994 Racine-av, for reservations.

LA SERTOMA TO MEET

First fall meeting of Le Sertoma Club will be held Wednesday, Sept. 14 at Nationwide Inn, 4101 W. Broad-st.

Luncheon will be served at noon. New officers will serve as hostesses.

Telephone Campaign Slated For Symphony Subscription

An invitation of note is coming!

Be ready when the telephone rings Monday, Sept. 12.

The invitation comes from the Columbus Symphony Orchestra to attend its 1960-61 concert series. Thousands of calls will be made to awaken the interest of potential series subscribers. The campaign is known as "Operation Telephone."

Telephone day workers receive their final "briefing" for the campaign at a tea which will be held at "Serenity," the home of Mrs. Carl Tangeman, 4500 Dublin-rd, Sept. 9. Principal speaker is to be Mrs. Fred Lazarus III, of Cincinnati, vice-president of the American Symphony League.

Among those engaged in the project of telephoning potential ticket-holders is a committee led by Mrs. R. C. Clatworthy and composed of series ticket chairmen for the 19 units of Columbus Symphony Orchestra: Mrs. John Zonak, Accelerando; Mrs. Don Calhoun, Allegro; and Mrs. F. Herbert Hoffman, Jr., Andante.

Mrs. Eugene Roseboom, Mrs. Virginia Combs, Arlington; Mrs. Robert Smith, Bexley; Mrs. George Morrice, Brookside-Sonata; Mrs. Thomas Meyer, Canterbury; Mrs. Arthur Kelly, Crescendo; Mrs. James Charles, Central; Mrs. Ben Cowall, Intermezzo.

Mrs. Wade Roberts, East; Mrs. Henry Hilderman, Gahanna; Mrs. William Hicks, South; Mrs. Leslie Netzorg, Minerva Lake; Mrs. Chester Groce, Nocturne; Mrs. Helen DeSelm, North; Mrs. John Graham, Westgate; Mrs. James F. Beyers, Worthington; Mrs. Samuel Finney, Young Associates.

The callers announce the 10th anniversary season of Columbus Symphony Orchestra, this year presenting seven concerts for the same price of the previous six. In addition, an eighth performance, optional to season ticket holders, will be a Rodgers and Hammerstein Pops Concert. Featuring such guest performers as Rise Stevens, Robert Hladkey, Claudio Arrau, Zina Francescatti and Moura Lympany. The season promises to be one of the best.

Additional information and tickets are available through the Columbus Symphony Orchestra office at 55 E. State-st, or by calling CA. 4-7774.

In the crypt beneath the marble altar in St. Peter in Chains Church, Cincinnati, is buried Fr. Sebastian Badin, reputedly the first priest to be ordained in America.

Legal Notice

By the authority of Ordinance No 51-60, passed July 21, 1960, sealed proposals will be received by the director of public service of the city of Whitehall, at his office in the City Hall Building, 306 South Yearling Road, until 12:00 o'clock noon (Eastern Standard Time), on September 15, 1960, and publicly opened and read at that time, place and hour, for the collection, hauling and disposing of garbage.

Envelopes shall be plainly marked "Collection, Hauling and Disposing of Garbage", Department of Public Service.

Prospective bidders may obtain a copy of the complete contract documents in the office of the service director, City Hall, containing proposal and proposal bond forms which properly executed, in accordance with directions contained in the information for bidders, are to be submitted at the time and place aforesaid, together with the remaining unexecuted contract documents.

The right is reserved by the city of Whitehall to reject any or all bids.

Fall Season Is Launched At St. Edward

Women of the Church of St. Edward Episcopal, Whitehall, will meet for the first time this season Monday, Sept. 12, 8 p.m. in the church alcove.

Mrs. Timothy Pettafor will discuss her "Life in East Africa," followed by a question and answer period.

Miss Louise Lambert, newly appointed director of Christian Education, will also be introduced at the meeting.

The group meets the first Monday of every month, and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Annual family picnic of the church will be held Sunday, Sept. 11, following 10 a.m. service at Blacklick Woods in the Fir Shelter.

Women of the church are sponsoring the event and will furnish ice cream and soft drinks.

The picnic this year will welcome back Rev. Moody from his exchange ministry in Weldon, England, during August.

Gold Star Mother Meet Is Slated

Regular meeting of Columbus Chapter 1, American Gold Star Mothers, will be held Thursday evening, Sept. 8, in Room 207 of the Veterans Memorial building at 7:45 p.m. Mrs. E. H. Bartlett will preside

The department of Ohio and Kentucky board meeting will be held in the Neil House Sept. 12 and 13 beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Monday and 9 a.m., Tuesday. Luncheon at noon may be reserved by calling Mrs. Harry H. Robins, AM. 3-7792. Mrs. Ray Hickman of Granville is the department president.

A ward party for Chillicothe Hospital is planned for Sept. 21. Columbus chapter members will meet at 11 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Frank Distelzweig, VAVS representative for the hospital.

On Sept. 27 the chapter is sponsoring a noon luncheon and social game in the IOOF hall, 50 W. Fifth-av, with Mrs. E. A. Gerber in charge. Proceeds will be used for hospital work and welfare of members. The public is invited.

MOTHERS TO MEET

Columbus Chapter DeMolay's Mother's Club will hold its annual picnic at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 13, in the closed shelter house at Westgate Park. Each member should bring a covered dish and her own table service.

When the briquet or charcoal is covered with a fine gray ash, the barbecue fire is best for general cooking, say extension specialists at the Ohio State University.

Miss America Pageant Is Scheduled Saturday

By Larry Holmes

The 40th annual "Miss America Pageant" will be presented as a two hour special event, live from Convention Hall, Atlantic City, N.J., Saturday, Sept. 10, at 10 p.m. on Channel 10.

Bert Parks will be stage master of ceremonies for the pageant for the sixth consecutive year.

This year's "Miss America Pageant" will be organized around a "Cinderella" theme and will feature the reunion of many former Miss Americas. Margaret Gorman, Miss America 1921, the petite blonde who was the first to earn the coveted title, will be among the previous winners viewers will see during the broadcast.

Highlights of the festivities will include a specialty act performed by Mary Ann Mobley, Miss America 1959, and Sharon Kay Ritchie, Miss America 1956; the contestants' swim suit promenade; personality competition; interviews with former Miss Americas; the finalists' talent competition; and the crowning of Miss America 1961 by the reigning queen, Linda Lee Mean of Mississippi.

The "Miss America Parade" will provide viewers with all the contestants from 50 states, District of Columbia, New York City, Chicago and Canada as they pass in review.

Not long ago birth by Caesarean section was one of the most dangerous operations a woman could undergo, but today modern medicine and surgical techniques have eliminated the dangers of Caesarean birth.

A Caesarean operation will be shown in "Birth by Appointment" Monday, Sept. 12, at 10 p.m., on Channel 10.

"Birth by Appointment" is the story of Mrs. Claude Cossin and her Caesarean operation at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mrs. Cossin's pre-operative discussions with her physician will be shown, as well as the birth of her baby. The operation was performed in a specially-equipped operating room that was set up for photography.

Following the birth, viewers will meet the father, and Mrs. Cossin will be visited as she continues her post-operative recovery.

A premiere of "The Tall Man" will be televised Saturday, Sept. 10, at 8:30, on Channel 4. Barry Sullivan will star as Sheriff Pat Garrett and Clu Gulager as Billy the Kid.

The series will tell of the half-humorous, half-hostile relationship between the two men.

Set in New Mexico during the turbulent period between 1870 and the turn of the century, "The Tall Man" will draw story material from history and folklore and tell the story of these two famous real-life characters.

Close friends, Garrett and Billy each sense that eventually they must face one another in a showdown.

300 Muskies Are Taken At State Park

Muskie fishing at Rocky Fork Lake, Highland County, has been good this year, says Ray Riethmiller, Wildlife District Three fish management supervisor.

Riethmiller, who recently completed an informal study of this year's muskie harvest, states that the total catch from this lake thus far is near 300. Most of these have been in the three-year class and averaged six to eight pounds.

Best catch this year was 27 muskies taken in one weekend in June. Usually August is the most productive month at Rocky Fork. Best bait here is still the bomber type plug.

Gridiron Glory Road Curves Into Sight

Lions, Rams, Warriors Hit The Road; Hartley Hawks Host To Big Walnut

By JOHN POEPPELMEYER

When the kick-off whistle blows this week, four Eastern area teams will be spurred into action — Bexley, Eastmoor, Whitehall and Bishop Hartley.

For some it will be the start of a ride along the high-road to glory; for others it will be a muddling season, with detour after detour sending them astray; for still others, the middle-of-the road will look mighty inviting as the season wears to an end.

With pre-season practices over and diversified scrimmages under their belts, players and coaches alike are looking with a temperate eye, first at the initial engagement, and secondly at the remaining schedules.

A variety of formations from the straight-T to the split-T belly series will be employed by the area four-some.

Bexley heads for Logan Friday night where coach Ben Tenwalde expects a "rough one."

Eastmoor runs smack into Linden, of whom Coach Bob Stuart feels to be one of leagues stoutest.

Whitehall's legions travel to Westerville for its initial duel in a match where mentor Jim Bline pits non-lettermen against a dozen seasoned veterans.

Bishop Hartley forces are the only area team at home in an engagement with Big Walnut, where Coach John Murphy feels that "interesting things can happen."

All teams with the exception of the Hawk battle will be Friday. The Murphy boys play Saturday at their new stadium.

BEE RATE UP

Number of colonies of bees is up slightly in Ohio. Condition of the colonies is about the same as a year ago, according to OSU extension specialists.

Lions Wing-T To Explore Logan Line

Looking ahead to better things than his charges provided last year, Lion mentor Ben Tenwalde feels that he will be up against "speed, depth and passing," in the Logan encounter.

But he did admit that he does not exactly know what to expect since his contingent did not play Logan last year and no scouting reports are available on the Lions' opponents, Tenwalde reported.

The genial head Lion proposes to explore the wing-T attack and will "do as much passing as we dare."

He mentioned that Jerry Durham with torn ligaments is not expected to be ready this week for action.

Probable starting line-up, offense:

RE, Ron Clawson; RT, Bill Goldberg; RG, Dave Helmig; C, Steve DeVoe; LG, Jim Wacker; LT, Jack Wood; LE, Steve Tuckerman; QB, Jerry Mechling; RH, Terry Lane; LH, Calvin Hamrick; FB, Chris Tsitorius.

Defense: Bill Strader, Jim Westwater, Rick Mauger, Bob Hepps, in addition to DeVoe, Wacker, Wood, Tsitorius, Lane, Hamrick and Helmig.

Hawks Gun For First Win Saturday Night

Hartley's Hawks, gunning for their first try at their first win, will dedicate their new stadium Saturday night in an encounter with Big Walnut.

Opening ceremonies are scheduled to take place at 8 p.m. with Jack O'Dea, president of the school's athletic association, on hand to participate.

Coach John Murphy said he expects to find the Walnuts "a tough one to crack" but says that he is "satisfied with the progress" that his boys have shown.

During pre-season scrimmages, the Hawks came out on top in one duel, tied one and lost one, Murphy said.

He plans on running his charges from the split-T.

Probable starting line-ups:

Offense—LE, Lloyd Douglas; LT, Bob Sculock; LG, Ronnie Glass; C, Paul Coleman; RG, Frank Matyac; RT, Andy Jacobs or Jack O'Dea; RE, Rick Jacobs; QB, Bob Gantner; LH, Mike Hanf; RH, Buddy Thomas; FB, Ernie Eichner or Joe Gantner.

Defense—Rick Jacobs, John Dooley, Bob Scurlock, Andy Jacobs, Doug Bedell, Dave Alban, Don Hoffman, Ron Glass, Bernie Eichner, George Burkes and Bob Stamps.

Rams Swing Up Against Westerville

Jim Bline's Whitehall Rams may be heading for a shearing at the hands of Westerville Friday night.

Bline hasn't appeared to be enthusiastic over prospects this week and with the results of pre-season scrimmages in which the Rams ran 1-1-1- against opponents.

Added to the picture are a number of injuries.

Bline reported that Bob Hutchinson, all-league middle guard last year, will be out for the season with a head injury suffered in an accident with an automobile.

Bline feels that Westerville, whom he labels a "strong team" will prove to be a battle. "They have 12 returning lettermen," he commented.

Bline admits that he has some non-lettermen who will be probable starters Friday night. Among them: John Arbuckle, Ron Neutzling, Danny Gartner and quarterback Ron Paxon. The Rams will run from the "T."

As usual, Bline feels that if his defense gets grounded in good, "we may be able to stop them." And as usual, Coach Jim Bline has a knack for getting his boys up.

Prabable line-ups, offense:

RE, Tom Shoaf; RT, Don Justice; RG, Gary Wyant; C, John Arbuckle; LG, Ed Metzger; LT, Bill Gornall; LE, Ron Neutzling; QB, Ron Paxson; RH, Robbie Neutzling; LH, Park Fuller; FB, Don Gardner.

Defense: Ron Neutzling, Don Justice, Gary Wyant, Bill Gornall, Ed Metzger, Tom Smith, Tom Shoaf, Don Gardner, Randy Welsch, Larry Drake, Jack Haut.

Kicking specialist, Jerry Millington.

McCABE WINS 'MR. PUTT-PUTT' TITLE

TITLE HOLDER—John McCabe, third from left, grabbed first place in the Putt-Putt Golf Tournament last Wednesday evening. Taking second place was A. Zagoris, Jr., extreme right, and third place went to Melvin Winner, extreme left. The lads were presented with their trophies by Peggy Jo Knapp, Miss Putt-Putt of 1960.

WARRIORS TRY LINDEN

In the estimation of Eastmoor's top Warrior, Bob Stuart, his boys will be in for a tough battle Friday, when his City League champs scamper to Linden.

Stuart, who plans on using a split-T belly series, figures Linden for one of the contenders for the Warriors' crown.

Except for some bruises, however, he feels that his boys are 100 per cent ready for the encounter.

Probable starting line-up, offense:

LE, Bob Behal; LT, Bob Roundtree; LG, Jim Casserly; C, Ken Hollister; RG, Dick Hauser; RT, Doug Van Horn; RE, Larry Gornall; QB, Frank Stavroff; LH, Bob Benjamin; RH, Dean Eby, and FB, Jim Makar.

Defense: Nearly the same with Nick Cooper joining in and Hauser pulling out.

Chances Are, It'll Be Long Season For Capital Gridders

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Capital University Coach Jack Landrum glanced at his 1960-61 grid schedule, sighed, and shrugged his shoulders. Chances are that it'll be a mighty long season.

Cap is facing one of its toughest schedules in the 10 years that Landrum has been leading the Fighting Lutherans. "It's definitely the toughest," he said.

Smacking headlong into Heidelberg on opening day, Sept. 24, the Lutherans face teams that could cause more of a stir on the gridiron than when William Tecumseh Sherman, the blue-coat general, slanted off tackle, made an end run through Richmond and stalked to the sea.

After the Heidelbereg battle, the Purple squad will renew the old Ohio Wesleyan rivalry which has lain dormant for some five years now. This will be Dad's Night.

On Oct. 22 they'll meet Wittenberg who is expected to host the Cap squad with their usual amount of muscle. Oct. 29 the Lutherans will journey to Wooster to take on these co-conference champs.

The rest includes Marietta, Otterbein, Kenyon and Hiram. And, beating the first two was not one of 1959's accomplishments and the Kenyon game is at Gambier—down that lonesome road.

Although last year's grid song is over, the melody will linger on in the person of 175-pound Albert White. Landrum figures to use White and his team-mate, Tony Lorenzen, on both offense and defense.

"Chances are," Landrum stated, "that Jim Gaskell and Gary Nossaman will also play offensive-defensive football this year."

The talented White, a Portsmouth prodegy who can run the 100-yd. dash in 9.9, set a 17-touchdown school scoring record in his last year grid season. He totaled 105-points for the year.

Landrum, an all-Ohio center from Junction City High School, will make little changes in line blocking assignments, leaving the major role of learning new assignments to the backfield and signal-callers Ron Rankin and Gary Clinard.

"We're definitely handicapped with a lack of speed," Landrum said sorrowfully. "But, the boys are a nice group to work with and they're working hard."

Landrum thinks that he can come up with a good squad, but, he added, "even a good squad can look bad with our kind of schedule."

Another worry of Landrum is the fear of overworking his squad. Forty-four boys turned out for the first practice session. "Maybe we're working too hard," he said. "This two-a-day practice sessions is kinda tough."

Among new innovations is Landrum's installation of a new offense. He figures he'll have to make full use of his potential and his new wing-ed-T is designed with that in mind.

"In this new offense," Landrum said, "White will line up at his old left halfback slot, but Lorenzen will move over to the right halfback's starting position."

Thieves Take Boat Parts In Installments

Sneak thieves, who appear to be determined to own a boat, if they have to steal it piece by piece, are making life miserable for H. W. Alexander, operator of the A&M Trailer Sales, 4687 E. Main-st.

Operating on the theory that installment stealing is cheaper than installment buying, someone stole the $300 transmission from Alexander's inboard boat, which he had parked in his trailer sales lot.

Two weeks later, Saturday night, or Sunday morning, the heavy engine was stolen from the boat.

Alexander has ordered new boat parts, but is wary that the thieves may strike again.

THE PLANE ECKMANN FLEW IN WORLD WAR I
"Parachutes? Unreliable."

More About . . .

Bexley Men—

His pay while in the Army? For a private, which he was, it came to $13 a month.

His resident companion, Eckmann, first entered the infantry, drafted in that is, when he was 19 years old. He was in the service of his country from 1914 to 1918, later transferring to the Air Force.

To point out the friendliness that existed between enemy troops during World War I, Eckmann recalled fraternizing with the Canadian Army across trenches during the Flanders fighting.

"We, too, fought the Russians," he said, "In fact, I was first wounded on the Russian front."

Some of the battles in which he flew: Amiens, Argonne Forest and Tannenberg, "in which some 90,000 Russian troops were captured."

Eckmann flew in a familiar type bi-plane with an open cockpit without machine guns.

Since he came to this country in 1921, he has often run into some of his "friendly enemies."

In California, he met a Canadian with whom he had talked across the lines. In Cleveland in the late '30s he once again saw Judge Wannamaker.

As for parachutes in those days — "Unreliable. Couldn't trust them. So we didn't use them."

Area Youths—

smother the flames.

The youths died at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Traffic was backed up for miles in each direction for two hours.

Others injured were Clarence Morton, who was checked and then released to take his son, Ronald Lee, 13, to Children's Hospital for treatment. Young Morton was in "fairly good" condition Tuesday afternoon. He suffered face cuts.

Another son, Fred Morton, 4, was held for chest X-ray at Children's Hospital and released after "no apparent injury" was found, hospital officials said.

Mrs. Sarah Morton, 37, was in fair condition at St. Anthony's Tuesday afternoon with cuts on the forehead and nose.

Willie Martin was treated for a cut above the left eye and ear and released from Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

The accident was the worst reported in Columbus over the Labor Day weekend.

He was also charged with driving while intoxicated, failure to keep a safe distance ahead and no operator's license, police said.

Dramas—

along the lines of classical Greek tragedy.

The controversial Arthur Miller is the author. "A View From the Bridge" was originally presented on Broadway as a one-act play, but was later successfully expanded by Miller into a full-length production and presented in London. The Gallery Players will bring the full length version to Columbus for a five-night run.

Also offered as part of the Gallery Players subscription season will be five international film epics. These will include "Chaplin Festival."

Prize winning foreign films such as the Italian "Nights of Cabiria," the Belgium and English versions of Gogol's short story "The Overcoat," the French "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," and the thought-provoking Indian "Pather Panchali," will be shown.

A critique and informal discussion led by Mr. Eisenstein, will follow each showing. At this time, refreshments are served.

The Gallery Players subscribers will also be guests during the coming season to an orchestra concert by the Jewish Center Orchestra, two Actor's Lab productions, and a Closing Curtain Splash Dance Party and Variety Show, which is held at the outdoor swimming pool and patio of the Jewish Center.

These 12 events are being offered to the general public for only $7.50. Subscription rates for center members is $5.00.

WILLIS, BOWER BOW OUT; HAYTCHER, McINTOSH 'IN'

It turned out to be a repeat performance this week of "the abstention vote" in Whitehall Council chambers that has become a stage for political first nighters.

Tuesday's affair proved to be a night of anticipation and second-guessing. It was a night that saw the pendulum of the tender time-piece of balance of power swing subtly to one side then crash back to the other.

It was also a night of resignations and repercussions that saw Council President E. D. Willis and president pro-tem Ray Shipley resign; councilman-at-large Lewis Bower bow out; and Paul Haytcher launched as president of council despite legal objections by Solicitor James Maxwell.

In addition, it was also a night that saw a back log of ordinances brought out of hiding and approved, but this turned out to be of secondary importance in the political climate that now envelops Whitehall.

The Republicans, and Maxwell, in particular, enjoyed the sweet smell of victory for a few hours. The Republicans chances were promoted on council with the seating of Ken McIntosh, who had been sworn in last Saturday by Mayor Walter B. Moling.

An attorney general's decision, handed down earlier Tuesday, ruled against the seating of Bower. Both Willis and Bower adhered to the decision.

Confident Republicans predicted a "lock-up" of the council president's post, anticipating the Willis resignation, and of the clerk post, also up for grabs.

But they reckoned without the Democrats steamrolling tactics, that started the evening with a chug when Bower quit, lost a bit of vapor with the Willis resignation, but came on with bull-like rushes to ram the Haytcher nomination through.

After Republican solon Ray Shipley was excused to go to work, Dem Robert Garnon, the same man that engineered the original seating of Bower by abstaining, moved to seat Haytcher as council president.

As a prelude, Garnon boldly caucused with "maverick" Dem Al Kirchner to bring up for reconsideration an earlier motion to delay the naming of council president and clerk until the next meeting.

Caught asleep at the switch, as the Dem train gathered momentum, the two Republicans, McIntosh and Orton Davis, went along with the reconsideration motion.

The next thing they knew, Garnon, Loren Mason and Kirchner had cast their votes for Haytcher with Richard Hyatt abstaining.

Willis, who weeks before, had cast the "majority vote" in a tie decision for Bower, taking the abstaining vote along with him, ruled that Hyatt's abstention went with the three to two majority in favor of Haytcher.

All this time Maxwell had been vigorously protesting that the move was illegal.

"The way to seat a new council president is to elect a president pro-tem from the legislative body, moving that person on to the president's seat, thereby creating a vacancy on council," he told solons.

But, according to a roll call before the vote was taken, each councilman declined the nomination, apparently not wishing to give up his vote.

After the vote, Maxwell, exploded verbally. "The minute Shipley leaves, the wheels begin to turn," he accused. He told council that he was not prepared to give an "off the cuff answer" as to who could be named to the president's post after all councilmen had declined.

He lashed at the Democrats with the statements that "you cannot do this legally, morally or any other way. If you think you can pull another stunt, then we'll end up going to the courts.

"You cannot go outside the council for any reason to name a president. You've pulled this stuff once too often. It has happened before and now again.

"You bury the affairs of the city in a hole and do nothing but politic."

The meeting started amicably enough.

Willis noted that he had appealed to the mayor to go to the attorney general in the Bower case. Willis said that Moling told him that he was abiding by Maxwell's earlier decision that Bower was not legally seated.

To prove his point, the mayor over the weekend had sworn in McIntosh and the public was greeted with the sight of eight councilmen behind the table Tuesday night, two of them in the same councilman-at-large seat.

When the mayor refused, Willis said he took it on himself to appeal to the attorney general. Willis said that he had earlier stipulated that he would be willing to abide by the decision without going any farther and added that he would have expected Maxwell to do the same.

Bower, in a farewell address, stated that he had studied the opinion and although he did not agree with the reasoning and conclusion he was willing to abide by the ruling.

He stated that an attorney general's opinion "was no better than that of any competent attorney," that the ruling "now left council in the hands of three Democrats, three Republicans and Mr. Kirchner."

Bower noted that the people had mandated a 5-2 Democratic majority on council at the last election and that "one man is asserting his will and personal ambition against the people who elected him." It is known that Kirchner is seeking the mayor's post.

Bower concluded his statement that "I am a loyal citizen of Whitehall first and a partisan party man second."

Willis, in announcing his own resignation, said that he had been plagued with anonymous phone calls, with some of the remarks "not becoming" to anybody, especially his wife and children.

MOVERS!

If some amateur movers would only volunteer their services, the aged women at the Columbus Nursing Home, 163 Woodland-av, could at long last have piano music to accompany them in their frequent singing sessions.

Mrs. Herbert Pierce, president of the East Columbus Civic Association, offered to donate her organization's piano to the nursing home. They accepted. So now all that remains to be done is to move it from Columbus City councilmen tabled a pending further study in their Monday night meeting that would have permitted a real estate developer to build a 12-inch water main in the Main-st, Noe-Bixby-rd area.

Because of a tight budget, a council commission recommended that the city permit the builder to construct the water line 4600 feet along Main-st from Noe-Bixby-rd east to McNaughten-rd and then north in McNaughten.

This would save the city six dollars a foot, since it would only pay the developer two dollars a foot for the line which would become city property.

If the adjoining properties were later developed then the builder would collect the six-

Hugh Milton May Speak At Dedication

The line-up of dignitaries for the Whitehall Armory dedication Oct. 29 is molding together with Assistant Secretary of the Army Hugh Milton tentatively slated as speaker.

Don Ecker, in charge of publicity, has announced that Chet Long will emcee the event. George Williams of the Whitehall VFW is also a slated speaker at the dedication, Ecker said.

Ceremonies are slated to begin at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29. Prior to the event, a parade is slated to be held, Ecker said.

Father Robert Harwick, of Holy Spirit Church, will deliver the benediction.

The Whitehall Memorial U.S. Army Reserve Center, located along Country Club-rd, was recently completed at a cost of some $280,000. It houses various units of the Third Battle Group.

Columbus sub-section commander is Lt. Col. Carl E. Bobo, Jr.

In charge of reserves is Col. Donald E. Pratt. Major Otis Adams is advisor for the group.

Some 400 men make up the combined units.

Hartley Newspapers To Sponsor Cooking School, Style Show

It happens every fall—the season signals a change, a pick-up in the pace of family living and homemakers respond by setting a new tempo.

Newest fashion trends and fresh and interesting ideas in food preparation are uppermost in every woman's mind these busy days and Hartley Newspapers have arranged a happy answer to both problems.

Fashions 'n' Food," two evening sessions of expert advice and instruction on food preparation and the latest styles in clothing will be presented by South-East Rural-Urban News, Reynoldsburg Record and Eastern Review, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 17 and 18.

Sessions will be held at Whitehall Yearling High School auditorium Monday afternoon and Tuesday evening.

Clubs in the community, as well as families of those attending the show, will benefit from the affair, for Hartley Newspapers is offering all an opportunity to enrich their treasuries through ticket sales.

Groups interested in starting the season with funds to finance their year's program may call Mrs. Glenna DeWitt, BR. 4-1155 for details.

Susan Lowe, well-known food lecturer, will share her know-how on food preparation with homemakers during the two sessions.

Exciting ideas on preparing excellent main and side dishes will be presented with demon-

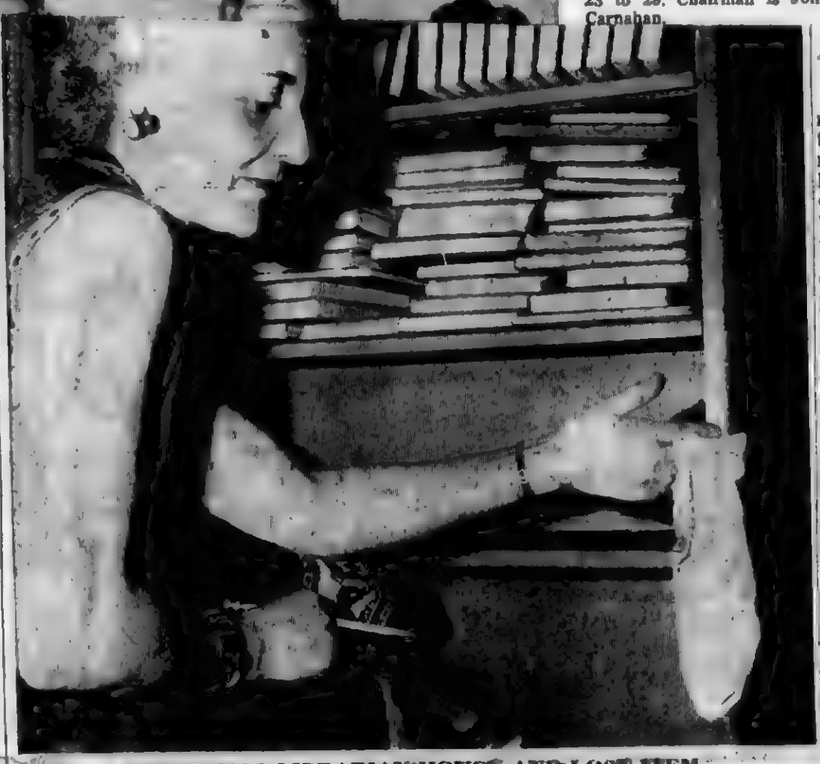
Weekly Newspaper Proves Its Worth

I received many more calls from my ad in the Hartley Classifieds and it cost much less than the same thing in the daily paper," said Mrs. H. W. Hitt, 641 S. Warren-av, told us. She sold a GE refrigerator, two end tables and a shotgun with no effort at all. Just dial BR. 4-1155 for Hartley ad-writing service.



CENTER TRYOUTS START SUNDAY

Tryouts for the first Gallery Players production of the season will take place Sunday afternoon, Sept. 18, at 1:30 p.m. in the Green Room at the Jewish Center, Harold M. Eisenstein director, has announced.

Additional tryouts for "Ondine" will be held Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 19 and 20, at 8 p.m., Eisenstein said.

The director explained that "Ondine" is a fascinating fantasy about a water nymph who marries a mortal. One interesting item: She never grows old.

"Ondine" will be the first of three productions staged by Eisenstein this year. It is scheduled to be enacted Dec. 10.

WHITEHALL LIBRARIAN HOUCK AND LOST ITEM
Also Sucker Stick Book Marks and Canada's Moose Population

INQUIRY DESK AT LIBRARY 'PORT OF ENLIGHTENMENT'

"Hello?"

"Hello."

"Is this the Whitehall Library?"

"Yes, it is. How may I help you?"

"Say, do you happen to know right off hand the moose population in Canada?"

"No, not right off hand I don't. But I'll see what we have on it."

In this case, the library did not happen to have, either "off hand" or in its reference sources, the requested information for the guy with the meeseer-moose problem.

But the type question does represent the trials and tribulations to which a librarian is put through daily. If you don't believe it, ask Whitehall's head librarian Eunice Houck. She has been on the receiving end of such inquires for nearly 25 years.

Questions are not all she runs into. Book marks, the sucker stick kind and the government check kind, are also little out of the way pleasures that borrowers leave behind to enlighten her day.

That and the usual assortment of list articles, boots, scarfs, purses turn up daily.

When the branch librarian cannot find the answer to a question, she avails herself of resources at the main library, Mrs. Houck explained. If they don't have it, they write directly to the place where they believe the information can be obtained.

"Let's see," Mrs. Houck mused, "what other—oh yes, there was a lady who called in for a recipe for beer, which we supplied."

WHITEHALL GRAD'S SISTER-IN-LAW

Polly Bergen Visits East Side

By John Auble, Jr.

Polly Bergen sat in a secluded corner of an East Side drive-in restaurant last Sunday evening and indicated that she was "just trying to keep out of everyone's way."

The pretty perky Miss Bergen—in Columbus on one of her rare personal visits—commented that she had a very good reason for being here.

The occasion was the birth of a baby to her sister, Mrs. Barbara Sibley, of 396 Wyandotte-av. She's been in Columbus just three times before.

Polly's sister married a 1958 Whitehall-Yearling High School graduate—Richard Sibley. They were married in Columbus on Aug. 17, 1959. Barbara is 21-years-old and a native of Circleville.

"Polly left Circleville about 1940," Barbara said. "She finished her high schooling in California."

Miss Bergen, currently a panelist on NBC's "To Tell the Truth," was rushed on her trip to the Capital City. She was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bergen.

MISS BERGEN

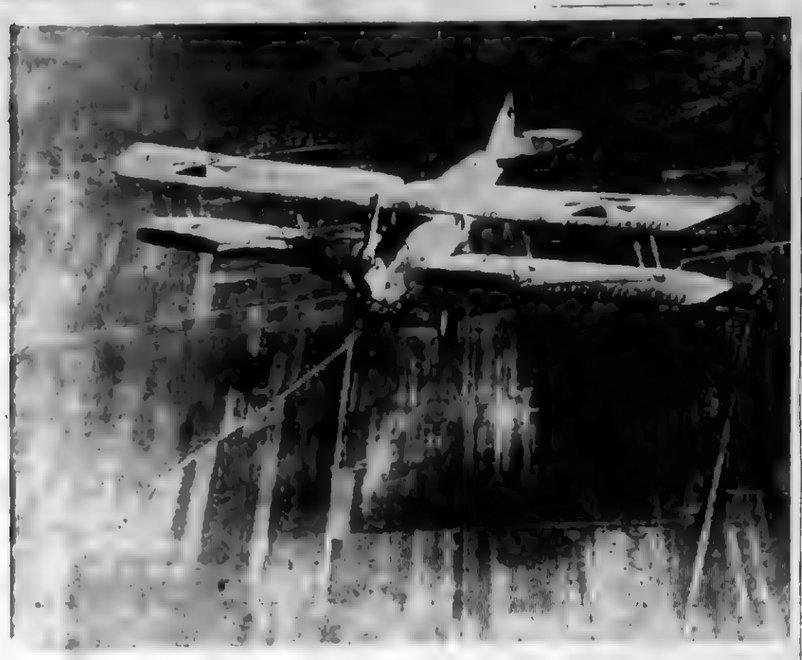
The pleasant Polly flew in from Philadelphia, where she is doing a show. She said that she couldn't make the trip until the baby was born.

The baby was a seven-pound, seven-ounce girl, born in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

"We named her Cynthia Ann," Barbara stated.

Polly flew into Columbus Saturday evening and left the following Sunday night around 11. She headed back to her home in New York. Her husband, Freddie Fields, did not make the trip.

Polly stated that she'll be back in Columbus in the near future—"maybe about a month or so from now." She said she wanted to spend more time with the baby and her sister.



What's ahead for pretty Polly? Her plans presently call for a big show with Phil "Bilko" Silvers on Oct. 8. It will be carried over NBC (Channel 10).

"Polly especially wanted a picture of my baby," Barbara said. "We tried to get one rushed through but were unsuccessful."

Richard Sibley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sibley, 4160 McAllister-av, Whitehall.

As Polly walked out of the restaurant, where she had gulped down a fast supper before grabbing a plane at Port Columbus, the waitress commented to a friend, "She wanted roast chicken but we didn't have it. She was very, very pleasant."

THE PLANE ECKMANN FLEW IN WORLD WAR I
"Parachutes? Unreliable."

WILLIS, BOWER BOW OUT; HAYTCHER, McINTOSH 'IN'

It turned out to be a repeat performance this week of "the abstention vote" in Whitehall Council chambers that has become a stage for political first nighters.

Tuesday's affair proved to be a night of anticipation and second-guessing. It was a night that saw the pendulum of the tender time-piece of balance of power swing subtly to one side then crash back to the other.

It was also a night of resignations and repercussions that saw Council President E. D. Willis and president pro-tem Ray Shipley resign; councilman-at-large Lewis Bower bow out; and Paul Haytcher launched as president of council despite legal objections by Solicitor James Maxwell.

In addition, it was also a night that saw a back log of ordinances brought out of hiding and approved, but this turned out to be of secondary importance in the political climate that now envelops Whitehall.

The Republicans, and Maxwell, in particular, enjoyed the sweet smell of victory for a few hours. The Republicans chances were promoted on council with the seating of Ken McIntosh, who had been sworn in last Saturday by Mayor Walter B. Moling.

An attorney general's decision, handed down earlier Tuesday, ruled against the seating of Bower. Both Willis and Bower adhered to the decision.

Confident Republicans predicted a "lock-up" of the council president's post, anticipating the Willis resignation, and of the clerk post, also up for grabs.

But they reckoned without the Democrats steamrolling tactics, that started the evening with a chug when Bower quit, lost a bit of vapor with the Willis resignation, but came on with bull-like rushes to ram the Haytcher nomination through.

After Republican solon Ray Shipley was excused to go to work, Dem Robert Garnon, the same man that engineered the original seating of Bower by abstaining, moved to seat Haytcher. The motion went with the three to two majority in favor of Haytcher.

All this time Maxwell had been vigorously protesting that the move was illegal.

"The way to seat a new council president is to elect a president pro-tem from the legislative body, moving that person on to the president's seat, thereby creating a vacancy on council," he told solons.

But, according to a roll call before the vote was taken, each councilman declined the nomination, apparently not wishing to give up his vote.

After the vote, Maxwell, exploded verbally. "The minute Shipley leaves, the wheels begin to turn," he accused. He told council that he was not prepared to give an "off the cuff answer" as to who could be named to the president's post after all councilmen had declined.

He lashed at the Democrats with the statements that "you cannot do this legally, morally or any other way. If you think you can pull another stunt, then we'll end up going to the courts.

"You cannot go outside the council for any reason to name a President [illegible] self to appeal to the attorney general. Willis said that he had earlier stipulated that he would be willing to abide by the decision without going any farther and added that he would have expected Maxwell to do the same.

Bower, in a farewell address, stated that he had studied the opinion and although he did not agree with the reasoning and conclusion he was willing to abide by the ruling.

He stated that an attorney general's opinion "was no better than that of any competent attorney," that the ruling "now left council in the hands of three Democrats, three Republicans and Mr. Kirchner."

Bower noted that the people had mandated a 5-2 Democratic majority on council at the last election and that "one man is asserting his will and personal ambition against the people who elected him." It is known that Kirchner is seeking the mayor's post.

Bower concluded his statement that "I am a loyal citizen of Whitehall first and a partisan party man second."

Willis, in announcing his own resignation, said that he had been plagued with anonymous phone calls, with some of the remarks "not becoming" to anybody, especially his wife and children.

Probate Judge Candidate Gives Election Pledges

Lawyers of Franklin County this week received a letter from Wilmore Brown, candidate for Probate Judge, under the heading of "What Does a Lawyer Have the Right to Expect From the Probate Court?"

Brown states that attorneys should expect speedy, courteous, and intelligent time saving service from employees of the court; fair, prompt and courteous treatment by the Probate Judge himself; rules that will expedite the lawyers' work; prompt decisions; a full time court; no favoritism.

In a statement to the press this week, Brown pledges himself to this platform if elected.

Lions-Cardinals Go Tonight; Rams-Warriors Duel Friday

'A good Ol' neighborhood battle shapes up this week as two of last year's champs have a go at it Friday night.

When Whitehall suits up to meet Eastmoor, a lot will be told as to how far the Rams can be expected to go in the CBL this year. And the Warriors, losers last week to Linden, will have the added motive of bringing home their first win.

Another around-the-corner encounter pits Bexley High School against St. Charles on the Lions home grounds tonight. Bishop Hartley takes on a powerful Olentangy contingent Saturday night at the Hawks aerie.

Eastmoor, smarting over last week's 20-16 loss at Linden, have their locker room stacked with but one slogan "Let's Start with Whitehall.

But Coach Bob Stuart doesn't expect Dough Van Horn, all-league tackle last year, to be ready. Van Horn has been laid up most of the week with a bruised hip sustained in the Panther game. Also on the doubtful starting list is center Ken Hollister.

On the Whitehall side of the ledger, Coach Jim Bline was subjected to the loss of Dale Broyles for three weeks with a broken ankle and Bob Schmitz may be out for another week with a bad ankle, Bline said.

The game is slated for the Ram pen Friday night.

Bexley's opponents, St. Charles, found themselves on the short end of a 20 to 6 lacing at the hands of Upper Arlington last week, generally considered to be a CBL powerhouse.

How the Lions roar and score against St. Charles will give a complete outlook as to how Ben Tenwalde's boys will fare in what he calls "a tough, well-balanced CBL league."

The game will get underway Thursday night at Bexley.

Fresh from its first win ever, the Hawks will be hoping to keep their record intact but face a formidable opponent in Olentangy, conquerors of Dublin by a 36 to 0 score.

The Hawks and Olentangy square off Saturday night at the new Bishop Hartley stadium.

For spectators, who could be kept running with three games on three nights, it shapes up as a couple of good neighborhood fights and a chance to see a recharged Bishop Hartley "11" try to reclaim some of last year's lost glory.

Lions' Grab 20-0 Win Over Logan

It was supposed to be Lion tail-twisting time last week, but somehow or the other Logan forgot to twist and didn't even begin to get close to a tail as Ben Tenwalde's Bexley legions swarmed to a 20 to 0 win.

The Lions popped over for at least one TD in each quarter but the second as its ground gain chipped at Logan for an overall 279 dent.

With quarterback Jerry Mecklin directing the hungry Lions, the pressure proved too much for Logan. Mechling scored one touchdown himself with a one yard sneak in the third period.

The remaining trio of Bexley backs routed the Chieftain line with consistent punches. Mecklin sent halfback Chris Tsitouris over from the three for the Lions first score in the first period.

The clincher was supplied by Rich Mauger on an 11-yard romp in the final period.

Tenwalde exclaimed that his boys didn't make many mistakes. "We had no fumbles and no interceptions' 'to go along with a fine game.

Summary: A "Tail" there was to be told and the Lions told it.

Bexley	6	8	8	6	—28
Logan	0	0	0	0	— 0

Scoring: Bexley—Mechling (run, 1); Titouris (plunge, 3); Mauger, (run, 11); Conversions: Tuckerman (pass).

Whitehall Band Set To Serenade Colts

RAIN, RAIN GO AWAY . . .

YEA HARTLEY—SQUISH!—Hartley Hawks plowed through muddy ground and rainy weather last Friday night to defeat visiting Big Walnut, 22-0. The girls are Sandy Slater, Barbara School, Sherry Buttler, Nancy Krauss, Mary Ann Sharkey and Patti Lorms.

Hawks Fly In Rain To Crack Big Walnut

By John Peoppelmeyer

It turned out to be "T"-time in the rain as Bishop Hartley clashed with Big Walnut Saturday night.

But the biggest "T" of all turned out to be a Thomas named Buddy, who galloped for three TD's off tackle slants in Coach John Murphy's shifty split-T offense.

The Hawks wasted no time after ceremonies dedicating the Hawks' new stadium were over. Before the first quarter ended they had rung up a 14 to 0 count. Walnut was never able to stabilize its forces to gain consistently.

They managed to eke to the one-foot line in the final period after capitalizing on a Hawk fumble on the 12-yard line. But stalwart defense held and that was practically it for the visitors.

The Thomas trolley surged into high gear twice in the first period. The lithe halfback moved through the Logan line for 60, 67 and 25 yard scores.

With a first and 40 situation early in the first period, Thomas scrambled off tackle to register touchdown number one.

After an exchange of fumbles and with the Hawks forcing Walnut to kick, Thomas took over on another first down play and wended his way goalward from his own 33-yard line. Bob Stamps provided the extra points with a pass from quarterback Gantner to ring up a 14 to 0 count.

In the second quarter, after a Mike Hanf pass failed, Thomas on a third and eight, darted through tackle again and was off on a 25-yard scoring jaunt.

Gantner passed to Jacobs for two points and the scoring was over.

The last half produced a series of stalemates as the rain came down harder.

Gantner varied the offense trying to find running room for his backs on the slippery turf. End sweeps, mixed with power plays up the middle and a pass or two kept the Logan defense on its toes.

For the Hawks it turned out to be win number one after an all losing season last year.

As Coach Murphy aptly remarked, "It was the first time these boys have ever had the pleasure of taking a winner's shower."

Hartley	14	8	0	0	22
Walnut	0	0	0	0	0

Scoring: Hartley—Thomas 3 (run 60, 67, 25); conversions: Stamps (pass); Jacobs (pass).

Gardner & Company Down Westerville 22-6

A free-wheeling demonstration of how to score touchdowns 1-2-3 was put on by Whitehall's Danny Gardner Friday night, as the Rams climbed over Westerville for a 22-6 victory.

Except for the conversions, the final score would have read Gardner 18, Wildcats 6.

But Coach Jim Bline was quick to point out that good as Gardner' performance was, the Ram line-play had to be congratulated for a job well done.

Ron Neutzling came in for 10 tackles, Don Justice an even six, and Bline was impressed with the performance of Charley Dodd, a six-foot, four-inch, 260-pound tackle, out for his first year.

The whole Gardner onslaught took place in the third quarter.

The Rams had grabbed the lead when the fullback lugged the leather over from the four. The 'Cats came back to tie the effort on a 64-yard dash by Louis Steinmetz.

With a little over a minute and a half left, Gardner grabbed the 'skin and churned 17 yards for a TD. Then in still less time in the half, Gardner again toted the ball over on a 19-yard play.

Bline said that he was well pleased with the Rams winning effort considering the experience they were up against, although he was leary of two fumbles his boys committed before gaining their first score.

Altogether Gardner carried 21 times for 134 yards. The Rams outgained the Wildcats 300 yards to 128 and in first downs 14 to four.

To sum up: A "Danny" of an effort.

Whitehall	0	22	0	0	22
Westerville	0	6	0	0	6

Scoring: Whitehall—Gardner three (run, four, 17, 19); conversions: Shoaf (pass).

Westerville—Steinmetz, (run, 64).

Card Splurge Not Enough To Gain Nod

Two last period touchdowns by St. Charles weren't enough to secure a win as the Cardinals fell before Mt. Vernon by a 20 to 14 score.

Junior halfback Dan Mitchell capped two long scoring drives by belting over for both TD's. The first one came on the first play of the final stanza at the end of a 50-yard march.

The second came after that as the Cards worked their way for a 72-yard drive with Mitchell darting around for a 34-yard score.

In all, the Cardinal contingent had 11 first downs to the Jackets 18.

St. Charles	0	0	0	14	—14
Mt. Vernon	6	0	6	8	—20

Scoring: St. Charles—Mitchell 2 (run. 1, 34); conversion: Morris (pass) Mt. Vernon — Rentz (run, 6); Nethers, (run, 1); Shira (run, 5). Conversion: Welsh (run).

FUMBLES LOSE FOR WARRIORS IN LINDEN TILT

Fumbles caused most of the fireworks as Eastmoor tangled with Linden last week. But it was the Panther eleven that capitalized on the short end of the fuse to upset last year's City Leagues champs by a narrow 20-16 margin.

Coach Bob Stuart lamented Monday that "We were just dropping the ball," and he also had a few words to say about a touchdown that should have been a safety in his estimation.

With only a few minutes remaining in the first quarter, Eastmoor was forced to punt from its own end zone. Linden's Bill Spahr came crashing in and blocked the attempted kick and fell on the ball, with officials ruling it a TD. Stuart claims the ball went out of bounds and should have been a safety, thereby making the final score 16-16.

Altogether the Warriors tumbled to fumbleitis five times. Linden wasn't exempt from the procedure, as they managed to lose the ball four times.

The Warriors managed to snag a lead in the third quarter with Bob Benjamin taking off around end for a 42-yard dash and six points. QB Fran Stavroff added the two extra points and Eastmoor found itself in command of a 16-6 lead.

Fumbles again fizzled a later Eastmoor drive with Linden taking over near its own 40-yard line with fullback Dana Amos supplying most of the firepower. With just short of four minutes remaining, Amos squeezed over from the two.

After the kick-off, Eastmoor again fumbled near its 40-yard line. The Panthers grabbed the ball and called Amos' number. He darted around right end to score standing up after a 33-yard jaunt.

Stuart said Mopday that he blames himself for the loss. With a fourth and two situation on their own 42, he gambled for the first down. The Warriors failed to make it.

As Stuart put it: "Last year we got the breaks. Friday night they went against us."

Eastmoor	0	8	8	0	—16
Linden	6	0	14	0	—20

Scoring: Eastmoor — Cooper (run. 5); Benjamin (run, 42); conversions: Benjamin (rush); Stavroff (rush).

Crown Won By Faith Lutherans

Faith Lutheran Church grabbed Slo-Pitch League honors last Tuesday night by downing Brookwood Presbyterian, 18-16.

C. K. Dean, manager of the winning squad, announced that his squad won the first round and then tied with Brookwood for the second round. Faith grabbed honors, however, in the playoff's for the league crown.

Dick Fridley was the winning pitcher giving Brookwood only one earned run.

John Howell, Gene Shives and Gene Lothes each slammed a home-run for the winning cause.

This is the first year for Slo-Pitch competition in the east end.

'Successful' WBBA Season Ends In Red

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

If shattered dreams were tangible, space satellites wouldn't be necessary. Man could climb to the moon on a stack of his own broken dreams.

Such a case was the Whitehall Boys' Baseball Association, now operating in its fourth year. Although it was considered a "most successful season" by newly elected president, Harold Fleck, the group failed to come out in the black.

"We're operating on about $600 to $700 in the red right now," Fleck said. "But look at the record and see all we've done this year."

Fleck included in his "record" outfitting six Babe Ruth teams with complete uniforms and 12 Little League teams in permanent uniforms. Most of this was done under the leadership of past president Henry Maxfield.

But, not all is lost. The WBBA has come up with a plan to push them over the top—financially—before the year comes to a close.

Fleck announced plans last Sunday for staging a WBBA Park Festival. Present plans call for the staging of the affair on Sept. 24 or, in case of rain, Oct. 1.

"We've got big plans for this festival," Fleck said. Activities will include games and refreshments. The games are designed so that everyone will win something. Prizes will also be awarded.

The festival is being jointly sponsored by the Whitehall Band Booster's organization. "It's two youth groups working hard for local youths," said Fleck.

Lois Hall is co-ordinator of women's activities for the affair and Marv Graler will coordinate the men's activities.

A general meeting on the project will be held Sept. 15 at Whitehall-Yearling High School. The get-to-gether is open to the public. Starting time is 8 p.m.

How did the WBBA organization fall in the red this year? Fleck explained it this way:

"We expected much more from our membership drive. We thought we'd get some $3000. The team-members just had trouble selling the idea to the public."

Fleck added that the program wants to be self-supporting and doesn't want to be sponsored by any civic groups.

New officers for the 1960-61 program include:

President Fleck, vice-president, Don Hall; treasurer, Ted Bontempo, and secretary, William Foster. The Manager's Representative is Jack McQuaid.

"All in all," Fleck concluded, "we're quite pleased with things this past year. We played more ball and had better facilities. Our biggest problem was educating the parents to our program."

DAY TO END SUMMER

FUN DAY FOR ALL—The kids showed up, and how, as Whitehall Recreation's Department held its season ending "Fun Day" recently at Norton Field. The highlight of the day long activities took place at night with a record hop. As can be plainly seen, both young and old (teen-age old, that is) had a rock and roll good time.

Whitehall Will Offer Classes In Adult Education Program

Registration for the Whitehall Adult Education Classes will be Sept. 19, 20, 21 and 22 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the high school office at 675 Yearling -rd.

The Whitehall Adult Education Program was established three years ago for the people of Whitehall and surrounding areas. This is a self-supporting school, therefore, there are no residence requirements and no extra fees for non-residents of Whitehall.

Classes are offered on the basis of apparent need or demand and new classes will be organized with the enrollment of 15 persons and the availability of a qualified teacher.

Courses are offered in two categories: one, those carrying high school credit, which meets two nights per week and runs 15 to 17 weeks. Two, informal classes designed for recreation or pleasure.

These classes meet one night per week for eight weeks. Fees vary from $5.00 to $15 according to the length and nature of the courses.

High School credit classes offered are: algebra, plane geometry, trigonometry, P.O.D. (government), American history, French, recordkeeping, business English, high school math, sewing, typing, woodshop, mech drawing, typing, machine shop, shorthand and English for the foreign born.

The aforementioned classes meet two nights per week for 15 to 17 weeks depending upon the classes.

Informal classes will be offered in bridge, floral design, interior design decoration, ceramics, public speaking, painting, dancing and slimnastics.

These classes meet one night per week for eight weeks.

Additional information can be obtained by calling BE. 5-2585, Extension 18

Woman's Health Course At Center

An extensive program in body conditioning classes for women will be initiated at the Jewish Center Health Club starting in October.

The classes will utilize electric equipment, active exercises, individualized supervision and confidential reports under the leadership of Mrs. Sam Stellman.

Health Club women interested in "toning up" for general good health, losing or gaining weight or specific corrective therapy are encouraged to look into this new program.

The most advanced methods of physical education will be utilized on an individual basis.

The steam room, hat room, sun and heat lamps, whirlpool bath, heat cabinet, needle showers and massage service will be available to supplement the new program.

It will start on Tuesday, Oct. 25, at 9 a.m. There is no fee for the course. Call the Physical Education Department at BE. 1-2731 for further information.

Woolworth Employes Picnic At Reynoldsburg

The annual Great Eastern F. W. Woolworth employes picnic was held Sept. 9 at Echo Woods Park, Reynoldsburg.

According to store manager Joseph Fehrer, there were 48 people present including employes and their families.

The Woolworth store is located in the Great Eastern Shopping Center, along Hamilton-rd.

Bexley High School LION'S ROAR

By PHYLLIS SCHECHTER

Teacher Brings Home World To Her Students

Mrs. Antoinette Barr, a petite English IV teacher at Bexley High School and president of the Bexlef City Teachers' Organization, went on an around-the-world trip this summer.

High points of her trip were at Japan, Hong Kong, Bangkok, Thailand; India, the Holy Land, and Germany.

A few days after President Eisenhower didn't go to Japan as he was scheduled, Mrs. Barr went in. However, the people were warm and friendly; there was no animosity or anti-American feeling.

"I was attracted to Japan and its loveliness, and if I travel abroad again, I want to go there first," commented Mrs. Barr.

"Hong Kong fascinated me with its floating population and new territories," said Mrs. Barr. The floating population is 160,000 Chinese who happily live all their lives on boats. In her trip into the new territories Mrs. Barr looked through a barbed wire fence into Red China.

"Bangkok is the most exotic city I have ever seen. The architecture is fascinating." People patronize the floating markets and others live so close to the river's edge that they jump out the windows into the river added Mrs. Barr.

"It is impossible to prepare oneself for what one finds in India."

Mrs. Barr said that when she saw the great masses of people and cows living and sleeping in the streets, it was just "distressing."

I was most conscious of their filth, but on the other hand, I was impressed by their religious zeal; "what they don't get in material things, they get in religious."

"Yet in the midst of all this, like a breath of fresh air, is the Taj Mahal, which is called a poem in marble."

Then on to Egypt where she had her first and last camel safari, which was around the Sphinx.

From there she went to the Holy Land where she spent a week "visiting places holy to Christianity."

In Jordan she went swimming in the Dead Sea where she bobbed like a cork" in the salty water.

Mrs. Barr's stay in Athens, Greece, was highlighted by seeing Greek tragedy done in the original theater among the ruins near the Parthenon on the Acropolis.

In Germany she saw the Passion Play, an all day play of the story of Christ, which is portrayed at Oberammergau every 10 years. This was one of the most moving religious experiences I ever had."

Then from Austria and London she flew back to America. "It really looked good to me; there's no place like home."

This is not the first world travel that Mrs. Barr has done. In past years she has traveled extensively in Europe, Central America, South America, and Africa. She also spent a year in Scotland as a Fulbright exchange teacher.

"It has helped me to become acquainted with various cultures and peoples of the world. I want to bring to my students my opinions that people all over the world are the same and that there should be some means of living together with these people in peace."

Weaver Will Open School On Drama

Joe Weaver, founder and past producer of Playhouse-on-the-Green, announced this week the formation of the Playhouse Theatre School, a school of the drama for children and adults.

Playhouse Theatre School will sponsor classes for children seven to 14 years old at Veterans Memorial weekdays and Saturdays. Fall term courses will begin Oct. 3.

"Playhouse Theatre School," Weaver states, "is conceived in terms of a four-year program, assuring students of continuity and planned development."

"Children need not enroll for the full four years, of course. Even a limited amount of good dramatic training will provide any child with a rich educational experience, as applicable to life as to the theatre."

The school will also offer selected courses for beginning and advanced adults. Schedule of fall courses will be announced next week.

Office for the Playhouse Theatre will be located at 12 N. Third-st, Room 228.

LADIES WILL HAVE THEIR WAY AT J. C. PENNEY'S

HELPING HAND—Come Friday and Saturday, the ladies will find everything to their liking at Town and Country's J. C. Penney's store. Mrs. Therese Bisang has been named manager for the annual "Ladies' Day" promotion. She will be assisted by Mrs. Elsie Galloway. This is the day when the men take a back seat and let the distaff side run the store in every phase. A style show will be held in the windows Saturday from 1 to 3 p.m. The men will be daintily attired in aprons and hair ribbons. Mrs. Bisang is seen getting a helping "whisk" brooming from Larry Brown. Mrs. Galloway and Al Budd find the shoe sizing a little too big, but don't appear to mind.

All Channels Ready With Solid Campaign Coverage

By Charles Rampp

Voters who are TV viewers this year will get the best chance in history to size up presidential candidates. "Campaign Roundup" begins Saturday at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 6. Nixon, Kennedy, Lodge and Johnson have been invited to discuss their views on the issues.

A space-age "countdown," tracking the course of the presidential campaign, will be offered by Channel 10 in its new series at 10:30 p.m., Monday through Oct. 31.

"Presidential Countdown" will provide on-the-scene picture reports of the candidates' activities and statements, and will report on their advisors, national political leaders, and new personalities and issues.

Each program will focus on a specific campaign element, including foreign policy, civil rights, jet-age campaign techniques, labor, and party platforms.

Channel 4's contribution to political understanding will be presented each Saturday evening, beginning Sept. 17. Film, tape and live reports will cover the candidates and suppliment the work of reporter teams.

College football leads the sports parade for fall, and begins on TV this week. Woodie Hayes will kick off the new season when his weekly program returns to Channel 10, Thursday.

Hayes' first show will guest the entire OSU offensive unit. Woodie may be a stranger to the platoon system, but the outspoken and candid coach is no stranger to television or to football.

The college game of the week begins on Saturday with the first game sending Georgia against Alabama at 2:45 on Channel 6. Future bookings include more Big Ten teams than last year, good news to local fans.

For variety in sports, one can choose the feature races being telecast from Scioto Downs on Sept. 21 by Channel 4 at 10:30 p.m. and the new bowling series, featuring Milton Berle as emcee, aired by Channel 4 as a late evening show on Mondays.

General Electric Theater will return on Sunday from 9 to 10 p.m. on Channel 10. Its first presentation will be a comedy about a non-conformist who paints his house red, white and blue.

Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows will star in this one, titled "The Man Who Thought For Himself." Future scheduling on the GE Theater includes two plays by Budd Schulberg, and a drama written especially for television by William Faulkner.

Columbus Town Meeting, local in origin, but concerned with many national problems as well as local ones, returns on Sunday. This Channel 10 feature will this week concern "Aid for the Aged." As usual, spectators are welcomed and telephone calls and questions encouraged.

"The UN in Action" will for the 12th year cover the international beat, beginning Sunday at 10 a.m. on Channel 10. Filmed highlights of the past week's UN sessions, interviews with members, diplomats, and feature films providing perspective on current international problems and problem-solving will each have a place in the show's broad format.

Shirley Temple returns with her theater show on Sunday at 7 p.m. on Channel 4. This year, the programs will be more varied in scope, ranging from children's classics, as on her last year's show, to musical and family entertainment.

A color spectacular filmed in Italy will lead the parade of big, expensive new productions. Called "The Barbarians," it will star Jack Palance in a setting of the Rome-Carthage cold and hot wars.

New half-hour situation comedy shows are a dime-a-dozen at this time of year, but frequently are worth more. Teen-agers may enjoy Tab Hunter's portrayal of a bachelor cartoonist Sunday at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 4.

"National Velvet" was a best-selling novel, and a popular movie. So odds favored its turning up on television. It will,

Lutheran Hour Season To Start

The 28th broadcasting season of the Lutheran Hour, worldwide radio ministry of Concordia Lutheran Church, 225 Schoolhouse-ln, and associated congregations, opens Sunday, Sept. 18, reports Rev. Rodney G. Lenech.

Opening broadcast will be heard on WMNI at 8:30 p.m.

on Sunday from 8 p.m. to 8:30, on Channel 4.

There seems to be no end of Mavericks. Beau, the latest in the series and billed as the "white sheep" of the family, will make his debut in the new "Maverick" set of humerous, or tongue-in-the-cheek westerns. Channel 6 will host the programs at 7:30 p.m. each Sunday.

Murder mystery fans can check the premiere of a new crime prevention series, "Checkmate," on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 10. This new series has the interesting premise that murder is rarely inevitable, that somewhere along the chain of circumstances leading to the crime, skillful intervention could cure or halt the building emotion. "Checkmate, Inc." tries to provide that cure in crime situations.

An Ohioan, John Fitch, perfected a steam engine about 1787, 20 years before Fulton's first steamboat, the Clermont.

LITTLE CHATS

Newspapers Must Meet Requirements

By Dr. James Pollard

There are times when what looks like a newspaper may not quiality for legal purposes. In many places there are what are known as "shoppers" or "throwaways." They contain more or less news, they serve a purpose, but their primary purpose is advertising.

Such publications are useful and many of them have been in existence for years. Some of them make a fine appearance. But it is significant that they cannot qualify for second class entry under the postal laws. This is because they do not come within the definition of a bona fide newspaper under the regulations.

Then again there are special interest newspapers which, within their limits, also serve useful purposes. These may be fraternal or religious in nature or may have to do with a specific trade, business, industry or profession.

But in the very great majority of cases the thousands of state laws governing public notices, or legal advertising specify the use of bona fide newspapers of paid general circulation in the community for such purposes. This is because such newspapers usually give maximum coverage, circulate throughout the community, their main purpose is to publish editorial and news matter, and their paid circulations are undeniable proof of their merit, their influence and their being wanted in the community.

dollars-a-foot water tap charge.

Officials claimed that if the city advertised for competitive bids for the line it would cost them from eight to nine dollars per lineal foot.

It was pointed out, however, that only part of McNaughten-rd is in the lity proper.

Another measure, approved in committee and and now awaiting a council vote, would impose a $500 fine for operating a truck or automobile on the airport runways.

Construction firms who have been operating their equipment on the runways and individuals who sometimes use them as a shortcut to and from jobs in the area have previously only been warned to stay off.

Hamilton-Livingston Group Names Prexy

The Hamilton and Livingston Civic Association has elected Paul Gearhart, 4460 Keeler-dr, as its president.

Other officers are Jack Green, vice-president; Bobbie McLevery, secretary, and Cy Zimmerman, treasurer.

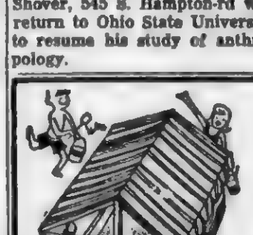
A meeting of area councilmen will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 27 at Shady Lane Presbyterian Church.

Two Will Enter College In Fall

Two Eastern area youths will resume the long walk down college lane this fall.

Susan Office, 450 N. Columbia-av, is a sophomore at Ohio University studying commerce. She is a Bexley graduate.

An Eastmoor graduate, Dick Shover, 545 S. Hampton-rd will return to Ohio State University to resume his study of anthropology.



Flap-Jacks Flip Crowd On Friday

Nearly 4,000 people lined up before a colorful tent last Thursday morning, Sept. 8, at the Great Eastern Shopping Center to have a complete pancake breakfast, compliments of the stores located in the S. Hamilton-rd site.

Store managers manned the grills and served tables to give prompt service to all comers during the four hours which it took to wind up the breakfast event.

In many cases, entire families were on hand for the first meal, which included pancakes, bacon, juice and beverage.

According to Center officials the total number attending was greater than anticipated, however everyone was served.

strations of time-saving and taste-tempting recipes. Food hints and recipes will be demonstrated in a model kitchen using all the latest appliances.

A special mirror and lighting device during the program will enable everyone in the audience to watch every detail of preparation. Recipes Miss Lowe demonstrates from the stage will be available to all without charge.

Many valuable prizes will awarded at each show.

New fashions for the new season, to suit every member of the family on any possible occasion, will be show during each session. Area merchants will cooperate in the presentation.

Models will show the new ensembles and fashion trends. The show will be narrated.

its present location at the East Columbus VFW Post.

The piano was originally donated to the civic association, but according to Mrs. Pierce, "we really don't have much use for it and I'm sure the old people would get a lot of enjoyment out of it since the only thing they have for entertainment now is a TV set."

A play-by-ear musician herself, she said she intends to go to the nursing home as often as possible to play.

Not forgetting the men, Mrs. Pierce is now attempting to get a piano or organ for the men's nursing home.

She raised part of the funds for this project by auctioning off a dog at the Fourth of July festival at Crumm Park. And a candy sale added a few more dollars to the till. "But," she confessed, "we've still got a long way to go."

Library—

Along with the usual routine iquiries delving into sports statistics, she has supplied information pertaining to the correct "pattern" to wrap a sarong and noted that horses feet in equesterian statues of generals do not apply to the way the man died.

One other informative item: the name Europe is not derived from Europa, as many commonly believe. Europe comes from a Semitic work, ereb, meaning evening or sunset.

But the book mark situation does get a little bit hazardous at times, both for the library and for the borrower.

Sticky suckers for one prove to get a little messy. Once, a borrower managed to leave a "big" government check between the binding.

Birthday cards, dollar and ten dollar bills, photos, chewing gum wrappers, "apparently the handiest thing around" is what people use, said Mrs. Houck.

She doesn't really understand it, because the library furnishes book marks.

Among items left on library tables, the loot includes, socks, dirty and unwashed; balls, rubber; and practically anything one wears or carries.

But as Mrs. Houck implies, each day is a little different than the previous one.

What does the moose population of Canada happen to be? Let's leave that to the moose. After all, they should really be the only ones that care.

A CONTEST FOR PEOPLE WHO NEVER ENTER CONTESTS!

"I was going to tell you the latest dirt about Gloria Duerr—but you are Gloria Duerr, aren't you?"

Remember your first date?... The first time you drove a car?... That time you barbecued your first steak and it went up in smoke?... Well, now you can share an experience just as exciting and challenging. A contest designed just for you who never enter contests. In fact, there will be three different contests. This one and two more in the October and November issues of Suburbia Today. (Aside to those who have entered contests before: All right, if you insist, you can enter, too. Just don't act as if you enjoy it so we'll never know that you really like contests.)

Here's all you do: Look at the cartoon and read the gag line. Then using the same cartoon write a gag line of your own. Here are several sample lines to help inspire you:

"My husband told me I had to cut down on household expenses so we're eating all our meals out."

"Don't look now but there are six women wearing a hat just like yours."

STUDEBAKER LARK Station Wagon

2 HARDMAN "DUO" PIANOS

2 WESTINGHOUSE Washer-Dryer Combinations

5 BELL & HOWELL "Zoomatic" 8mm Motion Picture Cameras

20 BLACK & DECKER U-9 Sure-Drill Sets

AND OTHER PRIZES!

(1) You may enter as many gag lines as desired using the entry form or facsimilies. If preferred, you may write your entry on a post card, an elephant hide, the reverse side of a Kim Novak photo, or an old bottle cap, or, if you insist, a $100 bill.

(2) All entries for Contest #1 must be received by October 3, 1960. Contest winners will be notified by mail, telephone, wire, smoke signals or carrier pigeon as soon as possible.

(3) Entries will be judged on the basis of originality and aptness of thought. Judges' decision is final. In case of ties, the tied contestants will be required to complete the statement "I never enter contests because..." in 25 words or less. All entries become the property of Suburbia Today. (We're reckoning our contest office and we're short of wall paper.)

(4) Entries must be the original work of contestants and must be submitted in their own names. (In other words, no cribbing.)

(5) A total of 300 prizes will be awarded—100 to the winners of this contest and 200 to the winners of the next two contests appearing in the October and November issues of Suburbia Today. Three hundred fortune cookies—each containing a message listing a prize—will be selected at random for mailing to the 300 individual prize winners.

(6) This contest is open to all residents of the United States except Groucho Marx, Walt Disney, Red Skelton, Jackie Gleason, Bob Hope, and Elliot Ness.

(7) The contests are subject to all Federal, State and local regulations.

Aid For Aging Topic In TV Town Meeting

Columbus Town Meeting opens its 1960-1961 season on Sunday, Sept. 18, at 4:30 p.m. with a discussion on "Aid For The Aging — Whose Responsibility"

Guest speakers for the program are Mrs. Robert Gorman, Director of Public Welfare for Ohio; Robert W. Kean, Chairman of White House Conference on Aging and Dr. Edmond Yantes of Wilmington. C. Emory Glander will moderate the program.

Eastmoor High School's Warriors' Spear-It

Eastmoor Students Find Many Changes

The Eastmoor Marching Band, 64 strong this year, has been practicing every weekday morning at 8.

This year, instead of having a drum major, the band will feature Marilyn Stevens as head majorette. She placed third in competition at the Ohio State Fair last year.

The band will make its first appearance this Friday when Eastmoor visits Whitehall.

Eastmoor has a new student driver car, a blue Ford Galaxie equipped with power steering, power brakes, and a radio.

There are 56 students enrolled in the class taught by Mr. Barr.

Eastmoor welcomed six new teachers to its staff.

Mrs. Madonna Clifton and Miss Sally Gould help out in the English Department but their major duties are in art and home economics respectively.

Mrs. Joy Barlow teaches physical education and is the new choreographer for the Warriorettes, Eastmoor's drill team.

Miss Ann Perdue is returning to her previous post as the librarian, while Miss Anne Jackson enjoys herself as a librarian in Tokyo, Japan.

Larry Maurer is joining our social studies department, replacing Mr. Howard, who went to Cincinnati to do counseling and audio visual work.

Mr. Grasseli is joining our music department.

Mr. Conover, Eastmoor mathematics teacher, worked as assistant manager at Liv-Moor Pool this summer. He had a busy schedule working as a life guard, swimming instructor and a chaperon at various pool parties.

Three Eastmoor boys made up the biggest part of a five-member bowling team which took first place in the Sportsman League at Holiday Lanes.

The team, "Make Ups," consisted of Mike Kohar, Bud Armstrong and Mat Hicks from Eastmoor and Ken Sanner of Whitehall. Bill Dodson was captain of the team.

The team won 33 games and lost 9.

For taking first place each bowler received a gold trophy and $12.

A foreign exchange student from Budingen, Germany, Miss Heide Kreutzer, is now attending Eastmoor.

She will stay with Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Samlowski at 1126 Manfeld-dr for the school year.

Heide said that in Germany the students have four years of grade school and nine years of high school, graduating when they are 19 or 20 years old. She has studied five different languages in addition to a great deal of science and math.

With the presidential election drawing near, history students thought it a good idea to present a mock election.

Mr. Maurer, American History teacher will conduct the election a few days before the national one.

Miss Sandi Katz was sent to Israel for her achievements in B'nai B'rith Girls. She is the vice-president.

Accompanying Sandi was a group of 38 other BBYO members from the U.S. and Canada.

Sandi was awarded the trip after applying for one of the scholarships offered by BBYO.

In Israel Sandi stayed mostly in Jerusalem, headquarters of B'nai B'rith. "My most exciting experience," she said, "was working and living with the people of Israel on the collective farms and settlements."

For the past 10 years the Atomic Energy Commission has been honoring high school science teachers by awarding atomic energy stipends at Wayne State University, Detroit.

This spring one of Eastmoor's science teachers, George Aggas, applied for a grant and was one of 20 other teachers chosen for this specialized training.

After completing the course he was presented with more than $1,000 worth of radiation detection equipment that he'll use in his classroom.

Eastmoor has another first this year, a fourth-year Latin class. The class of eight pupils will meet in the bookroom since there are no available classrooms. The text "Latin Poetry" is mainly Vergil's works.

Paul Steele and James Tharp language instructors are announcing the formation of the International Club to acquaint students with the customs, music and dances of foreign countries. Possible activities include movies and an international banquet and dance in the spring.

All students are welcome to join, especially those who are taking languages or who have taken them.

High school students will have their first vacation of the school year on Friday, Sept. 16 thanks to the annual Central Ohio Teacher's meeting at St. John's arena on the Ohio State University campus.

The Eastmoor Girl's Ensemble will entertain at a luncheon given for vice-principles at the Grandview Inn. The mixed ensemble will provide the entertainment for the Guidance Teacher's luncheon at the YMCA.

Center Swimming All Over

The 1960 swimming season, one of the most gratifying in Jewish Center history, closed Labor Day with a capacity crowd out for the last "rows" of summer.

The 915 American Red Cross certified Polliwogs, Turtles, Porpoises, Whales, life savers, canoeists and water safety aides will be "land logged" until next year.

The Columbus Jewish Center Aquatic Department still holds to its motto, "Every Center member a swimmer, every swimmer a life saver and every lifesaver a water safety teacher."

Sally Kapp passed 193 Polliwogs from non-floaters to Turtles. Sally also promoted 35 Tiny Tots to spread their fins toward the "big" pool. There were 164 Turtles sent to the deep water by Maggie Klein who also directed 26 Humpty Dumptys for the Annual Water Show.

The Junior Synchronized group kept Maggie going at top speed twice a week.

The 48 Torpedoes were led by Earle Elleman. They swam in 16 meets.

The Suburban League had a 5-5 record in dual meets, but brought home 17 first-place gold medals, 14 2nd-place silver medals and six third-place bronze medals in the Suburban League individual meet.

Out of 22 teams that entered the Junior Olympics the Torpedoes took ninth place. At Delaware, the Torpedoes placed in Breast Stroke and in the Medley Relay Events. Coach Elleman says, "We will need depth and then we can take the relays."

The Whales are still the tops in all-around performance. Bob Levenson passed 47 out of 113 Whales. Bob also put the Life Savers and Aides through their paces.

The Nereides put the glamor back in swimming and in addition to the Water Show at the Center, the club received a total of 17 awards in a local competition this summer. They also put on shows at Hampton Towers, Nationwide, Recreation Unlimited, Chillicothe Veterans Hospital and promoted the sport by presenting a clinic in competitive synchronized swimming.

Fourteen Canoeists made the grade and were approved in long distance paddling and overnight canoe triping.

Water Safety Instructor Dick Price will be on guard duty for the indoor pool Monday through Friday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. during September.

The pool will also be opened evenings Monday through Thursday 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and Sunday afternoons from 1 to 5 p.m.

Town And Country Offers Honest Values

The arrival of cooler weather has been timed to coincide with "The Fall Harvest of Values," being offered in a tabloid section of this paper, by the merchants of the Town and Country Shopping Center, 3600-4000 E. Broad-st.

For weeks the stores and specialty shops of the Shoppers Mart have been readying their stocks for the advent of the fall season. And, according to Town and Country merchants, they have a "Bumper Crop of Better Buys."

Town and Country has 85 stores and services, designed to provide balance in merchandise selection and priced to fit into all family budgets.

Casual dress, free and unlimited parking, background music, continuous canopies over the sidewalks and courteous salespeople have all been instrumental in making Town and Country one of the nation's largest and finest shopping centers, according to shopping center officials.

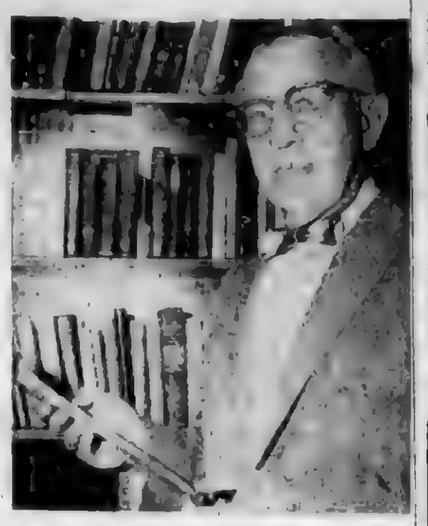
JEWISH MARK RELIGIOUS HOLIDAY OBSERVANCES

By John Poappelmeyer



Just as the sun went down last evening, a new year blossomed forth for the Jewish among us.

The beginning of the Jewish religious year, Rosh Hashanah, is now being observed by all branches of the Hebrew religion, the Orthodox, the Conservative and the Reform.

It also ushers in a host of forthcoming holidays: Yom Kippur and Succoth.

According to three top spokesmen, Rabbi Nathan Zelizer, of the Conservative Temple Tifereth Israel, Rabbi David Stavsky, of the Orthodox Beth Jacob Synagogue and Rabbi Jerome D. Folkman, of the Reform Temple Israel, this is the time of the year when those of the Jewish religion dedicate themselves anew to God, to peace and to mankind. It is also the day when God judges the deeds of mankind, according to the Jewish rabbis.

The only difference in the three branches' method of observance is that the Orthodox and the Conservative celebrate Rosh Hashanah for two days whereas the Reform Synagogue observance lasts for only one.

RABBI ZELIZER

One of the beautiful, nostalgic features of the Rosh Hashanah observance is the sounding of the "shofar" in all synagogues. The shofar is a ram's horn sounded by the rabbis, according to Rabbi Zelizer.

The new year is also a time for the final reading of the first five books of Moses, Rabbi Stavsky stated. Each Sabbath a bit of the five books are read during the year, he explained.

Ten days after Rosh Hashanah comes Yom Kippur, the "day of atonement." It is the last 10 days of penitence which begins with the coming of the new year.

Rabbis Stavsky and Folkman commented that "this is the day when the synagogues are overflowing." Yom Kippur comes on Oct. 1 this year. According to the three rabbis, it is a time for fasting and prayers.

As Rabbi Stavsky explained, "It is a time for we Jewish to divest ourselves of our worldly pursuits and material desires. We strive to become spiritually more effective in our outlook."

Once again, as Rabbi Folkman pointed out, the Reform division of the Jewish religion take only one day for observance while the Conservative and the Orthodox celebrate Yom Kippur for two days.

RABBI STAVSKY

These solemn holidays are followed by one of a more festive, merry mood, Rabbi Stavsky pointed out. Succoth corresponds to Thanksgiving. It is during this time, from Oct. 5 to Oct. 14, that little huts are built, commemorating the time when the Jews left Egypt to go to the promised land.

They dwelled in temporary huts with roofs made from foliage. It is in this spirit that the "little" huts are reconstructed in miniature.

All holidays, according to Rabbi Zelizer, commence at eventide. The reason, he points out, is derived from the Bible where it states that "evening and morning" were the first day.

According to the Jewish calendar, today marks the beginning of the year 5721 since the beginning of the creation of the world. September corresponds to the month of Tishray.

Bexley Dems To Hear Young

Come Wednesday, Oct. 5, and the Democrats of Bexley will be out in full force.

Jubilant Dem officials this week have announced that Ohio Senator Stephen M. Young has accepted an invitation to appear in the Bexley High School Auditorium rallying place.

The open Democratic meeting, according to John V. Holden, Dem ward committeeman, will be the first major party rally ever to be held in the city.

With the announcement that Senator Young will be on hand to spearhead the activities that evening, the group immediately has gone to work on last minute details.

Holden noted that the Bexley Dems are "indeed fortunate to have a speaker of Senator Young's stature."

Holden looks upon the occasion as an opportunity to "revitalize" Democratic strength in the community.

Senator Young is a member of the Aeronautical and Space Science Committee of the U. S. Senate. Holden pointed out that the senator has been "outspoken" in the area of civil defense.

The 70-year-old legislator won the Ohio Senate seat in the 1958 election over Republican Senator John Bricker.

Senator Young has also served as a congressman-at-large for four terms and has had a seat in the Ohio General Assembly.

The executive committee of the Bexley Dem organization is headed by Oscar L. Fleckner.

Committee chairmen and co-chairmen consist of Betty De Vennish, 2475 E. Broad-st; Dorothy Holden, 834 Francis-av; Inez L. Feitlinger, 139 N. Merkle; Robert A. Bell, 965 Francis-av; Helen Cannon, 2444 Bexley Park; David Clayman, 760 S. Remington; Alden V. Stevers, 2773 Columbus-av; Martha Sliter, 848 Francis-av, and William L. Schmidt, 55 S. Roosevelt.

In addition, a committee headed by M. D. Portman, of 80 S. Chesterfield, is to be responsible for the attendance of Democrats from adjoining areas, Holden said.

SATURDAY STUDY SLATED

Master Plan Ready

Whitehall city officials are scheduled to meet with Rackoff Associates, master plan formulators, Saturday morning for a final run through of the long awaited $15,000 municipal development recommendations.

Mel Rackoff said Wednesday that his organization will submit drafts to council and the administration at the Saturday session. He expects the city fathers to study and review the contents of the plan and turn them back to Rackoff with further recommendations, if any.

The city officials will be handed the formulators' suggestions on transportation, major streets, recreation, parks and playgrounds, Rackoff said. He also expects that the public buildings part of the plan will be ready for a look-see.

Other parts of the plan that are "pretty well set" include land use and zoning, and the public utility structure, Rackoff stated.

Rackoff said that the final phase of the plan, the fiscal planning portion, will be conditioned upon the replies of the city officials after study.

He did mention that certain projects will be recommended as priorities, but said that he preferred to discuss the matter with the officials.

The $15,000 major improvements plan is a long awaited one in Whitehall. Indirectly it has brewed a political tempest of sorts. Much legislation has been delayed until the planners' recommendations were forthcoming.

Harmony Prevails

For the first time in months, Whitehall's legislative agenda rolled along in high gear Tuesday night. Perfunctory nods were given to amassed ordinances. Among them were okays given to improvements of Pierce and Bernhard-sts.

A minor bit of politicking appeared at the start of the meeting, but with the "best interests of the city at heart," Paul Haytcher deposed himself as a possible council president. Haytcher supposedly was named a fortnight ago on a council vote. In the interim, Mayor Walter B. Moling appointed Republican Walter Siemer.

The ordinance for purchasing a two and a half acre tract of land at 336 Robinwood-av fell by the wayside. Council rejected the proposition after Recreation Director Don Ecker and Mayor Moling stated that they thought the price appraised for the land, $21,500, was too much.

Tabled for 30 days, to allow time for a public hearing, was a request piece of legislature on Yearling-rd improvements. Dem Loren Mason suggested

Western Electric Tours Set

Approximately 35,000 persons are expected to tour Western Electric's new plant on E. Broad-st next week as the firm holds a week long series of Guest Nights.

Intended to give interested Columbus area residents as well as employes and their families a look at the new facilities, the nights are not meant to be open house affairs and admission will be by ticket only.

Two tours, each over a mile long, have been layed out in the plant and it is expected that at least two hours will be required to complete the circuit.

Employing 3,500 persons, the plant has 1,275,000 square feet of floor space in the manufacturing area and an additional 255,000 square feet in the office area and 86,000 square feet in the service buildings.

The Columbus Works houses a research and development unit for the Bell System and has the fourth largest Bell Laboratories Branch Laboratory.

Presently, the plant is working on development of direct distance dialing, automatic message accounting, automatic number identification, line concentrator and electronic switching.

Manager of the works is John D. Burlie.

Steffen Gets Presidency

James C. Steffan, 2095 Park Hill-dr, was elected president of the Chicago Steel and Wire Company this week.

The company manufactures fine gauge sitching wire for industrial uses.

Steffan joined Chicago Steel and Wire in 1937 as the Columbus district manager. In 1952 he became vice-president and sales manager, with offices in Chicago, and has commuted weekly since. He is president of the Fine and Specialty Wire Manufacturers Association.

Bexley Legion Post To Greet Buckeye Boys State Governor

James E. White, the Mifflin High student who served as governor of the 1960 Buckeye Boys' State, will headline the program at the first fall meeting of Bexley Post 430, American Legion, Monday night, Sept. 26, at the Post Home, 3227 E. Livngston-av.

Appearing with him will be the four boys Bexley Post sent to Boys' State—Sam McGavran of Bexley High, Lawrence Nichols of Eastmoor, John Gugle of St. Charles, and James Harkless of Bishop Hartley High School.

Representatives of three co-sponsors—Ackerman Drugs, Harmony Farms Dairy, and the Leo Yassenoff Foundation—also have been invited to attend.

Commander Victor Funtjar, of 1064 Eastmoor-blvd, presiding for the first time since his election, has announced that the meeting will begin promptly at 8 p.m. with a brief business session.

First Vice-Commander Samuel Shenker, of 155 S. Broadleigh, says re-enrollment of membership for 1961 is off to a good start, with more than 70 already paid up toward this year's goal of 299 members.

Vice-Commander Shenker, Adjutant Howard Lewis, of 760 S. Roosevelt-av, and one other officer will attend the American Legion Leadership College at the Youth Center on the state fairgrounds the weekend of Sept. 25-26.

Bexley Post again has a member of the Legion's state executive committee, following the appointment of the Rev. Karl W. Scheufler, pastor of First Methodist Church, as the new state chaplain. Another member, Rabbi Nathan Zelizer, was chaplain two years ago. Both clergymen continue as members of the Legion's Religious Emphasis Committee.

Civic Group Selects New Councilmen

Young Actors Are Grooming For Creative Children's Unit

Harold M. Eisenstein, drama director of the Gallery Players of the Jewish Center, announces that a new session of the "Children's Creative Theatre" will begin the last week in October. Due to the overwhelming registration last year, the coming sessions will be limited to Jewish Center members.

Two seven to nine-year-old groups will begin the sessions on Thursday, Oct. 27, one group meeting from 4 to 5 o'clock and the second from 5 to 6 o'clock. The 10 and 11-year-olds will meet on Friday, Oct. 28, at 4 o'clock.

Each group will be limited to 16 children so it is imperative for parents to register their youngsters at the earliest convenience. The fee for the eight-session course, which will continue until the middle of December, will be $2.

The Jewish Center is offering this drama activity in order to provide youngsters with an opportunity for enjoyment and fun through a controlled emotional release.

Creative drama will be used as a tool to expose the child to the many facets of the theatre. Youngsters in the groups will be involved in such theatrical activities as pantomime, improvisation and theatrical make-up. There will also be an emphasis on proper speech habits.

As new staff members are recruited, additional classes will

Food, Fashion Experts Arrange Hartley Show

Modern ideas and newest trends in "Fashions 'n' Foods," the cooking school and style show sponsored by Hartley Newspapers, will be presented by experts in the fields.

Susan Lowe, well-known food lecturer, will conduct the cooking classes, and new fall and winter styles will be shown by area merchants.

Two sessions of the affair will be held at Whitehall-Yearling High School auditorium, Monday, Oct. 17, 8 p.m. and Tuesday, Oct. 18, 2 p.m.

The show is sponsored by the Southeast Rural - Urban News, Reynoldsburg Record and Eastern Review.

Tickets will be distributed, free, by merchants in the newspapers' circulation areas.

Every women attending will have an opportunity to win valuable prizes, for many important items will be given away.

Special mirror and lighting devices will be used during each program to enable everyone in the audience to watch each detail of food preparation.

Food hints and recipes for excellent dishes will be demonstrated by Miss Lowe in a model kitchen using all the latest appliances.

Susan Lowe

Recipes demonstrated will be available to everyone free of charge.

New fashions for everyone — men, women and the small fry, will be modeled during each session. The style show will be narrated.

Pets In Demand

Dog raisers are always eager to find good homes for their puppies. Many persons have learned to rely on Hartley Classifieds to find the right kind of customers. WATCH THE BIRDIE!—Bitty Buddy, a five-year-old Dachshund, keeps close watch on a local family's parakeet. The canine lives at 1061 Whittier-av with Peg Reardon—a Hartley Newspaper staffer. Buddy's escapades have caused many a laugh around the South Side area.

LETTER TO EDITOR:

Ferguson Blasts News Media After Reading Opinion

I want to thank you for publishing the article which I sent you and which appeared in the Aug. 24 issue of the Record. This morning I received a letter from James Ferguson replying to the article.

I wish it were possible for me to see you personally so that we could together have a good laugh over the contents of the letter, for you have been included in the letter.

In studying the contents of the letter, I am reminded of the old adage that is very often quoted—"Little People Often Resort To Little Things" in order to win some desired favor.

I am sending you that part of Ferguson's letter that pertains to the Ferguson incident. The following is quoted from the letter.

"Dear Mr. Downey:

"I saw in the Aug. 24 issue of the Columbus, Ohio, West Side News that you had taken the time to comment regarding the Ferguson family in public service. Articles very similar to the one in the News were plastered in the front pages in nearly every metropolitan paper within the same week. There are 303 papers in the State of Ohio.

"Enclosed is a news release which Democratic headquarters put out working closely with me. You will see there is another side of the story. This news release which also was delivered to the 303 papers, appeared in only six so far. It is unlikely it will be given any wider attention.

"Now I don't know whether you are a Democrat or a Republican, whichever conviction you hold, I respect your right to your opinion. I believe, however, that the citizens of Ohio deserve a more unbiased news media. Many people believe in what they read in the papers, not even caring to think about another point of view."

I am omitting that part of Ferguson's letter which pertains to a business trip of Mr. Rhodes. This paragraph reminds me of another old adage, "Misery Loves Company." I wonder if that is why Rhodes' name is mentioned? In the past, Rhodes has been able to take care of himself and he can do the same again.

The following is the last paragraph of Ferguson's letter.

"I believe in efficiency in government and impartial auditing and payment of the states' obligation. An expense is either legal or illegal—and that means for everybody—Republicans and Democrats alike, Mr. John A. Downey."

Thank you Mr. Ferguson for this information as if I wouldn't have learned it after working in the treasurer's office for an extensive period of years.

Yes, Mr. Ferguson, my horizon of information has been broadened, but not in the way you intended. My confidence and high esteem for the editor and news media that you referred to has been increased and in that way the horizon of my information has been broadened. I thank you for your median letter.

Mouse Is Given Dip; Bird Bites Bitty Buddy

The saying about animals being the craziest people may or may not be true, but one thing sure, a five-year old South Side Dachshund is about as human as any animal can get.

Bitty Buddy, belonging to Peg Reardon, 1061 Whittier — a Hartley Newspaper staffer — has been amusing the Reardon family and their friends for quite some time now.

Buddy — who's always good for a laugh — engineered an incident last week that's worthwhile repeating.

It seems that the Readons were discussing the hot and humid weather conditions which have been prevailing for sometime throughout the country.

Buddy sat in a corner of the living room, with his rubber mouse friend, intently listening to the conversation.

The canine swooped down, grabbed his "Mousie" up by the tail and trotted into the kitchen—heading straight for his water dish.

When the dog re-entered the room, he carried the mouse—dripping wet—in his teeth. Bitty Buddy had doused his friend in the water dish to cool him off.

"He wanted to show us that he had cooled the mouse off," Peg laughed.

Among the other adventures of Bitty Buddy is this story Peg related:

"We have a parakeet, also," she said. "We call him Jim. The bird usually is let out of his cage and allowed to fly around the living room.

"One afternoon," she continued, "Jim swooped down and pecked Bitty Buddy on the nose. Buddy yelped and the bird flew straight for his cage where he remains all the time, now. We can't coax him out, and Buddy keeps a close watch on the cage to see that he doesn't.

"I guess Jim knows what side his seeds are buttered on," Peg grinned.

The Reardons have had Bitty Buddy since he was seven weeks old. They used to raise tropical fish.

Consumer Report

Food Market This Week

by ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruit—Apples, grapes, canned peaches.

Vegetables—Potatoes, cabbage, green peppers, squash, lettuce, celery.

Meats and Poultry—Fryers, small eggs, rib roasts, fresh ham, lamb shoulder.

MOST EVERYONE LIKES APPLES

Apples have a certain allure. They stimulate a good cook to bake up something special in the way of desserts. The aroma of a freshly baked pie sends the family sailing into supper. It's the taste — most everyone likes apples.

There'll be plenty of apples for all your needs this year. Ohio has the best apple crop since 1951—16 per cent above last year. This year's estimated 3,200,000 bushels in Ohio are reported to be generally of good color and quality. The nation-wide crop isn't quite as large as last year. In fact, it's down 10 per cent, but there will be plenty of apples.

TO BUY WISELY, you will find it helpful to know one variety from another. Not all apple varieties taste alike just because they are red. Cooking quality varies, too. Try several varieties to find those you like.

SOME COMMON VARIETIES

McIntosh is noted for its characteristic aroma. It is usually medium in size, white-fleshed, relatively soft, yet verey crisp. These qualities make it an eating favorite of many. In pies it is juicy, cooks smooth, but loses volume.

Jonathan is slightly more tart than McIntosh. It is yellow-fleshed, block-shaped, and deep bright red. Very often a bright yellow background color shows through. Jonathan cooks fast, is soft-textured, somewhat firmer but less juicy than McIntosh.

Red Delicious is always easy to identify by its long shape, fine pointed blossom end. It is milder flavored than most, and is firm-fleshed early in the season. These medium to large, deep red apples, are one of the most eye appealing market varieties. This is not a favorite for cooking since it remains very firm in slices and becomes dry very easily.

Golden Delicious, shaped like its red cousin, except for the points at the blossom end, is a mildly sweet-flavored yellow variety. As for cooking, it's like the Red Delicious—firm and rather dry.

Cortland is a cross between McIntosh and an old timer—the Ben Davis. It has white flesh as does the McIntosh. This white flesh when cut, discolors very slowly, making this an ideal salad apple. Its crispness and mild tartness makes it a desirable eating and cooking variety.

High School College Night In October

Representatives from 39 of Ohio's colleges will be present at Franklin County college Night, Thursday, Oct. 13, 7:30 p.m. at the Youth Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds to aid high school seniors contemplating college next year.

Highlight of the evening will be a panel discussion on the advantages of: large state university; small state university and small private university.

All students must be accompanied by a parent, guardian or some other responsible adult.

There are a limited number of tickets available and reservations must be made in advance. Ken W. Kayner of the guidance office will accept the reservations.

BIBLE COMMENT:

Eternal Life Saving Grace

Among Christians, the concept of life after death has a very special meaning. The conception of death is lost in the larger idea of eternal life.

"The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." (Romans 6:23.) It is the undying nature of the soul through the experience of the new life in Christ.

But this fact and experience has its definite foundation in history in the life, death and Resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth. The foundation of the experience is in the divine, eternal life of Jesus; Himself, and His words to His disciples, "Because I live, ye shall live also." (John 14:19.)

From this standpoint, the Resurrection is the very basis of the Christian faith. But the prior foundation is in the moral and spiritual in the life of God, and in the God-like life of man.

Eternal life is not marked in terms of duration but in the quality of the living. It is this that lifts the Christian conception of immortality above the mass of superstitions and materialistic ideas and practices concerning survival.

Foot Doctor Talks To Church Group

Dr. Donald L. Plotnick, foot specialist, was guest speaker at the Canal Winchester Lutheran Church Group Tuesday, Sept. 20.

He talked about common foot problems found among adults and children in the growing age.

Three Area Soldiers In Drills

Three local soldiers recently participated with other members of the 24th Infantry Division in Exercise Summer Shield, a two-week field training problem, in the Bavarian region of Germany.

Pfc. David P. Bright, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bright, 808 Montrose-av, is a clerk in Company A of the division's 24th Signal Battalion. He entered the army in June, 1959, and completed basic training at Fort Hood, Tex., before arriving overseas last February. Bright was graduated from Bexley High School in 1959.

Pfc. Everett A. Smith, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett A. Smith, 770 Wilson-av, is a photographer in Headquarters Company of the 24th Signal Battalion. He entered the army in April, 1958, and arrived overseas in March of last year.

Pfc. Walter Caldwell, 18, son of Mrs. Clara Caldwell, 2123 Woodward-av, is a radio relay and carrier operator in Company B of the 24th Signal Battalion. The 1950 East High School graduate entered the army in June of last year and completed basic training at Fort Knox Ky..

EVERYONE'S LOOKING FORWARD TO LAFB'S KID'S DAY!

JUST LIKE THE BIG GUYS—Ten-year-old Chris Moore, son of Hilltop Kiwanian Chuck Moore, dresses up in a B-37 pilot's helmet and parachute in preparedness for Lockbourne Air Base's Kid's Day Sunday, Sept. 25. Some 50,000 area children will vie for the title of "Commander For a Day." The program is being sponsored by Kiwanis International and the U.S. Air Force. Children without rides can be picked-up at the following stops: Hilltop area, Glenwood Recreation Center, 1925 W. Broad-st; Grove City, Grove City High School; South, Schiller Recreation Center, 1069 Jaeger-st; Downtown, Southside Settlement House, 363 Reeb-av; Westside, Sunshine Recreation Center, 667 Sullivant-av, and Westgate Park, Westgate-av and Wicklow-rd. Rides will be furnished at 11:30 a.m. at these points. Heading the committees are Chuck Moore, Hilltop Name-the-Plane Contest; Homer Johnson, West Side, Transportation; John F. Lewis, Eastern, Insurance, and Donald Grant and Harry Eberhart, Southern and West Franklin, Kiwanis Gate Booths.

EXECUTIVES MEET—C. L. Richards, executive vice-president of People's Savings, discusses plans for the company's new branch office in the Esquire Shopping Center with Bernard Ruben, owner of the shopping center.

New Savings-Loan Office Planned For East Siders

Final lease-signing negotiations are being completed for a new branch office of People's Saving Association to serve the Bexley - Eastmoor - Whitehall area.

The office will be located in the Esquire Shopping Center, 2978 E. Broad-st.

"Out expansion is the result of unprecedented growth in recent years." Richards said "And the East Broad-st location was picked because of the expanding population in the eastern suburbs."

All services offered in the downtown location will be available in the Bexley-Westmoor office including savings accounts, certificates of deposits, home loans, loans on savings accounts, Christmas Clubs, issuing of government savings bonds, money orders, save-by-mail service, American Express Cheques and ample parking space.

An added service will be a desk, telephone, lounge and lobby area for the use of civic groups and clubs in the area.

WHERE FROM?

The first settlers in Truro Township were from Nova Scotia. Robert Taylor and his sons, Abiather, Vinton, Matthew, James and David, came from that province of Canada to Chillicothe and then to Walnut Creek.

In 1853, Truro Township contained 12 school districts.

Roger E. Mann

Mann Is New YouthActivity Head For 'Y'

New youth program secretary of the Town and Country Branch of the Columbus YMCA is Roger E. Mann. Muncipal Judge H. W. Troop, chairman, and Glaze Thompson, executive secretary of the branch, announced his appointment this week.

Mann, a native of Springfield received his AB degree from Wilmington College and then served with the US Army for two years at Ft. Lee, Va.

Former assistant youth secretary with the Lima YMCA, he was on the staff of the Y's Camp Alfred L. Willson, near Bellefontaine, this summer.

Mann will work primarily with the "Y" Indian Guides, (father-son) and the Gra-Y programs in the communities throughout the Franklin County area.

He is married to the former Norma Brookhart of Wapakoneta, and is a member of the Methodist Church. The Manns live at 295 Myrtle-av, Westerville.

Damp coffee grounds make a sweeping compound which will keep the dust down. Also will leave rugs clean.

Raymond Kluth In Active Duty

Army Reserve Capt. Raymond J. Kluth, whose wife, Jean, lives at 394 Beechtree-rd, is receiving two weeks of annual active duty training at Fort Eustis, Va. The training is scheduled to be concluded Sept. 18.

Captain Kluth is assigned as adjutant of the 718th Transportation Battalion, an army reserve unit.

Kluth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kluth, Rt. 5, Lisbon, is a 1950 graduate of Lisbon High School and a 1955 graduate of Ohio State University in Columbus.

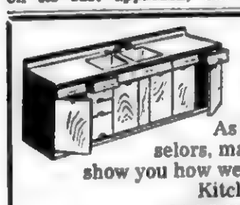
Airport Meets Building Code

Jack Bolton, superintendent at Port Columbus has announced that the airport generally meets restrictions on building construction in the vicinity of an airport suggested by the Federal Aviation Agency.

The agency recently released a 14-page guide book that recommended exclusion of residential development and places of assembly from an area extending out to 2.8 miles from the end of a jet runway and half a mile on each side of the runway center line.



At Port Columbus, the 10,700 foot east-west runway is clear on its east approach, but the St. Mary of the Springs Area on the west approach falls inside the 2.8 mile recommendation, Bolton said. However, he added this area to the west is clear within two miles of the runway.

Cheerleader Hopefuls Try Out At Rosemore

Seventh grade girls of Rosemore School were trying out for cheerleader positions this week.

According to Mrs. McCoy, advisor, all applicants must have a "C" average or better.

One of the few benefits of this inflationary era is that a kid can't get sick on a nickel's worth of candy any more.

Eastmoor High School's Warriors' Spear-It

Warriorettes' Debut Awaited This Week

Eastmoor Warriors will be hosts tomorrow night to the Bexley Lions. This game may prove as exciting as last week's 0-0 game with Whitehall.

During half-time the crowds will be entertained by the Warriorettes, Eastmoor's precision drill team, in their first appearance.

After the game there will be a sock-hop in the cafeteria.

Last Thursday Eastmoor had its first pep rally of the season. The band, cheerleaders, faculty, and student body assembled on the football bleachers to cheer their team on to a hoped-for victory.

Mr. Mayer spoke about good citizenship and sportsmanship in school and out. Mr. Stuart, Warrior football coach, gave everyone a briefing on the team.

Dick Schultz, former Eastmoor athlete, was mentioned in the 1960 Sports Illustrated annual football issue as one of the top Ohio University prospects. Dick has been playing tackle at Ohio U. where he received an athletic scholarship. While at Eastmoor Dick was picked for the 1958 high school All-America football team.

Eastmoor reserve football will get under way in a game against East this afternoon on the home field.

Coaches Fry and Cahill are confident that the season will be a big challenge for next year's prospective varsity.

Tryouts for "Papa Is All," the first play to be presented by the dramatics department, began this week. Sophomore tryouts were Tuesday after school and juniors and seniors met Wednesday. Callbacks for final readings are this afternoon.

The play, a delightful comedy, written by Paterson Green, will be presented Friday and Saturday, Nov. 18-19 in the auditorium.

Eighty-five juniors are taking English by television this year. The classes, taught by Mr. Allgyer, come over station WOSU-TV, on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Miss Berisford is teacher of the two classes which meet the third and seventh periods.

Reasons Why Youth Fled Still Mystery

Juvenile authorities are trying to piece together reasons why a Whitehall youth ran away from home last Friday and eluded searchers using horses and a helicopter.

William Rectenwald, 16, 4596 St. Ann-ln. was taken to the County Detention Home after a cousin called Gahanna police Monday to say that he was at her home on Agler-rd.

Police said the boy "resented parental authority." He appeared briefly at the home of Harold Denney, 4025 Stygler-rd. When his father appeared he broke away and ran into a nearby woods.

His parents earlier declared they were afraid William had fallen into a coma somewhere because of a heart condition. The boy dragged a mattress and a loaf of bread into the woods and said he had watched as the National Guard helicopter and sheriff's posse searched for him.

Two Local Men Form New Firm

Rolan L. Edwards and Claude L. Teets, both Grandview Heights residents, recently formed the R. L. Edwards and Associates engineering and surveying firm.

Edwards is a registered engineer and surveyor while Teets is a surveyor. The newly formed organization is equipped to perform engineering and surveying services in conjunction with construction projects, housing developments and street, water and sewer projects.

LEGAL NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is herby given that a petition by owners of lots in the immediate vicinity of Beechwood Road has been presented to the Council of the City of Whitehall, Ohio, praying for the vacation of said street from Mayflower Boulevard to English Village; and that said petition is now pending before said Council and final action thereon according to law will be taken on and after the first day of November, 1960.

Further notice is hereby given that said Council will consider the vacation of the Beechwood Play Area in the northwest corner of the Pinewood Subdivision and the Walkway from Mayflower Boulevard to said play area on and after the first day of November, 1960.

Badger Killed In Chillicothe

A large badger was killed on US Route 50 eight miles west of Chillicothe in mid August, Don Thompson, assistant district game management supervisor, Ohio Division of Wildlife has reported.

This is the first badger known to be killed in Ross County in 40 years. In the early 1920s, one was cornered in a newly-dug basement. It was finally killed after routing three dogs and several men.

HARTLEY HIGH SCHOOL'S

HAWK Lines

By Paul Coleman

Students Find New Classes On Docket

As the students returned to classes last Monday, some of them found themselves in new courses being offered for the first time at Hartley.

This year is the first year of full operation and the seniors were again the first to sample the new educational fare. Some of these courses are physics, speech, business law, advanced Spanish, French and mechanical drawing, as well as trigonometry, and theory of sets.

One major change has affected the Hartley students.

Due to the increased number of students this year, one additional lunch period had to be worked in. This added thirty minutes to the school day.

Another first has been appearing at the Hartley games. This is the newly organized Pep Club. Future plans include the purchase of sweaters and the establishment of a block H similar to Ohio State's. Co-chairmen of the Pep Club are Mary Schneider and Bea Shaffer, the faculty advisor is Miss Fullen.

The student council has once again inaugurated the hall traffic control system. Vice-President Buddy Thomas is in charge of the operation, designed to facilitate the changing of classes. Although compensation must be made for the increased number of students, the present system is working out quite well and is, of course, a definite improvement over the absence of an organized traffic system.

Council Treasurer Jeff Keiner reports that the new records for the juke box are in the machine and the noontime sock hops are proceeding very well. The juke box was purchased last year by the students.

Hartley's trophy case has a new addition. Four of the boys recently presented the schoool with a trophy they won this summer in a miniature golf league. They were Pat Lynch, Paul Coleman, Jim Nelson, all seniors, and John Wagner, a junior.

New Pipeline Plans Slated

Work will begin soon on a $36,700 Ohio Fuel Gas Co. pipeline construction project to extend natural gas service to the Pine Hills Addition, southeast of Columbus, it was announced recently.

Wilbur T. Collins, Central District manager for Ohio Fuel, said more than 9,800 feet of new pipelines—two to eight inches in diameter—will be laid.

A new line will extend south along Noe-Bixby-rd from near York-ln North to near York-ln South, then south across country to Livingston-av.

A new regulator station will be built at the Livingston-av and Woodcrest-rd intersection at the northern edge of the subdivision and new lines will be laid south along Woodcrest-rd from Livingston-av to Brinwood-ct, west along Brinwood-ct to Noe-Bixby-rd and east along Pfarr-rd to Riverdale-rd.

The new lines will make natural gas service available in Pine Hills.

Don Miller, Inc., Green Springs contractor, will lay the new pipelines for Ohio Fuel.

BIG BOOMS OF THE BAND

OFFICERS NAMED—Band officers for the coming year at Whitehall-Yearling High School have been selected. First row: Dianne Arbuckle, secretary; Florence Cotterman, head majorette; second row: Dan Clark, vice-president; Wes Orr, president; and Son Smathers, treasurer.

Dick Lewis, Ned Moore Win Prizes In TB Contest

Hartley Newspaper area residents were well represented with more than 20 entries in the annual Christmas seal design competition judging, held recently at Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts.

Dick Lewis, 312 Dennis-ln, Grove City, copped third place with his Christmas kiss seal design. Lewis is an art director for the Harry M. Miller Advertising Agency.

Free-lance artist Ned Moore, 178 Guernsey-av, was awarded the fourth-place prize, a family membership to the Gallery. Moore's seal was of a sprightly reindeer holding a double-barred cross in his mouth.

Other area entrants in the contest, sponsored annually by the Tuberculosis Society and Columbus College of Art and Design, included Laud Poe, Jr., 90 Delray-rd; Loretta Robbins, 1614 Frebis-av; William C. Thomas, 529 E. Hanford-st; Henry Rodenhauser, 797 S. Front-st; Mrs. Catherine Pinkerman, 6750 E. Main-st, Reynoldsburg; and Earl Pfahler, 3302 Leap-rd, Hilliard.

Evelyn Bailey, 100 Hillcrest-av, Obetz; Frederick Dutcher, 2329 Berwick-blvd; William H. Eisele, Jr., 79 S. Weyant-av; Mrs. Sue Kaye, 3089 Ruhl-av; Sig A. Lada, 81 S. Ashburton-av; Mrs. Louise Schomaker, 2324 Bexley Park; Mrs. Ralph Meier, Jr., 958 Colgate-rd; and Mrs. Sarah Langon, 426 S. Wheatland-av.

Girden F. Mugrage, 112 Demorest-av; John Clark, 90 S. Terrace-av; Mrs. Flora C. Smith, 455 W. Cherry-dr; W. G. Eltzroth, 911 Joyful-st; and Mrs. Mary Holcomb, 3065 Parkside-rd.

The entries were displayed in the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts through Sept. 15 and

Holy Cross Scene Of Nuptial Mass Uniting Donna Fischer, Robert Burns

Arrangements of white gladioli, mums and daisy chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Holy Cross Church for the Sept. 10 wedding of Miss Donna Jean Fischer and Mr. Robert S. Burns.

Msgr. Harold O'Donnell officiated at the nuptial mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Fischer of 1099 S. Kellner-rd, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Burns, 1234 S. 22nd-st.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a gown of silk organza over tulle and taffeta, designed with basque bodice, scalloped scoop neckline featuring a yoke of Alencon lace with iridescent sequins and pearls, and tufted brief sleeves worn with short gloves. A back butterfly bustle accented the bouffant skirt, featuring motifs of Alencon lace and extending into a chapel train.

A scalloped crown of crystals held her fingertip veil and she carried a crescent of white fujii pompons, pink roses and a white orchid with green foliage and satin streamers.

Miss Nancy Greer served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Ann Emrich, cousin of the bride, and Miss Barbara Burns, sister of the bridegroom.

They wore identical aqua taffeta dresses with portrait necklines, brief sleeves and pleated cumberbunds of self-material with black half-fans and streamers.

MRS. ROBERT S. BURNS

They carried sheath arrangements of gold magnolia foliage and talisman mums with gold and talisman satin streamers.

Mr. Randy Emrich, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Mr. James R. Fischer, brother of the bride, served as best man and ushers were Mr. Thomas M. Fischer, brother of the bride, and Mr. Gary Swisher.

The bride's mother wore a pure silk beige sheath with brown accessories, royal blue hat with matching gloves and a pair of brown cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress, accessories in pale pink and a pair of pink orchids.

An afternoon reception was held at the Desert Inn. Hostesses were Mrs. Gary Swisher, Miss Dianna Ginnan, Mrs. Richard Longberry and Mrs. Charles T. Fischer.

The bride is a graduate of Rosary High School and is employed by the Columbus Pharmacal Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and is employed by Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company.

Following a trip to the southern states and Florida the couple is at home at the Grant-Oak Aparaments.

Football Takes Spotlight As Grid Season Opens

King Football takes the spotlight this week, with Ohio State ready to claim its share of the crown, or at least of the spotlight.

Filmed recaps of the OSU games begin on Sept. 25, with Joe Hill and Channel 6 handling the telecasts. This show will be preceded by Vic Janowicz, who debuts in a new series called "Let's Talk Football" at 3 p.m.

Sunday's schedule also sees the rejuvenated Cleveland Browns begin their league season at 12:30, playing Philadelphia. Channel 6 will carry all the Browns games this season.

The Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers renew their yearly feud on Channel 10 at 2 on Sunday. WBNS-TV will carry a full slate of pro games until the middle of December.

WOSU and WRFD radio stations will also be covering all the Ohio State games this fall. WRFD will feature a "Sports Final" giving the scores and a brief rundown of football action during the day's games. This will be at 4:45 with Dave Collins putting life in the statistics.

Mrs. United Appeals candidates will appear with Ann Reider on "Meet the Candidates," Channel 10, at 12:15 Monday. Candidates from many locations in Franklin County will appear.

Sunday Mass will be televised weekly in Columbus at 10 a.m. on Channel 4. This half hour program will originate live each Sunday morning from WLW-C's studios and will continue through Dec. 18.

Continental Classroom, telecast by Channel 4 takes on new importance as OSU, Ohio Wesleyan and Otterbein College have announced that they will give credit for this course.

The armchair campus work begins on Monday, and class comes to order promptly at 6:30 each weekday. WOSU-TV will also carry the program on tape repeat at 9:30 each evening. First semester is Modern Algebra, and the second is Probability and Statistics.

WOSU-TV is again operating this fall, and offers a wide selection of entertaining, educational and cultural programs. Parents of children taking the elementary French course being offered via TV in area classrooms may watch the same programs as their children at 8:30 and 12:30 each week day.

Wyatt Earp, six year TV marshal, will deal with the Clanton clan this week, again on channel 6, at 8:30, beginning Wednesday. The Lone Ranger gallops across the picture tubes on Wednesdays, same channel, but a new time, 5:30.

JEWISH CENTER WOMEN STAGING GOLF TOURNEY

Even though the results are being kept secret until completed many Jewish Center women are still competing for trophies and prizes at Hillcrest Golf Course in the annual Women's Golf Tournament.

Play is open for center women until Friday, Sept. 30 at 2 p.m. All scores must be posted at this time.

An 80 per cent handicap has been established for the tournament. Beginning golfers with less than one year of experience play nine holes, advanced golfers will play 18 holes.

Prizes will be awarded for driving the green on short holes, least number of putts, etc.

An award banquet is being planned for Monday, Oct. 2, the time and place to be announced.

Each year, U.S. motorists scrap nearly 5,000,000 vehicles, or more than all the vehicles operating in Asia and South America combined, reports AAA.

LIONS, WARRIORS BATTLE FRIDAY

Elevens In Third Encounters

BY JOHN POEPPELMEYER

Third installments in the chapter on the history of the 1960 gridiron season are due to be placed into production this weekend.

Bexley, still stung by last week's loss to St. Charles, journeys to Eastmoor. The Warriors have yet to win this year after an opening game loss to Linden and battling Whitehall to a scoreless standstill last week.

The Rams, meanwhile, head to Gahanna, a team that has yet to lose.

St. Charles will be gunning for Marion-Franklin, two-time loser.

Hartley's young Hawks have another "at home" encounter coming up with Ohio Deaf in an afternoon battle Friday.

The Bexley-Eastmoor duel should ignite some top-notch fireworks.

Frustrated by a winless season thus far, Bob Stuart's Warriors are seeking the comeback trail after last year's championship. So far they have failed to get started although their offense appears to be stepping into high gear.

Despite its 1-1 record thus far, the Lions will be the underdogs mainly because the Warrior defense refuses to be bowled over too many times.

Jim Bline's Ram defense has proven that it can do the job so far in two encounters. But after the 22-6 romp over Westerville, the offense let down last week against the Warriors. In Gahanna, they face a team capable of scoring fast and often.

Lincoln Lions swarmed over Marion-Franklin last week.

The Cards will be going into the Red Devils fracas as a strong favorite. The Marion-Franklin contingent has succumbed twice by overwhelming scores.

Jack Ryan's boys have been gaining momentum since their season opening loss to the Yellow Jackets of Mt. Vernon.

Hartley Coach John Murphy hopes to get back on the winning trail after last week's loss by engaging Ohio Deaf at the Hawk's aerie. It will be the season opener for the Ohio Deaf team.

Cards Down Lions

St. Charles took up where they left off against Mt. Vernon and kept on going over Bexley to the tune of 20-14 last week.

A last quarter Card rally against the Yellow Jackets in the season's opener that fell short must have supplied the incentive for the Bexley win.

The Cards scored twice in the first period on a duce of dandy runs by Mike Spires and Dan Mitchell. Mitchell tore through for a 40 yard TD and Spires streaked 60 yards for the Cards' second score.

What proved to be the clincher came in the second period. With the ball on the Lion 19 after a four yard blocked punt, Card quarterback Fergie Thiebert engineered a line burst that carried over from the one with Joe Morris toting the 'skin.

It was the last Card score of the game.

Bexley charged back in the second half to take command with touchdowns in the third and in the final quarter.

Lion QB Ron Mechling hit end Ron Clowson for the six-pointer.

Again in the final stanza, Mechling, running his unit smoothly, tossed to Cal Hamrick, who kept right on going to paydirt.

The Card victory left both contignets with a 1-1 record. Bexley totaled 175 yards and the Cards gained 242, all on the ground.

To sum up: The Cards dealt themselves a winning hand.

St. Charles	14	6	0	0	—20
Bexley	0	0	8	6	—14

St. Charles Scoring: TDs — Mitchell (36, run). Spires (60, run). Morris (1, run). Conversion, Morris (run).

Bexley Scoring: TDs—Clowson (4, pass from Mechling). Hammrick (23, run). Conversion: Tuckerman (pass from Mechling).

TO GRID ON CAP GRID

BRING 'EM ON—Capital University's line this year will be bolstered with the addition of Tim Runyan, of 6590 Spruce-st, an end, and Paul Wrobbel, of 755 Barnhard, a guard.

Olentangy Plummels Hawks

Buddy Thomas and his Hartley cohorts tried, but failed to bring off a last minute rally as the Hawk legion went down to defeat at the hands of a strong Olentangy crew Saturday by a narrow 12-8 verdict.

Thomas, who pounded out three touchdowns in the season opener against Big Walnut, scampered for a 75-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter for the Hawks only goal.

The Olentangy contingent put on two sustained drives, one in the first and one in the final quarter to snatch the win. Both of the visitors TD's came on line plunges by Ed Trigg.

Trigg tallied scores from the five and from the three as he crunched through the Hartley defense.

The Thomas spectacular was the result of a short pass from quarterback Bob Gantner. Thomas grabbed the ball and set sail goalward. The fleet tailback also dove across for the two extra points.

To sum up: Thomas tried, but Trigg proved to be the big gun.

Olentangy	8	0	0	6	—12
Hartley	0	0	0	8	— 8

Olentangy scoring: TD—Trigg, 2 (3, 5 plunges). Hartley scoring: Thomas, (75, pass); EP—Thomas, run.

There are now more than 4,700 drive-in theatres in the U.S., the AAA reports. Texas leads all other states with 482, followed by North Carolina with 256.

RAMS, WARRIORS TIE UP

When it was all over, neither side could say they had lost.

In one of the finest defensive battles of the young season, fans were treated to a scoreless stalemate between Eastmoor and Whitehall Friday night at the Ram gridiron.

Although both defensive units came in rightfully for their share of accolades, fans on both sides were treated to long runs and unexpected plays.

The Rams big chance came on the first play from scrimmage. Dan Gartner took a quick snap from center, and behind top-notch blocking, swept around left end to the Warrior 17 for a 54-yard gallop.

The Warriors collected themselves and rose up to stop the Rams on downs. It was the deepest Ram threat of the game.

Eastmoor was able to march to the Ram 10 yard stripe in the second period as quarterback Frank Stavroff started connecting on aerials to move to the Ram 10.

With a third down and two situation, Gary Wyant bucked through the Warrior line to recover a Stavroff fumble on the three.

Coach Bob Stuart's boys garnered 162 yards passing and running. The Rams amassed 150 net yards. Gartner gained 122 yards for the Rams.

To sum up: A tough one to tie for two top-notchers.

TOUCH FOOTBALLERS: ENROLL AT CENTER

Boys interested in participating in the touch football program at the Jewish Center should register either by coming to the Physical Education Office Sunday, Sept. 25, or by calling BE. 1-2731.

Those in the nine to 10 age group will practice and play their games on Fridays from 4 to 5. The swimming pool will be made available to them for one-half an hour afterwards.

The 11 and 12-year-old boys will practice and play on Sunday afternoons from 1:30 to [illegible].

Participation involves a $1.50 insurance fee.

No equipment will be permitted since all games will be conducted in accordance with the two-hand touch rule.

Instructions in all phases of football will be available during the practice sessions.

Best Friend To Your Dog? It's His Week

Thomas C. Justice, General Manager of the Humane Society, has been appointed local chairman of National Dog Week in Columbus and Franklin County, for the 20th consecutive year. The Humane Society of the City of Columbus is celebrating the 33rd anniversary of National Dog Week, Sept. 18 through the 24.

The slogan for the 1960 observance is, "Deserve To Be Your Dog's Best Friend." The purpose of this annual tribute to the canine world is to provide better care for dogs through better informed dog owners.

During National Dog Week, Thomas C. Justice, General Manager of the Humane Society of the City of Columbus, invites you to attend Open House at the Humane Society's Animal Shelter, 2770 Groveport-pk.

CENTER GETS FOOTBALL

A sport, filled with action and fast moving, will start on the Jewish Center athletic field Wednesday, Sept. 28, at 8 p.m.

A touch football league for older teenagers and young adults will be formed at this time.

Teams will be chosen on the player pool system to insure league balance.

The athetic insurance fee of $1.50 must be paid prior to participation.

All Jewish Center youth, young adults are encouraged to come out and participate.

Brown Jug Up For Grabs At Delaware

The pick of the nation's three-year-old pacers will congregate at the Delaware County Fairgrounds in Delaware Thursday afternoon for the 15th running of the Little Brown Jug.

Originated as a result of the foresight of the late Joe Neville and Hank Thomson, the Jug has become the world's most famous pacing race. The purse in this year's event will reach $70,000.

Last year Adios Butler set a new world's record of 1:59 2/5 on the Delaware oval which will be assaulted this year.

Among the leading contenders for the Jug honors are Bullet Hanover, Muney Hanover, Betting Time, Knight Time, Dancer Hanover, Bright Knight, Major Goose, Jeery Way, Romola Hanover, Sampson Direct, Merrie Adios, Greentree Joey and Deep Adios.

Band Sets Activities At Bexley

Bexley High School's Marching and Concert Band is starting the new school year with an enlarged corps and several innovations it was announced by William Rost, Band Director of the school.

The Bexley Band will be headed by Sam Bates, 95 S. Stanwood-rd, as drum major, who studied extensively this past summer at a drum major school in West Virginia and also had instruction from Lenny Hart, Ohio State University's Band Drum Major.

Assisting will be five band majorettes, headed by Sharon Harbold, 713 Grandon-av, who will lead the "Marching 48" musicians at all nine football games played by Bexley High School this fall. Completing the band personnel are two managers and 10 alternate musicians.

In addition to playing at the school's football games, the band will make a number of appearances and play several concerts during the school year.

The Bexley Band Parents, an organization of parents and friends of the band, is headed this year by Bob Harbold, 713 Grandon-av, with Dan Ohmer, 1005 Chelsea-av, as vice president.

An innovation at Bexley High School will be the first annual "Band Night" to be held Friday, Oct. 7, in connection with the Bexley-Grandview football game, at which time special ceremonies will honor the band for its services to the school.

that the act be withheld and council agreed

Mason also questioned mileage payments to city officials. He stated that there appears to be "a lot of driving being done in the city."

Mason said that he has been investigating the matter. Solicitor James Maxwell pointed out that all mileage payment reports come under close scrutiny of the city auditor.

The meeting proved to be a production of harmony.

Hyatt opened the meeting with the remark that he had been conferring with sources and that they had assured him that Maxwell's interpretation of the seating of a council president was "100 per cent" right

Maxwell, last week, had stated that the council president vacancy could be filled only by a mayoralty appointment. At that time Republican Siemer was sworn into the chair.

Siemer, during the evening, introduced a letter from the Dems choice for solon prexy, Paul Haytcher. Haytcher, in his letter, stated that it was his intention to withdraw for "the sake of harmony and without the threat of litigation."

He criticized Maxwell's handling of the city attorney's post and added that "there are a number of legal points which should be clarified by the courts." He pointed out, however, that as much as he would like to preside over the legislative body, he would not contest the matter

Haytcher complimented Mayor Moling for the Siemer appointment, calling it one of his "better" ones

Mason joined the cooing atmosphere with an apology for his walk-out at last week's special session. He said that he had attended the meeting with the intention of getting some thing done, but felt that the seating of a council president should have been included on the agenda.

Along with this same tone a committee of four, two Democrats and two Republicans, were named to check over a list of five possibilities for the council clerk position, vacant since Sept. 2 line on E. Main-st. was finally passed.

The 12-inch line, costing an estimated $40,000, will be laid along McNaughten-rd, north of Main-st.

City officials claim that the line has to be built before Columbus can begin to collect $90,000 it spent for a sewer line in the same vicinity.

The city's share of the cost for the water line will be $9,600.

There are now some 112,000,000 motor vehicles in use throughout the world, according to AAA. Of this total, 86,000,000 are passenger cars and 26,000,000 ttrucks. Approximately 62.5 percent of all these vehicles are registered in the U.S.

Race Driver Hurt As Car Strikes Wall

Clare Price, 22, suffered serious injuries last Sunday night when his stock car slammed into a concrete wall in a race at the Columbus Motor Speedway, 1845 Williams-rd, track officials reported.

Price, 3366 E. Livingston-av, was in serious condition in St. Anthony Hospital, last Wednesday night, with head and internal injuries and severe face cuts.

Price's car hit a fence on the outside of the track as he sped into a curve. The car careened across the track and hit a wall protecting a light pole.

The driver's crash helmet broke in three places when it hit a roll bar in the top of the car, officials said.

Brownies Enjoy Wiener Roast

On the evening of Aug. 16 Brownie Troop 107 held a wiener roast at the home of Mrs. Doris Hollister, 375 Napoleon-av.

A previous member, Debbie Voss, was a surprise visitor. Debbie had moved away but was a houseguest of Sharon Price.

Other members present were Susan Abbott, Jeri Ankrom, Nina Hollister, Sharon Neeshan, Karen Schultz and Mrs. Ruth Price.

A "Fly-Up" celebration will be held soon.

The troop is working on its annual project of folding Christmas Seals for the Tuberculosis Society.

TIME OUT OR TIME OFF

IN TRAINING—Resting easily on a tackling dummy is George Pymer, nine, of 299 S. Kellner. He has just watched the Bexley grid team work out and feels that he is in need of a rest period.

Dr. Barr New Music Head

Dr. C. Thomas Barr has been named new director of music of Scottwood Community Church.

An associate professor of music education at Ohio State University, he received a BS in education from Miami University, a master of music from University of Michigan, and a doctorate from Columbia.

Dr. Barr served as chairman of the department of music of Kansas State College in Hays, Kan., from 1950-56. He has also directed several choirs in Kansas and Columbus and has conducted music festivals in Ohio, Illinois and Kansas.

Chancel Choir sang for the first time under the direction of Dr. Barr last Sunday, as the church resumed its regular schedule of Sunday services.

Rev. Rudy H. Thomas and Rev Earl G. Ross are ministers of the church, located on Barnett-rd at Scottwood-rd.

Frank L. Hussey, member of the music faculty at Capital University, is the organist.

Eastmoor Junior Tumbles Two Floors Onto Elevator

Dave Gettys, an Eastmoor High School junior, says he's lucky it wasn't his head he landed on when he fell down an elevator shaft and crushed his ankle while working in a downtown department store, Aug. 20.

He was moving merchandise near a ramp on the fifth floor, when a fellow worker accidentally ran into him. They stumbled and slipped backwards down the ramp toward the closed doors of the elevator shaft. Both of them fell against the doors pushing them open, and went plummeting down to the stopped elevator on the third floor.

Dave's leg is in a cast. It will be approximately six months before he'll walk normally again.

Catholic Youth Council Plans Special Week

"Responsible Youth, America's Strength" is the theme chosen for the tenth annual observance of National Catholic Youth Week, Oct. 30 through Nov. 6 in the Diocese of Columbus.

The celebration is sponsored by Columbus Diocesan Council of Catholic Youth.

More than seven million young people throughout the nation will participate in the program this year.

A rally will be held Sunday, Oct. 30, 3:30 p.m. at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum, with young people from grade school age to those out of high school in attendance. Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann, bishop of the 23-county Catholic Diocese of Columbus, will preside.

Sermon will be delivered by Rev. Daniel Egan, S.A., vocational director of the Graymoor Friars and nationally known for his work with youth.

Civic Day, a day on which all youth take an active interest in local government with some type of program, will be observed Wednesday, Nov. 2.

Rev. Richard F. Dodd is the diocesan director of youth. William J. Huhn, 419 Oakland Park-av, is president of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Youth.

John E. Jones, 1192 Grandview-av, is diocesan chairman of Catholic Youth Week.

Rosicrucians Will Celebrate

On the date of the Autumnal equinox in September, Rosicrucians throughout the world will commemorate the building of the Great Pyramid of Egypt.

Grace Ghent Dean, master of the local AMORC, Rosicrucians Helios Chapter, states that Rosicrucians throughout the jurisdiction of the philosophic Order will gather for a ceremony on Sunday, Sept. 25, at which time they will symbolically reenact the building of the Great Pyramid of Cheops.

$10,000,000 In 10 Years

Capital Starts Toward Goal

By John Poeppelmeyer

Sometime this fall, the first phase of an important, ambitious 10-year $10,000,000 expansion program at Capital University begins a march toward reality.

With the dedication of two new units of women's residences in November, Capital officials embark on a decade of progress. A decade that will see old buildings converted into new, additional structures constructed onto present ones, and a host of timely new dwellings and academic facilities wending skyward to accommodate the anticipated needs of an evolving enrollment.

Between now and 1970, the familiar campus along E. Main-st promises to be a beehive of blueprints and buzzing of saws as Cap planners and contractors coordinate their collective know-how that will make way for a student capacity of 2,200.

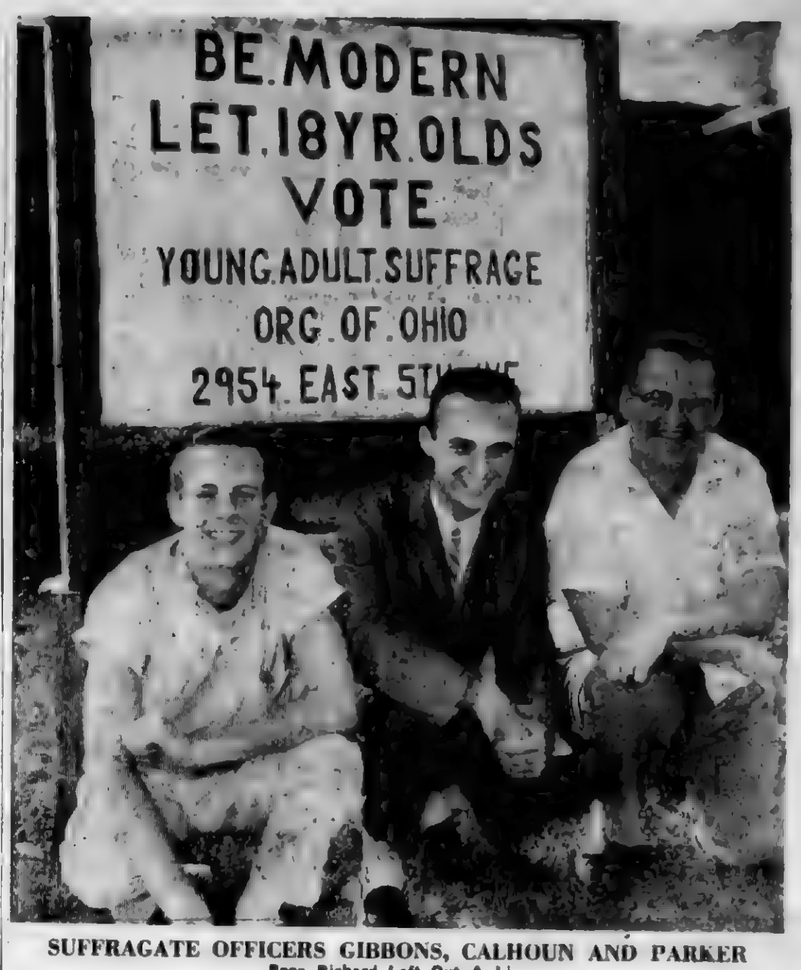
One of the planned operations calls for a $60,000 to $70,000 home for President Harold L. Yochum, to be located alongside Francis-av.

Dr. Yochum stated that the decade of doings is "the first one in Cap's history." Before, he pointed out, "we were usually five years behind.

"With the number of high school graduates who attend college constantly increasing, we hope that from now on we will not be quite so far behind."

The run down for the decade:

'60—Two new units for women, one resident, one social, near Pleasant Ridge and Mound. With the erection of a unit completed last year, the cost amounts to $835,000 for all three, including site.



'61—President's home. The $60,000 to $70,000 figure includes the cost of remodeling of the present residence to be converted into a medical clinic. Dr. Yochum anticipates the new home to be completed by September.

Ground breaking for a $400,000 gymnasium for women scheduled to begin.

'62—The present women's gym will be torn down with plans calling for the erection of a new administrative building at the site; cost: $450,000.

Scottwood Dedication Series Set

Rev. Rudy H. Thomas, pastor, has announced a series of six special dedication services at Scottwood Community Church beginning this Sunday.

The new church at Barnett and Scottwood-rds was built at a cost of $300,000.

New facilities include the sanctuary seating 400, music room, lounge, a d ministrative area, nursery and fellowship hall. The building is constructed of brick contemporary style. It was designed by Robert H. Myers of H. James Holroyd and Robert G. Myers architectural firm. The general contractor is the Kent Brothers Co.

The series of special services follows:

Oct. 2—10:30 a.m., "Hhe Dedication of the Church to the glory of God and to the Local Congregation.

Oct. 9—9 a.m. "The Dedication of the Church to the Family;" 10:30 a.m. "A Dedication of Memorials to the Church."

Oct. 16—10:30 a.m. "The Dedication of the Church to the Local Community;" 4 p.m. "The Dedication of the Church to the World Community."

Oct. 23—10:30 a.m. "A Hymn Festival For the Introduction and Dedication of the Pilgrim Hymnal."

Dr. C. Thomas Barr is director of music. Frank L. Hussey is the organist.

Eastmoor Principal To Speak At OSU

Eastmoor Junior-Senior High School Principal T. H. Mayer is slated to present an address at Ohio State University, Friday, Oct. 7.

His topic will be "The Advisor's Role of a School Newspaper."

Cutting a Charge Out Of Electrons

AT EASTMOOR: RADIATION DETECTION

Students Seeking Scientific ABG's (Alpha, Beta, Gamma)

Man may be heading for the stars, but Eastmoor student scientists are, for the present, getting their feet on the ground.

This past summer, two of the school's top-notch science instructors, George Aggis and Don Murphy, were each given $1,000 worth of radiation detection equipment as a result of completing a radiation biology course at different universities. Murphy attended Ohio State; Aggis went to Wayne State.

The equipment consists of a geiger scaler, a cloud chamber, an ultra-violet lamp, a gold leaf electroscope and a spin theriscope. Both Aggis and Murphy plan to use the detection devices in connection with classroom experiments and demonstrations.

Members of the school's science seminar are at present showing an interest in the instructors' gifts. The seminar meets twice a week during study hall periods and are "on their own" as far as study is concerned, Murphy said.

Among the projects being prepared is a report on underground communications, another on the genetic effects of ionization on a solution of fresh and salt water. One lad would like to photograph tracks in the cloud chamber. Another is to engage in an oil drop experiment to determine the charge of an electron.

Whether all of these proposed areas of study will use the new equipment will be up to the individual student. Instructor Murphy outlined that each is allowed to do whatever he desires.

"Some will experiment, some will read, others may change

JUST THREE VOTES SHY

Young Adults Want Chance To Prove They're Qualified

"For the want of a nail . . . . a kingdom was lost"
—Poor Richard's Almanac

This November, when tens of millions will journey to the polls to cast their vote for their choice of President of these United States, a smaller, but also vital segment, of the population will have no say-so as to the running of the governmental affairs of this nation.

Yet this same segment, which numbers 2,500 in Ohio and some 300 here in Franklin County, is expected to bear arms in the event of war. Some are married, have assumed family responsibilities and have already started making their way in the world.

This is the group of 18 to 21 year olds that have no direct voice in public affairs via the ballot box.

"Emotionalism?" questioned John Calhoun, state president of the Young Adults Suffrage Organziation in Ohio, "Sure, this age group is emotional. But that's part of the process of growing up.

"And, I think that you'll find that these 18 to 21 year olds are a better informed group when it comes to voting."

Calhoun is of voting age, but he still finds time to lobby and to fight for a reduction in the voting age limit. He has campaigned in the past two legislative assemblies to have solons brought around to his, and his organization's, way of thinking.

The Young Adult Suffrage Organization was formed in Cincinnati in 1955, he stated. Today the present State Headquarters is located at the East Columbus Civic Center, along Fifth-av.

Calhoun contends that the answer to lowering the voting age must be "looked upon from two angles: those who qualify and those who are deserving.

On the deserving side comes the fact that many in this group are married and have families. They also can be asked to fight for their country. "Yet, he points out," "they have no voice in the matter."

On the qualification side of the ledger is the young state president's reference to an opinion poll taken, he states, by Gallup.

"He found out, that on the average, the citizens in the 18 to 21 age group are better informed and know more about the political and governmental situation in the U.S. than do the average of those over 21 years old."

The reason, Calhoun feels, is that much of the information comes to them through education and that it is "still fresh in their minds when they would go to vote more-so than those who have been away from the subjects for a while." By letting people vote at a younger age the "flame would be kept kindled," is the

BEXLEY DEMS IN 'ALL-OUT' RALLY

Bexley Democrats are moving fast to insure an all-out rally for the expected arrival of United States Senator Stephen M. Young next Wednesday night.

A line-up of activities have been planned by the city's Democratic party officials. Senator Young is scheduled to appear at Bexley High School. The program is slated to begin at 8 p.m.

A teen-age band, known as the "Hi-Fi's," and composed of Bexley youths, has been engaged. Members are Steve Parisier, Rick Davis, Steve Kress, Chip Rosenblum, Walter Wallace and Mike Myers.

A song fest, led by Richard C. Johnston, is also on the agenda. Johnston is associated with the Capital University Conservatory of Music and is director of the Broad Street Presbyterian Church choral activities.

The party's candidate for Representative to Congress, Richard E. Liming, will introduce candidates for Franklin County offices.

Judge John W. Peck, of the State Supreme Court, is scheduled to introduce candidates for state offices.

Senator Young is scheduled to be introduced by Oscar Fleckner, chairman for the meeting, and a former gubernatorial candidate. After his speech, Senator Young will be receptive to comments and questions from the floor for a 15-minute period, according to Dem officials.

During the day that Senator Young is in town, he will hold two press conferences, one at 2 p.m. at the Press Club for metropolitan newspapers, the other at 4 p.m. at Capital University for high school and col-

All Area Women Are Invited To Free 'Food 'n' Fashions'

The prospect of "Foods 'n' Fashions," with experts sharing their know-how with all women in the circulation areas of South East Rural-Urban News, Reynoldsburg Record and Eastern Review has struck a responsive note.

Women have expressed their interest in the show, sponsored by the three Hartley Newspapers and planned Monday, Oct. 17 and Tuesday, Oct. 18 at the Whitehall-Yearling High School Auditorium.

Afternoon and evening sessions of the show have been arranged with consideration to baby-sitting problems. The showing Monday, Oct. 17 will be at 8 p.m., and on Tuesday, Oct. 18 at 2 p.m.

Admission to the event is free. Tickets will be distributed by merchants throughout the area.

Everyone in the audience will be able to watch each dedishes with the help of special mirror and lighting devices on the stage.

A narrated, co-ordinated style show, with models displaying the newest in fall fashion trends supplied through the courtesy of area merchants, will also be a show highlight.

Styles for men, tiny tots and teenagers as well as for women, will be shown.

And in addition to food and fashion know-how and free recipes, many in the audience will take home valuable prizes.

Country Club-rd Speed Limit Reduced To 25

A reduction in the speed limit along Country Club-rd, between Main-st and Livingston-av, was approved by Columbus City Council this week.

Solons okayed a reduction from 35 miles an hour to 25 miles an hour.

VFW POST LAUNCHES MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Not satisfied with being one of the top VFW Posts in the state, members of the Paul S. Lawrence Post 9857 are opening their 1961 membership drive this week-end.

The group's goal, according to Don Wagner, is 250. "We have 113 members now, and are hoping to gain 137 and more by next year," he stated.

The post is active in civic affairs on the east side of Columbus.

They have donated baseballs to little league teams, helped during Fourth of July festivities, and recently, with the cooperation of the East Columbus Civic organization, donated a piano to a rest home.

"We forgot," Wagner said, "that we could use a piano of our own here at post headquarters," 2948 E. Fifth-av.

All men who feel they are eligible to join the VFW may contact Wagner at the post, CL. 3-4604.

The post this year garnered the coveted Past Department Commanders Percentage Gain trophy for a 200 per cent increase in membership.

Wagner who rounded up 28 new members, and Don Oskey, who brought in 14, were recently named National Aide-De-Camps for their efforts.

Both Wagner and Post Commander Gene Perry would like to see the trophy in their headquarters again next year at this time.

ANTIQUE ROCK 'N' ROLL

AUCTIONEER'S HUM—A pretty young modern makes with a tune on an antique piano at St. Mary's of the Springs College. The Steinway that Patty Donovan appears to be appreciating so much is an 1866 model, according to college officials. The piano will be auctioned off at the school's Lawn-O-Rama event Oct. 8.

$3.15-Ad Sells House

With one little $3.15 ad in Hartley Newspapers, Lt. C. A. Shelton sold his nine-month-old Huber Home, 6535 Roselawn, Reynoldsburg. He had at least 50 calls. Now Lt. Publisher Is Elected Kiwanis Lt. Governor

C. Carlton Hartley, 1370 Wilson-rd, publisher of the Hartley Newspapers, has been elected lieutenant governor of the 10th Division, Ohio District of Kiwanis International, which serves the Central Ohio area.

In this capacity, Hartley will serve as administrative head of 18 Kiwanis clubs in metropolitan Columbus, Lancaster, Newark, Grove City, Circleville, Gahanna and West Jefferson. He succeeds Evan E. Williams, assistant to the vice-president of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

Hartley has been in Kiwanis for 11 years, with nine years of perfect attendance. He served as president of Hilltop Kiwanis Club in 1953. Hilltop club was adjudged the best club in Ohio District that year and received the district award.

He was the organizer of the West Franklin, West Side and West Jefferson Kiwanis clubs.

Eighth Grader Carries Footballs, Papers, 'A' Average In Classroom

Bill Henley, carrier of the week, is a determined football player and a serious student. He feels that a successful blending of activities and recreation with study will give the best balance to his future.

Carrying The Eastern Review for the past two years has given him good business experience, Bill said. He enjoys his work with people and the contacts it brings.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest F. Henley, 2815 Castlewood, Bill has been an East Sider all his life. The Henleys have lived at their present address four years, having moved there from Seymour-av.

Many of Bill's activities are centered around his church, Christ the King. Attending the eighth grade at Christ the King School, he looks forward to St. Charles High School and is thinking of entering seminary studies there. He is an altar boy and a choir member.

Bill is a member of Troop 335 of the Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Christ the King Holy Name Society. A Life Scout at 13, he has to earn only four more merit badges to achieve the rank of Eagle.

Football practice occupies much of his time now, and Bill isn't sure whether he is going to be a guard or a tackle, on the Christ the King Junior High team.

His school work has been practically all A's, and he has missed the honor roll only a few times in his school career.

History is his favorite subject, and pioneer times his favorite topic. An avid reader, Bill supplements his textbooks with library work.

Bill likes to swim and has earned a Junior Life-saving medal. He has been a member of the school safety patrol, and has served as his class treasurer.

After a year of piano lessons, and two years of working on music on his own, Bill can play quite well and is interested in serious music.

The key words in summing up Bill's activities would be "a balanced life," and through his efforts he has added the adjective "successful."

CARRIER OF THE WEEK—Bill Henley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Henley, 2815 Castlewood, the Eastern Review carrier of the week, hits the books at his home. An honor roll student, Bill also likes football.

MAYOR NAMES UN DAY

October 24 has been designated by Whitehall Mayor Walter B. Moling as United Nation's Day.

Don Ecker, City Recreation Director, has been appointed chairman. He is in charge of promoting programs to mark its observance.

United Nations Day is a day set aside to demonstrate the faith of the American people and their support of the United Nations.

Council Okays Rezone For Jewish Aged Home

The last obstacle towards construction by the United Jewish Fund and Council of a home for the aged was cleared Monday night when Columbus City Council rezoned a tract of land on College-av adjacent to the Jewish Center.

"Construction will start sometime in the fall," officials said yesterday.

The home, to be built on a 14 acre plot, will have a 50-bed capacity, a substantial improvement over the 14 beds now available at the present Jewish Home for the Aged on Woodland-av.

"Our plans are to make the home as much a home away from home as possible," Ben Mandelkorn, executive director of the UJF said.

He pointed out that there are 1000 Jewish people in Columbus who are 65 or over, constituting nearly 11 per cent of the total Jewish population here.

People must provide proof of financial need to be admitted to the home. Other requirements are that the person be of the Jewish faith, have lived in Columbus for at least the past two years and be at least 65-years-old.

Those admitted will find ample recreational activities, occupational and physical therapy facilities, nursing care and social services.

Besides a Chapel, there will be a meeting and recreational areas, barber shop and beauty shop accommodations. A garden patio with Fountain of Life floral arrangement will be an added feature.

Individuals, families or other groups may make contributions for specific supplements or portions of the building. Such contributions will be formally recognized through memorial plaques.

Placement Bureau Inaugurated At Cap

A placement bureau for graduates and alumni was inaugurated this fall at Capital University.

Appointed as head of the bureau by Dr. Harold L. Yochum, president, was Eugene Meyer, 26, a 1958 graduate of Capital.

In past years, the placement of graduates, non-graduating students and alumni was handled by the individual university department heads.

Under the new bureau, approved by the Alumni Board and university Board of Regents last June, all placement will be centralized. The only exception will be the placing of student teachers, which will continue to be, handled by the university's education director, Prof. Earl Metz.

Meyer, a 1952 graduate of Woodville High School, Woodville, studied at Capital for two years before enlisting in the Army. He has received a bachelor's degree, majoring in economics.

Meyer has been an admissions counselor at Capital for the past two years.

Eastmoor High School's Warriors' Spear-It

By Janice Multenberry

AREA STUDENTS TO RAISE FUNDS

Eastmoor's Athletic Boosters Association held its annual membership drive Wednesday, Sept. 28. Approximately 400 students participated in selling the memberships from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., throughout the entire school area. This year's goal was set at $3,000 compared to last year's $2,500. The money received will be used for better athletic facilities at Eastmoor.

Members of the senior choir and band will be selling records of our Alma Mater and Fight song at all of our home football games. The record was recorded last year by the mixed ensemble, with selected members of the band accompanying the group. The records will be selling at $1 a piece.

The band is also having its annual chocolate bar sale to raise money for new instruments and uniforms. The bars sell for 50 cents a piece and may be purchased from any member of the band.

The marching band was the only representative of Columbus schools at the Children's Day Show at Lockbourne Air Base Sunday, Sept. 25. They are also going to Zanesville Friday, Sept. 30, when Eastmoor's Warriors battle it out with the Blue Devils. Reports say that the members of the band plan to make a night of it by eating supper in Zanesville after the game.

Eastmoor's reserve football squad was defeated by East in its first game of the season, Thursday, Sept. 22. The final score was East 22, Eastmoor 0.

"Papa Is All," Eastmoor's first play of the year, will be presented Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 18 and 19, in the auditorium. It was written by Patterson Greene, and is a comedy of a Pennsylvania Dutch family who rebel against their tyrannical father. The main players in the cast are Larry Nichols, Susan Brown, Carole Brown, Don Dav, Jude Williams and Roger Barrett. Student directors are Lynne Maynard and Karen Bennett.

Several Eastmoor journalism students will attend the 30th annual convention of the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools Friday and Saturday, Oct. 7 and 8, on the Ohio State University campus. Broadway columnist, Earl Wilson, and Dr. Edgar Dale, author and professor of education at Ohio State, will be the main speakers. Other events of the convention will include workshops on journalism subjects, tours of the Ohio State campus, press conferences with Earl Wilson and Dean Lewis, writing contests, and a banquet with Dr. Dale as guest speaker. Two Eastmoor students will be chosen to be among those who will interview Wilson.

The G.A.A. Club of Eastmoor High School will present a "Blacktop Hop" on Saturday evening. This dance will be held outside on the tennis courts and it will be a girl-ask-boy affair in which the girls can make corsages for the boys. Mrs. James A. Jonard will call the dances. The dance will be free of charge to Eastmoor girls and their dates in grades 9-12.

Mrs. Huntington Heads 'Neighbor' Drive For GOP

Mrs. Smith Huntington, 2355 Bryden-rd, will be Franklin County chairman of the Republican party's Neighbor-to-Neighbor fund raising campaign. The appointment was announced by H. Richard P. Niehoff, chairman of the Franklin County Republican Finance Committee.

The Franklin County drive, to be held in early October, is part of a nationwide effort by Republicans to broaden the base of financial support for the party by giving every citizen an opportunity to contribute.

According to Mrs. Huntington, hundreds of volunteers, both men and women, will be needed in order to cover as many precincts as possible in the time remaining before election day.

HARTLEY HIGH SCHOOL'S

HAWK Lines

By Paul Coleman

Hartley High Plans First Homecoming

On Saturday, Oct. 1, Hartley High School will chalk up another first in its four year history as the dream of a homecoming becomes a reality. Ever since classes resumed a month ago, the idea of a homecoming has been the subject for discussion among the students. This week has been one of intense excitement and anticipation.

Last week, after the official announcement of the homecoming was made by Principal Robert G. White, the homerooms were instructed to vote for the Homecoming Queen and her attendants in the court. As a result, Miss Mary Beth Finta was selected as the first Homecoming Queen. Mary Beth, a petit, lively-eyed senior, was "surprised and honored" at her selection by the students.

Others selected as members of the court were Miss Patricia Lorms, senior attendant; Miss Mary Kathryn Thomas, junior attendant; Miss Karen Huntley, Sophomore attendant, and Miss Joanne Fassero, freshman attendant.

These five girls will be escorted to the game, as well as to the dance that will follow, by a member of the varsity football squad that they choose.

Miss Finta will be crowned a Homecoming Queen by one of the co-captains preceding the game. During the half, the queen and her court will be driven around the field in convertibles, and another ceremony will take place. Jim Harkless, president of the Class of '61, will be in charge of these ceremonies.

The homecoming dance will follow the game and the queen will reign until the players have dressed. Then there will be a grand march and dancing will follow.

Hartley will play this first homecoming game with Zanesville Rosecrans. Besides being the first homecoming for the Hartley team, it is the first game the Hawks will play with an opponent from last year's lean season. In last year's meeting the Bishops crushed the Hawks, 35 to 8.

The annual freshman "Get Acquainted Dance" was a big success despite the fact that the juke box almost blew up. The dance climaxed the "Get Acquainted Week" of Sept. 19-23. The new frosh were continually harassed by the sophomores, as is the tradition at Hartley, but all took it in good spirits, according to sophomores, John Dooley, Jim Billiter, and Tim Wagner, who were in charge of the week's festivities.

The elections for Student Council representatives for the 1960-61 term will be completed soon. The council has a great deal to accomplish this year; the representatives who are elected will face a great challenge. Student Council has been in an operative form for less than a year.

Last Friday's 34 to 6 win over Ohio Deaf gives the Hawks a 2-1 record now. The Hartley attack was highlighted by Jerry Emerich's scoring pass interception and Bobby Gantner's two yard tally, the first score for the young quarterback.

ADDS ROOM

Permission was granted to Robert J. Gwynn, 851 Country Club-rd, to add a frame family room and a patio. Suburban Construction Company is the contractor.

Enrollment Nears 5,000 At Whitehall

Just two short of 5,000.

That's the way attendance stood at Whitehall Schools as of Sept. 19, according to Director of Child Accounting Roy Blosser.

Earlier, Superintendent Robert Crabbs had indicated that this year's enrollment would be "in excess" of 4900. The final figure thus far has rounded off to 4998.

Break down by classes:

First grade, 530; second, 506; second and third, 25; third, 434; fourth, 410; fifth, 429; sixth, 398; seventh, 359; special, 46; kindergarten, 591; eighth, 359; ninth through 12, 911; 12th, 911.

Breakdown by schools:

Hartley Parents To Follow Students' Class Schedule

Parents of Hartley High School puppils will go to classes Thursday, Sept. 29, exactly as their sons and daughters do, it was announced today by John Wagner, preident of the Hartley PTA.

Each class will last only five minutes—with parents expected only to learn what the rooms and schedule of their sons and daughters are like, and the environment they encounter. School will begin at 8 p.m.

Additional orientation will include a brief talk to parents by the principal of the high school, Rev. Robert F. White.

Also to be heard will be various members of the faculty, concerned with school-wide programs such as sports, recreation activities and similar events not included in the regular student schedule.

This is the first year the school, established three years ago, will operate with four high school grades. The first graduation of seniors will occur next June.

Elementary grades previously occupying space in the school, located at Livingston-av, and Zettler-rd, have been moved to parochial schools in the area, completed during the past summer.

OHIO MUST BE!

Walter J. Shapter Jr., Democratic candidate for State Senator, stated today that "Ohio will progress, or decline, depending upon the alertness of her citizens in demanding progressive legislation in step with our times."

Shapter further said, "fierce competition between the states will determine the flow of industry and commerce.

"Ohio must be prepared, for legislation designed and enacted now will determine her path of progress for the nelt ten years."

OHIO! NOT GUILTY!

Walter J. Shapter Jr., Democratic candidate for State Senator, said today that "Ohio must not be found guilty of too little planning—too late.

We must plan a ten year modern pprogram designed to promote commerce and stimulate an active progressive economy for our state. A healthy business climate will produce jobs and income for Ohio's citizens."

Great Books Study Group Set At Center

Sol D. Zell, chairman of the Adult Activities Committee of the Jewish Center, has announced a second Great Books Discussion Group will be started immediately.

Through the cooperation of the local Great Books coordinator, Mrs. Paul Machovina, trained leaders will be provided.

In the discussion program for adult liberal education, participants meet as a group every two weeks for two hours to talk about the ideas and issues in a great book.

There are 16 meetings and 16 great books readings are to be discussed each year. Selections are not long.

Two trained volunteers serve as discussion leaders.

There are no educational requirements and no fees.

The current Great Books group, which has been led by Mrs. Harold M. Eisenstein and Capt. Robert Clithero, will continue into the second year readings.

Anyone wishing additional information may phone the program department of the Jewish Center, BE. 1-2731.

Mrs. Simpson To Host Council Group's First Discussion Session

Discussion group of the Council of Jewish Women will hold the first of its bimonthly coffees Friday, Oct. 7, at 10 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Theodore Simson, 289 S. Roosevelt-av.

The topic to be discussed will be the Food and Drug Act. Mrs. Maurice Zox will lead the discussion.

Mrs. Robert Curl is chairman of the public affairs committee. The group will examine a different subject at each coffee.

For further information call Mrs. Robert Curl, 215 S. Stanwood-rd, BE. 1-6453.

OHIO MUST BE!

Walter J. Shapter Jr., Democratic candidate for State Senator, stated today that "Ohio will progress, or decline, depending upon the alertness of her citizens in demanding progressive legislation in step with our times."

Shapter further said, "Fierce competition between the states will determine the flow of industry and commerce.

"Ohio must be prepared, for legislation designed and enacted now will determine her path of progress for the nelt ten years."

OHIO! NOT GUILTY!

Walter J. Shapter Jr., Democratic candidate for State Senator, said today that "Ohio must not be found guilty of too little planning—too late.

We must plan a ten year modern pprogram designed to promote commerce and stimulate an active progressive economy for our state. A healthy business climate will produce jobs and income for Ohio's citizens."

Through the cooperation of the local Great Books coordinator, Mrs. Paul Machovina, trained leaders will be provided.

In the discussion program for adult liberal education, participants meet as a group every two weeks for two hours to talk about the ideas and issues in a great book.

There are 16 meetings and 16 great books readings are to be discussed each year. Selections are not long.

Two trained volunteers serve as discussion leaders.

There are no educational requirements and no fees.

The current Great Books group, which has been led by Mrs. Harold M. Eisenstein and Capt. Robert Clithero, will continue into the second year readings.

Anyone wishing additional information may phone the program department of the Jewish Center, BE. 1-2731.

Mrs. Simpson To Host Council Group's First Discussion Session

Discussion group of the Council of Jewish Women will hold the first of its bi-monthly coffees Friday, Oct. 7, at 10 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Theodore Simson, 289 S. Roosevelt-av.

The topic to be discussed will be the Food and Drug Act. Mrs. Maurice Zox will lead the discussion.

Mrs. Robert Curl is chairman of the public affairs committee. The group will examine a different subject at each coffee.

For further information call Mrs. Robert Curl, 215 S. Stanwood-rd, BE. 1-6453.

CHI OMEGA MOTHERS

Colt Fans Like What They've Seen

By Bernie Karsko

When 9500 people came out to see the Columbus Colts' season opener a couple of Saturdays ago a lot of prognosticators scoffed, "Just curiosity, wait'll next week when Ohio State plays at home. Betcha they don't draw 1500 out there."

The nine thousand plus liked what they saw on opening night—a perfection style football but still so wide open that no spot on the field was too far away from TD range. They came back next week bringing a few hundred converts with them.

And after the Colts had applied the last strokes of a 47-3 shellacking over Duquesne's defending champions last Saturday night, 10,738 people went home even more firmly convinced that Columbus' semi-pro offering could provide a mighty entertaining evening, and that contrary to what a certain "dean of Big Ten coaches" says you can get fancy and still not get beat.

Larry Buckles dented the Ironman line for 120 yards in 12 carries and scored three times behind near perfect blocking to please the guy who likes to see plays carried out like orders in the Pentagon.

And to please the "I-like-anything-and- everything - can - happen-style football fan Buckles picked up another TD when everybody goofed.

Trapped 30 yards behind the line of scrimmage, Jerry Fields managed to get away a five-yard basketball lob. Eleven Duquesne players were still looking down at Colt men who missed their blocks.

The diagram of Buckles run after he made a shoestring grab of the pass looked like a seismograph during the San Francisco quake but he scored standing up.

Later, Charlie Brockmeyer stood on the brink of the end zone line, leaped up and pulled a Larry Gavin pass away from two Duke defenders.

"Tell me when you've seen something like that up on River Road," a fan yelled, whalloping a skeptic friend on the back.

But if this Jovial Joe makes the trek to Massillion's Central Catholic Stadium on one of the chartered buses for Sunday night's game he may be in for a few more uneasy moments than he has been in the last two games played in Jet Stadium.

The Colts currently share the top spot in the American Football Conference with Dayton with a 2-0 record. Massillon is tied for third at 2-1.

But if it weren't for the last minute boo-boo of Massillon quarterback Johnny James they might be riding high with a 3-0 mark.

"If he wasn't the coach's brother," (Tom James of Cleveland Brown fame) equipped Gene Fekete, "they would probably have fired him."

Massillon had a 40-37 lead and the ball on the Detroit 23 with 25 seconds to go. James decided to flip a pass. It was picked off and turned into a game-winning 77-yard touchdown romp.

The pro representatives from the high school football capital of the world sport a line which averages 235 pounds bulwarked by 6-3, 301-pound Vic Hoffman.

Behind them is another Clevelander, Horace Gilliam, who's still booming out 60-yard plus punts and handling left end chores as well.

Andy Okulovitz handles the quarterback duties and whenever he needs a sure first down he can call on left halfback Ivory Benjamin who tops the league in rushing with a 12-yard per try average.

At the reins of all of this talent is Elwood Kramer who headed the Massillon High team in 1942-43-44. And he delights in the fact that more than 40 per cent of his men have played together since they were in high school.

LiMotta, a Mifflin graduate, surprised everyone according to Fekete. "He didn't have any college experience and was so small (160) I just didn't think he would fit in," Fekete confessed.

"But he really came on strong—the fastest man we've got now."

Clark is a new addition to the roster. He joined the team after the first game and by league rules had to sit out last week's contest.

Back again at quarterback will be Jerry Fields who "hasn't surprised me one bit," Fekete said. "After all, I coached him at Ohio State. I know what he is capable of."

Completing "the fastest, smartest and trickiest backfield going" is Buckles, tabbed the best in a quarter century when he was bulldozing for Ohio University.

"A lot will be decided in the next two weeks," Fekete decided. "The next home game with Detroit is the one I'm really waiting to see."

With Garry LiMotta and Ray If the Colts beat Massillon this Sunday a lot of other people are going to be waiting to see also—but on the outside of the fence.

A three-game winning streak, one of the best teams in the loop as a foe and Ohio State on the road all add up to more seats than Jet Stadium has.

Red Devils No Match For Cards

Scoring in almost everey quarter, and almost at will, St. Charles' vaunted offense slapped down a fighting but out classed Marion-Franklin eleven with a going away 50-6 win Friday night.

Winless Marion-Franklin barely got the sound of the opening whistle out of its collective ears when halfback Mike Spiers cradled the ball under his arms and rocked his way to the goal.

The clock added two more minutes to its ageless face when Joe Morris, the Cards' fine fullback, hit paydirt on a 45-yard run.

As if that wasn't enough, the Ryanmen kept right on going in second period. Fergie Thiebert capped a drive with a one-yard buck and passed to Pete Baumann for a combo 36-yard pass run score.

Dan Mitchell decided to get in on the goings on and shot his way around end for a 16-yard blue chip effort.

Then came the half. The only time all night the Red Devils were able to relax. The Cards didn't give them long.

The third period opened when Thiebert again unlimbered his arm for a five-yard scoring pass to end Tom Stepanovsky. Ryan called a halt to the slaaughter, sent in his reserves and they traded equal punches with the Devils from then on.

M-F got into the scoring column in the final stanza with a Larry Arrington to Leo Edwards pass-run combo. But even the Cards were not to be denied. They came right back with a 54-yard blast that sent Bob Faller into the end zone.

To sum up: The Cards gave M-F a "devil" of a time.

St. Charles	16	22	6	6	—50
Marion Fr'nk'n	0	0	0	6	— 6

St. Charles scoring: Touchdowns—Spiers (46, run); Morris (45, run); Thiebert (1, run); Mitchell (16, run); Faller (54, run); Pete Bauman (36, pass-run from Thiebert); Stepanovsky (5, pass from Thiebert). Conversions—Morris (run); Pete Beauman (pass from Thiebert); Blackburn pass from Thiebert); Baehr run).

Marion - Franklin scoring: Touchdnw — Edwards (18, pass from Arrington).

Murphymen In Season's Second Win

Ohio Deaf got there the "furstest," but Bishop Hartley came home with the "mostest," in an uncontested 34-6 romp Friday afternoon.

The Hawk crew lit out for its second win in two years after Deafs' Gary Larson romped 40 yards after the opening kickoff for a one and only TD.

Buddy Thomas, the Eastern Area's top producer of touchdowns, brought John Murphy's Hartley boys back into the game with a three-yard plunge, capping a 75-yard Hawk drive.

Minutes after the second quarter started, Thomas snared an aerial from Bob Ganter on the eight and raced into the end zone.

But the scoring was far from over. Hartley scored twice more in the second quarter and ended with a 28 to 6 half-time lead.

Bishop Hartley	6	22	0	6	—34
Ohio Deaf	6	0	0	0	— 6

Hartley scoring: TDs—Thomas 2 (3, run); 8, pass from B. Gantner); Gantner (2, run); Emrich (30, intercepted pass); Hanf (3, run). Conversion: Hanf (run); Emrich (run).

Ohio Deaf scoring: TD, Larson (40, run).

WBBA Park Festival Ends

Given an even break by the weatherman, the Whitehall Boys' Baseball Association's first "Park Festival" ended up grossing $902, according to publicity agent John Bishop.

"Parents and coaches are to be commended for their help in making it possible," Bishop said.

The Band Boosters handled the most-visited booth along the festive midway.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a scroll to Linn L. Hiatt for his outstanding service to the youth of Whitehall. He served as vice-president of the group last year.

EASTMOOR 28; BEXLEY 0

Backs, Breaks Heat, Defense Told Story

BY JOHN POEPPELMEYER

Bob Benjamin was more than a bit miffed.

Less than a minute before, the lithe Eastmoor halfback had created a rousing shout as he grabbed a Frank Stavoff lateral at the 30, brushed down the sidelines, slanted over tacklers to mid-field and set sail for the Bexley goal line.

The blue darter all went to no avail. A holding penalty nullified the bandy-legged half's mile-a-minute jaunt which would have made the score 28-0.

On the next play, as Stavroff attempted a hand-off, Bexley's big fullback Chris Tsitouris, cut between the quarterback and the intended receiver and wrestled for the ball.

Now, as Benjamin stood mulling over his frustrated run, he automatically braced himself in the Eastmoor defensive secondary as the Lions broke from the huddle and wearily dragged themselves for another try at the bruising Warrior line in the heat of the night.

Benjamin tugged at his sweat-stained jersey, backed-up a few steps in anticipation of a possible Jerry Mechling pass and crouched low as the Lions' fine quarterback snapped off signals.

Mechling darted to his right, cocked his arm and lofted one to the sidelines. The pass never got to its intended receiver. Benjamin loped to his left, sprung to the air and speared the leather sphere.

His legs churning, he set himself for the onslaught of Bexley guards, scissored his way pass a duo of intended tacklers and literally lifted the turf as tacklers fell by the wayside. This one was even better. This had been a 60-yard run. And it made the score 28 to 0.

Thus, one play symbolized the breaks and the power that Eastmoor displayed during the last half against Bexley last Friday night at the Warrior stronghold for a 28 to 0 victory.

The Lions couldn't get going against the heat and the Warrior front line. And after a shamless first half, epitomized by slow hand-offs and untimely fumbles, Bob Stuart's Warriors couldn't be stopped.

Mechling tried; Tsitouris tried; Cal Hamrick, who's fine punting was the only bright spot in a dismal evening for Bexley tried; and co-capt. Bill Goldberg, up until the time the ambulance came for him, tried. They couldn't navigate a sustained drive against Eastmoor.

Goldberg's injury came in the second period. Hamrick had booted to Eastmoor's Nick Cooper. Two Lions bounced off the bull of a halfback but they jolted him enough for a fumble. Benjamin, again johnny-on-the-spot, scooped it up. Goldberg followed him. Benjamin swayed, reversed his field. Goldberg twisted to get a hand on him and was whacked by a stunning block.

In the third period, Stavroff, who had been having trouble with his hand-offs all night, ran a series of keeper plays. He darted from the 36 to the 25 then lugged again, this time all the way to the goal for a 14-0 lead.

Bexley failed to gain a first down after the ensuing kick-off. With a four and three situation on their own 45, Hamrick had a kick partially blocked by Warrior tackle Frank Dwyer. It went out of bounds on the Eastmoor 45.

This time, Stavroff's timed hand-off worked to perfection. A weak spot had been found on the left side of Bexley's line. Cooper, no small boy himself, slashed through a giant hole, squished past the outstretched arms of two Lions, side-stepped a neat attempt at an ankle tackle and rode home.

The Benjamin spectacular followed in the fourth quarter. And although Mechling, midway through the third period took to the air, the tiring Lion team was, by now, no match for the resurgent Warriors.

For Eastmoor, it was their first win after dismal starts of a loss and a tie. Bexley found itself blanked for the first time this year as the Lions' record settled at one win and two losses.

To sum up: The Lions found it hard to get uncaged, much less roar.

Eastmoor	0	8	14	6	28

Eastmoor scoring: TD's—Benjamin 2 (10, run; 60, intercepted pass); Stavroff (26, run); Cooper (44, run). Conversions: Eby (pass); Cooper (run).

Gahanna Pesky, But Rams Drive Way To 19-6 Verdict

Gahanna had it during the final minute of play Friday night against Whitehall.

Only trouble was, it was too little and too late to surmount the Rams' 19-point lead.

The tough Bline-instructed defense yielded its lone touchdown of the night, and its first two games, as Harry Alexander connected to Jim Fitch on a 30-yard pass play.

Whitehall completed all its scoring in the first two periods and it proved to be more than enough.

End Ron Neutzling was the Ram horn in Gahanna's side all night.

He scored one TD on a blocked punt, picked off a Ron Paxson pass for another and was a stalwart on defense.

Paxson, too, proved that he knew what feet were for in addition to his long range arm. The adept back galloped 25 yards for a third Whitehall score that iced the game.

Whitehall's offense stalled during the last half. But the Ram defense was more than equal to the task of containing the Gahanna drives to send the Whitehall fleet to its second win in two tries.

To sum up: A lot of question marks erased for the Rams.

Whitehall	6	13	0	0	19
Gahanna	0	0	0	6	6

Whitehall scoring: TDs—Ron Neutzling blocked punt), Ron Paxson 25, run); Ron Neutzling (30, pass from Paxson). Conversion: FB run).

Gahanna scoring: TD — Jim Fitch (30, pass from Harry Alexander).

Hawks Of Hartley In Homecoming Tilt

For some ironers of the grid, the season may as well be over. But as far as Eastern area teams are concerned, they still have a chance to pocket a fair share of success not to mention division crowns.

And both Whitehall and Bexley head for league encounters this week.

The Lions take on Grandview tonight while the Rams meet Urbana Friday.

Eastmoor delays getting into city league action for a week with a journey to Zanesville.

Bishop Hartley, getting off to its best start in the two-year history of the school, will find Zanesville Rosecrans in the Hawks back yard at homecoming time.

St. Charles, gathering a nippy head of steam after an opening game loss, moves to Lancaster Friday night.

In Grandview the Bexley squad will find a team with an identical won-loss record as their own. After an opening game victory over Grove City, the 'Cats have been tagged for successive defeats at the hands of Hilliard and South.

Lion forces will have to regroup if they expect to regain the winning form they achieved against Logan. Last week's match with Eastmoor showed up quite a few defensive holes in the Bexley line that need to be sealed.

The Rams, riding the crest of a two win, one tie, season thus far face up to an Urbana contingent that hasn't been beaten and hasn't been scored upon in three outings. All of their wins have been decisive ones. They dumped Marysville, 52-0, followed up with a 16-0 lacing of Bellefontaine and beat their way through London last week, 44-0.

But Jim Bline's boys, despite being tempered with a lack of experience at the beginning of the season, have been maturing right along and like the idea of the winning habit.

This first game between the two CBL titans could go a long way towards determining which will eventually wear the crown. Bline holds that defense holds the key to any victory and thus far the Rams have had only two TD's marked against them.

Eastmoor's away from home opponent, Zanesville, brings a 2-1 record into the fray, their only loss a 14-13 nudging at the hands of Middletown. Since then they have garnered wins over Linden, 34-20, and East, 28-6, indicating an imposing offense if need be.

The Warriors haven't fared so well on foreign lots this year. They seem to like the "home sweet home" atmosphere as witnessed by last week's sterling win over Bexley. Bob Stuart's boys lost to Linden and tied Whitehall before getting back to the friendly confines of Warrior soil.

Still, if their defense buckles down the way it did against the Lions and the Rams, Zanesville will be in for a rough night. It should be Eastmoor in a close one.

Hartley's Hawks go against a team that lost to Frazeysburg but beat BIS. The Hawks like to win and Buddy Thomas likes to run. The rambling back has already notched up six touchdowns this year. Murphy will have his boys up in order to make this homecoming tilt Saturday night a real welcome one.

The Cardinals of St. Charles, enjoying a sweet two game victory streak, the last one a 50-6 lacing of Marion-Franklin, want to keep on that victory trail against Lancaster. It'll be the final encounter before Central Catholic League play begins next week.

New Fall Show Features Polaris Ballistics Missile

The life story of this country's newest and potentially most effective deterrent weapon — a hydrogen-headed ballistic missile using an atomic-powered submarine as its launching pad with be told in "The Year of the Polaris" Thursday on Channel 10 at 9:30 p.m. with Edward R. Murrow handling the commentary.

This is the premier of the "CBS Reports" series for this year. The network reports that the show has been over a year and a half in preparation.

The Polaris is able to take off in flight from its secret undersea platform, and gives the United States the only hydrogen bomb launching system not subject to retaliatory attack.

President Eisenhower called it a "revolutionary and practically invulnerable missile system." One submarine equipped with 16 Polaris missiles has fire power equal to all the bombs dropped by both sides during World War II.

According to military experts, the significance of the Polaris is that a potential aggressor could not wipe out effective retaliatory power by a surprise attack on American bombing commands and ground-based missile sites.

The Story of the Black Sox Scandal, which was originally set for this week, has been postponed, so that legal details can be cleared up, and the necessary releases obtained.

In its place, "Men In White," a Pulitzer Prize-winning drama by Sidney Kingsley will be the premier show on the "Show of the Month," Friday, at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 10.

Dinah Shore's fans, and they are legion, will be introduced to a new theme song this year, when her show opens, Sunday at nine on Channel 4.

"Getting To Know You" is the new song, and the new format to go with it, will send Dinah on five international tours. She will visit the Scandanavian Countries, Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, with Ingemar Johansson as guide. These shows will be filmed outdoors with senic landmarks for backgrounds.

Perry Como returns to the TV screen on Wednesday, nine p.m. on Channel 4. His comfortable and relaxed show will be much like last year's series.

"Eyewitness to History" begins the fall season on Channel 10, Friday at 10:30 p.m. Camera crews have been hard at work in such places as the troubled Congo, and troublesome Cuba.

A news in action series, these programs will present the top news events of the week, reporting them via video tape and film. Reports and commentary on the pictures will be offered by CBS correspondents around the world.

The Shari Lewis Show, replacing "Howdy Doody" at 10 a.m. Saturdays, is worthy of note by adults as well as children. Shari is, in the opinion of the writer, one of the freshest and most likely to succeed talents to hit the video tubes lately.

She will operate a children's variety show, with puppets and continuing characters, created by herself. Talented as a ventriloquist, and able to bring a child's world of fantasy to life, she should enjoy success.

A new farm show, keyed to the farmer by content and also by the program time, seven a.m. Saturdays, begins this week on Channel 4. Singer Eddy Arnold, will be host.

Entertainment, and national and regional events of concern to farmers will be featured. Filmed visits to experimental stations and agricultural stations will be shown. A woman's corner is planned, regional weather forecasts will be given, and occasionally the show will pick up remote telecasts of farm activities.

J. Carrol Naish is a competent character actor. He has played characters representing almost every race in the world, except his own, Irish. In the new show "Guestward Ho!" he will play an Indian, Hawkeye. Premiering tonight at 7:30, on Channel 6, this show's plot is based on a fictitious dude ranch. It could be funny.

WRFD will be broadcasting the Cleveland Browns' games this fall, and listeners to good music will be looking forward to the start of their new FM station, under construction now, and rated to be the most powerful FM station in the state.

The life and times of Teddy Roosevelt, one of America's most colorful presidents, will be the subject of Twentieth Century's 5:30 p.m. show on Channel 10, Saturday.

Tuesday, at nine p.m., Channel 6 will start a new Western series concerning stagecoaches and the men who drove them. The original route was 2,325 road miles long, while the show will be an hour in length. "Stagecoach West" is the show's name.

For those who like family situation comedies, tonight will be important, as "My Three Sons," begins at nine, on Channel 6. Fred McMurray plays a widower with three boys to bring up, with William Frawley as the boys' grandfather.

Concertgoers should note that ticket sales are now underway for the Mershon Auditorium, Ohio State Campus, for the Great Artist Series. This year, a varied program of high caliber entertainment will be offered.

Among the events of the season will be Mozart's "Don Giovani" in English, Janigro and the "I Solisti di Zagrob" concert group from Yugoslavia, the New York Little Orchestra and Jonson Chorale presenting Berlioz's "Childhood of Christ," and Marcel Marceau, the world's outstanding mime, with a traveling company of pantomimists.

Ohio York Rite Masons Convene Here In October

Dual Ohio York Rite bodies of the Masonic fraternity will convene in Columbus during the week beginning Monday, Oct. 3.

The Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of Ohio is scheduled for Oct. 3 and 4, and the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Ohio will meet Oct. 5 and 6.

The Deshler-Hilton Hotel will be headquarters for both groups, and all proceedings will be held at the Masonic Temple, 34 North Fourth-st.

This convention marks the 131st Annual Assembly of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of Ohio.

The Order of the Silver Trowel will be conferred upon the Masters of the subordinate councils throughout the state at 2 p.m. Oct. 3, and Franklin County Probate Judge Roscoe R. Walcutt will conduct a School of Instruction for officers of the Royal and Select Order.

A Grand Council dinner will be held at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel for the delegates and their ladies in the evening. Guest speaker will be Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, of the First Presbyterian Church, Lisbon, O. Following the banquet the Grand Master, Herbert J. Martin, of Girard, will hold a reception in the Spanish room of the hotel.

Current officers of the Grand Council are Herbert J. Martin, Girard, Grand Master; L. Glen Marshall, Fostoria, Deputy Grand Master; Theodore A. Ehni, Bridgeport, G.P.C.W.; Jean V. DeWeese, Delphos, Grand Treasurer; Roscoe R. Walcutt, Columbus, Grand Recorder; Wayne E. Walter, Alliance, Grand Capt. of Guard; Edwin E. Bailey, Bowling Green, Grand Cond. of Council; Thomas C. Swope, Portsmouth, Grand Steward; George R. Fites, Columbus, Grand Marshal; and Hubert O. Auburn, Cincinnati, Grand Sentinel.

War 1 Vets, Unit To Meet

Capital City Barracks 461, of World War I and Auxiliary will meet Sunday, Oct. 2, at Veterans Memorial Building, rooms 201 and 203, at 2 p.m.

This will be the last meeting before the national convention in Miami, Fla., Oct. 9 to 12. Capital City Barracks will have 22 delegates.

New Dry Cleaning Concept Introduced At Econ-O-Clean

A new concept in dry cleaning has been introduced to Columbus under the franchise of Econ-O-Clean and Wear, in a unique dry cleaning shop newly poned at 3540 E. Main-st.

First in Ohio, Columbus' own Econ-O-Clean and Wear offers cleaning services on three levels: Clean Only, Clean and Steam, or Clean, Steam and Finish, with a radical cost reduction on all three services brought about by their innnvations in operation.

The apperance of this new cleaning store is usuallly inviting. The stress here is on good quality cleaning, in attractive surroundings, on a Clean-and-Wear basis (garments are completely processed in 40 minutes), but without extra services that add to the expense of cleaning, unless they are requested.

Designed to offer the housewife the maximum in thorough cleaning for her money, with services scaled to suit her individual needs, Econ-O-Clean and Wear is open Monday through Saturday, 7:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals for Street Improvement No. 185, Bernhard Road from East Main Street south to the Pinecrest Subdivision, will be received by the Director of Public Service and Safety of the City of Whitehall, Ohio, at the city building, 308 South Yearling Road, until 12:00 Noon Eastern Standard Time on the 6th day of October, 1960, and at that time and place will be publicly opened and read aloud. All bids will be considered valid until 30 days after date although not accepted or rejected.

The work for which proposals are invited consists of furnishing all labor, materials, equipment and construction of said improvement of Bernhard Road from East Main Street south to the Pinecrest Subdivision, to the City of Whitehall, Ohio.

Copies of the contract documents, specifications and plans are on file in the office of the Director of Public Service and Safety of the City of Whitehall, 308 South Yearling Road, where they are available for inspection by prospective bidders. Contract documents, specifications and plans may be obtained from the above office upon payment of $4.50 per set, which amount will not be refunded.

Each bid shall contain the full name and address of each person or company interested in the same and shall be accompanied by a bond in the amount of Three thousand and no/100 Dollars or certified check in the same amount on a solvent bank within Franklin County made payable to the City of Whitehall, Ohio, conditioned that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into within 10 days after notice of acceptance. A performance bond on One Hundred percent (100%) of the amount of the contract with a satisfactory surety company, conditioned according to law, will be required for the faithful performance of the contract.

The City of Whitehall, Ohio, reserves the right to reject any and all bids; including any bids, which in the opinion of the Engineer, shows evidence of unbalancing prices.

UNITED APPEAL DRIVE CHAIRMEN NAMED

Kenneth Weimer

Brooks Julian

John Hentz

Fred Fisher

Royce Huegley

While footballs aleekly sail through the autumn air, another type of kick-off is preparing to get underway tonight at the Jewish Center.

At 8 p.m., a meeting will be held for the suburban business division solicitations in the United Appeal Campaign for 1960.

Brooks Julian of the Ohio National Bank was introduced as vice-chairman in charge of the entire eastern section of the county.

Serving as xxxx chairmen are: Reynoldsburg — John T. Hentz, M. A. Realty Co., Reynoldsburg; Bexley — Royce Huegley of Ohio National Bank, 2594 E. Main-st; Whitehall — Fred Fisher of Burwell Nursery, 4060 E. Main-st; Gahanna — Kenneth Weimer, 172 Granville-rd, Gahanna.

Hentz will direct two teams that will solicit the Reynoldsburg quota.

Kickoff date for the United Appeal of Franklin County Tenth Anniversary Campaign is Monday, Oct. 3.

Slogan for the 63-in-one campaign is "Give Once . . . And For All."

Total goal is $3,555,213. Clarence W. England is countywide chairman.

their intentions a number of times before they finally settle on an idea," he pointed out.

How the radiation detection equipment will be used was also explained by Murphy.

"As a for instance," he pointed out, "with the geiger scaler it is possible to find how fast a fluid travels through a plant."

According to Murphy, a radioactive isotope is injected into the plant. With the use of the geiger and a stop watch, a check is made detecting the fluid movement through the plant. "It takes around 11 seconds," he pointed out, "for the fluid to move through a leaf."

The geiger can also be used to check blood volumes to aid in detecting tumors. "The amount of the blood will show an increase if the body is fighting the disease. Otherwise, the amount of blood will show a rapid decrease if the battle is being lost."

The cloud chamber is used to check the characteristics of radio-active substances such as cosmic rays. It identifies alpha, beta and gamma rays.

"A magnetic field is built up around the chamber. The particles, as they wend their way through, leave a certain characteristic track, just as the afterburner from a jet," the instructor explained.

Alpha charges leave a short, dense track. Beta ions are long and curved with a short spin to them, he said.

The gold leaf electroscope measures radiation ionization. Another piece of equipment, a spintheriscope is used to change radio-active emmissions to light rays. "All radiation is seen as flashes of light." The energy content is measured by counting the flashes in a certain amount of time.

The spintheriscope and the cloud chamber, Murphy said, are used primarily for identification purposes and for acquainting students with what they are to check for, "a learning process" type of utilization.

The geiger scaler and the electroscope are used in actual application.

Whatever the case, the students can be assured that they are working with the best teacher-wise, as well as equipment-wise.

BUILDS HOUSE

A permit was granted to Herbert N. Lape, II, 3624 E. Broad-st, to build a two-story frame dwelling at 669 S. Kellner-rd.

in order to get the three-fifths vote in the assembly, xx house votes and 20 senate votes were needed. The house gave them 87, the senate only 17.

dence hall at a cost of $500,000. The structure is due to get under way in 1961. Dr. Yochum stated that one is "urgently" needed.

'63—When the new administrative building is finished, the present administrative rooms will be used as a men's dormitory.

'64—Additional wings to the women's dorms being dedicated in 1960 at a cost of $450,000.

Also included in this year: a new academic building; cost: $400,000.

'65—An addition to the library; cost: $350,000. A dormitory for men; cost: $500,000.

'66—Addition to science hall; cost: $300,000.

A new dorm, for men or for women, which ever is needed; cost: $500,000.

'67—A theater and an auditorium addition to the present fine arts and speech building; cost: $575,000.

Second floor to the refectory; cost: $250,000.

'68—Second floor of fine arts and music building; total cost: $500,000.

'69—Field house and natatorium; cost: $700,000.

'70—Men and women's dorms; cost: $600,000 apiece.

In addition to the scheduled construction, Dr. Yochum pointed out that a new chapel at a cost of $1 million is being considered, along with additional tennis courts, more atnletic field space and a $1 million endowment program.

The figures mentioned and the amount of space and buildings needed may be on the conservative side, Dr. Yochum commented. Four years ago, according to a study by an Ohio State University professor, some 27 per cent of high school graduates went on to college. Since then, that ratio has been upped to 34 per cent, he pointed out.

The present enrollment at Capital is around 1,320 students, Dr. Yochum said.

He also pointed out that the prices of construction and sites are based on today's market, which he expects to increase during the ensuing years. Another realistic problem that must be confronted by planners is that of parking.

All of the cost figures, Dr. Yochum mentioned, include prices for sites.

Each women's dorm is expected to house around 80 students; the men's will house approximately 100, he stated.

"Between now and 1965," Dr. Yochum said, "enrollment is expected to increase at an approximate 50 a year rate." During the five years after that the rate is expected to jump to 100 more per year, according to the president.

pense," he commented.

He said that a site without buildings would be appropriate and plans to get together with various organizations to aid him.

"Of course, any recreational spot should come within the confines of the final master plan recommendations," Ecker said. So far, he mentioned, the preliminaries of the plan call for recreational activity in the Rosemore and in the Robinwood areas.

He believes that the master plan covers the recreation program "as well as it can be covered."

For the present, Ecker said, he plans on more of the community type dances, approximately one a month. He hopes to have more seating space available than was had at the one last month. The turn out at that time was reported as "highly successful."

He is also slated to appear for an interview to be conducted by students in Dr. Kenneth Martin's American Government class at Capital at 11 a.m.
